THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1883. NO. 248

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Gen. Sherman's retired pay will be $15,000 per annum.

London women are taking chemical courses to fit them for the drug business.

The official count in Iowa, excepting Lyon county, gives Sheridan 25,061 plurality.

The Herald says that the new dealers make 80 per cent. and still cry for more.

Ex-Speaker Keifer, being asked by a reporter what he thought of Ohio, replied: "D—n Ohio."

A short supply of drainage water is said to be one of the principal causes of typhoid fever in New York.

Nine million postal cards, which will weigh about thirty tons, have just been ordered from the factory at Castleton, N. Y.

Senator Bayard and the Western reporter are wrestling with one another. We believe the Senator; but the reporter has the floor.

Professor Sylvester, of Johns Hopkins University, who recently resigned, has been appointed professor of mathematics at Oxford, Eng.

Four colored men are said to be studying in Rome for the Catholic priesthood. They will take charge of colored congregations.

Senator Bayard considers that Ohio has abandoned the Republican column and will help next year to assure a Democratic Administration.

Many Democrats would have been satisfied to have lost Ohio and saved Virginia. The chances are that Virginia will be as Democratic as Ohio.

The centennial of the Howard Medical school in Boston was celebrated Wednesday and the new building dedicated in the presence of a large audience.

The New York Herald predicts that there will be a moderate winter East of the Mississippi, as there is a promise of a cold and wet season on the Pacific coast.

Colonel Tom Ochiltree speaks in most affectionate terms of President Grevy, Mr. Ferry, Mr. Gladstone and the Prince of Wales, with whom he says he "sporting" while abroad.

Senator Bayard expresses confidence in the election of Randall as Speaker, remarking that he is one of the foremost men in the party, and has served the party in its direst need and served it well.

New York Sun: "The first mission of the Democratic party is to turn out the Republicans and reform the government; and all other questions are to be postponed until that mission is accomplished."

Mrs. Richard A. Caldwell, of Stanly county, is in the city, the guest of Rev. T. Page Ricard. Mrs. Caldwell is the daughter-in-law of the late Judge Caldwell, who was called "the noblest Roman of them all."

Mr. A. H. VanBokkelen, Hon. A. M. Waddell and Col. T. C. McIlhenny, of this city, and Mr. Daniel Shaw, Dr. W. T. Ennett, Capt. R. P. Paddison and Ex-Sheriff A. H. Paddison, are among those from this city and section who are mentioned as having been present at the State Fair this week.

Cotton.

The receipts of cotton at this port for the week closing with to-day foot up 8,606 bales, as against 7,236 bales for the corresponding week of last year, an increase this week of 1,370 bales.—The receipts of the crop year to date foot up 29,924 bales, as against 26,555 bales to same date last year, an increase this year of 3,369 bales.

Hymeneal.

Mr. William A. Brown, formerly of this city, but now of New York, was married in Brooklyn last Tuesday, to Miss Harriet Phelps Irvine of that city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thos. W. Brown, the brother of the groom. The happy couple have gone on a wedding tour and will return to Brooklyn about the latter part of next week.

The Old House.

Mr. D. A. Smith, of the old and well known furnishing house in this city, resumes his advertising contract with us to-day and we invite attention to his advertisement as it appears in this issue. Mr. Smith made large purchases this Fall, all selections made by himself, and he now offers to buyers a complete stock from which to make their selections.

A Sad Event.

We regret to learn of the sad death of a young lady in Powhatan county, Virginia, Miss Emily Pembroke Jones, daughter of Capt. Pembroke Jones, a distinguished officer of the Confederate Navy, and the half-sister of Mr. Pembroke Jones, of this city. The young lady, who was only 17 years old, was a somnambulist and while walking in her sleep fell, last Wednesday night, down a flight of stairs and dislocated her neck. When taken up she was dead.

Southern Time Convention.

A meeting of the Southern Railway Time Convention was held in New York City on the 17th inst., with Col. R. R. Bridgers, of the W. & W. and W. C. & A. Railroads, acting as president. A committee of five, composed of W. T. Allen, H. T. Hines, John T. O'Brien, F. W. Jackson and William Clements, was appointed to make arrangements with the different telegraph companies for the transmission of the new standard time to the different railroad companies. The schedules for the through Southern trains remain unchanged until the convention meets again.

LIMA, PERU.—Hon. S. Crosby, Hawaiian Consul, says he suffered with rheumatism, and was advised to try the conqueror of pain, St. Jacobs Oil. By three applications he was entirely cured.

The Fairs.

