THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII.

WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, JULY 27, 1883.

NO. 178

The Daily Review has the largest circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Mrs. Langtry sailed from New York for Europe on Tuesday.

Governor Butler has given $5,000 to Williams College for a gymnasium.

A prominent Western Union official estimates the loss by the strike to the Western Union in New York alone, at $25,000 a day.

The water in which the Western Union takes its daily bath is getting much warmer than that which was used on the stock. Numerous suits are being instituted against them.

The New York Tribune fresh air fund last week sent to Chenango county, N.
Y., 105 poor children to spend two weeks in the country, and 120 more children were sent to Essex county.

Dr. W. C. Palmer, who died at Ocean grove on Friday, claimed that the last five years of his life were passed, not only free from sin, but also from the smallest inclination to wrong doing.

A noted Southern cotton manufacturer, who has also extensive acquaintance at the North, predicts that mills in the South run exclusively by steam, in competition with those moved by water, will ultimately fail.

All the reviving abolitionists and the relatives of those deceased are invited to attend the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the New York Anti-Slavery Society, to be held in that city in the Tabernacle Church, October 2.

Anent the reassembling of the Jennings heirs, the World estimates that there are at least one hundred thousand people in this country of fair abilities who have been made burdens to their friends by the insane expectation of getting millions from the Bank of England.

The St. Joseph (Mo.) Herald, is of opinion that "the time has got arrived to begin to sound the public pulse on the Presidential question, for the man who appears to be strong to day may be decidedly weak next year. It is one thing to manufacture public sentiment and quite another thing to hold it."

A peace has been patched up between the Brotherhood and the American Rapid Telegraph Company, and the operators have gone back to their keys, but the patch stops right there and does not cover all of the rents and divisions.
The basis of the agreement is not made public, but it is said to be satisfactory to all concerned.

The Philadelphia Times intimates that "there is no particular need of Secretary Chandler in Washington, and there is certainly no need of him in New Hampshire, where he persists in remaining. It was long ago evident to everybody—undoubtedly including the Chandler himself—that he cannot be elected United States Senator by the present Legislature of that State."

General W. W. Averill thinks that Mr. Hewitt should be nominated by his party for President. "He is a crochety man," says Averill, "but not to his prejudice. We do not want any flexible, boneless President—men trying to conceal something and not to offend anybody. It will not hurt the Presidency if we should get in some upright man like Hewitt."

The Cable Railway Company of California have filed a bill in equity against the Union Passenger Railway Company of Philadelphia, asking for an injunction restraining the use of patented improvements in the new cable road to which the complainant company claims to be solely entitled. It also asks for damages arising from the alleged infringement.

Here are some interesting notes relative to the great strike. We take them from yesterday's Sun:

A meeting of the New York Assembly of the Telegraphers' Brotherhood was held at Eighth Avenue and Eighteenth street last night, at which Master Workman Mitchell announced the strike of the employees of the American Rapid Telegraph Company at an end.
Six men were ordered to report for duty at the office of that company at once, and all the striking operators and linemen were notified to report for duty at the usual hour in the morning. The particulars of the settlement were not announced, but stated to be satisfactory.
It was strongly hinted that the Baltimore and Ohio Company would yield to-day. Three rousing cheers were given for the first victory.

Several of the speakers claimed that should it prove necessary to win the battle against the Western Union Company, all the telegraphers on the ould railway system would be ordered on strike. The Brotherhood claim to have four out of every five telegraphers on those roads, including nearly all the train despatchers.

A new word has been heard now and then among the operators on strike, the word contumist. It cannot be ascertained that the word has any derivation or definition, but it appears to be applied with an offensive purpose to the men who have taken the places of the strikers in the telegraph offices, and to be equivalent to the word rat as used among printers. It is evident that the contumist is hereafter to be held and regarded as an infamous person.

The Board of Aldermen yesterday adopted the following:

Whereas, The Western Union Telegraph Company and the several other telegraph companies carrying on business in this city enjoy valuable franchises from the public in the occupation of the public highways for their poles and wires; and

Whereas, The commerce and business of this city and of the entire country are jeopardized by the interruption of prompt and accurate telegraphic communication in consequence of the action of the companies in grinding down the wages of their employees to starvation rates and refusing just and reasonable demands for an increase of wages commensurate to the service rendered and to the proper sustenance of life; therefore

Resolved, That in the opinion of this Board the telegraph companies, in return for the privileges conferred on them by the public, are legally and morally bound to supply all demands for telegraphic communication, and to that end to grant the present just demand of the telegraph employees, and we call upon the State authorities to take the necessary legal action to compel the companies to restore and maintain the prompt and correct transmission of telegraphic messages.

