THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1883. NO. 254

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation, of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Mr. Gilbert, the dramatist, is building a mansion at a cost of £50,000 in Kensington, London.

The Prince of Wales has expressed admiration for Miss Mary Anderson, even though snubbed by the proud dramatic queen.

There are Democratic Governors in twenty-six of the thirty-eight States, including New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, and yet the Presidential year abounds with uncertainties.

Mrs. John Russell Young, wife of the American Minister to China, died in Paris Wednesday morning. She was a native of Hartford, Conn., and a niece of the late Governor Marshall Jewell.

The Mikado of Japan is said by the Yokohama Herald to be despondent because of the recent loss of two of his children. Two sons and four daughters have died in the palace, and only one child, a boy, remains alive.

It is probable that a meeting of the Republican National Committee will be held in Washington on or about December 12, to decide upon the time and place for the next National Convention.

Gov. Butler's language is suited to the mob. In one of his speeches the other day he spoke of the late Ananias and Sapphira as having been struck dead for lying "by a gentleman from heaven."

The Mobile Register thinks that, in making Mr. Randall the advocate of cheap drunkenness, the News and Courier does injustice to a Democratic leader whose life and public career have been singularly pure and delightful.

Mrs. Anna M. Greene, whose husband was the son and namesake of the famous General Nathaniel Greene, will celebrate her one hundredth birthday anniversary on November 8. She is the mother of the late Professor Greene, Mr. Longfellow's intimate friend.

The Louisville Courier-Journal argues that "the party which controls the 50,000 postoffices is strongly entrenched. Every postmaster is a partisan politician, and this postoffice fact must be calmly taken into consideration by fighting Democrats. It is a big fact, but it should not be a depressing one to the Democrats."

The Philadelphia Times says that "Malone of Virginia," has changed very much in appearance lately. He has aged very considerably; he is getting somewhat bald, and his hair and beard have whitened. He begins to dress out of his usual custom, wearing a black frock coat and displaying an immaculate white vest.

At the annual meeting of the American Antiquarian society at Worcester, Mass., Monday, the old board of officers was re-elected with Hon. Stephen Salisbury president. The principal papers read were one by George Bancroft, explaining the withdrawal of Alexander Hamilton from Washington's military family, and one by Professor Putnam, of the Peabody Museum, on the nature of the prehistoric mounds in Georgia, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Commenting on the fact that the army engineers say that they want about $35,000,000 for rivers and harbors next year, the Savannah News says that amount ought to be appropriated if it is needed, for three reasons: First, because there is a surplus in the Treasury which Congress doesn't know what to do with; second, because there is no other way in which public money can be spent with so much advantage to the people; and third, because no money was appropriated for rivers and harbors at the last session.

A petition has been presented to President Arthur, by Messrs. Horner and Grant, of New Orleans, signed by two hundred merchants and bankers of that city, asking the President to examine into the matter of the Postmaster General's recent order against the New Orleans National Bank, and if he finds it is illegal and dangerous to the rights of citizens, to direct its revocation. The President promised to give the matter attention. This refers to the order issued by Postmaster General Gresham, cutting off the New Orleans bank's mail on account of its receiving mail for the Louisiana State Lottery Company.

The registration at Boston closed Tuesday night. As nearly as can be learned, the total foots up 64,700, the largest registration ever known there.

Wm. P. Copeland, the well known correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce, is dead. He was a genial gentleman, respected for his ability and beloved for his social qualities by all who knew him. He was a native of Richmond.

The regular Democratic ticket was elected in Baltimore on Wednesday. All of the liquor saloons were closed and the entire police force were on duty, thus ensuring a peaceful election. The candidates for mayor were J. M. Heiskell, citizens' non-partisan nominee, i. e., a bolter, and F. C. Latrobe, Democrat. The Republicans made no nomination and were expected to support Mr. Heiskell, who heretofore had always acted with the Democrats. The vote as shown by the returns was quite close, and Mr. Heiskell's defeat is, by many, attributed to the fact that he did not poll the full Republican vote. The total vote cast for mayor is as follows: Latrobe, 28,957; Heiskell, 25,668.

MUNDS BROS. & DE ROSSET—Notice
R. McDougall—Western N. C. Produce
JOSEPH DENCK—Tuning and Repairing.

Days length 10 hours and 48 minutes.

The moon changes next Tuesday night.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 882 bales.

There were no interments in Bellevue Cemetery this week.

