Recent changes of name by conspicuous Edinburg families are Muggins to De Morgyn, Bullock to Beloune and Cuddy to Cuthbert. The Review thinks that the law ought to forbid such things.

Archbishop Wm. Elder has issued an edict to the clergy of his diocese to meet at Cincinnati August 21, to devise some means to pay to some extent the creditors of the late Archbishop Purcell, as a matter of charity, but not as a discharge of legal obligation.

Lillian Russell's beauty is said to have received the approval of the Prince of Wales, who summoned her to his box at the London theatre in which she has been singing, and assured her that she was not in the least an American in appearance or accent.

Some Londoners have taken to the Thames throughout the summer months and eat, drink and sleep in what are known as house boats. These usually contain a snug dining room and sitting room combined, two or three small bed rooms, a kitchen and a veranda.

Prince Hobenlohe, of Prussia, the Count Gluchen, the Earl of Iatham and Lord Elphinstone arrived on Saturday from Liverpool en route for Montreal, where they will join President Stevens and a party on the Canadian Pacific Railway, to explore that road to its terminus.

Barnum says that he lost $130,000 in his vain attempt to bring two Siamese white elephants to this country. His agent bought the beasts through the connivance of a priest, and after the King had indignantly refused to sanction such a sacrilegious sale, but they died on being taken aboard ship, and the old showman believes that they were poisoned.

J. D. Rhodes is the name of the man who proposes to follow in Capt. Webb's footsteps in the endeavor to swim the rapids at Niagara. A Buffalo special to the New York Times says:

Rhodes says that his object in making the effort is to so thoroughly test the efficacy of his armor that there can be no doubt of its value. This he does to secure a prize of $50,000 offered by the government for the best life-preserving apparatus produced before October 15.

The last statement from the Treasury Department shows the balance of the National debt to be $1,884,171,727, the interest upon which is $51,436,709. The debt per capita on the population of the United States is about $38.

The provisional committee of the Ladies' Irish Aid Society, of New York, have issued a call for a mass meeting to be held in Cooper Institute on the 27th instant, to raise funds for the defense of the "Hero O'Donnell," who killed Carey, the informer. The committee requests Irishmen throughout the country to take like action.

On one side of an ordinary postal card a French stenographer has written 44,031 words. They are contained in 275 lines, an average of 160 words to each line. Thus every line contains about as much matter as a page of a 12mo. volume! The space for the words had to be calculated, and this calculation forms a frame to the wonderful card.

Ben Butler having been elected by the Democrats Governor of Massachusetts, a leading Republican paper in that State now proposes ex-Governor Wm. Gaston, a true and prominent Democrat, as the Republican and opposition candidate against Gov. Butler. This, it seems to us, as an excellent illustration of the disorder, dismay and distress which must prevail in the Republican camp.

The forthcoming report of the comptroller of the currency will show that there are now 2,425 national banks, and that their combined capital stock amounts to over $500,000,000. The amount of their deposits reaches the sum of $1,042,937,763, which is twenty-two millions less than a year ago. These banks hold about four hundred millions of the Government bonds, or one-third of the entire outstanding indebtedness of the country.

How the rogues do go back on them selves sometimes! They preach social equality and mixed marriages for other people but will have none of it themselves. This is from a special to the New York World:

LExINGTON, Mich., August 13.—William G. Farwood, a white man, married a colored girl of this place at Sand Beach a week ago. He has been employed here and in this vicinity for the past six weeks. Last night a part of our citizens—all good Republicans—took him from the bridal chamber, in a negro quarters and treated him to a coat of tar and feathers, and gave him a free passage on a rail out of the corporation. The last seen of him he was taking Horace Greeley's advice and "going West," helped along with small stones, &c.

Mr. Sol. Haas, Traffic Manager of the Associated Railways, was asleep in the Kimball House, at Atlanta, when the alarm of fire was raised there. He was the last to leave the building, and in doing so lost his vest, containing his watch and a roll of money.

A Big Wildcat.

Mr. R. S. Murray brought into this office on last evening the foot of an immense wildcat, which was killed by Mr. James Carr, on Acorn Branch, about three miles from the city. When killed the cat was on a hog's back gnawing off the flesh while that animal was doing some pretty tall squealing. The foot was as large as that of a grown Newfoundland dog. It is said that the cat had been run by dogs several times.

