

The Daily Review.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1883.

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

STATE NEWS.

Clinton Caucasian: Mr. Wm. H. Marley of Franklin township was born on Tuesday. He has had seven sons, all born on Tuesday. He has two daughters, one of whom was born on the 25th, and the other on the 26th of November.

Wadesboro Times: Mr Sam Scarborough, near Edinboro, Montgomery county, had the misfortune to lose his house and contents on Sunday last by fire. There was no insurance.

Durham Recorder: The Conference of the A. M. E. Church South, is in session at Durham, Bishops Payne and Dickerson, presiding. The number of delegates is large.

Williamston Times: Williamston can now boast of six lawyers and two good doctors. James Jones, of Snow Hill, died last week. He was fifty years old, weighed 620 pounds and the coffin in which he was buried measured 38 inches across the breast.

Fayetteville Sun: We learn by a private letter, that Capt. Jno. Johnson, formerly of this place, and for many years a steamboat captain on the Cape Fear River, died at his home near Tyler, Texas, a few weeks ago. His eldest son, about 16 years of age, also died about the same time.

Newbern Journal: Stephen Moore, the noted barbecue man of Lenoir county, aged about 60, died suddenly at his residence last Thursday morning from paralysis. He got up, as usual in the morning and undertook to make a fire, when his hand suddenly became paralyzed. He returned to his bed and died immediately.

Chatham Record: Mr W D Harrington, of Cape Fear township, raised this year 105 barrels of corn on 8 acres. Rev William Walker has accepted the rectorship of the Episcopal church at this place and will move here next week.

Charlotte Observer: At Lindsay Adams' farm near town there was an old fashioned corn shucking night before last, and the full moon threw her rays upon a crowd of about two hundred and fifty darkies around a pile of eight hundred bushels of corn.

Weldon News: On the 7th inst., Mr. W. K. White, who lives near Palmyra, had the misfortune to lose his gin house and contents by fire. There were ten bales of cotton burned.

head, of Rosecath township, lost his gin house, gin and five bales of cotton by fire. The fire caught from matches ignited by ginning and the loss will reach a thousand dollars if not more.
