THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., MONDAY, JULY 9, 1883. NO. 162

The Daily Review has the largest home circulation, of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Robert Bonner now owns 170 horses.

Mr. Blaine will stump Ohio for the Republicans.

There are nearly 6,000 American residents in Paris.

Ex-Senator David Davis expects to come East in a few days to try sea bathing.

Mr. A. S. Abell, proprietor of the Baltimore Sun, is estimated to be worth $15,000,000.

Governor Foster, of Ohio, addressed a letter last week to "Hon. A. H. Stephens, Governor of Georgia."

Sao Francisco street lamps have not been lighted in two months, and will not be until the city pays a big gas bill.

Bishop Green, of Mississippi, who has been very ill, and who is nearly eighty-six years old, has recovered his health.

It is reported that Zukertort, who won the first prize in the recent international Chess tournament, is coming to America.

Man milliners are on the increase in Europe. They are employed in all the fashionable millinery establishments of Paris and London.

W. H. Vanderbilt has added $100,000 to the endowment fund of Vanderbilt University in Nashville.

It is thought probable that Mr. Tilden will reply over his own signature to a statement of John Kelly's that he was guilty of cowardice in 1876.

Mr. J. H. Oglesby, a wealthy citizen of New Orleans, recently saved that city from serious financial difficulty by individually paying the interest of a debt.

One sixth of the expenses of the London fire department are paid by direct assessment on the fire insurance companies, and it is proposed to enforce a still larger contribution.

Justice Field's traveling expenses in attending to his judicial duties amount to between $1,000 and $2,000 a year, and he considers it a shame that he has to pay it out of his own pocket.

Promoters of an elevated railroad project in Chicago are giving stock to property owners along the line, and those who accept it find that they have signed a receipt for all possible damages.

The weapons used in a duel by Wagner and Burkhardt, Missourians, were clubs, which, by agreement, were to be perfectly smooth and weigh four pounds apiece. Burkhardt was hit on the temple and instantly killed.

Bishop O'Hara, of Scranton, Pa., who is reported as likely to receive the Pallium from Rome as the successor of Archbishop Wood, has been in the priesthood for forty-one years. He was consecrated as the first Bishop of Scranton in 1868.

Mr. Alexander, of Kentucky, a noted turfman and horse trader, has determined to seek turf and honors abroad, and will ship six promising colts to England in a short time to be put in training for some of the important English racing events. His jockey has already left for England.

The heat in New York on Friday was something terrible, and especially in the closely crowded tenement districts on the East side. We who are enjoying the delightful breezes which prevail here all through the heated term can form no conception of the sufferings among the poor in New York during the Summer. Yesterday's Herald says: The highest temperature of any day this year was reached yesterday, according to the thermometer, and individual feelings agreed with the record. The scorching walls and pavements of the city were almost unbearable, and thousands of persons escaped from dust and heat to the white sands, cool breezes, ponding surf, green woods and shady places. Excursion steamers were crowded with pleasure seekers, and the waters of the harbor were dotted with sails. Coney Island, Rockaway, Long Branch and Fort Lee were thronged, and the shadowy groves and groves of the Navesink Highlands and the Hudson sheltered hundreds of picnickers from the burning sky. The public and private baths were jammed from morning till night. It was not a question as to who could swim, but who could keep cool. During the week 191,746 men and 78,831 women used the public baths.

But in the houses of the poor all was different. Dozens of sanitary inspectors from the Board of Health patrolled the ill-smelling east side districts, where thousands of men, women and children were stifling in tenement houses, surrounded by dirt, disease and squalor. The ambulance gongs were heard all day long, as little ones drooped and died. The heated air overflowed in the houses and the results were frightful. In the twenty-four hours ending at noon yesterday 392 children under five years of age were overcome. The number of similar cases on the same date last year was 368. Hospitals were filled with patients, and although the total of deaths did not reach a figure as high as that of Friday still the number dying in the city during the week ending at noon yesterday was 1,051 as against 695 for the same period last year. This is the greatest weekly mortality since 1881.

Strokes occurred everywhere, and it was noticeable that few persons had any idea how to help a sufferer from this accident. The Board of Health sent out thousands of circulars containing instructions as to the care and diet of children and the treatment of cases of stroke.

