home file circulation, of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Rev. E. W. Roach, a prominent Baptist, aged 85 years, died very suden-ly last Tuesday in Charlotte county, Virginia.

The army-worm has made its appearance in the northern sections of Lancaster county, Pa. in large numbers, and is committing ravages in the tobacco fields.

The Arctic raspberry is one of the smallest plants known. A six-ounce vial will hold the whole plant, branches, leaves and all.

Alexander Hamilton's monument in Trinity churchyard is crumbling away.
Another, and more imposing shaft, is about to be erected by his relatives.

Last Saturday evening, near Helena, Ark. two colored men, one armed with a musket and the other with a rifle, fought a duel at twenty paces. Both were mortally wounded.

S. S. Chamberlain, who will conduct the Dispatch, the new American paper in Paris, is a son of Ivory Chamberlain, for many years a writer on the World and the Herald, of New York.

The first location of space for the American exhibition at Boston, was assigned last Monday. There are over a thousand applications on file, representing every state in the Union.

There is an eatinghouse at New York where coffee is sold at a cent a cup, and meats and stews at three or four cents a plate. There are also two saloons where beer is sold at a cent a glass.

On the table lands of Southwestern Arizona, at altitudes of 8,000 to 12,000 feet, a species of wild potato grows which is said to be superior in taste and flavor to the best cultivated potatoes.

In a debate in Parliament recently upon vaccination, Dr. Lyon Playfair pointed out that 80 years ago small pox claimed 1,000 out of every 1,000,000 of the population, while to-day it carries off but 156.

An adventurous traveler has performed the feat of walking across the entire continent of Australia, a distance of 2,000 miles, in 120 days. Sometimes fully 100 miles intervened between human habitations.

A small green fly is injuring Canadian hops, the army worm is gnawing Pennsylvania tobacco and pestiferous insects of various kinds are destroying vegetables and fruits. Let science destroy these destroyers.

The huge blocks of stones will soon begin to pile up on the Washington monument again, and the work ought not to be interrupted until the structure reaches completion at a height of 555 feet, in the autumn of 1884.

A German weekly paper in the interest of German trade and immigration has been established in the City of Mexico. The Two Republics, the organ of the American interest, has been enlarged, and will appear daily henceforth.

John H. Parnell's peach orchard at West Point, Ga., is the largest in the world. The trees are planted upon different slopes, so that when all are bearing a crop is certain in one place or another every year. There are 135,000 trees.

District Attorney Corkhill says there is more perjury committed in Washington than in any city he knows of, in proportion to area, population, &c.
There is nothing surprising in this.
The curse follows everywhere upon the heels of Radicalism.

Within the past four years 9,500 acres of land in and around Charlemon, on the James river, Virginia, have been sold in farms ranging from twenty to three hundred acres to a thrifty class of Northern and Western people. They are prospering beyond their expectations and delighted with the promise for the future.

Minneapolis is reported to ship annually, beyond her local consumption, 1,660,870 barrels of flour. "These," said the Tribune's statistician, "if piled one above the other, end to end, would reach 780 miles. The flour would make about 495,255,000 loaves of bread, the ordinary size of bakers' loaves. These, piled in a pyramid, would make roughly calculated, a square pyramid with a base 300 feet square and with a height of nearly 1,000 feet."

WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, JULY 20, 1883.

NO. 172

President Arthur has accepted an invitation to be present and formally open the Louisiana Exposition August 1st.

The New York Mail, commenting upon the Polk case in Tennessee says:
"A more disastrous failure of justice than his escape from rigorous punishment is hardly to be conceived." Is it possible that the Mail has already forgotten Oakes Ames and Schuyler Colfax and Babcock and Dorsey and all of the rest of the Star Routers. It's memory must indeed need refreshing.

Nathans and Co's circus is to show in Weldon on the 26th.

Rev. Thomas W. Brown arrived in this city last night on a visit to his family and friends.

Steamboatmen report the water in the Cape Fear as very low and still falling.

A colored woman drunk on Market street was a bominable sight this morning.

It was at Hendersonville, and not at Henderson, that Mr. Luther Bridges died. The former is in the mountains and the latter is in the East; but they are both called Henderson by the natives.

Cape Fear Lodge, No. 2, and Orion Lodge, No. 67, I. O. O. F., will meet in joint session at Odd Fellows Hall at 8 o'clock this evening to welcome Grand Master James F. Payne, of Monroe, who will be present.

Knights of Honor.

The Grand Lodge of the Knights of Honor of this State meets with the Greensboro Lodge in August next.
About 90 delegates, representing every lodge in the State, will be present.
The Patriot says that the Odd Fellows have kindly tendered the use of their elegant and capacious hall and the meetings of the Grand Lodge will be held there. Arrangements have been perfected with the Benbow House for the entertainment of the delegates.

Legion of Honor.

