THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, JULY 18, 1883. NO. 170

PLEASE NOTICE.

We will be glad to receive communications from our friends on any and all subjects of general interest but

The name of the writer must always be attached to the Editor.

Communications must be written on one side of the paper.

Personalities must be avoided.

And it is especially and particularly understood that the Editor does not always endorse the views of correspondents unless so stated in the editorial columns.

The Daily Review has the largest local circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

A slight shock of earthquake was felt at Cairo, Ill., Saturday morning at about 2 o'clock.

Bradstreet estimates the total yield of Spring and Winter wheat this year at 41,000,000 bushels.

Mary Ann Chandler, mother of Secretary Chandler, died at Concord, N. H., Saturday night, aged 82.

A general attack of cholera in all portions of the globe is predicted by some scientific Wiggins of England.

W. H. H. Murray, of Adirondack fame, proposes to open a law office in New York city and another in San Antonio.

Bishop Beck with very sensibly favors high license as the best and only practicable restraint upon the liquor business.

The steamer Niagara, which took fire and was run ashore off Indiana Key last Thursday, has been raised and taken to Havana.

The mortality in New York rose last week from 1,051 to 1,110. For the week ended July 8, last year, the record was 695 deaths, and for that ended July 15, 1,084.

Through an oversight in swearing in Mr. Ricky, lieutenant-governor of Nova Scotia, no legal marriage can take place in that province except by publishing the bans.

Three out of four of the pension office clerks who have been arrested for frauds on claimants are Mahone's appointees. The Boston Herald moralizes upon this, and shows that Mahone, having demoralized the politics of Virginia, his henchmen were simply imitating their Boss.

Augusta Chronicle: We see that beautiful poem, "The Georgia Volunteer" still going the rounds, credited to one M. A. D. Maxwell, of California. The real author is Mrs. Mary Ashley Townsler, of New Orleans. That gifted and noble lady should not be wronged in her art productions.

At a meeting of the Baltimore Club, held recently, the matter of the objections to the invitation extended to the duelist Biene to visit the rooms of the Club was discussed. A resolution was passed by a four-fifths majority to the effect that the objections raised did not meet the views of the members of the club and expressing regret that the invitation was not sent. The president of the club, Mr. Robert Riddle Brown, voted with the majority, as did several of the board of governors.

A correspondent of the Chicago Inter-Ocean places the Republican majority in Iowa this fall at 40,000, which goes to prove that the usual Republican tactics have been resorted to in advance of the facts which will contradict them. "Lie like hell and stick to it" was once Ike Young's advice to the party of moral ideas and it is evident that they have not yet forgotten the advice nor how to carry it into effect.

Moonlight Excursion

C E JEVENS—Machines Repaired

No cotton received at this port to day.

The City Court had nothing on the docket to dispose of this morning.

Quite a large party went down the river this morning on the Passport, on the excursion given by the Society of the Second Baptist Church.

Remember the excursion on the Passport to be given by the Fifth Street M. E. Sunday School to-morrow, and be prepared to go and have a pleasant time.

The excursionists yesterday had a very pleasant time until they arrived near the city on their return, when the shower burst upon them, and many got wet before they could reach home or a good shelter.

Great Closing Out Sale.

Goods will be slaughtered within the next 60 days in order to make room for one of the largest and finest Stocks of Fall and Winter clothing and gents furnishing goods ever brought to Wilmington. A I. SHERR, Reliable Clothier, 114 Market St.

Coming This Way.

A circus down South at this season of the year is a novelty, and yet Nathan & Co's Circus is billed for an appearance at Norfolk on the 25th inst., and the Raleigh Visitor says that it will also soon thereafter be at Raleigh. Perhaps it may also come to Wilmington.

By Moonlight.

The moonlight excursion to Federal Point, which was to have taken place last night, but which was postponed on account of the weather, will be given tonight and it is hoped there will be as many in attendance as the boat can well accommodate and as good a time as possible.

A fine assortment of Guns and Pistols at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

A New Paper.

We have received the initial number of the Caswell Times, published at Point Caswell, Pender county, by Messrs O. O. Voller and W. E. Black. Two young amateurs ambitious for journalistic fame, fortune and hard work. It is quite a readable sheet and we wish its editors the very tip-toppest of good luck in their enterprise.

A Nuisance.

There is considerable well-founded complaint about cows with bells on being allowed to roam our streets at night. One gentleman was kept awake nearly all last night by just such a nuisance, and if the intolerable noise is permitted to continue he would like a load of those three pound paving stones dumped at his yard so that he can exercise himself during his enforced wakefulness by throwing them at the annoying cows. He is a very peaceable, law-abiding citizen, but he don't feel like being broken of his much needed rest and sleep in such a manner without making a protest.

Silver Plated Spoons and Forks, low prices, at JACOBI'S.

For the Light Infantry Boys.

At the next Fair, of the Virginia State Agricultural Society, which is to be held in Richmond on the 31st of October, and 1st and 3rd of November next, there is to be competitive drill of military companies who may be in attendance, the judges to be officers of the United States Army. The military of the States of Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia are invited to participate in the drill and compete for the prizes offered, which amount in all to $2,000. None but white companies are invited. The prizes are divided into two classes, the first being a prize of $1,000, in which, through courtesy, the companies of Virginia will not compete. In the second class the prizes are $500, $250, $150 and $100 respectively and are open to competition by all the companies present excepting the company which wins the first prize of $1,000. Arrangements have been made with nearly all the railroads by which transportation will be furnished at exceedingly low rates. Companies desiring to compete should notify Col. John B. Purcell, Richmond, Va., at as early a date as possible, and all arrangements for quartering the different commands can be made by correspondence with Capt. A. L. Bargamin, Richmond, Va.