No Excursion.

An excursion party from Bannerman's Bridge, Pender county, was expected to arrive here on the steamer River Queen to day, but it failed to put in an appearance. Capt. Bagby informs us, however, that the excursion will be here on Tuesday, the 21st inst. We presume the postponement was made in order to accommodate a large number who intend to be present at the Fruit Growers' Fair, which will begin on the 22nd inst.

Capt. Skinner's Agency.

We invite attention to the advertisement of Capt. Sam Skinner, agent for the Tanner & Delaney Engine Company's engines and boilers, as it appears in this issue. He can furnish engines of every description, from 4 to 50 horse power, as also tramway and narrow gauge locomotives, and he makes a specialty of engines for farm work. The Tanner & Delaney works are among the largest in the country and their manufactures enjoy an excellent reputation.

Improved in Health.

The latest news from Mr. Wilkin Roddick, of the firm of Brown & Roddick, stated that he was at Nantucket Beach, a well-known and popular place of resort near Boston, Mass. It will be a source of gratification to his many friends here to know that he has much improved in health. For some time after he left this city the reports were quite unfavorable, and we are glad to give such a cheering account of his present condition.

The Harbor.

The port is slowly filling up with vessels from abroad, and there are quite a number on their way here to take advantage of the cotton season, which will soon be upon us. During the latter part of July and the first week of the present month the harbor had a deserted appearance, there being at that time only one square-rigged vessel in the port. The number has not now increased to a great many, but they continue to arrive, and by the time the month closes there will be quite a fleet in port, the number of which will be increased somewhat in consequence of the cotton crop being considerably later this season.

Autumn Fashions.

A pretty walking dress for a little girl is made of dark royal blue camels' hair cloth. The edge of the underskirt is trimmed with two tiny ruffles of dark blue velvet. Above these is set a deep shirred and pleated flounce of the camel hair goods. The jersey bodice, of dark blue stockinet, is trimmed with a plastron and collar of velvet. A small panier sash of the camel hair goods hides the joining of the skirt and bodice. Added to this suit is a cute little Hungarian jacket of French gray cloth, embroidered in dark blue silk. The neck opens in a point under a little shoulder cape of dark blue velvet, over which turns the narrower one of the jersey. The cape is tied together in front with strings of dark blue-satin ribbon. Plain velvet cuffs finish the sleeves and silver buttons are set up each side of the open jacket.

Discouraging.

Mr. F. A. Newbury has devoted much time and attention to the cultivation of flowers and shrubbery at his residence on Market street, and after five years of patient care had made it an attractive feature among the beauties of our city. He was justly proud of the improvements that he had made, but he did not feel very proud this morning when he went out to find that a marauding cow had broken into the yard during the night and almost entirely destroyed the fruits of his untiring toil and care. He informs us that nearly every plant, shrub and flower of value, many of which it will be almost impossible to replace, were totally destroyed. It is discouraging to have the labor of years thus ruined, but we presume that Mr. Newbury will begin the task again, although it is quite safe to presume that it will result as in the present instance—some marauding cow will have a night's carnival at his expense.

Rain! Rain!

From passengers arriving here on the John Dawson this afternoon, we learn the Point Caswell section has been visited with copious showers within the last 24 hours, which were much needed, and will be a great blessing to the farmers.

Rev. Thos. H. Pritchard, D. D.

The First Baptist Church of this city have extended a call to Rev. T. H. Pritchard, D. D., formerly President of Wake Forest College, but recently pastor of a Baptist church at Louisville, Ky., to become their pastor. We consider Dr. Pritchard one of the best pulpit orators in the country, and we shall be glad to hear that he has accepted the call.

Let Them Come.

We have heard it estimated that there will be 3,000 strangers in the city on Wednesday and Thursday next, in attendance upon the Fair. We doubt not that that number will be exceeded. At any rate and whatever the number they will be heartily welcome and will leave with no just cause of complaint that our citizens are wanting in warm-hearted hospitality.

To Leave Us.