Sunset to-morrow afternoon at 8 minutes past 5 o'clock.

Capt. W. A. Cumming, of this city, was in Charlotte on Thursday.

This has been one of the most pleasant Indian Summer days of the season.

The Register of Deeds issued one marriage licence this week and that was for a colored couple.

There will be no regular service at the First Baptist Church to-morrow, but the Sunday School will be as usual.

There were ten interments in Pine Forest Cemetery this week—five of which were adults and five were children.

There was a good supply of fish and oysters in the market this morning and some of the finest and largest mullets we have ever seen.

To-morrow is known in the Church Calendar as the Festival of St. Simon and St. Jude, as well as the Twenty-third Sunday after Trinity.

There is an apple tree on Col. J. Wilder Atkinson's "Fairfield" plantation about four miles from the city, which has been in full bloom for several days.

Mr. Joseph Denck, of Columbia, arrived here this morning and will remain here for a few weeks, for the purpose of tuning and repairing pianos and organs. Orders left at Heinsberger's or Yates will receive prompt attention.

Mr. J. R. Marshall will leave here on Monday next on a prospecting tour through Florida, in some portion of which State he proposes to settle, provided he can secure a suitable location. We reckon he had better stay in North Carolina.

On Thursday, November 1st., the Festival of All Saints will be celebrated and on that occasion the congregations of St. James' and St. John's will unite in services at St. James' in the morning and in the chapel at Oakdale Cemetery in the afternoon.

It seems that the big steamers have not taken away all the cotton as there are now at the wharves of the Champion Compress Company four bargues to be loaded with the staple. The appearances now indicate that the shipments of cotton for this season will exceed those of any previous year.

Attention is invited to the advertisement of Mr. R. McDougall, No. 14 Chestnut street, between Front and Water, as it appears in this issue. Mr. McDougall is steadily in receipt of produce from the West, and solicits orders, both from the city and the country, for all articles in his line, promising prompt attention in every instance.

A New Court House.

The corner stone of the new Court House for Craven County will be laid at Newbern on Monday, the 14th proximo, with appropriate Masonic ceremonies. Chief Engineer Myers and the Fire Department of this city have been invited to attend and participate in the exercises and festivities of the occasion, but whether they will go or not is not yet determined. The pleasures of the occasion will terminate with a torchlight procession at night.

The Great Southern Troupe.

We acknowledge the receipt of complimentary tickets of admission to the performance of the above named troupe to take place to-night at 7.30 o'clock, at the corner of Seventh and Bladen streets. The troupe is composed of young men, residents of this city, and after listening to a description of the "performance" by one of the "actors" and he says he did not tell us half, all former efforts of professionals will be eclipsed by these amateurs. One of the "features" is the turning, from a spring-board of two summersaults, in mid-air, by one of the members. Price of admission 10 cents.

Interesting Services.

The services at St. Paul's Lutheran Church to-morrow night will be commemorative of the 400th anniversary of the commencement of the Reformation, and will undoubtedly be intensely interesting. The music for the occasion, both vocal and instrumental, will be very fine. There will be three hymns sung by the choir with organ accompaniment, and the exclusively instrumental portion of the services will consist of the following, in the order in which they are named: "Offertory," upon the organ; "Alligretto," by Forbes; "Guide me, Oh, Thou Great Jehovah," by Flotow; "Andante," in A flat, by Batisli; the three last named pieces by the orchestra, consisting of organ, two violins, two cornets and contra base.

The services to-morrow will be commemorative of the Great Reformation of the 16th century brought about, under God, by Luther, at both the morning services (which will be German) and in the Evening services in English, the battle hymn of the Reformation, "Ein feste Burg est unser Gott" will be sung. In the English services at night the choir will be assisted by a number of gentlemen noted for their musical ability, who will with their various instruments accompany the organ. This will be the 366th anniversary of the Reformation, it having been begun October 31st 1517, by Luther's nailing ninety five theses against the church door of Wittonberg, designed to correct the evils then existing in the church.

Steamship and Railway.

