The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

The riots in Ely, Va., have been suppressed without bloodshed.

No election yet for United States Senator from New Hampshire.

There were forty-three deaths from yellow fever at Havana last week.

Jerome Napoleon proposes to issue a manifesto in case of the death of Count de Chambord.

The "Old Brick Church," in Isle of Wight county, Va. is the oldest church of English building now standing in America, having been erected in 1632.

The Statesville Landmark comes to us this week enlarged and improved. It is now one of the largest, best conducted and probably best paying papers in the State.

Judge Hill, United States District Judge in Mississippi, has refused to consider charges of election frauds brought by information. He insists that such charges must be brought by indictment.

Tourgee, author of the "Fool's Errand," objects to Senator Edmunds as a Presidential candidate because he is too old, but favors Senator Sherman. Senator Edmunds is but 55, while Sherman is 63.

Friends of the University of Virginia are telling with pride that professors for eleven different chairs or departments in colleges, polytechnic schools and other institutions of higher learning in the United States have recently been chosen from its alumni.

Lord Byron is said by the London Lancet to have been killed by the old-fashioned physicians, being copiously bled when he was already too weak to resist the effects of the disease. He had malarial fever, and quinine might have saved him, but all the same, he would be dead now, quinine or no quinine.

Madame Paulina Minck, a French nihilist, has named her son Lucifer Satan Vercingetrix Minck. It is hard to imagine a more utter and total defiance of every amenity of life and religion than is conveyed in this fact. The boy will probably do full justice to his name and his parents.

Queen Victoria sent a wreath to Sunderland to be placed among those which have been deposited upon the graves of the victims of the late disaster. It is composed of white immortelles, and is upward of three feet in diameter. It bears the following inscription: "A mark of deep sympathy from Queen Victoria. 'Suffer little children to come unto Me, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.'"

The viceregal carriage, with its cavalry escort, the officer riding by the door with his drawn sword, and the car of detectives following, is a familiar sight in Dublin. Police protection, however, shows signs of being on the wane. Most of the judges have only one protector, and occasionally none. The Crown prosecutors alone, with their adjuncs of detectives and marines, keep up the tradition of more troubled times.

Queen Victoria's John Brown died comparatively poor. Over his remains the Queen erected a monumental stone with the following inscription: "That friend on whose fidelity you count, that friend given you by circumstances over which you have no control, was God's own gift. 'Well done, good and faithful servant, thou has been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things; enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.'"

James H. Heverin, a theatrical lawyer of New York, says: "Lotta is the wealthiest actress in the world. She can make more money with her feet than the brainiest man living can with his head. She made $125,000 last season and she is worth altogether, to my knowledge, fully $1,000,000, notwithstanding the fact that she has lost $300,000 by bad speculations." All of which would seem to imply that if money be the supreme good an education of the heels is much more important than cultivation of the head.

This morning was cloudy, hot and overcast.

Good facilities for grouping at the Yates Gallery. 3t.

Business was rather quiet on Water street to-day.

Silver Plated Spoons and Forks, low prices, at JACOBI'S.

The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up only 3 bales.

The supply of beef in the market continues ordinary as to quality.

Capt. Joseph J. Bowden is confined to his house by a dislocated ankle.

A physician in this city has driven his horse 64,000 miles since he owned him.

It is said that another hot wave is coming down upon us from the Northwest.

How solemnly true it is that the jaws of death are not half so dreadful as the "jaws" of life.

This is one of the best mottoes ever followed—Never trouble trouble until trouble troubles you.

Carpenters are at work making some necessary repairs to the roof of St. Thomas' Catholic Church.

It was quite cool and comfortable last night, after the shower, and sleep was refreshing and enjoyable.

Steamboatmen report that the river had fallen about a foot when they left Fayetteville yesterday morning.

We are all good if you except the badness that is in us; and all saints if you leave out the fact that we are sinners.

One case of disorderly conduct was brought before the Mayor this morning which was settled by the payment of a fine of $5 and costs.

If you could only step out of yourself and take a good look at yourself the chances are that you wouldn't want to go into yourself again.

The rain, which fell in torrents here yesterday afternoon, amounted only to a shower at the Sound, the fall being barely sufficient to lay the dust.

Alderman Samuel Bear, Jr., left last night for New York and other Northern and Eastern cities. He expects to be absent until about the 1st of August.

The Atlantic Steam Fire Engine Co., of Newbern, is expected here some time next week. There will be about thirty men in the company, and they will meet with a hearty and cordial welcome.

The old plank bridges across the gutters in front of the Court House and on the opposite side of the street, were taken up this morning and new ones put in their places.

Within the last few days we have conversed with farmers from all the adjoining counties, and they all complain that it is almost impossible to subdue the grass.

Artistic and pleasing Portraits, LARDNER, Photographer, Yates' Gallery. 3t.

