The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation, of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Eastern capitalists propose to build an immense hotel at Salt Lake City.

Diana Calphus, colored, died in London, on Sunday, aged 117 years.

Right Rev. Anthony Wilson Thorald, Bishop of Rochester, England, is now in Richmond.

Young George Vanderbilt is not to be a reporter, as was alleged some time since. There seems to have been no foundation for the rumor.

Mr. John Roach, the ship builder, has presented a bill of $21,000 to the Navy Department for the storage of the steamer Ranoke at his yard since 1877.

President Arthur is to put a memorial window in his wife and her father, Capt. Herndon, in St. John's Church at Washington, which they both used to attend.

Capt. Scott Siddons, the husband of the reader and actress, has been placed in a mad-house in Australia. His wife separated from him because he squandered her earnings.

A railroad war has cut down the fare from Chicago to Indianapolis to five cents, including a chromo. Probably three cent cars will soon be put on; no transfers or stop-over checks.

J. H. Haverly says that he expects to redeem his financial losses by his minstrel troupes in Australia and England. In 1880 he made $55,000 by his minstrel enterprise in London.

Mr. G. A. Sala says: "America may be, politically, a Republic; but, socially and sentimentally, it is the Women's Kingdom. From Cape Cod to the Golden Gate the American woman is Queen."

"Burying the spoon" is what the Springfield Republican calls the amnesty which some Southern newspapers seem disposed to extend towards Governor Butler in his candidacy for the Presidential nomination.

Gen. Hancock is reported as being very sick. A member of his staff is reported in the World as expressing fears as to his condition. He is afflicted with a complaint of the kidneys and may never again be a well man.

At Democratic Headquarters in Boston, Friday night, it was said that if Mr. Prince persisted in declining the nomination for Lieutenant Governor, the committee would select another candidate. The talk of calling another convention was nonsense.

In the readjustment of the salaries at teaching in presidential postoffices, the following offices were affected: Richmond from $3,000 to $3,400; Charlotte $2,100 to $2,500; Alexandria $2,300 to $2,400; Norfolk $3,000 to $3,100; Staunton $2,000 to $2,400.

The tailors of Philadelphia have passed, in a mass meeting, a resolution to "maintain the apprenticeship system, to the end that the skilled labor which is so imperatively demanded in our particular trade shall be transmitted unimpaired to our successors."

The ring of the curfew bell was resumed at Stratford-on-Avon on the night of September 11. One of the interesting features of this revival of an ancient custom is the fact that the curfew is rung upon the bell which was tolled at Shakespeare's funeral.

The first appointment from the South under the new civil service law, was made in Washington Friday, the appointee being William Chaplin, of North Carolina, who was selected by the Secretary of War to fill a $1,000 clerkship in the Surgeon General's office.

The National Colored Men's Executive Committee met after the adjournment of the convention in Louisville and organized by the election of W. A. Pledger, of Georgia, as Chairman, and George M. Arnold, of Virginia, as Secretary. The object of the committee is to carry out the principles enunciated in the address of the convention.

Ohio votes on the 9th, next Tuesday, and it is said that the vote will probably be the largest ever polled in the State. The Prohibitionists are fighting hard, and with some chances of success for the purpose of an amendment to the State Constitution forever prohibiting the manufacture and sale of spirituous liquors, but this is a side issue. women are to take a hand in this part of the fight, and at all voting places, outside of the large cities, they are to be on hand with sandwiches and coffee and persuasive eloquence in favor of the amendment.

An English syndicate, worth $40,000,000, has bought 2,000 acres north of Omaha, which they propose to lay out as a suburban city, much like Pullman, near Chicago. The new city will be called New Edinburgh, and immense stock-yards and canning establishments are to be its chief industry.

The tax rate in Philadelphia has been fixed by the councils at $185 on the $100, the rate recommended by the finance committee. Determined efforts were made to fix it at $2, but the friends of a lower rate contended that the tax payers would not submit to the $2 rate. The tax rate of Baltimore is $1.50.

The many and slow streams of lava which lately issued from the middle of the eastern side of the cone of Vesuvius have accumulated in considerable quantities, so as to form a small hill on that side of the mountain, and change its contour at that part. The new lava is covered with beautiful white alkali crystals.

Cincinnati newspaper reporters who have been interviewed as to their intentions regarding the future price of their papers refuse to say whether they will reduce rates. There is as yet no ground for belief that one of them has decided to reduce to two cents, and the announcement to that effect is believed to be entirely erroneous.