Ex-Governor Abraham Rencher died at his residence in Chapel Hill last Friday morning and his remains were taken to his old home at Pittsboro, on Saturday for interment. The News and Observer has this notice of the distinguished deceased:

Gov. Rencher was born in the county of Wake in the year 1798. He was educated at the University at Chapel Hill, chose the law as his profession, and soon made his mark at the bar. Entering the political field as a Democrat, he was for many years a conspicuous figure in politics; was a member of Congress from the Chatham district for a number of terms, and Minister to Portugal under President Tyler. President Buchanan appointed him Governor of New Mexico, and he was residing at Santa Fe when the war between the States broke out, and he returned to his southern home. He was in all respects a strong man; strong in mind and will, strong in character and steadfast in his convictions.

Gov. Rencher married the youngest daughter of the distinguished lawyer, Col. Edward Jones. His wife survives him, a lovely and venerable lady towards whom the hearts of many friends in this and other States will turn in her sorrow.

He leaves also two sons and a daughter, the latter the wife of Col. S. Latham Anderson, an accomplished engineer, who has resigned his commission in the United States army since the close of the late war.

There was a fine promise of rain yesterday afternoon, although but little fell.

The Telephone Exchange will be removed October 1st to the third story of the Bank of New Hanover building.

The Sounds were alive with visitors yesterday and the city was apparently deserted by all except the church goers.

Two persons were baptised yesterday at Mr. Elijah Hewlett's place, on Masonboro Sound, Rev. W. M. Kennedy officiating.

Mr. John Banks, formerly of this city but now of Savannah, is here for a few days, with his family, on a visit to friends and relatives.

It is rumored here that Hon. A. M. Waddell has entered the service of the Richmond & Danville R. R., but in what capacity is not stated.

Steamboatmen report that there has been a rise of about a foot in the Cape Fear within a day or two, but that it is yet too low on the shoals to permit loaded boats to pass without lightering.

The Hickory Press says: "The young people of Hickory are making arrangements to secure the services of the Wilmington string band for the season, and if they are successful in their efforts, which they no doubt will be, the band will be here in a week or two."

Rehabilitate Excursion.

Harmony Tent, No. 139, I. O. of R., will give an excursion on the Passport, to Smithville and the Forts, on Thursday, the 12th inst. There will be music and refreshments on board and a good time may be expected, and don't you forget it.

Great Closing Out Sale.

Goods will be slaughtered within the next 60 days in order to make room for one of the largest and finest Stocks of Fall and Winter clothing and gents furnishing goods ever brought to Wilmington. A. & I. SHIER, Reliable Clothiers, 114 Market St.

Watermelons.

There was quite a good supply of watermelons in the market this morning, the prices ranging from 25 to 50 cents each. They were raised on the Sound and were of the "Joe Johnson" and "Cuba" varieties. Cantaloupes were quite plentiful and the prices not quite reasonable.

Left Us.

Prof. Gaston M. Hobbs left the city today for his home in Sampson county and will probably not return, as his attempt to form a class in the "Theory of Music" has not been successful. We regret his departure, for the study of the science of music is interesting and Prof. Hobbs is entirely competent to impart instruction which would be valuable to the pupil.

City Court.

The first case before the Mayor this morning was that of Ann Flynn, charged with disorderly conduct. The charge was sustained and she was sent below for 20 days.

The next was Peter Walker, colored, for a like offense. He was found guilty and $5 or 30 days was the sentence. He went below.

Patrick Flynn, charged with a like offence, was discharged.

Moonlight Excursion.

A moonlight excursion to Federal Point on the Passport will take place Tuesday night, the 17th inst, under the management of Capt. Jno. W. Harper and Mr. Geo. N. Harriss. Every arrangement is being made for the pleasure and comfort of the excursionists. There will be music for dancing and refreshments will be served. A fine time is expected as the moon will be at her prettiest on the 17th.

New Furniture House.

Mr. Thos. C. Craft, of this city, has leased the commodious building, No. 3 Granite Row, and will open there soon with a new and elegant stock of furniture and furnishing goods. He will go North in a few days and expects to have his stock open and displayed early in August. The building is now being remodeled for the reception of his goods.

