The Knights at Greensboro.

The Greensboro Patriot prints the following report of the banquet which Lodge, on Wednesday night:

The Guilford Lodge gave the Grand Lodge of the Knight of Honor a royal spread at the Benbow House last night. Covers were laid for one hundred and every chair was filled promptly by 10 dressed goes without saying. Fruits of all sorts covered the tables in the greatest profusion, and to the ungentle sex the spacious dining room seemed like a veritable tairy land. In the centre of the room was a magnificent arbor hanging with luscious grapes, and surrounded by piles of choice tropical aud home fruits. Great stacks of beautifully iced cakes and great bowls of de- assortment of licious ambrosia, were here and there and everywhere. Indeed it was a royal feast, and as the fairy like Miss Mamie Benbow flitted about from table to table, she shared the compliments that were lavishly bestowed. The feast was preceded by an exhilorating scene that made every Knight wish from the bottom of his heart that he was a Jacobi. As the fair fingers of the lovely Miss Benbow were arranging an exquisite bouttonier on the gallant and handsome Knight from the 'tair city by the sea," the Knights rose to their feet and cheerod with a gusto. It was a trying ordeal to the modest Knight, but he remembered that the reputation of the Cape Fear country was at stake, and with fine in appearace and on account of the medical adviser, Dr. Bellamy, he rose majestically to the occasion and deliv-