The nights are getting perceptibly longer.

But one bale of cotton received at this port to-day.

Last night was quite cool and comfortable for sleeping.

Wednesday's rain appears to have been very extensive and to have done a vast amount of good.

Mr. W. C. Craft has removed, his jewelry business to No. 20 South Front street.

The celebrated 'Fish Brand' Gills Twine is sold only at JACOB'S Hardware Depot.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. J. J.
Hopkins is very sick with a malaria attack at his residence in this city.

Clarendon Council, No. 77, A. L. of Honor, will meet to-night, at 8 o'clock.
Members will be present with excuses or pay fine.

We notice in the New York Times, of the 26th inst., that Rev. A. M. Conway, of the First Colored Baptist Church in this city, is in New York.

An excursion party from Goldsboro and intermediate points arrived here last night. It was not a large party, and was composed mainly of those whom business called to the city.

With the wind at the Northeast the atmosphere to day has been cool and pleasant. At 12 o'clock the mercury in the thermometer had climbed up to 85 and appeared unable to get any higher.

We learn that the telegraph line from Clinton to Warsaw is progressing favorably. The poles are all prepared and the work of placing them has been begun, and the work is being pushed as rapidly to completion as circumstances will permit.

It is not now expected that there will be a regular service at the First Baptist Church on Sunday next. There will be the regular Sunday School service, however, in the morning, which, with a prayer meeting, will constitute the religious services of the day.

The picnic yesterday and ball last night at Point Caswell are reported as being tip top in every particular.
There was a large throng in attendance from Pender and the adjoining counties and all went "merry as a marriage bell," or words to that effect.

Great Closing Out Sale.

Goods will be slaughtered within the next 60 days in order to make room for one of the largest and finest Stocks of Fall and Winter clothing and gents furnishing goods ever brought to Wilmington. A. I. SHIRER, Reliable Clothers, 114 Market St.

City Court.

The following cases were disposed of by the Mayor this morning:

Edward Herring, drunk and down, was fined $5, in default of which he was sent below for 20 days.

A colored woman, who has heretofore borne an excellent reputation, was found guilty of disorderly conduct and was fined $2, which she paid.

Clinton Items.

From a gentleman who arrived in this city last night from Clinton, Sampson county, we learn that the crops in that section are looking finely and promising for a good harvest. The Clinton and Point Caswell Railroad is making good progress at that end of the work, and the people of that lively inland town are looking forward hopefully to the time in the near future when they shall be connected by railroad and telegraph with the outside world.

Personal.

State Senator Hill, of Duplin county, was in the city today.

Mr. J. W. Powell, of Clinton, Sampson county, came down on the Steamer John Dawson, from Point Caswell, this afternoon.

Mr. James T. Murphy, principal of the male High School at Clinton, and son of the late Dr. C. T. Murphy, of Sampson county, came down with the excursion party last night, and was on our streets to-day.

Mrs. De Witt C. Love and child will leave to-morrow on the steamship Benefactor for New York, whence she will go to Poughkeepsie on the Hudson for the benefit of her health, which has been feeble for some months. Her journey is made upon the advice of her physician, and she will probably be absent until about the first of November next.

Intensive Farming.

Raising the greatest quantity from the smallest space is becoming the practice of our best farmers in the South. It is called intensive farming by others. Greater profits and more success, compared with the expense, is the advantage over any of the old methods of farming. In fact, intensive farming is antagonistic to any of the old foggy plans or styles of cultivating the soil. Our Department of Agriculture, at Raleigh, can engage in no better service than in encouraging our farmers to engage in this greatly needed change or reform in farming. Intensive farming means profitable farming, if the experience of those who have tried it is of any value. Some of the newspapers of our State, now and then, publish telling cases or examples illustrative of the value of this principle.
We now publish a case, in our own section, in proof of what we hear said and it certainly teaches a lesson of wisdom and one worthy of imitation by farmers who would make their useful calling profitable to themselves. The following statement of this case is furnished us by a friend:

Mr. William B. Hocut, of Rocky Point, Pender county, planted early in the year six acres of land in radishes and garden peas. The proceeds of the sales of those vegetable amounted to six hundred dollars in gross receipts.
The expense for manure, labor, seed, shipping, &c. amounted to two hundred and fifty dollars, leaving a clear profit of three hundred and fifty dollars.