Mr. Craft has had more than ten years experience in the business and knows just what goods to buy for this market and how to buy them.

Death of Rev. Edward Schulken.

We are pained to announce the death of Rev. Edward Schulken, of the North Carolina Conference, M. E. Church-South, which occurred at his father's residence, corner of Fourth and Walnut streets, at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after an illness of about five weeks. The deceased was a few months over 24 years of age, was a graduate of Vanderbilt University and this was the second year of his ministry. His first pastoral charge was at Clinton, Sampson county, and at the last Conference he was sent to Fair Bluff Mission, in Columbus county. In the early part of June last, while in feeble health, he undertook to ride to one of his appointments when he was caught in a heavy rain which threw him into the sickness from which he has never recovered. He came at once to his father's, where every care was bestowed and the best of medical skill was in attendance, but without avail. The deceased was unmarried. The funeral services will take place to-morrow morning.

Mr. Schulken's death has caused a genuine, wide-spread grief. He was a young man of much promise and there is no doubt that, had he lived, he would have accomplished much of good to others. He died in the service of the Master, whom he loved and to whom his young life had been dedicated—of Him who doeth all things well. His reward has come early and it is well with him.

Mr. Alfred V. Wood and family of Brunswick, Ga., are in the city and will probably spend some time in this section.

Steam tug Benjamin Thacher, Capt. Springs, arrived here today from Georgetown, S. C. to go on the dry dock for repairs.

The first family excursion of the season on the Passport will be given on Wednesday. The fare for the round trip is only 50 cents.

Mr. A. H. Greene and family, Mr. B. A. Hallett's family, and several others sailed hence on Saturday, for New York, on the steamship Regulator.

Mr. Yates has laid before us a very handsome little bound packet containing a collection of photographic views taken at various points on the Western N. C. R. R., among the mountains. It is entitled, "The Land of the Sky," and is for sale by Mr. Yates.

The appearance of the clouds last evening, which threatened this city with a heavy shower, indicated that the storm was severe in the vicinity of the Sounds, but we learn this morning that that section was visited with a gentle rain only, the centre of the storm passing, evidently, far to the eastward.

We have received quite a novelty in the shape of a good-sized Irish potato, upon which is formed seven others. These last are "small potatoes," yet there they are. It (or they) was (or were) raised in Leesburg, Pender county, and came consigned to Messrs Hall & Pearsall.

No Matches.

Matches in this city are about as scarce as hen's teeth. As the tax on them expired on the 1st inst., the merchants have been disposing of their stocks on hand so as to be able to take advantage of the first reduction in price consequent upon the abolition of the tax. There will probably be a plenty here after the arrival of the next steamer, due to-morrow, from New York.

Our Export Trade.

The following shows the exports from the port of Wilmington for the fiscal year ended June 30th, 1883:

Articles.	Quantity.	Value.
Cotton	55,579 bales	$2,656,080 00
Spirits	2,674,080 galls.	1,164,055 00
Rosin & turp.	380,099 bbls.	655,512 00
Tar & pitch	37,205	57,125 00
Lumber	9,691,000 feet	160,317 00
Shingles	2,306,000	15,386 00
Miscellaneous		3,449 25
Total		$4,711,913 25

Death of Mr. Petteway.

The community was shocked yesterday to hear of the sudden and unexpected death of Mr. William H. Petteway, which occurred at 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning, at his residence on North Third, between Walnut and Red Cross streets. The deceased had been unwell, though not considered seriously sick, for several days, and was taken with a congestive chill at about 1 o'clock on Sunday morning which terminated as we have stated. Mr. Petteway was well known as an engineer on the Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroad, a position he has held nearly or quite 20 years, and had been in railroad employ more than 30 years. He leaves a wife and eight children, who have our sympathy in their bereavement. The deceased was quiet and unobtrusive in his manners, was a man of strict integrity and was very much esteemed by all who knew him. He was a member of St. John's Lodge, F. & A. M., under whose direction his obsequies were conducted yesterday afternoon, Rev. Frank H. Wood, of the Front Street M. E. Church being the officiating clergyman. His remains were interred in Oakdale Cemetery, and were followed to the grave by a large concourse of sorrowing friends.