The ninth annual convention of the Southern Steamship and Railway Association was held in Atlanta last Wednesday. The Association met in the hall over the Georgia Railroad office at 11 o'clock a. m., and was in session until 10 o'clock p. m. Commissioner Powers submitted his annual report. The question of the renewal of the old agreement was submitted to the executive committee, which was in session all the afternoon. The convention re-assembled at 8 o'clock, when the committee reported in favor of adopting the old agreement. This was finally agreed to, and the present officers of the association were re-elected. It was determined to elect three arbitrators instead of one, and the following gentlemen were chosen as arbitrators: T. H. Carter, John Soreven and E. K. Sibley. The adoption of the old agreement will preserve the present regulations in the railroad pool at least for a year from the first of January next unless there is some unexpected difficulty. The meeting adjourned in good humor. The rate committee met yesterday at 10 o'clock, but no important action is probable.

Among the delegates present, as we see by the Constitution, were: Hon. R. P. Bridgers, resident; T. M. Emerson, general freight agent Wilmington & Weldon Railroad and Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroad; A. L. Rives, vice-president; T. M. R. Talcott, general manager; Sol. Haas, traffic manager; G. S. Barnum, assistant general freight agent Richmond & Danville Railroad.

Dr. A. J. DeRosset, one of the delegates from this city to the Episcopal Convention at Philadelphia, returned here last night. Col. John W. Atkinson, the other lay delegate from Wilmington, has been at home some days. Rev. Dr. Watson has not yet returned, but is expected back week after next.

There were three interments in Oakdale Cemetery this week; two adults and one child.

The schooner John Shay, Captain Clarke, bound from Charleston, S. C., with phosphate rock, for Baltimore, which put in here in distress, leaking, some days ago, having completed her necessary repairs cleared to-day and proceeded towards her destination.

Master Bonnie, the eleven-years old son of Mr. B. F. Penny, while attempting to harness a horse this morning was bitten by the animal on the arm, bruising the flesh severely and leaving the print of three of his teeth upon the skin.

Cotton.

The receipts of cotton at this port for the week ending with to-day foot up 7,613 bales, as against 5,320 bales for the corresponding week last year, an increase this week of 2,293 bales. The receipts of the crop year to date foot up 37,537 bales, against 31,875 bales to same date last year, an increase this year of 5,662 bales.

They Were Sent.

Capt. J. B. Huggins informs us that the oysters spoken of by the Beaufort Telephone, an account of which was published in the REVIEW of the 22nd inst., were actually sent from this city to the Exposition, as stated in that paper, and that the price paid for them was at the rate of four dollars per bushel. They were shipped by Capt. Huggins.

A Net Work.

The task of putting up telephone wires throughout the city is nearly completed, and what with telephone and telegraph wires our streets are pretty well netted over. It may seem incredible, but it is nevertheless a fact that since operations were commenced, a week or two ago, there have been more than 75 miles of telephone wire stretched over the city.

A Sudden Attack.

We regret to state that Capt. Colvin, of the steamer John Dawson, was taken seriously sick this forenoon. We saw him at our office during the early morning hours and he complained of much pain in his limbs, and we learn that soon after he was taken with a chill and was obliged to take to his state room on the boat. When the steamer left this afternoon the chill had left him, but he was suffering from a very high fever. We hope that his attack may yield readily to medical treatment and that in a few days he may be as well as ever again.

Matrimonial.

A correspondent at Pt. Caswell, Pender county, writes us that such a spirit of marrying and giving in marriage as now exists in that vicinity has not been known in many years. On the 24th inst, Mr. Walter Gaylor and Miss Julia McDuffie were united in marriage, and on the following day Dobbin Callahan, Esq., and Miss Adda Gaylor, sister to the first named gentleman, were also married. On the 7th proximo another brilliant wedding is announced to take place, and there are several other couples whose marriage may be expected at almost any time. In concluding his pleasant letter our esteemed correspondent asks, "What does this mean?" If an answer is expected from us, we should say that the young people of that vicinity were very sensible, and if we were to give any advice in the matter we should say to the young ladies:

The New Diocese.

The following call from Bishop Lyman is published in yesterday's News and Observer. It will be seen that he has called the convention to meet in Newbern on Dec. 13th. We publish the call in full as per request:

HOUSE OF BISHOPS, PHILADELPHIA, October 23d, 1883.

To the Clergy and Laity within the limits of the new Diocese in North Carolina:

DEAR BRETHREN: The division of the Diocese of North Carolina having been ratified by the approval of both Houses of the General Convention, it now becomes my duty, agreeably with the provisions of Canon C. section 1, title III, to summon the primary convention of the new Diocese. I therefore hereby call such convention, to meet in Christ Church, Newbern, on Wednesday, December 12th, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of organizing the new Diocese and electing a Bishop for the same. T. B. LYMAN, Bishop of North Carolina.
