THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1883. NO. 222

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Marwood, the executioner, died of intemperance.

New York Frenchmen think that the Count of Paris will be the next President of France.

In Pere Hyacinthe's church the deacons who pass the plate say "Thank you" to those who contribute.

A ten-story apartment house which is about to be erected in New York is to be lighted wholly by electricity.

The sharp frost in Connecticut is sarcastically said to have reduced the quantity of "genuine Havana cigars."

A Lowndes county (Ga.) scrub cow which cost $10 gives milk enough to yield four pounds of good butter daily.

The Panama Canal has cost $20,000,000 of the $30,000,000 subscribed. De Lesseps promises to complete it by 1888.

Five hundred men have applied for Marwood's place. They probably think it far pleasanter to hang than be hanged.

According to the New York Times, Hon. R. P. Flower is developing remarkable strength as a Presidential candidate.

Prof. Shilling took his own daughter as a model for the great statue of Germania, to be unveiled next month by the Emperor.

Dr. Griffin, the stepfather of Miss Mary Anderson, writes to a Louisville friend as follows: "While we are boating on the Tnames mo and Mary is the synochure of all eyes."

Mr. S. W. Allison, a millionaire farmer of Illinois, stakes his reputation as an expert on the prediction that the corn crop of this year will be larger by 200,000,000 bushels than it was last.

The King of Siam beats New York brokers in trade dollar speculation. He is buying them at ninety in Singapore, and making each dollar into two Siamese ticals, which pass at sixty cents each.

Mr. Charles Delmonico, the last survivor of a celebrated catering family, is suffering from mind disease. He had a splendid business and a fortune of $2,000,000. He went into Wall street and was terribly plucked.

Yellow fever still continues at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, though none is reported among the shipping during the week ending August 4th. There were 293 deaths at this point, small-pox and yellow fever being the principal cause.

The Boston Herald concludes that this is a great country because there are floods in Texas, drought to New York and New England, frost in the Prairie States, snow in the mountains, yellow fever in Florida and Butler in Massachusetts—all at one time.

Defending a local institution the Boston Globe says: "In New England if beans were cooked the way they are in the West and South they wouldn't be considered fit for swine to eat." If we ever catch one of the editors of the Globe down this way we'll make a test case of it.

The New York World is very cheerful over the prospects of Hoadly and the Legislative ticket in Ohio. It has a correspondent at Columbus who seems to be as well posted as any one can be at this stage of the canvass. This correspondent makes out, from an actual canvass of the State, made by the Democratic managers, that Hoadly's majority will not be less than 11,000 net. As concerns the outlook for the Legislature, the correspondent says: "The only apprehension on the part of the Democratic leaders of the State at this time is the uncertainty of carrying the Legislature, owing to local dissensions in Hamilton county. The election of Judge Hoadly is as nearly assured as such an event can be in advance of the casting and counting of the ballots. If the differences in Hamilton county are adjusted so as to unite the Democratic votes there upon a single legislative ticket, then the Legislature is assured to the Democracy beyond a peradventure. But even without the Hamilton county delegation there is a reasonable chance of carrying the Legislature, since it is quite certain that the next largest county, Cuyahoga, will send a full Democratic delegation both to the Senate and the House. The present Senate stands eleven Democrats to twenty-two Republicans. The Democrats will gain at least six Senators, giving them a majority of one. The present House stands thirty-five Democrats to seventy Republicans, making it necessary for the Democrats to gain eighteen members to control that body. Conceding that the Republicans will elect the Hamilton County delegation, the Democrats will lose two of their present representatives—General Devereux in Hamilton and Mr. Kitchart in Jefferson. They will gain six in Cuyahoga, one in Morrow, two in Stark, one in Ottawa, one in Tuscarawas, one in Perry, one in Paulding, one in Van Wert, one in Delaware, one in Lucas, one in Knox, one in Madison, one in Washington, one in Ross, one in Muskingum, one in Highland, one in Hardin, one in Henry, one in Wayne and one in Clermont, twenty-six in all. There may be three or four of these counties in which the Democrats will not elect their member, but there are as many Republican counties in which the Democrats have an even chance of electing the representative. In not one Legislature out of five has its political complexion depended on Hamilton County. But with the present dissensions in that county, it is believed that an adjustment will be reached, and a full Democratic delegation elected from there.

