THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1883. NO. 214

Lucy Stone strongly urges the establishment of suffrage for women in Massachusetts, and says that the party that does it will rule the State.

A lad 15 years old died at Brooklyn last Saturday from the excessive use of tobacco. It was a clear case of nicotine poisoning. This ought to serve as a warning to boys and young men but it will do no good.

The Washington Star thinks the Western Union Telegraph Company did a sensible thing in voluntarily conceding some of the demands of the striking operators failed to enforce. If the company go on in this way for a while they can dispel the big cloud of public dislike.

They had a G. A. R. encampment at Passaic, N. J., a few days ago and a sham fight was a part of the programme. It was amusing, as well as disastrous. The men were divided into Federal and Confederate forces. The latter were the attacking party and it was laid down that they were to get licked but the sham Confederates got excited and refused to be beaten and were about to clean out the Federal entrenchment when all hands were ordered to lay down their arms. But for this prompt interference another war might have been inaugurated. As it was, thirteen men were injured, some of them right seriously. Shots were exchanged with blank cartridges but it was at such close quarters that the wads made the wounds.

Day's length 12 hours and 27 minutes. There were no interments in Oakdale Cemetery this week. Changeable is the almanac prediction for tomorrow.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 61 bales. The moon complete its first quarter tomorrow afternoon.

Sunset tomorrow afternoon at 16 minutes past 6 o'clock. For Pocket Knives or Table Cutlery, go to JACOB'S Hardware Depot.

U. S. District Attorney W. S. O'B. Robinson is in the city and registered at the Purcell House.

The Register of Deeds issued three marriage licences this week, all of which were for colored couples.

Steamboatmen report a slight rise in the Cape Fear, but not enough to meet the requirements of navigation.

Mr. Sol. Haas, Traffic Manager of the Associated Railways, was registered at the Purcell House this morning.

We understand that the Carolina Central authorities will soon place two new passenger and sleeping coaches on that road.

There is a very singular coincidence connected with the interments in Oakdale Cemetery in 1882 and 1883. From the 1st of January to the 1st of September the number of interments was just 5 each year.

A change of schedule goes into effect on Monday next, on the Shelby Division of the Carolina Central R. R., by which the Summer schedule will be shelved and the old Winter schedule will be brought to the front again.

Mr. F. A. Newbury is now comfortably installed in his neat new building, on Mulberry street, near Water, where he offers an attractive display of goods. He has a few words to say to his customers in this issue of the REVIEW.

The steamship Raleigh, Capt. Littlefield, leaves Baltimore to-day for this port. She is the pioneer of a line which is expected to be established between that city and Wilmington, and we hope that the project may prove entirely successful. Capt. A. D. Cazaux is the agent in this city.

The pop! pop! of the rice bird hunters guns is heard now at all hours of the day and night. The birds are out in force and are being brought freely to market. Two of our young friends went out yesterday and in a few hours bagged nearly a hundred birds, having lost perhaps half as many more.

A fine assortment of Guns and Pistols at JACOB'S Hardware Depot.

For Superior Court.

His Honor, A. A. McKoy, Judge of the Superior Court, arrived in the city last night, and is registered at the Purcell House. He is on his way to Whiteville, Columbus county, to preside at the next term of the Superior Court for that county, which convenes on Monday, the 10th inst.

The Weather.

Reports received from Key West this morning indicate that there is a disturbance South or Southeast of that station, but the course of the movement cannot be given at present. It is not considered safe, however, for vessels to leave Southern ports without further information, which will be given in due season.

Restored to Health.

We were glad to see Mr. Wilkin Roddick on our streets this morning looking much improved in health. He is here on a short business visit and will leave again for the North to-night. He states that his trip has been very beneficial to his health, as his appearance would indicate, and he feels in the best of spirits.

Going North.

Capt. R. M. McIntire leaves for New York on Monday next and will be absent about a week. He goes to purchase new Fall and Winter goods and will make a careful tour and inspection of the markets. Having increased the accommodations of his store he expects to buy a larger stock this season than he has ever laid in before.

Wheeler's Reminiscences.

We have received Part Two of this publication which includes Carteret, Caswell, Chatham, Chowan, Craven, Cumberland, Currituck, Davidson, Davis, Duplin, Edgecombe, Forsyth, Franklin, Gaston, Gates, Granville, Greene, Guilford and Halifax. It contains matter of interest to every North Carolinian who loves his State and is proud of its history. It is published by Joseph Shillington, Washington, D. C., monthly.

