THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1883. NO. 211

The Princess of Wales still looks girlish.
Miss Nellie Arthur has not yet seen her eleventh birthday.
The publishers of Blaine's book expect to sell 1,000,000 copies of the work.
London contains 100,000 Jews and the finest Jewish library in the world.
Col. Cash, of South Carolina, was in the conference with Longstreet, Mahone and Chalmers.
Asher B. Durand, the oldest of American painters, has just celebrated his eighty-seventh birthday.
King Humbert gave to Mr. Currn, who took him Mr. Garrett's horse, a gold watch with twenty four diamonds in the case.
Chief Justice Waite, who is at his home, in Lyme, Conn., has recovered from the injuries sustained in a fall while traveling with General Sherman recently.
The name of ex-Speaker Samuel J. Randall was drawn Thursday as a petit juror for the September term in the Court of Quarter Sessions at Philadelphia.
A Maryland postmaster has just died who has held his office for more than fifty years. His greatest regret must have been that he had to give up his office at last.

Governor Butler, on his arrival at Gloucester in his yacht America, was greeted with three rousing cheers from about fifty employees of a canning company at the wharf.

LOCAL NEWS.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
YATES—School Books
HEINSBERGER—New Music
W. M. HAYS, JR.—Stall No. 7
F. C. MILLER—Florida Water, &c
W. H. GREEN—New Crop Turnip Seed
Bartlett pears retailed here to day at 75 cents a peck.
The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 97 bales.
To-day has been decidedly the warmest of the month thus far.
Maj. C. W. McClammy, of Scott's Hill, was in the city to-day.
New Hanover Superior Courts meets the first Monday in December.
Scuppernong grapes may now be bought at 25 cents per peck.
Silver Plated Spoons and Forks, low prices, at J. A. COBURN'S.
The steamer Passport took a large party of excursionists down the river this morning.
Maj. J. R. Kenly, Superintendent of the Richmond & Petersburg R. R., was in the city yesterday.
This has been another hot day. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the thermometer indicated 89 degrees in our office.
Scuppernongs are plentiful in this market and are offered for sale at the reasonable price of five cents a quart.
Steamship Benefactor, Capt. Tribon from New York, arrived at her wharf in this city at about 9 o'clock this morning.
Mr. C. Allen, attorney at law, of Kenansville, Duplin county, is in the city to-day on brief visit of business in connection with his profession.
Messrs. John D. Bellamy, Jr., and John B. Harris, of this city, have gone North with the Boston Exposition as the objective point of their visit.
The Boston Exposition open to-day and we feel quite well assured that the exhibit from this State will compare favorably with that of any other.
Raleigh, Greensboro and Charlotte will all have theatrical entertainments next week but there is nothing for Wilmington so far until next month.
Handsome new plate-glass windows are to be put into the store on Market street lately vacated by Mr. Hahn and soon to be occupied by Mr. John Taylor.
Dave Mallette, colored and an old offender, was before the Mayor this morning charged with being drunk and down. A fine of $10 or 30 days in the city prison was the sentence in his case, and he went below.
There are now 18,040 postoffices in the United States, of which number 2,186 are presidential offices, and 6,273 money order offices. Since the year 1876 the number of postoffices has been increased 40 per cent.
Brown & Pearson, the barbers on Front street, next door to Capt. R. M. McIntire's dry goods store, will not remove, as was stated in our columns a few weeks ago. They have leased the premises for another year.
Attention is invited to the advertisement of Mr. W. M. Hays, Jr., at Stall No. 7 in the New Market. He has just received a lot of very fine mountain beef which will be displayed for sale at his stall every day this week.—Housekeepers will do well to take a look at it.
People who affix postage stamps to newspaper wrappers in such a way that part of the stamp lays over and adheres to the paper itself run the risk of having their papers sent to the Dead Letter Office. In that shape the paper becomes a sealed packet, subject to letter rates.
"Tell me, ye winged winds, that round my pathway roar, is there no favored spot where 'skepters' sing no more? no calm, secluded dell in which to build a home, where aque never shakes and bed bugs never roam?" The answer came in sounds as cool as Greenland's breath! 'twas "No, you fool!"
A Novel Style of Overcoat.
If any one wants to continue saving the expense of an overcoat, and at the same time escape rheumatism, such weather as this, he must invest fifty cents in a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil and lather himself with it right well.

