 Condition of the Sinking Fund City of Wilmington

Day's length 14 hours and 19 minutes.
 Cantaloupes are still unreasonably high.

There were no interments in Bellevue Cemetery this week.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 16 bales.

Sunset to-morrow afternoon at 15 minutes past 7 o'clock.

A right presentable watermelon can be bought now for a quarter.

There were four interments—all adults—in Oakdale Cemetery this week.

Messrs Worth & Worth had the misfortune to lose a valuable horse last night.

At 3 o'clock today the thermometer in this office registered 91 degrees. That is not very hot for the middle of July.

Rev. Dr. Bernheim, with his wife and two youngest children, left Charlotte Thursday for their future home at Phillipsburg, N. J.

The Register of Deeds issued three marriage licenses this week, one of which was for a white couple and two were for colored couples.

Mr. J. J. Scott, formerly of this city, but now a resident of Goldsboro and connected with the Goldsboro Bulletin, was on our streets to-day.

The Seaside Hotel has been well patronized this season. There are many guests there now and the evenings, when the band plays and the young folks dance in the pavilion, are very lively.

Coming To day.
 The muskets for the Smithville Light Infantry, which were expected some days ago, were shipped from Raleigh yesterday and will arrive in the city this evening, whence they will be forwarded to Smithville on Monday. This is "sartin sure," and our military friends at Smithville may look confidently for the "shootin' irons" at the time we have named.

Firemen's Visit.
 The several committees of the Fire Department met at the Mayor's office yesterday afternoon, and Capt. C. D. Myers, Chief of the Department, was made Chairman, and Mr. B. G. Eupie, Secretary, who was instructed to correspond with the Atlantic Fire Company, of Newbern, in regard to the contemplated visit of the latter to this city, and to assure them of a cordial and hearty welcome.

We understand that Howard Relief Fire Engine Co. No. 1, contemplate having a dinner at Wrightsville Sound on the 23rd inst., and if the visiting firemen reach here in season, arrangements have been made by which they will be transported to the Sound and be the Company's guests on that festive occasion.

Fruit Growers' Exhibition.
 Mayor Hall received a letter this morning from Capt. R. P. Paddison, President of the North Carolina Fruit Growers' Association, conveying the intelligence that it has been decided to hold the next exhibition of the Association in this city, commencing on the 22nd day of August next and continuing three days. Since the proposition was first mooted Mayor Hall has worked assiduously for its accomplishment, and we rejoice that he has been successful. It will be of great advantage to our people, not only making us better acquainted with the fruit growing capacity of other sections of the State, but it will also make us better acquainted with the people. Our citizens have done well in giving encouragement, in the way of premiums, to the Association to hold the exhibition here, and we feel confident they will have no reason to regret their generous contributions to the object. The visitors to the city during the exhibition will run up into the thousands, and the occasion will be a time of mutual pleasure and profit.

A fine assortment of Guns and Pistols at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

A New Counterfeit.

Counterfeits of the new five cent pieces, which did not have the word "cents" on the coin, have put in appearance. The counterfeit is a poor one. It is of light lead color and the thirteen stars surrounding the head of the Goddess of Liberty are much smaller than on the original pieces. There is an open space between the bottom of the V in the latter coin. In the counterfeit the V almost touches the wreath underneath.

Election of Officers.

The annual meeting of the Wilmington Library Association was held yesterday evening and Mr. Alex. Sprunt was elected President for the ensuing year, and Dr. Thos F. Wood, Secretary. A Board of Directors was also elected, consisting of the President, Vice President and Messrs W. R. Kenan, John Cowan, M. S. Willard, G. H. Smith, Iredell Meares, J. F. Post, Jr., and W. M. Cumming. The new constitution was adopted. There will be a meeting of the Board of Directors this afternoon at 6 o'clock.

Moonlight and Music.

Excursions on the river by moonlight, when well conducted, are certainly very enjoyable. The one to be given next Tuesday night the 17th inst., on the Passport to Federal Point, judging from the preparations already made, will be the moonlight excursion of the season. There will be music for dancing, and refreshments will be furnished on the boat, ice cream, cake &c. The boat will remain at the Rocks a full hour, during which time a stroll upon the beach, hunting turtles and turtle eggs, and surf bathing can be enjoyed. Those who wish it can have a fish supper served for them, the fish being taken from the coops "alive and kicking." This is certainly a chance for a full measure of enjoyment. The boat will leave her wharf at 8 o'clock sharp.

A Timely Order.