Mr. N. Jacobi arrived home last night from Tarboro, where he has been in attendance at the meeting of the Grand Council of North Carolina, of the American Legion of Honor, which convened at that place on Tuesday evening, the 17th inst. Mr. Jacobi was Grand Commander of this State, and presided over the deliberations of the body. There was a fair attendance and a large amount of work was accomplished in the short time of the session.
Mr. Jacobi declined a re-election, but was complimented by a rising vote of thanks for the assiduity, zeal and fidelity with which he had discharged the arduous and sometimes perplexing duties of his office during the year. It is proper also to state here that every decision made by him as Grand Commander of the State was sustained by the Grand Council of the State:

G. T.—W. H. Snyder, Rocky Mount.
G. C.—A. H. McLeod, Lumberton.
G. G.—C. O. Mercer, Charlotte.
G. W.—Jos. Schwerin, Newbern.
G. S.—Jas. A. Newman, Greenville.
The next meeting of the Grand Council was appointed to be in Newbern, on the first Tuesday in August, 1884.

Great Closing Out Sale.

Goods will be slaughtered within the next 60 days in order to make room for one of the largest and finest Stocks of Fall and Winter clothing and gents furnishing goods ever brought to Wilmington. A. I. SHIER, Reliable

Something Remarkable.

We were shown a piece of black walnut board to-day which was evidently two trees which had grown together so as to form a complete union of the wood. In sawing it apart a cavity was discovered in which were walnuts and a portion of one of the trees with the bark on, which at a subsequent date had been entirely surrounded with another growth of wood.

A Suggestion.

As the Atlantic Steam Fire Engine Company, of Newbern, will arrive here on Tuesday, the 24th inst., we hope that the men belonging to our Fire Department will take a day to show the visiting company around, and that the employers will cheerfully aid the Department by giving their clerks a day's vacation, so that the companies may turn out with full ranks. Will our merchants do it? We believe they will.

City Court.

The following cases were brought before the Mayor this morning and disposed of:

William Nixon, colored, disorderly conduct, $5 or 20 days in the city prison. He went below.

J. H. Waddell, colored, disorderly conduct, $5 or 20 days in the city prison. He went below.

Victoria Collins, colored, drunk and down, $3 or 10 days in the city prison. She went below.

David Joceyn, colored nuisance, $5 or 30 days in the city prison. He paid the fine.

C. M. Williams, for permitting a cow with a bell on to run at large, was fined $10.

The Sun Cholera Mixture.

Now that it has been ascertained that the cholera which has appeared in Egypt is the genuine Asiatic article from which the worst is to be feared should its march eastward not be stayed by strict quarantine regulations, cholera prescriptions are in demand by correspondents, who write to the editor as if he were a personal friend and the family physician. For more than forty years what is known as "The Sun Cholera Mixture" has stood the test of experience as the best remedy for looseness of the bowels ever yet devised. As was once vouched for by the New York Journal of Commerce, "no one who has this by him and takes it in time, will ever have the cholera." Even when no cholera is anticipated, it is an excellent thing for the ordinary summer complaints, colic, diarrhoea, dysentery &c., and we have no hesitation in commending it. Here it is: Take equal parts of tincture of cayenne, tincture of opium, tincture of rhubarb, essence of peppermint, and spirits of camphor.
Mix well. Dose, fifteen to thirty drops in a wineglass of water, according to age and violence of the attack. Repeat every fifteen or twenty minutes until relief is obtained.

Lippincott's Magazine.

Lippincott's for August has a variety of articles especially suited to summer reading. The opening illustrated paper, "A Holiday on French Rivers," is an account of a boating excursion down the Yonne and the Seine to Rouen. "A Moose-Hunt in the Ottawa Valley" will attract the attention of sportsmen, and "A Day at Lake Tahoe," will appeal to all lovers of nature, comparatively few of whom have any knowledge of this wonderful sheet of water.
An article which should be not only read but attentively considered is one on "Hydrophobia," by Dr. Charles W.
Dalles, who exposes the prevalent misconception and exaggerations in regard to the disease, and shows that it is not only very rare, but is in many cases of a purely physical nature and the result of fright. "The Story of Hannah Lightfoot," a fair Quakeress whom George III is said to have privately married in his youth, is by T. Fitzgerald Molloy, a well known English writer. In a paper on "Government Engineers," Frank D. Y. Carpenter complains with much justice and force that the civil engineers employed by the government receive no adequate recognition for their services, the military officers monopolizing the credit and prestige of public works which they neither devise nor execute.

It is hardly necessary to mention Miss Tinker's serial, "The Jewel in the Lotus," though the present installment will be likely to excite a flutter among Roman Catholic readers. "The Soul-Sisters," by Charles Dunning, is an interesting story, and "The Idol and the Idolaters" is a piquant sketch.— Among the short papers in the "Monthly Gossip," an account of the Economists, a flourishing community in Western Pennsylvania, deserves particular notice.

The Telegraph Strikers.

The strikers still hold out and those in this city seem confident that they will gain their ends and carry their points against the Western Union Telegraph Company.