He planted the same field in Ozier cotton seed the 20th of May. It is now beautiful and promises a yield of at least one bale to the acre. At ten cents a pound, after deduction an expense of one hundred dollars for cultivation and picking, this cotton patch will yield, in clear gain two hundred dollars. This same field is an apple orchard and fifty dollars worth of apples are now upon the market from the trees. So that Mr. Hocut will realize, in clear gains this year, from these six acres, the sum of five hundred dollars. At this rate a one horse crop of twenty-five acres would yield him a clear profit of twenty-five hundred dollars this year. Upon another field of a fourth of an acre he has realized, in Irish potatoes, thirty dollars as net sales this year. Corn is now growing upon it, and it promises to yield ten bushels. The clear profits will be at the rate of about one hundred and forty dollars per acre. What Mr. Hocut is doing can be done by others if they will adopt the best methods and fall into the line of advanced thought and practice in farming.

To Builders and others—Go to JACO-BI'S for Sash, Blinds and Doors, Glass &c. You can get all sizes and at the lowest prices.

Excursionists.

Quite a party of ladies and gentlemen all of them prominent residents of Sampson county, came down on the John Dawson from Point Caswell this afternoon. They added grace and interest to the picnic and ball at that place last night and visited the seaside this evening. They will return to their homes to-morrow.

Alarm of Fire.

There was an alarm of fire at about 2 o'clock this afternoon, caused by smoke issuing from a woodshed in the yard of the premises on the Northeast corner of Orange and Second streets.
The fire department promptly responded to the call, but the flames were extinguished before they could get to work. The damage was slight. The property belongs to Mrs. John W.
Atkinson.

The Delayed Mail.

We desire to say, in reference to the postal clerk on the C. C. R. R., who refused to receive the REVIEW mail on Tuesday last, that the party referred to has called upon us and offered such explanations as have satisfied us that it was all a mistake on his part, which he regrets very much. We are satisfied, and hope that our subscribers will be also satisfied with the assurance that it shall not happen again.

Peaches.

Peaches have been very scarce in this market this season. Mr. L. W. Howard, of the Scott's Hill section, appears to be the only one who has had any and he alone has been supplying the market of late. They have been retelling here for from 25 to 40 cents per dozen and $4 per bushel crate while it is said they have been selling readily in New York for $8 a crate. There are some hopes of a supply from the later varieties but they are very slow in putting in an appearance.

Fruit Growers' Fair.

Our citizens generally are manifesting a lively interest in the approaching Fair of the North Carolina Fruit Growers' Association, and are bound to make it a grand success. There will undoubtedly be a large gathering of the people from different sections of the State on that occasion and the display of fruits promises to be large, varied and fine, which will make the Fair one of the most interesting exhibitions ever held in this section, and we are glad that Wilmingtonians appreciate the fact and are taking hold of the matter in earnest.

A Fortunate Escape.

A moment after the alarm of fire was sounded this afternoon, the carriage of the W. S. F. E. Co. was driven at railroad speed down Market and turned into Second street, when the rear wheel came off which brought the carriage to an unceremonious stand still and threw the driver violently to the ground.
Strange to say no one was hurt, the horse was uninjured and the damage to the carriage was so slight that it could be repaired and made as good as new in an hour. It was indeed a fortunate escape, and had it been the other wheel which came off it must have resulted seriously to driver, horse and carriage.

The River.

The steamer North State, arrived this morning from Cypress, on the Cape Fear river, which is as far up as boats of her draught can go at the present stage of the water. She exchanged cargoes with the A. P. Hurt, which is of lighter draught and has the advantage of having an iron hull, which enables her to pass the shoals with less difficulty. The North State will leave tomorrow morning for the same point where she will again meet the Hurt and exchange cargoes, unless there should be sufficient rise of water in the meantime (which is somewhat expected) to enable both boats to proceed without delay to their respective destinations.

College Life.

Rev. E. B. Riddick, Prest. Kittrell's Female College, wrote of Dr. Worthington's Cholera and Diarrhoea Medicine: "Send a gross for our College."

A fine assortment of Guns and Pistols at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.
