THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1883. NO. 253

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Miss Cayvan, the actress, is the latest among those who propose to "star."

Mrs. Dahlgren made enough from her new novel to build a house in Washington.

Commodore Kittson thinks that the pauper Johnson will do a mile in 2 1/2 this year.

Colonel Casey says that the Monument in Washington will be completed in a year.

Herbert W. Leach, one of the Scout survivors, is lecturing in New England on the voyage.

The wind has concluded to blow from the Westward and we may now hope for pleasant weather.

Bishop Green, of Mississippi, being on his way home, has halted in Washington to visit friends.

The New York Customhouse officials passed Mrs. Langtry's trunks containing her wardrobe free of duty, on the ground that it was "tools of trade."

Ohio Republicans cannot say, says the Savannah News, that their defeat in Ohio this year was due to the indifference of their party. The vote was the largest ever polled in the State, and this fact makes the defeat of the Republicans the most disastrous that they have ever sustained.

The imports of foreign merchandise in New York since the 1st of January, up to Saturday last, aggregate $372,952,184, compared with $410,064,996 for the corresponding period of 1882. The total for the past week was $9,882,573, the amount having been considerably swelled by the arrivals of delayed vessels.

The Democratic State central committee of Louisiana met in New Orleans Monday, with President Fitzpatrick in the chair. The opponents of Fitzpatrick elected J. B. Eustace chair man, whereupon Fitzpatrick and twenty-five or thirty followers withdrew declaring the proceedings revolutionary.

The Huguenot society of America met in New York Monday, with John Jay in the chair. It was decided to hold three meetings yearly. The annual meeting will be held on the 13th of April, which is the date of the promulgation of the Edict of Nantes, granting freedom of worship to the Huguenots of France.

A glass dish filled with shells was on a mantel shelf in the home of Joseph Haynes, of South Parsonfield, Me. When lightning struck the building it threw this dish across the room without cracking it or losing a shell, struck a gun, tearing the stock into pieces, then passed into the sitting-room, where the family were, and took a square out of the plastering, but injured no one.

A. S. Cheney, representing the steamboatmen of New York City, reported Monday to the committee on the celebration of the centennial anniversary of evacuation day that it was proposed to get up a water parade of boats of all kinds on that day. One of the features is to be a ship loaded with men dressed as British soldiers, which they will escort down the bay.

The question whether or no he has the right or power to appoint a successor to the late Bishop Colenso, of Natal, has for some time engaged the attention of the Archbishop of Canterbury. Natal, however, has an ecclesiastical community distinct from the English Church, and hence it is considered probable that no Bishop can be appointed by the head of the English Church.

If President Taylor retires from the leadership of the Mormon Church, it is probable that Apostle Cannon will be his successor. Cannon is able and crafty, and would be as dangerous a leader as Brigham Young was. If he is placed at the head of the Church the suppression of polygamy will be pushed a good way into the future.

Mr. Beecher traveled 18,500 miles during his tour that ended in Brooklyn on Saturday. His reception in the South gave satisfaction. "At Macon, Ga.," he said to a reporter, "a fellow wanted to shoot me, but he was safely locked up. I guess he was too drunk to have done much execution." Otherwise the Southern people treated him very courteously.

The wild, boundless West has come to the front with a product called "butterine." This article is stated to be the worst fraud that has been hoisted on a confiding public. Eighty five per cent. of it is deodorized lard and fifteen per cent. butter. As the heat necessary to dry out the lard is not sufficient to destroy the trichina that may be in it, the consumers of this disgusting imitation are in danger of contracting a most horrible disease.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 991 bales.

Clarendon Council, No. 67, A. L. of Honor, will meet to-night, at 8 o'clock.

At attention is invited to the card of Col. S. L. Fremont, City Surveyor, as it appears in this issue.

The beautiful weather to-day brought out the ladies in force and the streets and stores have been lively in consequence.

We are informed that the attendance at the Agricultural Fair at Rocky Mt., yesterday, was the largest ever known at that place on such an occasion.

