THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1883. NO. 245

The Ohio story is entitled: Wool, Wine and Women, or the Petticoat and the Pretzel.

Phillip Armour, the Chicago speculator, has a fresh bouquet of flowers on his desk every day.

One New Bedford sea captain admits that he is responsible for the immigration of 3,000 profane parrots.

Mrs. Edison, the wife of the inventor, is the originator of what promises to be a popular arrangement of the electric light in chandeliers.

Richard Francis, who has been appointed caterer of the Senate by Mr. Edmunds, is a colored barkeeper of the greatest skill, and is worth $40,000.

"If you can't get in at the Golden Gate Go Over the Garden Wall." is the latest Salvation Army phrase. It is dedicated to a Presidential candidate.

The remains of the Confederate dead from Arlington were to have arrived at Raleigh last night. Gen. W. H. F. Lee is among those who accompany them.

A Maryland man has sued for divorce, alleging that his wife will not let him read his Bible in peace and that once she took it from him and threw it into the fire.

The State Fair opened yesterday at Raleigh. The Visitor says that there was a good crowd in attendance and that the exhibition is already a very creditable one.

A peasant named James Zygotol has just died at Odessa, aged 147 years. His son is still alive at the age of 115; he has a grandson of 85 and a great grandson of 40 years.

The Merchant's Manifest is the name of another daily paper in Norfolk, the publication of which has just begun. It is small but good. Norfolk now has six dailies published within its limits.

Mrs. Bonanza Mackey, after several years boating about Europe in search of congenial company and a place to spend some of her money, has at last concluded to return to this country and live in Washington.

In an interview with a reporter for the New York World Gen. Hancock said that he did not expect to succeed Sheridan in his command but that he thought it was settled for him to remain in charge of his present department.

The three New York penitentiaries cost $398,065 for the year ending September 1, while the earnings were $407,061, each paying a profit. The health of the convicts is reported good, and the death-rate for the year was but 14-10 per cent.

A new Turkish tariff, to be applied to all nations having commercial treaties with Turkey, instead of a special tariff for each country, is now being prepared. Its rates will vary in amounts equivalent to an ad valorem charge of from 8 to 30 per cent.

Mr. Talmage has been preaching the doctrine of extermination as the only practical solution of the Mormon question, and wants Gen. Sherman to let slip the dogs of war in order to teach the many-wived saipos of Utah proper respect for Federal law.

Gov. Jarvis has returned from Louisville. On Wednesday there were present at the Exposition the Governors of North Carolina, Kentucky, Missouri, Indiana and Utah and Ex-Governor Hawley of Connecticut, and there is no doubt that numerous remarks were made.

Mr. Gladstone paid a graceful compliment to Mr. Tennyson at a recent demonstration where both were present. He said that his own life and labors corresponded as nearly as possible with Mr. Tennyson's, but that the poet had worked in a higher field, and his work would be more durable.

A New York letter says: "Mr. James S. Murdock, of Charleston, chairman of the American Bagging Association, said to-day that the Convention has resolved to pursue the policy of curtailing production. Moreover, the manufacturers had agreed to make the output next month much smaller than previously, preparatory to shutting down in November. The Convention has now finished its labors in this city."

Mr. Wm. M. Singerly, proprietor of the Philadelphia Record, is having erected in the twenty-eighth ward of that city 800 first-class dwellings, the prices at which they are valued being from $5,250 to $5,500. One hundred of these dwellings have been completed, and the others are to be pushed to speedy completion.

English theatre goers do not like Mary Anderson's walk. They complain that it is wanting in elasticity and freedom of movement. In the manner in which Mrs. Langtry's talented buskins slapped the tragic boards is the ideal English "walk," it is much to Miss Anderson's credit that she merits their disapproval.

A curiosity of divorce legislation is found in the Act of Georgia, passed March 18, 1865, just before the Confederacy collapsed, to the effect that a divorce may be granted to loyal females whose husbands are in the service of the United States, or have been voluntarily within the lines of the enemy, giving them aid and comfort.

Nor. barque Ellisif, Capt. Zettitz, cleared to-day for London with 4,000 bbls rosin, valued at $4,974, shipped Messrs Paterson, Downing & Co.

