

The Daily Review.

JOSH. T. JAMES, Editor & Prop.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1883.

Entered at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., as second-class matter.

An interesting life of Ben Butler is soon to appear, under the charge of the Civil Service Reform Association of Massachusetts.

The largest cattle ranch in the world is said to be that of Charles Goodnight, at the head of Red River, Texas.

The ex-Empress Eugenie was the centre of attraction at Carlsbad during the present season. She appeared invariably dressed in deep mourning.

Probably the fastest train in America is the afternoon express on the Canada Atlantic Railway, which leaves Coteau Station at 5.35 and reaches Ottawa, distant 78 miles, at 7.09.

Ex-Postmaster-General James and ex-Mayor Grace, of New York, were given a banquet in London on Tuesday night.

The most curious of all Paris curiosities will cease to exist when the demolition of the Grand Hotel Leguery, known as "La Table d'Hote des Monstres," is completed.

The speaker who alluded to his candidate as "the war-horse that snuffed the battle from afar," climbed up to the composition-room with a club after reading it in the paper.

A lady said her husband will sit on a barbed wire fence all the afternoon to see a baseball match, and never move a muscle, but when he goes to church he can't sit in a cushioned pew for fifteen minutes without wiggling all over the seat.

One of the letters of introduction Miss Kate Field brought with her to Denver was from Sir Charles Dilke to Judge McCurdy.

A New York letter says: "Advices just received here from the City of Mexico are to the effect that an important concession has been granted by the Government, with a view to the encouragement of European immigration."

M. Pivion defeats one of the favorite arguments of the anti-cremationists, if his statement is founded on well-ascertained facts, by declaring that all poisons which can be detected in a body can be readily discovered in the so that, in cases of suspected crime, the ends of justice would not be prevented by cremation.

trip, Teneriffe being a regular stopping place for all the steamers of this company. At Castle Garden the opinion is expressed that, after one year's trial, the experiment will hardly be persevered in."

W. S. Gilbert has not after all abandoned the topsy-turvy vein of humor which has distinguished the best known of his stage work.

SHORTS.

By a hurricane in Nassau fifty vessels were wrecked and sixty lives were lost. The striking weavers at Ashton under-Lyne have decided to hold out another month.

Reports that the Emperor William will shortly have a meeting with the Czar are still current.

In Wales churches are built or restored to the extent of an average annual expense of $100,000.

A member of the French commission to investigate the cholera in Egypt caught the disease and died.

There are a number of candidates for every place within the gift of the next House of Representatives.

It is said that America and England are about to urge China to come to an understanding with France; the outlook is more favorable to peace.

Tom Moonlight is a candidate for sheriff in Leavenworth, Kansas. He ought to be made a special detective in the Internal Revenue Department, to catch illicit distillers.

Secretary Chandler has decided not to use the money appropriated for the purchase of a coal station at Chiriqui, but to refer the matter to Congress.

The London correspondent of The Evening Telegram gives an account of a banquet to ex-Postmaster General James, at which cheaper postage between England and America was advocated.

A gypsy girl who ran away from the altar and her prospective husband in Ontario was caught and horseshipped by her father. In more civilized communities the father uses moral suasion and lets the bridegroom do the whipping afterward.

MOONSHINE.

"Where is the girl of long ago?" sings Joaquin Miller. We saw her the other day. Joaq. But she isn't a girl any more. She had gray hair and a wart on her nose, and no teeth and wore specs.—Salem Sunbeam.

A plant has been found that cures bashfulness. It should be promptly tried on the man who leaves the hotel by the back window because he is too diffident to say good-bye to the cashier and clerk.—Chicago Tribune.

A Vassar college girl has written a novel called "The Foolish Virgin." It is probably about a girl who went off to college without supplying herself with enough gum to last her until vacation.—Philadelphia News.

Little Johnny says that all men do not belong to the animal kingdom. For instance, there is the circus proprietor. He doesn't belong to the animal kingdom, but the animal kingdom belongs to him.—Boston Transcript.

The average young lady wants at least four feet of a seat in a street car for a ride of six blocks, but she will ride half a day Sunday squeezed into a buggy seat beside her young man and not find the least fault.—Detroit Free Press.

The speaker who alluded to his candidate as "the war-horse that snuffed the battle from afar," climbed up to the composition-room with a club after reading it in the paper as "the war horse that snatched a bottle from a bar."

A lady said her husband will sit on a barbed wire fence all the afternoon to see a baseball match, and never move a muscle, but when he goes to church he can't sit in a cushioned pew for fifteen minutes without wiggling all over the seat, and changing his position forty times.—Peck's Sun.

One of the letters of introduction Miss Kate Field brought with her to Denver was from Sir Charles Dilke to Judge McCurdy. She sent a note to the Windsor hotel office, asking where the judge could be found. The answer came back: "Don't know; he's been dead eight years"—Denver Tribune.

PERSONAL.

George Elliot's biography does not grow perceptibly in the hands of Mr. Cross, whose illness has prevented him doing much at it.

M. Pivion defeats one of the favorite arguments of the anti-cremationists, if his statement is founded on well-ascertained facts, by declaring that all poisons which can be detected in a body can be readily discovered in the so that, in cases of suspected crime, the ends of justice would not be prevented by cremation.

The late Cromwell Fleetwood Varley was a lineal descendant of Oliver Cromwell through the marriage of the Protector's daughter to Gen. Fleetwood. He devised the first successful Atlantic cable and foretold that it could be used at the rate of fifteen words a minute, as the result of experiments made by him with an ingeniously constructed artificial line whereby he could obtain resistances and induction equal to those on long cables.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Old-Fashioned Doctor. It is very interesting to read the writings of some of the doctors of the olden time, and see how modern science and recent discoveries have knocked to pieces many of their old theories.

"Sigh no More, Ladies!" for Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is a prompt and certain remedy for the painful disorders peculiar to your sex.

When an officer came to arrest the thieving boys of a Wisconsin woman she fainted and died.

Cured Six Years Ago. "It has been six years since I was cured of fits," says Mr. W. Ford, of Wirt, Jefferson Co. Ind.

The waiters at the Thousand Island Park hotel are girls mostly from the Oswego normal school.

"I Wouldn't be without Dr. Benson's Colery and Chamomile pills if they cost $1 a pill. They cured me of neuralgia, of 9 years standing." Joseph Snyder, Paxton, Pa. 50 cts. per box, at druggists.

Two Chicago girls tested their ability to hold their breath. One could not begin to breathe again when she wished to, and was with difficulty resuscitated.

"Rough on Rats." Clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, ants, bed bugs, skunks, chipmunks, gophers. 15c. Druggists.

The Russian woman has loud ways and a loud, unpleasant voice. She almost invariably smokes.

FOR DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, Depression of Spirits and General Debility, in their various forms; also as a preventive against Fever and Ague, and other Intermittent Fevers, the "FERRO-PHOSPHATED ELIXIR OF CALISAYA," made by CASWELL, HAZARD & Co., New York, and sold by all Druggists, is the best tonic; and for patients recovering from Fever or other sickness, it has no equal.

Mrs. Hendricks and Mrs. McDonald are said to be better politicians than their respective husbands.

NEW BLOOMFIELD, MISS., Jan. 2, 1880. I wish to say to you that I have been suffering for the last five years with a severe itching ailment. I have heard of Hip Bitters and have tried it. I have used up four bottles, and it has done me more good than all the doctors and medicines that they could use on or with me.

Dr. Benson's Celery and Chamomile Pills cure headaches of every nature promptly, also neuralgia.