A Flying Visit.

Prof. M. C. S. Noble returned to the city last night, but leaves to-night, not to return again until about the first of October. During his absence he will visit the schools of Louisville, Ky., Cincinnati, O., Chicago, Ill., and other Northwestern cities, and take advantage of any improvements their methods of instruction may suggest. He speaks in eloquent terms of his visit to the North as having been entertaining, instructive and highly beneficial to his health.

For Boston.

We saw this morning, at the confectionery store of Mrs. E. Warren on North Second street, four half gallon jars of shrimps put up under her supervision, at the request of Fish Commissioner Worth, which are to be forwarded to the Boston Exposition. Two of the jars contained the flesh simply as taken from the shell and the other two contained the shrimps in their natural state. Some of the latter were very large, and we saw one that was seven inches in length. The entire lot was prepared very neatly and presented an attractive appearance.

The Library.

The rooms of the Wilmington Library Association were opened to the public to-day for the first time in about three weeks. During this interval many important changes for the better have been effected and the books have nearly all been re-arranged and classified, so that there will, in the future, be no difficulty in finding any desired volume without delay. Miss Parsley, the librarian, has worked assiduously and faithfully in the discharge of her new and onerous duties, as the general appearance of the rooms, books and furniture abundantly testifies. It is with pleasure that we learn that the membership is constantly increasing, and that many of our young men are beginning to appreciate the intellectual and moral advantages to be derived from the institution. We understand that it is intended to supply the Library with magazines, periodicals and other literature especially designed for females and invite lady membership to its privileges.

Cotton.

The receipts of cotton at this port for the week ending with to-day, the first week of the new cotton year, foot up 647 bales, as against 507 bales for the corresponding week of last year, an increase this week of 140 bales.

English Grapes.

Thanks to our good friend, Mr. Henry S. Alderman, for a box of beautiful, luscious English grapes, raised on his plantation near Point Caswell. They were very fine. We counted on one bunch more than 150 grapes and then we got tired and went to work to diminish that number.

In New York.

Mr. M. M. Katz is already in New York, having left here last Wednesday night. His visit has a double object—to see his children, who have been North at school, and who will return with him, and to buy new goods for the Fall and Winter trade. He will be absent a week or ten days and the arrival of the new goods will be duly announced in our columns.

Returned.

Mr. Sol Bear returned last night from the North where he has been for several weeks past for the purchase of new goods. Mr. Bear always purchases largely and this Fall his stock is unusually large and hence both time and care were required in its selection. The goods are now coming in freely, both in the wholesale and retail departments, and are being displayed and sold.

Fraternal.

We were pleased to receive a call this morning from Mr. Geo. M. Carr, the good-looking and accomplished editor of the Scotland Neck Commonwealth. Bro. Carr has but recently assumed charge of the paper and already do we see in it many signs of improvement. It is published in a rich agricultural section, in direct and close communication with Wilmington.

Mr. D. B. Nicholson has taken charge of the local department of the Clinton Caucasian and he is making it a lively, spicy and new page. We have known Bro. Nicholson from his boyhood and he is an honorable, clever and scholarly gentleman; and with this certificate of character we welcome him cordially and heartily to the ranks of the newspaper fraternity with the hope that he may find its paths strewn with roses and that money may fill his purse like gold from the fountain of Potosi; but we are constrained to say that these hopes are a trifle faint.

The Dollar of Our Daddies.

It is reported in first financial circles that an organized warfare is to be made on the dollar during the next session of Congress, and those who hate it are really encouraged to believe that they will be able to stop its coinage. This fight, which has been made with great regularity in the past, has not been waged with the vigor that will probably be displayed this time. Whether it will be successful remains to be seen, but there seems more probability of success in this case than in any of the efforts which have preceded it. The coinage of silver dollars in the year just ended has been about thirty millions, or two and a half millions more than the preceding year. The dollars go out very slowly. Of the whole amount of silver dollars coined since the "daddy" dollars were authorized, not one-fourth are in circulation; and to get them in circulation seems to be almost an impossibility. The standard silver dollars in the Treasury four years ago were thirty-two millions; a year later they were forty-seven millions; one year ago they amounted to over ninety millions, and money has to be appropriated to create storage room for them.