Sealed proposals for grading five miles of the Clinton end of the Point Caswell R. R., will be received at the office of the Secretary and Treasurer in this city. See advertisement in this issue.

To-day is noted in the annals of American history as the day upon which the British General Burgoyne surrendered his army to the Americans under General Gates, which occurred at Saratoga, New York, Oct. 17th, 1777.

Mrs. S. J. Baker's grand opening of millinery took place to-day, as was announced. There were many ladies present during the forenoon and it goes without saying that everything was carefully scanned and admired.

An Eventful Life.

The life of Mr. George W. Crapon, whose decease at Smithville on Sunday last was chronicled in the REVIEW of Monday, would, if written, read more like a romance than like actual events, scenes and episodes of an ordinary life. In his young manhood, and until he had passed the meridian of life, Mr. Crapon was a seafaring man. During the last war with Great Britain, while he was a sailor on board the ship Valentine, of Providence, R. I., home-ward bound from the Isle of France, with a cargo of pepper, and when off the Cape of Good Hope, the ship was captured by the British 74-gun ship Nanda, and he with his shipmates were taken captives to England, where they were confined in Dartmoor prison and were not released until peace between the United States and Great Britain was declared in 1815. Soon after the war he entered the United States navy and served four years on the South Pacific station on board the frigate Guerriere, which vessel had been captured from the British during the war by the U. S. frigate Constitution, commanded by Commodore Hull. Later in life, while on board an American schooner from Savannah, (the name of which is forgotten) he was impressed into the Venezuelan navy, at Margarita, and was in an engagement, while in that service, at Port Guara, on the Spanish Main.

The foregoing are but a few brief incidents in Mr. Crapon's thirty-seven years of sailor life. Hundreds of other experiences in which he battled with the tempest, sweated in the heat of the tropics, endured the bitter cold of the frigid zone, and suffered hardships, fatigues and privations unspeakable must remain forever unrecorded, as is the case with thousands of others who "go down into the sea in ships and do business on the great waters."

In Distress.

The schooner John Shay, Capt. Clark, from Charleston, S. C., for Philadelphia, with phosphate, put into Smithville yesterday leaking badly. She is consigned to Messrs. George Harris & Co., and will be towed up to the city to-morrow, where she will undergo necessary repairs before proceeding on her passage.

Track Laying.

Employees of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company are at work this week, under the supervision of Capt. John Barry, roadmaster, in laying a track at Rocky Mount from the main line to the Fair Grounds, in order to accommodate visitors and those having articles for exhibition. Next week they will run a similar track on to the Fair Grounds at Tarboro.

Personal.

Hon. A. M. Waddell is in Raleigh. Dr. W. C. Murphy, of South Washington, Pender county, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. R. R. Bridgers, Jr., who is an officer in the engineering department of the Shenandoah Valley R. R., is in the city on a visit to his father, Hon. R. R. Bridgers.

Our "friend of other days" Dr. Chas. S. Lesesne, of Onslow county, formerly Assistant Surgeon of the "Bloody 18th" paid us a very pleasant visit last evening. He was on his way to Florida, and left last night for Jacksonville, accompanied by his two younger children. He goes to Florida with the view of probably locating there but we are inclined to think that he will eventually settle down in Wilmington.

The Modern Age.

The current number of the Modern Age contains a sensible and interesting article on "Modern Dress," by Mrs. Armitage, which will be duly appreciated by the ladies. The article entitled "The French Newspaper Press" abounds in information, and "A Famous Novelist's Modes of Work" is Anthony Trollope's account of how his works were written. "Christian Beach and the Prima Donna" is a quaint story of Italian life in the eighteenth century. "Cycling" is a breezy essay by Dr. Richardson, on the sport which is so rapidly coming into general favor. Dr. Haweis' name is appended to an article on Richard Wagner's death, and the first half of "The Devil's Flirtation," translated from the Russian of Nicholas Gogol, gives the American public its first glimpse at the matter and manner of that fantastic writer.—Some poetry and the usual editorial departments finish up this number of the Modern Age in good style. New York City, $1.60 per annum.

