CASTILIAN WRATH.

Growth of the Spanish Irritation Against France.

MADRID, Oct. 1, 1883.—The irritation against France and the French government has assumed tremendous proportions. Not only do all the royalist papers echo the feeling of the conservatives, but even of liberals and members of the dynastic Left, men like Senor Moret. Every independent paper, El Imparcial especially, and La Iberia, chief organ of the Cabinet, also, calls the Parisian demonstration a shameful disgrace for France and an act of savagery unworthy of a civilized people. They cast the entire responsibility on Grevy and the French Cabinet who so weakly defended their guest.

La Iberia is authorized, it says, to state that the King condescended to remain one night more in Paris and dine with President Grevy only after a humble apology, and reserving his liberty of action to ask that satisfaction, public and exemplary, be made for the insult. The Madrid press say that he will be backed by the unanimous feeling of his people. His return was decided upon at the repeated request of the Ministers here. The Ambassador to France will follow him. The note demanding an apology will be energetic. The Madrid press and official telegrams says that Alfonso spoke very sternly to President Grevy. Irritation at the embassy and in the Spanish colony in Paris is very great because the official world in Spain accuse the French government for the lukewarm reception.

Great sympathy for Germany is expressed in the monarchical press, in the hope that the attitude of Spain will receive the support of Germany. A splendid reception is being prepared for the King to-morrow. All the members of the royalist party and the officers of the garrison will unite in the loyal demonstration. The republican and democratic press confess that the French intransigents have damaged themselves and for a long time have damaged the prospects of the peninsular democracy. El Globo, the organ of Senor Castelar, and El Porvenir, the organ of Ruiz Zorrilla, deplore such a capital impetus given to the German alliance. They say that Prince Bismarck has been successful in the present instance beyond his most sanguine expectations. The French embassy since yesterday has been protected by police. Public feeling is very high. The King is expected here on Tuesday morning.

Queen Christina obtained to-day the most loyal reception on record since the Restoration from the official world in the railway station. Even more loyal was the demonstration from the crown on the route to the palace. The people were rushing and cheering behind the royal carriage. Loud cries against France were heard in the crowd. Placards against France have been posted in various parts of Madrid but they were instantly torn down by the police, who are on guard with their officers in all the avenues leading to the French legation. Irritation is very high. Frenchmen have been slighted in Madrid and other places. All parties congratulate the King on having left Paris, and urge the Cabinet to insist on satisfaction. No decision is likely until the King can preside at the Council.

JUDGE HOADLY IN THE FIGHT.

Addressing a Mass Meeting of Ten Thousand Democrats in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1.—The Cleveland Democrats held the largest meeting of the campaign here to-night. The audience numbered 10,000. The streets were filled with people, and there was a torchlight procession, with bands and transparencies. The meeting was addressed by Judge Hoadly, ex-Senator Joseph E. McDonald, of Indiana, the Hon. S. U. Wood, of Kansas, and the Hon. Henry B. Payne. Judge Hoadly spoke for about an hour. His voice was feeble. In the course of his speech he said:

The Democratic party is the party of Governmental economy and personal liberty. The Republican party has no guiding principles. Since the slavery question was settled, they have been kept together solely by party interests. Its abuse of power begot the panic of 1873 and destroyed our mercantile marine. Millions of money were used to foster Star route frauds and to corrupt elections in Indiana. Tilden had purified the Government of New York, and the people had triumphantly carried him onward to the right to occupy the Presidency, which was stolen from him. The Republicans are inconsistent on the temperance question. The Scott law is merely a scheme to satisfy everybody and to please nobody. I believe in the efficacy of moral suasion, but not in forced prohibition, as the proposed second amendment would result in. If I live until election day, I shall vote against both amendments.

Judge Hoadly was loudly cheered. He said that he would speak at Sandusky and Toledo this week.

Spanked by His Bride.

BOSTON, October 1.—Late last night a young lady, bareheaded and very much excited, rushed to the police station in Cambridge, and reported that a woman was murdering her husband in Quinn's Block. The police found a healthy, good-looking young woman administering severe punishment to her leige lord, who had returned home intoxicated. She had spanked him with various kitchen utensils both with and without success. They were recently married and until to-night have been very happy.

