

The Daily Review.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1883.

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation, of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

STATE NEWS.

Toisnot Home: There is a horse in Old Field's township, this county, that has been known to eat thirty-six bundles of fodder at one time.

Newbern Journal: The suits bought by Commodore Oaksmith against The Midland Railway Co., amounting to over $25,000, have been compromised, the plaintiff receiving $5,500 for all claims.

Roxboro News: The old Courthouse is being torn down, and the ruins only remain to mark the spot of the old house so long an eyesore to the intelligent people of Person. Soon we will have a Courthouse that will be an ornament to the county.

Winston Sentinel: Mr. Aaron Whitaker, of Surry county, made one of the largest sales of some of the finest tobacco ever placed upon the warehouse floors of Winston last Thursday. It was Brown's Warehouse. Number of pounds, 2,834, for which he realized $3,166.11, or an average of $76 44.

Louisburg Times: From a private letter we learn that Mr. W. T. Wilder, the cadet appointed from this place by Judge Bennett, passed his examination at West Point last week. There also passed at this examination Messrs. Davis, from Stateville, N. C., and Smith, from Charlotte, N. C. There were 54 candidates, of whom 32 passed.

Rocky Mount Reporter: One white man, four colored men and a colored woman sought refuge from a sudden storm under a shelter on the premises of St. John's Church, near Sparta, Edgecombe county, last Wednesday evening, when lightning struck the shelter, instantly killing the white man and one of the negroes. The others were stunned—one perhaps fatally.

Journal Observer: Miss Lizzie Ulmer, a bright and vivacious young actress, makes her first appearance before a Charlotte audience in the opera house on Friday, the 11th inst., as Carrots in '49. News was received in the city yesterday that the Long Shoals paper mills of Wm. & B. Tiddy, located at Lincolnton, on the Catawba river, were totally destroyed by fire on the night of the 5th inst. How the fire originated could not be learned. Mr. Richard Fiddy left the city yesterday evening for the scene of the fire, and did not know any of the particulars at the time he left. The loss is not known but it will likely be in the neighborhood of $15,000.

Albemarle Observer: Last Friday afternoon, Mr. Jack Bosworth, aged about 18 years, son of Mr. Almond Bosworth, went squirrel hunting. He did not return that evening nor during the night. Next morning the family became alarmed at his continued absence, and were preparing to make search for him. While parleying over the matter, the familiar howl of the dog was heard in the distance, when Miss Ellen, sister of the unfortunate man, put off in the direction indicated by the dog. The dog kept up an incessant howling, and by this means the sister was enabled to find her brother, which she did, lying stiff in death about three-fourths of a mile from home, and the faithful dog by his side. It was apparent from all indications that the gun had accidentally discharged and killed him instantly.

News and Observer: Colored men of prominence to the number of about fifteen met here last evening, to consider the question of appointing delegates to represent North Carolina in the national convention of colored men at Louisville. Among those present were such prominent colored men as Mabson, Smith, Mebane, Williamson, Coleman, Ellison, Daney &c. The sentiment was against the appointment of the delegates. The meeting became an informal conference. A number speaking said that the movement for the national convention was organized by some "directors" at Washington, who acted in the matter on their own motion and without any consultation with representative negro men in the South. "The latter wouldn't stand such treatment, and proposed to ignore the convention and its objects. They could see no good to come of it in any way. The purpose was to give some negro a "machine" push into prominence. The colored men of the State, one of those who attended the meeting here told a reporter, are not in any sort of accord with the proposed convention or its purposes, nor will North Carolina be represented by any delegate save perhaps some self-constituted one.

Clinton Caucasian: Messrs Sherrod Barksdale, F. T. Atkins and B. F. Boykin left last Sunday afternoon for the Louisville Exposition and other points of interest. On Saturday, 26th ult., Rev. J. E. Thompson closed an eight days' meeting at Goshen. Forty-four persons were received into the church, and others will join. The regular annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Clinton Loan Association was held in the Court House last Thursday. All the old officers were re-elected. One of our farmers has just reaped 9,000 pounds of forage from less than 1 1/2 acres of land sowed in common Indian corn. The corn was sowed in drills 3 1/2 feet apart, 3 1/2 bushels of seed to the acre, and cut just as the fodder began to ripen. He says his horses are quite fond of the forage, eating the entire stalk. He thinks it beats oats.

The Clinton Dramatic Club gave their entertainment last Thursday night. They played "Above the Clouds" to a large audience, all of whom seemed delighted with the excellent manner in which it was rendered. The acting was certainly fine for amateurs. The music furnished between the acts by Prof. Hobbs and Miss Faison was well chosen and finely rendered. The receipts were about $50, which, after paying expenses, was donated to the Episcopal Church.

An enforced residence of two years in California," writes Commander J. B. Coghlan, U. S. N., from Mare Island, Cal., "made me the subject of most painful attacks of rheumatism. Dr. Hoyle recommended St. Jacobs Oil, which completely cured me.