The New York World does not seem to have any fears as to the result in New Jersey, nor have we. In speaking of that State the World dubs it, very cheerfully, "a staunch and steadfast Democratic State," and says: "There can be no fear that it will faint or falter now, when the outlook is encouraging enough to urge all Democrats to prudent acts and faithful work. Since the tide of Republicanism set in with the election of Lincoln in 1860, all through the dark days of Democracy, New Jersey stood firmly by her principles and her colors. Only twice during that period has her vote for President or Governor been cast away from the Democracy; once, in 1872, when Grant received a majority over Greeley of 15,000, and again, in 1865, when a Republican Governor was elected by 2,789 votes. Here is the record of the State on the votes for President and Governor: 1860—Douglas, Dem., President majority 4,560 1864—McClellan, Dem., President majority 7,300 1868—Seymour, Dem., President majority 2,850 1872—Tilden, Dem., President majority 12,300 1880—Hancock, Dem., President majority 2,000 1872—Grant, Rep., President majority 15,000 For the Democratic candidate for Governor in 1862 the majority was 14,500; in 1868, 4,600; in 1871, 5,900; in 1874, 13,200; in 1877, 12,700, and in 1880, 651. In 1865 only did New Jersey give a majority against the Democratic candidate for Governor, who was defeated by 2,789 votes. The majority for Grant over Greeley in 1872 in fact illustrated the firmness and consistency of the Democracy of the State.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 316 bales.

Business seems to be increasing in nearly every department of trade.

Sheriff Taylor of Brunswick county, did us the pleasure of a call yesterday.

Hot, saltry days and foggy nights make work for physicians and druggists.

There are quite a number of flat loads of wood at the different docks, which was selling yesterday at $3 per cord.

Steamboatmen report the river as falling off and if there is not rain in a short time it will cause trouble and detention in running the boats.

There was sleepy dullness pervading the atmosphere of the City Court room this morning, and we failed to wake up a solitary case to report.

Col. Wharton J. Green, Representative elect from this Congressional District, who has been in the city for several days, left on the Steamer A. P. Hurt, for Fayetteville, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

We are glad to see the city teams engaged in hauling off the broken limbs and other trash with which our streets were filled by the recent storm. Such rubbish is conducive to disease and the sooner it is removed the better it will be for the health of the city.

In speaking yesterday of the dispatch made in unloading and loading the steamship Regulator, we omitted to mention that the steamship Raleigh performed the same amount of work in considerably less time. Both vessels left with full cargoes.

Last night was beautiful in its clear moonlight and it seemed to be heartily enjoyed, especially by the colored people, who were out in full force. There were several gatherings among them in different sections of the city, and we have heard their conduct spoken of as being remarkably good and orderly.

Preparation.

Miss E. Karrer is having her millinery establishment on the corner of Market and Front streets completely and thoroughly renovated, in order to be fully prepared for the reception of her stock of Fall and Winter goods, which will begin to arrive in a few days.

Repairing the Sewer.

A force of hands were engaged today in repairing the sewer at the foot of Dock street, which caved in yesterday afternoon. It has been found necessary to make the excavation considerably larger than it was at first, in order to make the repairs so permanent and substantial as to prevent anything of the kind in the future.

An Important Meeting.

A joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and the Produce Exchange is called for tomorrow, the 19th inst., at noon. The meeting will be an important one, as they are to meet with a special agent of the United States Treasury Department to consider the extension of the limits and jurisdiction of the port of Wilmington to the bar at the mouth of the river.

Has Left Us.

Rev. E. S. Alderman, whose effort at the Front Street M. E. Church, on Sunday last, was much commended by his many hearers, gave us the pleasure of a call yesterday afternoon. He left last night on the Carolina Central railroad for Raleigh, via Hamlet, whence he will proceed to Wake Forest College thence to Asheville, and finally to Louisville, Ky., his objective point. At the latter city he will continue his preparatory studies for the ministry at the Baptist Theological Seminary. He has our best wishes for his health, success and for a long life of usefulness in the Christian ministry.

For Boston.

At the depot of the W. & W. Railroad at Warsaw, in Duplin county, this morning, there was a box of corn awaiting shipment to the Boston Exposition. There were quite a number of stalks which would average 16 feet in length, with the ears of corn on them just as they grew in the field. We did not learn whose farm they grew upon further than that they were raised in Sampson county, where they raise a "smart chance" of "mighty" good corn, even when they have what they term a "sorry crop." The fact is, Sampson county may justly pride her self on raising good farmers and frugal housewives, robust sons, beautiful daughters and as good crops as grow out of doors.

The Opera House.