Bids for Stone.
The bids for furnishing stone for the improvement of the Cape Fear river were opened at the office of Captain Henry Bacon, in this city, at noon yesterday. There were but two competitors, Mr. George Z. French, of this city, and Messrs. Ross & Lara. The bids were at $1.50 per ton by Mr. French, and $1.35 per ton by Messrs. Ross & Lara. They have been forwarded to Lt. Col. Craighill, U. S. Engineer, at Baltimore, Md., who will make the award.

N. C. Medical Journal.
The August number of the North Carolina Medical Journal has been received. We always receive this work with pleasure, for although non-professional and consequently unacquainted with many terms used, yet there is much that we do understand and read with instruction and profit. It is a valuable magazine to the physician and it shows to the layman that medical science is working zealously and intelligently for the health and happiness of suffering humanity by persistent research after the cause, region, characteristics, prevention and remedies for the various ailments with which mankind are afflicted.

Return the Books.
We call the attention of our citizens to the fact that there are a good many books belonging to the Library Association that have been loaned out and never returned. The books are all to be catalogued as soon as practicable, and it is essential that every book shall be returned to the Library at once. We hope that this very important matter may be attended to without delay as the Board of Directors will use every exertion to obtain them. There are many other and still more cogent reasons why they should be returned. They are the property of the Library Association, which is an honor and blessing to our city, and every person should constitute himself a committee of one to see that the property is speedily returned to its proper owners.

A Sign of Success.
The old, low, tumble-down buildings on Third, between Market and Princess streets, occupied by Mr. P. H. Hayden, as a carriage manufactory, are to be torn down and new ones of more imposing appearance and possessing much greater conveniences for carriage making purposes are to be placed in their stead. The work has already been commenced, and Alfred Howe, the contractor for the work, expects to have the new buildings completed and ready for occupancy in about eight weeks. The main building will be 55 by 56 feet on the ground and will be two stories high. This will be used as a storehouse and salesroom for carriages, harness and saddlery. There will be another building directly in the rear of this, which will be 26 by 46 feet and one story high. This latter will be used for woodwork and as a blacksmith shop. Both buildings will be of wood and when completed will be fitted up with all the conveniences and modern mechanical appliances for making good work expeditiously and cheaply.

Fires in August.
There were six alarms of fire during the month of August, as follows:
Aug. 5th. Store of J. H. Strauss, on N. E. corner Water and Chestnut streets. The building was saved by the prompt action of the fire department. Damage by fire and water to goods about $1,800, which was covered by insurance. Cause of fire unknown.
Aug. 9th. Fire among some cotton at Messrs. Birdsey & Rankin's. No damage.
Aug. 11th. Small frame building on Fifth, between Princess and Chestnut streets, which was totally consumed. On the same night an out house on the corner of Eighth and Princess streets, which was consumed. Both of these fires were, without doubt, the work of an incendiary. The fire spread to the stable of Capt. R. M. McIntire, but was extinguished with small loss. At about 12 o'clock on the same night fire was discovered on the roof of the dwelling on Market, next to the corner of Eighth street, which was undoubtedly caused by sparks carried from the last named building. It was extinguished immediately and the damage was slight.
Aug. 27th. Fire on the West side of the river on the roof of a shed in the naval store yard of Messrs. G. W. Williams & Co., supposed to have caught from sparks from a passing steamer. It was extinguished by the men employed in the different yards, and the fire department did not cross the river.

We rejoice with the good people of that portion of Pender county in the vicinity of Willard (Leesburg) at the fine and much needed showers which visited that section yesterday.

Varieties of grapes, other than scuppernong, sell here for 12 1/2 cents a pound. This is at the rate we presume of about a thousand dollars an acre for a productive vineyard and ought to pay tolerable well.

In connection with an article relative to street lines, published a few days since, we are requested to state by a city official that all street lines are required to be made by the City Survey or as no one else can give the required certificate.