We hope that our citizen soldiery may be induced to be on hand on the 1st of November, the day the drill is to take place and that some company from North Carolina may be so perfect in its drill and discipline as to be able to bring home a prize. What say our soldier laddies of the Wilmington Light Infantry? Will they make the effort? We hope they will. There is good material in the corps, and the prize is worthy the trial.

Destructive Fire.

About 7 o'clock last evening, and when the storm which had been raging for over an hour had considerably abated, a frame warehouse, containing about 200 casks of spirits of turpentine, on the naval store yard of Messrs. Woody & Currie, on South Water, between Orange and Ann streets, was struck by lightning, and in a moment, owing to the inflammable nature of the material, was wapped in a sheet of flame. The alarm was sounded and the Fire Department was promptly on hand, but such was the combustible nature of the material the fire spread to the adjacent yards and warehouses with great rapidity. Dense volumes of smoke rose from the blazing mass, and moved by a gentle North-west wind, floated towards the Southeast until it hung like a great, sombre pall over nearly the entire city. The rain soon ceased to fall and hundreds of our citizens thronged the streets to witness the sublime but fearful spectacle. The firemen worked with a will, but the large quantities of rosin and turpentine stored in the different yards seemed to bid them defiance, and threatened for a while that entire portion of the city. Their efforts, however, aided by the resisting effect of a high and thick stone wall, prevailed and the flames were gotten under control and finally extinguished, but not until property to the amount of $18,000 or $20,000 had been destroyed, the most of which was covered by insurance.

We have been unable to learn the actual loss of any of the sufferers, but we are satisfied that it was all fully covered by insurance, as the following figures will show:

Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son, floating insurance on naval stores in Liverpool, London & Globe, $5,000; Scottish Union, $5,000; Lancashire, $5,000, and North American, $5,000. Mr. D. L. Gore, floating insurance in the North American, $500, besides insurance in the Phoenix of Brooklyn $500; Pamlico $500, and Liverpool, London & Globe $1,000. W. J. Gore & Son on merchandise in the Wilmington Mutual $500. Paterson Downing & Co., naval stores, floating, Liverpool, London & Globe, $10,000; Connecticut $3,000. Harding Johnson & Co., naval stores, floating, Liverpool, London & Globe, $3,000. George W. Williams & Co., naval stores, floating, Home $10,000; North British $10,000. E. Kidder & Son molasses, Imperial & Northern, $7,500. Woody & Currie, naval stores, floating, Lancashire, $7,000; North American $4,000, Queen $2,500 and City of London $2,500. H. B. Eilers, in Hartford $1,500. Kenan & Forshee, salt, North American, $2,000. W. G. Fowler, office & scales, London Assurance, $300. Fowler & Morrison, coal and wood, London Assurance, $1,200. Alfred Martin, warehouse building, Underwriters $300 and Wilmington Mutual $500.

The several companies are represented in this city by the following firms: Liverpool, London & Globe by J. W. Gordon & Bro.; Scottish Union and Connecticut by W. L. Smith & Co.; North American, Lancashire, Home, London Assurance and Underwriters by Northrop & Hodges; Phoenix, North British, Imperial & Northern, Queen, City of London and Hartford by Atkinson & Manning; Pamlico by Martin S. Willard, and the Wilmington Mutual by J. Kent Brown.

During the early portion of last night the weather was cool and sleep was refreshing, but towards morning it grew perceptibly warmer.

For the Review.

Sewerage, Drainage, &c.

On the 12th inst., there appeared in the Star a short article on this subject which seemed to the writer a movement in the right direction and not an hour too soon. In the closing paragraph of that paper is the following sentence: "Shall we have sewerage and drainage or cholera and yellow fever from the want of a system of healthy drainage and sewerage, &c?" We are a commercially employed people and seldom stop to think of the sanitary condition of our port until we are reminded by the destroying pestilence, when it is too late!

The location of Wilmington upon high ground, sloping to the West and East, with the Cape Fear river on one side and Smith's Creek on the other, presents very great facilities for drainage. With all this in its favor the streets, as a whole, are very imperfectly drained, as any observer will see by riding over the city after a rain storm. Why is this? Do not our "City Fathers" appreciate the necessity of drainage to secure health during this terribly hot weather? Is there a difference of opinion between the Boards of Aldermen and Audit and Finance? We have understood there was some difference at one time but now. Why then should not the Board of Aldermen proceed to drain the worst places? Be sure the streets cannot be "dug up" between July 1 and October 1, yet there are places that are to-day far more disea-creating than would be the excavations of the streets for drainage. Take Fourth street, for example: In many places the water is ponded on it to-day and comes under the sun's rays at a temperature of more than ninety degrees!

Again, the health officers and physicians say there is no danger from opening a ditch for sewer pipes if they are covered up the same day they are opened. In this connection it is not out of place to call the attention of the Boards of Aldermen and Commissioners of Navigation and Pilotage to the serious damage that is almost daily being done to the harbor by the drift sand that is constantly carried into the river by the washings of the streets. Before you are fully alive to this difficulty your harbor will be too shoally to float your ships. Your docks are now fast filling up and the effect will be more serious than you think upon the channels.

Savannah, at an expense, we are told, of several hundred thousand dollars, had to dredge out her harbor, as the government of the United States refused to do any work of that kind, caused by the washings of the streets. With a system of sewerage and drainage, such as should be had here, all these washings can be kept out of the river.

Shall it be done? Prevention is far cheaper than cure. But health first and the saving of a large item for street repairs after every heavy rain and the preservation of our deep water harbor the second.