We learn that Mr. F. M. Fremont, son of Col. S. L. Fremont, has received an appointment to an honorable and very responsible position in a large lumber manufacturing establishment at Savannah, Ga., and will leave for that city in a day or two. He has our best wishes for his success in this new field of labor and usefulness, which it is but a foregone conclusion to say he will be sure to attain.

July Police Report.

From the police reports for the month of July, 1883, we learn that arrests were made as follows: Assault and battery, colored male 1. Carrying concealed weapon, colored male 1. Disorderly conduct, white males 11, white females 1; colored males 15, colored females 10. Drunk and down, white males 2, colored males 2, colored female 1. Larceny, colored males, 2. Obstructing sidewalk, white males 2, colored males 3. Throwing rocks, white males 2; colored males 3. Violation of cattle ordinance, white male 1. Violation market ordinance, white males 2, colored males 5, colored females 2. Violation sanitary ordinance, colored male 1. Total number of arrests 67.

Of these the nationalities were as follows: Norwegian 1; Prussian 1; Irish 2; English 4; Swedes 1; Germans 4; Americans 8; colored (who may all be presumed to be Americans) 46.

During the month one white male has applied at police headquarters for lodging; 15 places of business have been found open by the police; 37 dogs unlicensed have been captured and killed and one dog has been killed for biting a lady in the street. The fines collected during the month amounted to $81.10, and the pound fees collected were $31.50. Total $112.60.

Florence, S. C.

We are glad to notice that Florence, S. C., is pushing ahead in the great race for wealth, population and distinction with a vim which shows that she means business. It is a sort of half-way house between this city and Charleston, S. C., and its inhabitants are making the most of its advantageous location to bring it to the front as a go-ahead, live, progressive business place. A cotton factory has been chartered by the State to be built there, with a capital stock of $150,000, which has all been taken, the company organized and officers elected and operations on the building will be begun about the 1st of October next. There is also one cotton seed oil mill about ready to commence work and another is contemplated. Aside from these, there are many other enterprises either commenced or contemplated, which gives the place a real importance in the business world. It speaks well for the future of the town when it is known that within the past four or five years the value of real estate has much more than doubled, with but very little now in the market for sale, owners preferring to hold it for a still further rise.

Hon. Thomas S. Kenan, Attorney-General of North Carolina, arrived in the city last night on a short visit to relatives and friends.

Bro. McDiarmid, of the Robesonian, is in the city to-day. He came down to go on the black fish excursion, but as that had been postponed, he did the next best thing; he called to see us.

Nor brig Ryno, Captain Sorensen, cleared to-day for Antwerp, with 1,713 casks spirits turpentine, valued at $31,140, shipped by Messrs. D. R. Murchison & Co.

The Excursion.

The family excursion on the Passport this morning was largely attended, although the appearance of the weather was anything but inviting. As it was to be the last family excursion of the season, on that boat, a good many had made preparations for the occasion, and would not forego the anticipated pleasures of the day, simply because the sun was obscured by clouds.

The Fruit Fair.

We hope that our country cousins will come to see us in large numbers on the occasion of the approaching Fruit Fair in this city, to be held next Wednesday and Thursday, the 22d and 23rd inst. We expect them and our people are going to do everything in their power to entertain them handsomely. Extensive halls have been handsomely fitted up; the Opera House, under the same roof with the Exhibition Halls, has been placed in order for a Grand Ball on each evening of the Exhibition; ample refreshments will be accessible at all hours; the several railroads will transport all articles for exhibition free of cost; and passenger fares have been secured at greatly reduced rates.

Truck Troubles.

There was no meeting of the C. M. Stedman Bucket Company last night because there was no quorum, but we understand that another meeting is to be called at an early day. Much indignation has been expressed by the members at the demand made upon them by the Board of Aldermen to surrender such property as may be in their possession belonging to the city and authorizing the Chief of the Fire Department to disband the company because they had not attended a fire in six months. They allege that it is not their fault that they did not attend the fire on South Water street, near Ann, a few weeks ago because of the fact that the ladders had been removed from the truck and loaded to some colored men to use in painting a church; and had not been returned; that they started out from the truck house with the truck but not finding the ladders they did not carry it to the fire. They say that the truck is not the property of the city, but of the company, and that they will not allow it to be taken from them and placed in the hands of some other company.