We have received from Mr. P. M. Hale, of Raleigh, a copy of the new work just issued by him from the press, entitled "In the Coal and Iron counties of North Carolina." It is a compilation from the geological reports of Drs. Emmons and Kerr, both formerly State Geologists, Col. Laidley's and Admiral Wilkes' reports to the Federal War and Navy Departments, and the census reports of 1880 by counties. It is further supplemented by sketches of fifty six counties in the State in which valuable minerals are found, and the book is intended to be a companion to the "Woods and Timbers of North Carolina," issued from the same press. The book is a timely one and Mr. Hale has done a good thing for North Carolina in thus presenting it to the public. It is published by E. J. Hale & Son, of New York and P. M. Hale of Raleigh and can be had at the bookstores.

The receipts of cotton at this port to day foot up 503 bales. Some of the plum trees hereabouts are already in bloom for the second time this season.

Sheriff Taylor, of Brunswick county, made us a very pleasant visit yesterday evening.

We regret to learn that Capt. Price, Harbor Master of this port, is confined to his house by sickness.

July weather is good enough in that month, but July weather in October is hardly endurable.

The new two-cent stamps are not as handsome as the old green stamps but then they are 50 per cent cheaper.

Nearly everyone you meet complains of the mosquitoes. They seem to have been worse during the past two nights than at any time the during Summer.

Steamboatmen report that the river is falling and, while there is yet water enough to come through with a full freight, the trip cannot be made on regular time.

Ben Jennings, colored, was before the Mayor this morning charged with disorderly conduct, but at the request of the defendant the case was continued until to-morrow.

Twenty-six young lawyers were turned out by the Supreme Court at Raleigh yesterday. But one of them is from this section and that is Mr. Walker Emerson Faison, of Sampson.

For the Pen. Sheriff Taylor arrived here from Smithville on the Minnehaha last night, having in his custody Tom Cowan and Dick Evans, both colored and both convicted of larceny at the last term of Brunswick Superior Court, and sentenced, the former to 5 years and the latter to 2 years in the State penitentiary. The Sheriff left on the 6:40 train this morning for Raleigh with the prisoners.

Caught at Last. Henry Hall, colored, who was indicted for larceny in three cases at the last term of Brunswick Superior Court, was captured on the morning of the 2nd inst., at Spring Hill, near Town Creek, in that county, and carried to Smithville, where he is now securely lodged in jail to await his trial at the next term of the Court. Sheriff Taylor is bound to break up the nest of rogues who infest that portion of Brunswick county in bringing some of the worst of the gang to grief.

Venor's for October. The following are the views of Venor on the weather for October: First week, warm entry with thunder storms and showers and generally cloudy and showery weather, but favorable. Second week, wet and showery throughout, rains everywhere, unsettled up to end of week. Third week, showery and cooler, cool evenings and nights, frosts probable about 20th or 21st. Fourth week, cool and showery, with fogs and mists. Probably a winter snap during the week, with sharp frosts and scattered snow flurries; generally fair ending of the month.

Legerdemain. Prof. Semon gave the second of his series of entertainments at the Opera House last night, with a well filled and delighted house to witness his performance. Many of his feats were wonderful, and some of them exceeded in skill anything we have ever seen before. That in which he to all appearances cuts off the child's head and arm, was one of the most thrilling ever attempted here. His ventriloquial efforts were first rate, the song, "Then you'll remember me," being especially fine. The entertainment, taken as a whole, was superior to anything of the kind presented in the city since he was here before, and we think we can see in some things quite an improvement upon his own former efforts. The following were the lucky holders of tickets which drew the principal prizes:

J. G. Dukes, Sixth, between Castle and Queen streets—gold watch. Wm. Mallett, Sixth and Cameron streets—silver plated castor. J. F. Hawley, Chestnut, between Seventh and Eighth streets, silver plated knives and forks. The entertainment will be repeated to-night with a change of programme.