In response to requests from several we give here the dates of the various fairs to be held in this State this Fall, in the order in which they fall due:

State fair this week; Agricultural and Mechanical fair at Rocky Mount, October 23; Guilford fair, at New Garden, October 24; Edgecombe fair, at Tarboro, October 26; Roanoke and Tar river fair, at Weldon, November 6; Cumberland county fair, at Fayetteville, November 6; Dixie fair, at Wadesboro, November 14; Sampson fair, at Clinton, December 5.

A Serious Result.

A few nights since a party of young men at Point Caswell went out and serenaded some of the citizens. The music might have been harmonious, but a discord sprang up between two of the singers, which resulted in a knock-down. After the cessation of hostilities, one of the belligerents went into a hall to repair some of the damage inflicted upon his clothing, when his late antagonist threw a brick at him through the window, but without doing any further injury than smashing the glass. This was considered an undue interruption by the young man in the hall, and he drew his revolver and fired at his assailant, but missed his aim. The ball lodged in the foot of an innocent bystander. A physician extracted the ball, and the patient is doing well.

"Top o' the Morning."

Mr. John F. Ward, the Irish Comedian, with his company, will appear in this city in this city on Monday night in the above-named play. Of the play and the actors the Pittsburg Times speaks as follows:

It is seldom that such a uniformly good company is seen even in the height of the season. Every performer seemed to be made for his or her part and the result was a smooth performance that ran without a hitch from beginning to end. Mr. John F. Ward was in a title role an Irishman of three distinct types, but natural in each one. Whether as the rollicking Rody O. Haherty; the sedate Doctor Felix McGinty, with a dry way of exploding preposterous "Latin" sentences on his hearers, or the hard-headed Larry O'Fogarty, he never suffered the interest of his audience to flag. Miss Mary Davenport (sister of Fanny) as the twin sisters, Harriet, an Outcast, and Honorable Augusta Salome, an adventuress, showed the possession of considerable power. As to the play itself, while it contains little that is new, it is so well constructed and runs with so much snap, that it gives the impression of being thoroughly original. It is the old story of conspiracy, love and murder, with a wicked man, a still more wicked woman, a good girl and the irrepressible Irishman (Mr. Ward) who always turns up in the nick of time to prevent virtue from being trampled under foot.

The Silent Man.

Last night the "Silent Man" was played at the Opera House by Mr. Frank Evans' company. We were sorry to see the house so thin, as the comedy was exceedingly interesting and fraught with many scenes of much power. Though the audience was scant, it was most appreciative, and the applause was enthusiastic and plentiful throughout, as it was deserved. Amidst good acting by all the company, Mr. Frank Mordaunt's impersonation of Col. Joe Jackson, a Virginia gentleman, stood out prominently, and to it is due the success of the play. The Colonel is a perfect type of those perfect gentlemen whom the civil war either scattered or killed. He sympathizes with the "bottom dog" in the fight and the little horse in the race, while he will defend his guest—a common enemy to the community—with his own life. Mr. Mordaunt was singularly effective in his representation of the Colonel with "three sheets in the wind," and no less so when a further visit to the grocery store had completely turned his head, and he labored under delirium tremens.

Mr. Evans, as John Logan, was all that his part called for. He played it forcibly and well. Miss Nixon, as Carrie, was sprightly in the lighter parts of the character, and showed fine acting when opposed to the allurement of the villain. McPercy Meldon, as Carl Danson, played his part admirably; a part with which no audience has ever any sympathy; and the suppressed hate and rage of the bloodthirsty backwoodsman were shown forth very vividly. Stumps, the cripple, received ample justice from Miss Ella Southern, as did the other parts from their exponents. We must not forget to mention the part of Margaret Standish Hooiverson, a strong Boston Lady, by Miss Moses, which was superb.

We hope that the matinee and night performances will be better attended than was last night's show.

Fruit Growers' Association.

We learn from the News and Observer that the annual meeting of the Fruit Growers' Association of North Carolina was held in the Senate chamber Thursday night. The meeting was well attended and very interesting.

Dr. Satchwell, of Pender county, delivered an able and highly interesting address on the subject of fruit and grapes as articles of food.

The following officers were then elected for the ensuing year:

President—Capt R. P. Paddison, of Pender.

Vice Presidents—Col. W. J. Green, of Cumberland; Col. R. B. Creecy, Elizabeth City; J. Chapman, Mason, N. C.; Daniel Shaw, Pender county; J. VanLindley, Guilford; S. H. Canada, Granville county; Col. William Johnson, Meckleburg, J. H. Sailor, Yadkin county; Col. John D. Cameron, of Buncombe county.

Secretary—S. Otho Wilson, Raleigh. Corresponding Secretary—P. M. Wilson, Raleigh.

Treasurer—S. A. Lineback, Salem.

Quite a number of gentlemen interested in the subject joined the association.

Col. J. M. Heck was requested to deliver an address at the next annual meeting on the subject, "Fruit growing in North Carolina—does it pay?"