Feast of Tabernacles.

The Jewish festival celebrating the harvest ingathering, known as Succoth, the Feast of the Tabernacles or Booths, began Monday evening at sundown and continues for the following seven days. The scripture law concerning the festival may be found in Deuteronomy, xvi. 13. The command to erect booths of palms is adhered to as far as practicable in cities where the Jews are numerous. It commemorates the dwellings of the Israelites after leaving Egypt, and they are constructed in the same manner as nearly as possible. Many who have sufficient ground attached to their homes erect these booths in the open air and have a sort of garden party entertainment for their family and friends. In some of the orthodox synagogues there will be a modern illustration of the old procession of Israelites, carrying in the right hand branches of palm, willow and myrtle, and in the left the fruit of the fragrant citron, emblems of the four elements—air, water, earth and fire. At the close of the festival, on the eighth day, the Feast of Simchat Torah, or Rejoicing of the Law, known also as the Feast of Solemn Assembly, will be celebrated. The season is one of rejoicing after the austerity of the preceding days of prayer and fast. Surrounded by the trophies of the plant world, with the green canopy of the tabernacle above his head, with the palm branch and citron in his hand, the observant Hebrew is made to feel that the "great and dreadful God" whose pardon he has been craving and before whom he has been humbling himself in penitence, is a bountiful and great Creator, who has wisely and well ordained the face of creation for the welfare of His children. The waving festal garland dissipates the solemnity of the season, and the product of vine and orchard brings new delight to the austere and chastening month of Tishti.

Exports Foreign.

Br. Steamship Lykus, Capt. Philliskirk, cleared late yesterday afternoon for Liverpool, with 3,650 bales of cotton valued at $174,552, shipped by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son.

The Lykus took her entire cargo of cotton at the Champion Compress Co's wharf as well as the amount of coal necessary for her passage across the ocean and went down the river this morning, intending to go directly to sea. She took her last cargo before the present one, at Savannah, Ga., which consisted of 3,500 bales, or 150 bales less than she took from here.

After Twenty-one Years.

Mr. A. G. McGirt, of this city, has a copy of the Wilmington Journal, of October 15th, 1862. It is two columns in width and about half the length of the present Journal, printed on one side only, and contains the statement that so many of the printers were sick with the yellow fever that it was simply impossible to issue a larger sheet, but hoped to be able to appear in regular form in a few days. It was issued right in the midst of the terrible yellow fever epidemic of that year, and contains, among other notices of deaths, the obituary of Rev. R. B. Drane, D. D., Rector of St James' Church, who died of that dread disease. It reports that on the 13th of the same month—two days previous to its issue—there were 82 new cases of fever and on the day following there were 74 new cases reported, 156 cases in two days. It also gives a statement, furnished by Acting Adjutant VanBokkelen, of the losses sustained by the Third North Carolina Regiment at the battle of Sharpsburg on the 17th of September preceding, as follows:

Strength of the regiment before the action: Commissioned officers 26; enlisted men, 556, total 582. Commissioned officers killed 8; wounded 13; enlisted men killed or since dead 54; wounded 193; missing 53; total casualties 321.

The same paper also contains an account of a contribution to the yellow fever sufferers of $165 made by Gen. S. G. French and staff, who were then stationed at Petersburg, Va.

The Secret.

The Baltimore News says it is preposterous to speak of substantial success without intrinsic, unquestioned merit. St. Jacobs Oil, the great pain-cure, is a most pronounced example. Its immense sale is due to its merit.

To the Front to Stay.

RECENTLY A LETTER WAS RECEIVED at the Wilmington Post Office addressed simply "The Most Reliable Clothing House in Wilmington". It was delivered to us. We are too modest to claim for ourselves such distinction, but if any dozen well informed business men in this city were asked to name the most prominent house selling Clothing at the lowest price, there can be but little doubt about the majority vote. How we got to the front is no mystery. The people know that we have built our success upon the broad and sure foundation of acceptable service and trustworthy methods. We keep only such goods as the public want and we never advertise a word about them that we cannot back up by facts in the store. Somehow the people naturally like to deal with us.