A Dastardly Act. At a few minutes before 11 o'clock last night fire was discovered on the South side of the dwelling occupied by Mrs. Hill, on North Fourth, between Chestnut and Mulberry streets. When first seen it was about half way from the bottom of the building to the first window, but it worked so rapidly that in a moment it had reached to the second story windows near to which Mrs. Hill and her three children were sleeping. The fire was first discovered by Mr. J. W. Conoley, who gave the alarm and rushed into the building to assist in removing the family to a place of safety. A party of young men, who were assembled at Capt. J. F. Divine's, also hastened to the scene and with hard work in throwing water, which was drawn from a pump in the yard, soon succeeded in extinguishing the flames. When Mr. Conoley burst into the building the sleeping room was filled with smoke and one of the children was unconscious from suffocation, but was soon relieved. The opinion was at once formed that it was the work of an incendiary, which was verified this morning by finding an empty kerosene bottle on the ground near where the fire originated. The damage was inconsiderable, and although the fire department were promptly on hand their services were not called into requisition.

Our venerable friend, Mr. A. Weill, celebrated his 52nd birthday yesterday by a little entertainment given last night to a number of his friends in the railroad offices. It was, as may well be imagined, a very pleasant little affair, abounding in good cheer, good fellowship, and good wishes for many happy returns of the day.

On Monday night last Mr. B. F. Penny caught a fine fat opossum in his store on Market street. He probably got in through the cat-hole in the door and was looking for a spring eat for his supper.

Schooner H. C. Macomber, Captain Rumill, cleared to-day for Kingston, St. Vincent, W. I., with 108,529 feet of lumber and 100,000 shingles, valued at $2,114.94, shipped by Messrs Northrop & Cumming.

Several vessels have arrived from Savannah in pursuit of cargoes within the last week or two, which would seem to indicate that the naval stores shipments from that port were rather dull as compared with those from Wilmington.

Sale of Real Estate. At the sale of real estate for partition held at the Court House at noon yesterday, the lot and buildings thereon on Third street were sold to private parties for $1,500. The lot on Fourth street was sold to Mr. Wm. Larkins for $435.

Horse Race. Considerable interest is felt in sporting circles this afternoon in a trotting race to take place at Capt. Southerland's race track, at the old Hopkins place, about four miles from the city, between the chestnut sorrel horse Henry Robinson, and the gray horse Bill Boney. The result was not known at our close.

Delegates to Association. The following have been chosen as delegates to the Eastern Baptist Association by the First Baptist church of this city: Alfred Alderman, W. P. Oldham, J. W. Taylor, and Dr. A. M. Baldwin. The Association, as stated in the REVIEW a week ago, meets at Bethlehem church, Pender county, on Tuesday next, the 9th inst.

Criminal Court. The cases before this tribunal since our last report have been generally unimportant. The following compose the principal ones which have claimed attention:

Mary Hay, disorderly house, called and failed. Judgment nisi. Jeff Davis, colored, nuisance. Verdict not yet rendered. Emma Bradley, nuisance. Now on trial.

Several other trivial cases were disposed of during the day, but they were of no importance to the general public.

A fine assortment of Guns and Pistols at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

Accidentally Omitted. The following resolutions, offered by Alderman Bear, were adopted at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night but were inadvertently omitted in our report of yesterday:

Resolved, That house, inn and storekeepers and others be required to collect and deposit their garbage and trash of all kinds in a box, barrel or other vessel in front of their premises, or at some accessible place for removal.—The Chief of Police shall advertise regular days for removal of same for each ward or district.

Resolved, The depositing of garbage and trash of any kind in the streets or public alleys, except as herein provided, is hereby forbidden. Any person or persons violating this ordinance, upon conviction before the Mayor, shall pay a fine of five dollars for each offence.

Educational. Prof. Catlett's school opened on Monday last with a larger number of pupils than were ever present before at the beginning of the term, and there are very favorable prospects that the roll will be largely increased.

Prof. Catlett has secured the services of Mr. W. A. Law as his assistant. Mr. Law is from Spartanburg, S. C., and a graduate of Wafford College at that place. He is a young man who has adopted the difficult and arduous profession of teaching, and brings to his vocation the virtues of enthusiasm and determination.

But One Health Officer. We are sorry that it has become necessary to do without the services of Capt. F. M. James, as a health officer for the city, the city authorities having concluded to retain only one health officer during the winter. This, we think, is a mistaken idea of economy as it will be next to impossible for one man to thoroughly inspect the entire city. We hope that this action of the authorities may be reconsidered and that Capt. James may be again installed in the position. He has served the city for seven years in this capacity and is thoroughly competent for the duties. One thing is certain and that is that two health officers are few enough for the large territory to be inspected.