The "Only a Farmer's Daughter" Company reached the city at about 10 o'clock this morning from Goldsboro, where they played last night, and are stopping at the Purcell House. The Company played in Raleigh on Saturday night, when Miss Adelaide Cherie had the misfortune to fall through a trap door, just before the commencement of the fourth act, by which she sustained serious injury and was for a few moments unconscious. She recovered, however, in season to carry her difficult role through to the end, and although she was suffering intense pain, the audience were in entire ignorance of her mishap. She has recovered and will appear to-night. Mr. Joseph Frank, the genial and efficient manager of the company, informs us that the success attending the presentation of the play in the South has been almost phenomenal.

Phosphate Rock.

The recent discovery of phosphate rock at Castle Hayne and Rocky Point has caused considerable comment and investigation as to its value as a fertilizing agent, to take the place of the more expensive fertilizers. In order to obtain the highest known authority upon such matters, Mr. G. Z. French, of the latter place, has written to Sir John B. Lawes, the eminent agricultural chemist of England, and has received a reply in which that distinguished gentleman agrees with the chemists of this country, that the presence of so much carbonate of lime will make it too expensive to treat the rock with sulphuric acid, but is of the opinion that when calcined and slaked, "the phosphate in that form would be available for vegetation." Mr. French is making arrangements to so prepare it and will put it on the market as "Carbo Phosphate." As it can be furnished very cheap, there is no doubt that it will come into general use as a fertilizer.

Exports Foreign.

Brig Havana, Capt Reed, cleared today for Ponce, P. R., with 210,798 feet rough lumber, 25,003 feet dressed flooring, 60,550 shingles and 20 barrels of tar, valued at $4,873.21 shipped by Messrs. E. Kidder & Son.

Imported Plants.

Mrs. H. Reeder, near the cemetery, has a large variety of flowering bulbs and plants imported direct from Holland which she offers at reasonable rates. She also has an extensive assortment of native plants from which customers can select almost any desired variety.

Ruined Crops.

We have received a letter from a friend and subscriber at New Supply, from which it appears that the damaged done by the late storm in that vicinity was very severe. A number of buildings were blown down, and the crops of cotton, corn, cane &c., were well nigh ruined. It has been indeed a disastrous year for farmers in that section, and as a consequence they are naturally very desponding.

On the Hudson.

The 24th anniversary of the opening of the Eastman Business College, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was celebrated on Friday evening, the 14th inst., by dedicating the new college building with appropriate exercises. During the evening the students were tendered a reception at Mrs. Eastman's and among the Reception Committee, we were glad to see the name of our clever young townsman Mr. W. N. Jacobs, Surely North Carolinians, and especially Wilmingtonians, are appreciated abroad.

City and Country.

We are glad to notice that the country merchants are beginning to avail themselves of the inducements offered by the wholesale dealers in Wilmington, and are making their purchases here. There is no reason in the world why they should incur the expense and time necessary for a trip to the Northern markets, when by a few hours' ride they can be just as well and just as cheaply supplied by dealers in Wilmington, and the inland merchants are becoming aware of the fact and profiting thereby.

The "Rocks"

We are informed by a gentleman of this city, who made a visit to the "Rocks" yesterday, that the damage to property there was not near so great as he had been led to suppose. The sand had been washed from under the supports of one or two small buildings, causing them to lean from an upright position somewhat, and that was about the extent of the injury that was visible. He walked out upon the jetty where he found that in some places the force of the waves had been so great as to move some of the heavy granite cap stones, but not so far that they could be quite easily replaced. In one or two places the cap stones had settled down bodily about a foot, which was caused undoubtedly by the action of the sea washing the sand from under the foundation stones.

Our streets were treated with a slight sprinkle of a shower at an early hour this afternoon, but the heaviest clouds moved Westward over into Brunswick county, where appearance indicated that there were heavy showers.

It Will Pay

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Returned.

Mr. E. Lilly returned to the city this morning after an absence which began on the 4th of August last. He has passed the intervening time at Asheville, and we judge that he was glad to return. He reports that section of the country as being very sickly, more in consequence of carelessness in regard to sanitary regulations and precautions than from all other causes combined. He has three children, now sick with typho-malarial fever at Asheville, though they were all convalescent when he left. He is in good health, but he thinks there is considerable humbug about the idea of leaving Wilmington in search of health as he believes it to be one of the healthiest cities in the country, and we heartily agree with him.

The Port Garrison.

HAVANA, CUBA.—The distinguished physician, Senor D. Antonio Jose Romay, Asst., and Honorary Member, Board of Health, and Faculty of the Port Garrison, certifies that rheumatism and neuralgia, have by the use of the great pain-cure, St. Jacobs Oil, been cured in a few days.