Complaint having been made to the Postoffice Department that newspapers and periodicals sent to regular subscribers are not in all cases promptly forwarded, Mr. Wm. B. Thompson, the general superintendent of the railway mail service, has issued an order to the employees of the railway mail service in which he says: "To the addressee such matter is of least importance with his letter mail, and it should be treated with equal care by the post clerks. If it is necessary to withdraw second class matter (papers and periodicals) from its wrapper in order to ascertain its destination, it may be done, but it will not be allowed for any other purpose. The Postmaster-General desires that the practice of reading newspapers passing through the mails be discontinued wherever it exists."

Beautiful Scenery.

Reader—especially if you are a resident of Wilmington—have you ever noticed the beauty our streets present at this season of the year? To our eye they present pictures of indescribable loveliness, such as few cities within our knowledge can boast. The streets may not all possess the same picturesque beauty, but all come within the category of beautiful. For instance: stand in the center of Second street, at its intersection with Chesnut street, and cast your eyes North towards the railroad and the sight will be enchanting. The street, lined with shade trees in all their luxuriant foliage, with here and there a roof or chimney peeping out above them, until nothing but forest is seen in the perspective, and you will be pleasantly astonished at the sublime loveliness of the picture. Then turn your eyes South and see where the street becomes absorbed in the dense foliage of the overhanging trees and you will almost imagine that you are in the midst of a hamlet busy and active with the duties and cares of life, while but a short distance beyond, on either side, there is nothing but the interminable forest to greet your vision. We have taken this locality as an illustration, partly because it affords one of the most beautiful perspectives in the city, and partly because we called the attention of a native-born Wilmingtonian to the view last evening, who was enraptured with the scene, but who confessed that he had never noticed it before. All the other streets running parallel with Second street, as far East as Seventh, are quite as beautiful and, when the view is taken from proper points of observation, the streets running perpendicular to those we have named present scenery not a particle less attractive.

The Tri-Color.

The French flag was flying from the flagstaff of the French Vice-Consulate in this city today in honor of the anniversary of the destruction of the Bastille in Paris, July 14th, 1789, which was the commencement of the French Revolution.

Cotton.

The receipts of cotton at this port for the week ending with to-day foot up 23 bales, as against 32 bales for the corresponding week of last year, a decrease of the crop year to date foot 127,305 bales, as against 135,982 bales to same date last year a decrease this year of 8,677 bales.

The Next Excursion.

The Young Catholic's Friend Society will make an excursion on the Passport to Smithville and the Forts on Tuesday, the 17th inst. The Italian band will furnish music for dancing and there will be an abundance of refreshments for sale at city prices. A good time may be expected, as our Catholic friends are never backward in coming forward in whatever will contribute to a pleasurable occasion.

City Court.

There were just a dozen cases for the Mayor's consideration this morning, as follows:

Andrew Laspeyre, colored, for being drunk and down, was fined $3 or 5 days in the city prison. He went below.

Rainy Pearsall, colored female, for disorderly conduct, didn't have the wherewithal to pay a fine of $5, and was sent below for 30 days.

Charles Peterson, for the same offense, was short the requisite $5, and he also went below for 30 days.

Sam. Larkins, colored, was charged with an assault and battery, but judgment was suspended on payment of costs.

Lucy Davis, Mary Morris, C. H. Hill, Emory Green, James Radcliffe and Archie Brown, all colored, and Richard Holmes, all colored, were charged with a violation of one of the market ordinances in selling certain vegetables outside the market house. In the first case judgment was suspended; the second was dismissed, and the remainder were fined $3 each.

Jesse Cumber, charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5, in default of which he was sent below for 30 days.

Rice Plantations.

The rice plantations on the Cape Fear are hopeful of large crops this year. The prospect at present is very favorable. A few days since we visited three large plantations on the North East river, from two to three miles above the city. Two of those was the old Thornbury place known also, previous to the war, as the Thomas I. Davis place. It is now owned by Mr. W. T. Bray, who has only recently purchased it. It is entirely surrounded by water and can be approached only in boats, the river bounding it on three sides. Mr. Bray commenced work there last November and has already done wonders. He has about forty hands at work now all, as is the present custom, working by the task. He is now experimenting with seed sown broadcast, instead of in drills, and speaks of devoting a portion of his land next year to truck gardening. He hopes for a full crop this year and told us that if the present promises held good, he would succeed, out of this, the first year's crop, in paying the entire cost of the land with all of the improvements he has made there and all of the expenses of cultivation. Mr. Bray is a man of much energy and experience and superintends the cultivation of two other plantations, as well as his own.

The excursion of Fifth Street M. E. Sunday School, on the Passport, next Thursday, will undoubtedly be well attended, as are all the excursions gotten up by that society. The management will spare no pains to make the day pleasant and agreeable to all who may attend.