Steamboatmen report that there has been a rise of about 8 feet in the Cape Fear within the last few days, which is good news, as the river was getting rather low.

Mr. F. H. Mitchell, of this city, and Capt. W. N. Bowden, Auditor of the Carolina Central R. R., were registered at the Central Hotel in Charlotte on Wednesday.

There is very little need to put a duty on matches, because we can make them ourselves. Those which are made in heaven are very seldom brought to this market.

The Clinton Caucasian has been enlarged to a 36-column paper. It presents an elegant appearance and gives evidences of thrift and enterprise. May it continue to "grow fat and sassy."

The fishermen begin to look hopefully for successful fishing. The wind and weather to-day seem to be all that could be desired and, "Here's yer nice fat mullets," will probably be the cry in the course of a few days.

Mr. E. M. Gotthold, advance agent of the Haverly Comedy Company, is in the city in the interest of the "Strategists," which is to be presented on the 5th proximo. From all accounts he has got hold of a good company and a good play.

This is the season of the year when hen roosts and chicken coops are liable to be raided, and it would be well for those who keep fowls to secure them as well as possible. We heard a gentleman say yesterday that he intended to put up iron shutters at his hen house windows.

You cannot long for anything more than your real value, after all. You may wear a placard saying you are solid gold, but men hardly take a second squint at you before they discover that you are pinchback. The farmer may shingle and clapboard his old barn, but the moment you get on the inside you see that it is the old barn nevertheless.

It is not genius that tells on the world, but downright and honest hard work. Your brains may ferment and effervesce like a yeast pot, but unless you can settle down to steady toil you are worth no more to the community than a soap bubble, which bursts so soon that it is hardly worth one's while to stop to look at and admire it. A good blacksmith is worth a round dozen of geniuses who wear long hair and Byronic collars and wonder why the world doesn't admire them.

City Court.

Two men for an affray and one for disorderly conduct were before the Mayor this morning and settled for their several offenses by the payment of fines in each case, ranging from $2 to $5, according to the aggravated nature of the case.

Good Music.

The services at St. Paul's Lutheran Church next Sunday night are expected to be of unusual interest so far as the music is concerned. With the vocal music of the choir, there will be an instrumental feature that will be quite orchestral. Aside from the organ there will be two violins, two cornets and a contra base, and it is intended to perform some overture appropriate to and selected for the occasion.

Railroad Extension.

We learn from the Monroe Enquirer and Express that "Mr. Moncure, of Portsmouth, an attaché of the Carolina Central Railroad, was in Monroe last week for the purpose of locating a route for a new railroad from Monroe to Chester, S. C., which the railroad authorities propose to build. This company is abundantly able to build this road, and we understand there is but little doubt that it will ultimately be built."

Indian Mounds.

We understand that Prof. Holmes, of the State University, has recently opened an Indian mound near Kenansville and that he was amply repaid for his labor, having found there sixty skeletons as well as quantities of old arrow-heads pipes &c. The mound is 34 feet high and 35 feet square. There are other mounds of this kind in this section and it is probable that some of them will be visited and opened soon.

Habeas Corpus.

The hearing on a writ of habeas corpus, issued by Judge Meares, of the Criminal Court, in the case of Edward Howell, colored, who was arrested at Florence, S. C., on Saturday last and brought to this city by Sheriff Manning on a requisition from Gov. Jarvis, charged with obtaining goods under false pretense from Messrs. P. L. Bridges & Co., has been set for 4 o'clock this afternoon. This hour makes the proceedings too late to be reported in this issue.

Alleged Train Rocker.

From the Charlotte Observer we learn that Coroner Smith, of Mecklenburg, on Wednesday last captured Elijah Gilmore, colored, at Wolfe's crossing and carried him before Esq. Carpenter, at Matthews Station, to be tried on the charge of rocking a train on the Carolina Central Railroad. One witness was produced who swore that he saw Gilmore throw the rock and another witness swore that he had heard Gilmore make threats of giving the railroad some trouble, in retaliation for his having been ditched by a conductor. The magistrate thought the evidence sufficiently strong against Gilmore to bind him over to the inferior court for trial, and require a bond of $500. Mr. Edgar Walker went on the bond and the prisoner was released. Coroner Smith is morally certain that he has the right man and that the Interior Court will convict him, in which event he will get $300 from Superintendent Jones. Gilmore says that he can produce witnesses to clear him.