There is to be a joyful time at the Seaside Park Hotel at Wrightsville tomorrow night, when a masquerade and phantom ball is to be given. The ladies are busy preparing for it, and as it is to be the last of the season there will probably be a large attendance.

Some alterations and improvements are to be made at the Postoffice. The lobby for the money order office having been found too small, it is to be enlarged by removing the partition at the South end of the main lobby about eight feet farther to the North. This will give more room for both the money order and stamp offices.

Going North.
Mrs. S. J. Baker leaves on to night's train for the Northern Markets from whence she will bring back a fine selection of goods in her line and some of the most artistic millinery goods to carry on her business in this city. The ladies will be duly notified when the new styles shall have been opened and become ready for inspection.

The Passion Flower.
From Mr. Heinsberger we have received a copy of the "Passion Flower and Other Poems" written by Mr. Theo. H. Hill. It is handsomely bound and printed on beautiful, tinted paper, with gold edge. The volume is dedicated to John H. Boner, a North Carolinian, some of whose fugitive poems, as Mr. Hill very gracefully says, would do honor to any poet, living or dead. The book is for sale at Heinsberger's book store.

Number 28.
A new engine, which has just been turned out of the Carolina Central R. R. Shops at Laurinburg, arrived here yesterday afternoon under charge of Capt. James Maglenn, Master Mechanic. It is a decidedly handsome piece of work and not only handsome but serviceable. It is the largest engine now on that road and one of the largest in the State. All of its appointments are admirable and reflect much credit upon Capt. Maglenn, under whose supervision the entire work was done, as well as upon every man who aided in its construction. Number 28 weighs 66,000 pounds and the tender, with "wood and water attachments," weighs 48,000 pounds more. The cylinders are 16x24 inches. The new engine left here this morning on the return to Laurinburg.

A Good Publication.
The September Magazine of American History comes freighted with entertaining and instructive reading in generous measure, and with thirty or more attractive illustrations. It is one of the best numbers of this standard publication yet issued. The leading article is by Gen. John Cochrane, entitled "The Centennial of the Cincinnati," and is illustrated with portraits of several of the founders—and all of the President Generals of the Society since its foundation: the frontispiece is an excellent portrait of the present President-General, Hon. Hamilton Fish. The second article, "A Baltimore Penny," also illustrated, is an extremely interesting contribution from H. W. Richardson, of Portland, Me. "The Geographical Nomenclature of Louisiana," by Norman Walker, of New Orleans, is a paper of exceptional value, containing much new material, and delightfully readable. The departments of Notes, Queries, Replies, Societies, and Book Notices are admirably well sustained. This magazine is becoming more and more valuable with each issue, and richly merits the high rank it has taken in periodical literature. Publication office, 39 Lafayette Place, New York City.

Oh, the Toper!
We happened to step into one of the grocery houses on Water street to-day, where we found the merchant pouring some rum into his inkstand. He stated that when ink became thick and muddy rum was an excellent thing to mix with it, making it thin without its turning pale. He also said that corn whiskey was equally as good, and that he formerly used that article, but finding that the ink disappeared unaccountably fast after the whiskey had been added, he watched and soon found that it was drunk up by mice. We had no idea that the little pests would drink whiskey, but he averred that he actually saw a mouse stick his head into the inkstand and drink heartily, and he is as truthful a citizen as ever it has been our fortune to know. We have heard of tipplers who would drink varnish blacking for the sake of the alcohol it contained, but this is the first instance of which we have heard where a mouse would drink ink for the sake of the corn in the whiskey with which it was diluted.

Too Late! Too Late!
Too late now for any one, whatever may be his position or by whatever motive actuated, to attempt to throw any calumny or insinuation anything injurious to the fair fame of The Louisiana State Lottery, which, incorporated by the State of Louisiana in 1868, gives to the world renowned Charity Hospital at New Orleans, and scatters millions broadcast from Nova Scotia to Panama. Its monthly drawings take place on the second Tuesday of each month (the 16th, on Sept. 11), and Gen. G. T. Bearegard, of La., and Jubal A. Early, of Va., attest over their own signatures the absolute fairness, strict integrity and entire good faith towards all parties of the drawings, which are conducted entirely and solely by them. All information can be had cheerfully from M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., on application.