A few days since a child in this city showed a bean up one of its nostrils, where it remained until to-day, when it was removed by Dr. Bellamy. Singular to relate, the bean had sprouted during the time it had been in its strange and unusual lodging place.

"Wait till the clouds roll by" is the latest sensation in the song and chorus line, and every gamin, white or colored, in the street is singing or whistling it. It is played on the harmonicon, accordion, organ and piano, and we expect to hear it thumped out on a drum before long.

Nature is very fortunate about some things. No matter how shrewd a man may be about other things—failing and paying ten cents on the dollar, and saving enough from the wreck to buy a corner house on the avenue in his wife's name—he must, and there is no possible escape from it, he must, whether he will or no, pay the debt of nature in full.

The Whole South.
All the Southern people agree that Dr. Worthington's Cholera and Diarrhoea Medicine, is the best in use for stomach and bowel troubles. Price 25 cents.

As it was Intended.

In making up our report yesterday of the export trade of Wilmington for the fiscal year ended June 30th, 1883, the word foreign was accidentally omitted, by which erroneous conclusions might be reached. The table was intended to show the kinds, quantities and values of our exports foreign for the time given.

The "Banks House."

The Carolina Yacht Club held a meeting yesterday afternoon at which some ten or twelve new members were added to the organization. The powers of the building committee were enlarged and they were given carte blanche to proceed with the erection of the "Banks House" as rapidly as circumstances will permit. It is expected that the building will be completed and ready for occupancy by the first week in August.

Of Consumption.

Mr. Nicholas W. Yopp died this morning at the residence of his father, Mr. Samuel L. Yopp, on Walnut, between Seventh and McRae streets. His disease was consumption, which was contracted at Florence, S. C., about eight months ago, where he was employed in the shops of the W. C. & A. Railroad. Soon after being stricken down he came to his father's where he has remained ever since gradually declining until death came to his release from sufferings which at times were intense, but which he bore with great fortitude. He was about 27 years of age and leaves a wife and two children to mourn his death.

Important to Many.

In view of the repeal of all taxes payable by check and proprietary stamps, which went into effect on the 1st inst. Commissioner of Internal Revenue has issued the following regulations for the benefit of all concerned:

- 1st. Checks or proprietary stamps presented for redemption should be addressed to "The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C." and must be forwarded at the risk of the owner.
- 2nd. The stamps should be accompanied by a claim, on Form 81, copies of which form will be furnished on application to this office.
- 3rd. Claims may be sworn to or affidavits made before any internal revenue officer authorized to administer oaths, without fee. Any other person administering an oath or affirmation must show, by seal or certificate from the proper authority, that he is qualified to do so. An officer in signing a jurat should give the title of his office.
- 4th. Check and general proprietary stamps will be redeemed at their face value, less 5 per centum, private die proprietary stamps at their face value, less 5 or 10 per centum, according to the rate of commission allowed on their purchase.
- 7th. In cases where an allowance is asked for stamps destroyed, the facts in the case should be submitted to this office, and special instructions as to the evidence required will be given.
- 8. Stamps will only be redeemed when presented by a bona fide owner, or a duly authorized agent or representative of such owner.
- 9. When a claim is made by a person acting as agent, executor, receiver, or in any other representative capacity, the authority of the representative to so act must be shown.
- 10. Claims will be acted on, as nearly as possible, in the order of their receipt, and in all cases as soon after their receipt as the condition of the public business will permit.

By Moonlight.
As well be seen by advertisement in its appropriate column, there will be a moonlight excursion to Federal Point on the Passport on the night of Tuesday, the 17th inst. The moon will then be at her prettiest, and every exertion will be made by the managers Capt. J. W. Harper and Mr. Geo. N. Harriss, to give the excursionists lots of fun.

Home Objects.
Our contemporaries in different portions of the State speak frequently and with commendable pride of the beauty of their own particular surroundings, and we know that they do not exaggerate the matter, as we are aware that no State in the South can boast of prettier cities, towns and villages than North Carolina. But while we cheerfully concede all this, we are not prepared to admit that any town or city in the State excels our own Wilmington. As we have the largest population of any city in the State, as our mercantile and commercial interests are larger, so do we possess the advantages of beautiful scenery clustered about with historic interest such as no other city in the State can lay claim to. Our Cape Fear river, with its fleet of busy craft, representing the commercial importance of the city, is of itself an object of interest. Our streets lined with beautiful shade trees and pleasant residences; our churches, elegant in structure and design; Oakdale, the beautiful "city of the dead," besides many other places of interest, are objects worthy the largest city in the State.

Great Closing Out Sale.
Goods will be slaughtered within the next 60 days in order to make room for one of the largest and finest Stocks of Fall and Winter clothing and gents furnishing goods ever brought to Wilmington. A. & I. SIERER, Reliable Clothiers, 114 Market St. †