STATE NEWS.

Goldsboro Messenger: A white man named Joe Marler, living in the Fremont section of this county, met with an accident in this city last Friday night which may result in his death. He had come to the circus, and after the night performance, while waiting to take the eleven o'clock train for Fremont, got to drinking with some friends. The train they were to take for Fremont moved off without them and they ran to overtake it. They caught the train, but Marler was unable to get aboard and was jerked off his feet and thrown, with the degree of speed of the moving train among the cross ties of the side track, receiving several very serious cuts on the head, and it is thought that his skull is fractured. Let those who need a lesson take warning.

News and Observer: During September forty five drummers' licenses were issued from the State treasury, bringing in the sum of $4,500. During September the internal revenue collections in this district amounted to $18,356.57. —Mr. William Biggs, of Oxford, long one of the editors of the "Free Lance," died yesterday, aged about 41. —The rust in the cotton fields hereabouts is excessive. It is having a bad effect in causing too rapid and premature opening of cotton. The leaves all fall off and the bolls are exposed to the hot sun, which causes them to ripen very quickly. Many of the bolls are dropping off. —The Supreme Court met yesterday. Hon. A. S. Merrimon, the new Associate Justice, was sworn in by Chief Justice Smith and took his seat upon the bench. Associate Justice Ashe was also present. The court at once began the examination of applicants for license. There are twenty six of these, all white. The examination will be concluded today.

Journal-Observer: About midnight last Saturday night, a fire broke out at the old homestead of Mr. R. I. McDowell, of this city, located in Davidson township, Iredell county, on the banks of the Catawba, near the Mecklenburg line, and swept the fine old family residence away. With the residence the smokehouse and kitchen were burned. —Last Sunday night, while services were being conducted in one of the colored churches of the city, a colored woman in the congregation named Lizzie Abernathy suddenly ceased shouting, and clapping her lower jaw with both hands, tried to push it shut, but all to no avail. She had shouted not wisely but too well, and her jaw had jumped its socket, making her mouth stand open to its fullest capacity. —Last Saturday little Johnnie Murr, son of section master Murr, who is stationed on the AT & O Railroad, at Davidson College, appeased his appetite on raw sweet potatoes, of which he ate a great quantity. He was shortly afterwards taken with severe pains in his stomach which continued to grow worse and baffled the skill of the doctors until Sunday, when the boy died.

Judge Gilmer and Solicitor Osborne finished up Stanley county Superior court last Saturday, and have opened Montgomery court in Troy, this week. The principal case of interest at Stanley court was the trial of Dr. Richard A. Anderson, of Big Lick, who was charged with the murder of a young man named Charlie Cox, in that place, about the first of the present year. Young Cox, while walking in the street, was shot down in the darkness by some unknown party. Suspicion rested upon Dr. Anderson as the guilty party, and a true bill being found against him by the grand jury, he was held in bond for trial by the Superior Court. The case was taken up last Thursday, and resulted in a verdict of "not guilty." This result was anticipated by those who appeared to be familiar with the case. —From parties who arrived in the city on the Carolina Central train yesterday afternoon we learned of a fatal affray that occurred Sunday night at Cameron's mill, in Richmond county, between negro men over a sum of money that had been stolen from one of their number. In the quarrel Frank Williams drew his pistol and shot George Brown in the abdomen, the wound proving fatal in the course of ten or twelve hours. The two parties above named worked at Cameron's mill with another negro named Arden Bennett, and on Saturday evening they were all paid their wages. The three roomed together, and during the night Bennett's money was stolen, he alleges, by his two companions. Sunday they got into a light over the matter, which resulted in the killing of Brown. Williams, who did the shooting, has been arrested and jailed at Rockingham.

It Bears the Closest Scrutiny. In the many items of news published, or reprinted, in the advertising columns of the newspapers of the day, it is satisfying to the reader to be fully assured that all the names given as winners of capital prizes, at various times of different amounts, in the Louisiana State Lottery are correct and truly stated, in addition to the many who avoid publicity for various reasons. All names and amounts are genuine and will bear the close scrutiny of investigation. If any one doubts this fact let him seek information of M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., and he can be fully satisfied of its exact truth.