The Sling Shot.

Last evening, just before 6 o'clock, a bullet came crashing through one of the windows of the DAILY REVIEW press room and striking against the wall fell to the floor. It was flattened on one side by its contact with the wall and a round hole, about as big as a small apple, was made in the window. Yet the ball was evidently not fired from a gun or a pistol. It was a low-moulded buckshot and undoubtedly came from a sling in the hands of a mischievous boy. It is the second time within three weeks that a window in this building has been broken by a sling shot, Messrs. A. & I. Sharier, on the first floor, having also suffered in like manner. We think it time that some vigorous steps should be taken by the police to abate this nuisance. The complaints of the sling shot in the hands of small boys are numerous; private residences have suffered from time to time and we know of at least two churches whose handsome stained glass windows have been injured thereby. We hope that the city authorities may at once embark in a crusade against the dangerous slings.

A Beautiful Case.

Apropos of dressing cases, we saw one this morning at Dr. Green's drug store, on Market street, that is probably as beautiful and costly a specimen of work as has ever been seen in this State. It is plush covered and satin-lined, and is a combined dressing and jewelry case, the drawer which is for the latter being a secret one, and opening with a spring. The case is crimson in color, with a beautiful pastoral scene, apparently hand-painted, on the lid, and the instruments it contains are numerous and costly. It will be drawn for at an early day.

A Runaway.

There was quite a flurry of excitement at the corner of Market and Second streets this morning, which was over about as soon as it began. A horse, attached to a common country cart, became frightened at something and ran across the street, upsetting the vehicle and scattering its contents all about. The animal soon cleared himself from the cart, and then, as if entirely satisfied with his part in the performance, walked away as deliberately as if nothing had happened. The cart was considerably damaged but nothing was injured, and the horse allowed himself to be caught without any further trouble.

The New Diocese.

The Newbern Journal says that the Convention of the new Episcopal Diocese will meet in Newbern in December. Our friend is "a little too previous" The wish is, perhaps, the father of the hope, and we are sure that no announcement has yet been made as to where the Convention will be held. We doubt if Bishop Lyman has as yet decided in his own mind this important question. Wilmington is assuredly the proper place for the Convention to meet, as the diocese is here. We hazard the assertion that there are five times as many Episcopalians in Wilmington as in any one county in the diocese, outside of New Hanover.

We understand that an organized movement has been made to have this convention held here, where it should assuredly be held, as there are four large congregations of Episcopalians in this city. A gentleman who was a delegate to the last Diocesan Convention, held in Charlotte, and who attended all of the sessions, tells us that Wilmington was freely spoken of as the general sentiment that not only the Convention should be held here but that Wilmington should be made the Cathedral city, inasmuch as there is already here a handsome episcopal residence, belonging to the church, ready for occupancy by the new bishop.

Salt for Dyspepsia.

A good medical authority says that one half of a teaspoonful of common table salt dissolved in a little cold water and drank will instantly relieve heartburn or dyspepsia. If taken every morning before breakfast, increasing the quantity gradually to a teaspoonful to a glass of water, it will in a few days cure any ordinary case of dyspepsia, if at the same time due attention is paid to the diet. There is no better remedy for headache; no better gargle for sore throat. It is equal to chlorate of potash, and is entirely safe. It may be used as often as desired, and if a little is swallowed it will have a beneficial effect in the throat by cleansing it and allaying the irritation. In doses of from one to four teaspoonfuls in half a pint of tepid water it acts promptly as an emetic and in cases of poisoning is always at hand. It is an excellent remedy for bites and stings of insects.
The Haverly Mastodon Minstrels will not leave Wilmington until 12:30 midnight, Nov. 2nd. They will arrive by special train and take advantage of change of schedule upon departing.