The following is an official statement from the Executive Officers of the Brotherhood of Telegraphers, concerning the difficulties existing between telegraph companies and their employes:

On Monday, July 16th the Executive Board of the Brotherhood of Telegraphers of the United States and Canada presented to the Executive Officers of the several Commercial Telegraph Companies of the United States and Canada, a Memorial placing before the companies the grievances of the operators and employees generally, and petitioning for the redress of the same. The Bills of Grievances are as follows:

Section 1. Believing that man's physical and mental welfare requires that at least one day in seven be accorded him for rest and recreation, we ask for the total abolition of Sunday work as a compulsory duty, unless compensated as extra service.

Sec. 2. That eight hours shall constitute a regular day's work, and seven hours a regular night's work, and that both sexes shall receive equal pay for equal work.

Sec. 3. That a universal increase of fifteen per cent. on all salaries paid, shall be petitioned now for.

The members of the Brotherhood claim that their organization is the result of the tyrannical and unjust treatment meted out to them during the past ten years, and that their demand are not unreasonable, in view of the systematic reductions that have been forced upon them at different times by the Western Union Telegraph Company, which fixes the standard of wages for the United States and Canada. They give the following suggestive facts in support of their claims: Between the years 1870 and 1874, two general reductions took place throughout the country, amounting to about twenty-five per cent. From 1874 to 1877, local Superintendents and Managers in order to curry favor with the company, yielded with each other in economic suggestions. In 1878, the Executive officers seeing the men submit so tamely to this process, became bolder, and announced the famous (or infamous) sliding scale or general reduction of from five to twenty-five per cent. on all employees. This instrument had the quality of sliding but one way, (downward), and was followed by many contemptible and underhand measures.

Protests were sent from all points without avail. The Company's official journal, containing the order, with an audacity unparalleled, had published on the same page, the quarterly report, showing increased profits, and no word of explanation in the editorial columns as to the inconsistency. Salaries were depreciating everywhere. When the "graduation" was announced, it was mistaken at first for an olive branch, but it was soon plain that it was concocted for the purpose of cutting deeper than the previous method.

It is almost unnecessary to call attention to the well-known fact that all branches of labor, skilled and unskilled, when required to perform Sunday work, receive extra, and in many cases double pay for such work, which is not the case with telegraphic employees, who are at present required to perform such service without extra compensation.

Telegraph operators are required to possess skill of a high order; their occupation is confining and continuous and upon them is concentrated the gravest responsibilities, and this responsibility is constant and oppressive. It wears like upon mind and body and impairs the elasticity of both, while it always demands the best conditions of both.
The late Mr. William Orton, President of the Western Union Telegraph Company, whose executive ability and general knowledge on all subjects pertaining to telegraphy cannot be questioned, testified before a Congressional Committee that telegraph operators could not perform daily more than six hours of continuous labor without endangering their health, consequently the demand for eight hours for day work and seven hours for night work is believed to be reasonable and just. In a number of the principal offices seven hours constitutes a night's work at the present time, but it is claimed by the operators that they have no uniform system of working hours, it being optional with local managers to regulate the same, and who, to curry favor with their superiors, frequently impose extra working hours upon the unprotected operator, in order that they may show economical management.

In explanation of the demand for a general increase of fifteen per cent., it is only necessary to call attention to the frequent reductions that have been made, notwithstanding the net profits of handling messages are much greater than in former years, occasioned by improved machinery and more skillful labor now employed.

We learn from Mr. Sterling, the manager of the office in this city, who is the only operator on duty here, that Charlotte and Fayetteville are the only two places in the State where the offices are closed. On the door of the office in this city is the following:

NOTICE—Messages taken subject to delay and to mailing en route if necessary.

It is thought that the Charlotte office will be open to-night. Most of the offices in the State being railroad telegraph offices and not commercial offices are open, but it is understood that the operators in charge are in sympathy with the strikers and will do nothing to weaken their strength or to affect the organization. We predict that the Telegraph companies will be compelled to accede to the demand of the strikers, —which are in no way unreasonable, as will be seen above,—as the business men of the country are seriously affected by the strike.

Physicians recommend Dr. Worthington's Cholera and Diarrhoea Medicine for Summer Complaint. Price 25 cents.

The Stars in July.

July is a field day among our celestial neighbors. The most favorable months for studying the movements of the shining brotherhood that, the earth included, makes up the sun's family, is as rich in incident as any month of the year. Excepting far away Neptune and Uranus, every planet in the system is visible during some portion of the month, and every planet plays a part on its brilliant record. Visitors at the seashore, among the mountains, and in quiet country homes, will find no more fascinating occupation than that of tracing the varied paths of these bright wanderers in the celestial depths, as they rise and set, come close together, and travel far apart over the celestial highway. Neither, as their eyes are turned upward to the glorious page which nature opens to their admiring gaze, can they fail to gain new views of the wondrous Architect who spangles the sky with shining points, and holds in heavenly harmony each grain of sparkling star-dust, each mass of nebulous haze, and each sun of the myriad host of suns that, bound together by immutable laws, make up the material universe.
