One of the most interesting medica theories yet broached is the hypothesis that scarlet fever originated with the horse, and that inoculation from this animal may possibly be used as a pres ventive of the dreaded disease in the human being. Dr. John C. Peters, of New York City, who has prosecuted careful studies into this subject, is thoroughly convinced that he is right in this hypothesis, and he believes that it will be possible to reduce the equine lutions. virus by caltivation. so that healthy children may be inoculated against the of a good city government. discase.

A man of somewhat remarkable history died recently in the Canton of Geneva, Switzerland. Jean Trottet was born without hands or feet. His short | concord between the two races. arms were pointed and his legs, such as they were, were not available for walking and he could only move about by right man in the right place. twisting from side to side. Many offers were made to his parents to exhibit citizens elsewhere it would redound him, but they declined and gave him a both to their interest and respectability. good education. In writing, he held the pen at the bend of the elbow. As he grew up he became greatly interested in husbandry, was an active haymaker, could use the reins, and was so good a shot that he carried off the first prize at the village fete. He has left a widow and fonr children amply provided for.

The Popular Science Monthly draws attention to the mistaken idea that prevails, even among educated people, that even if water is contaminated it is purified by freezing. Many experiments show the fallacy of this idea. In some recently made by Mr. C. Pengra, an American chemist, various organic matters were mixed with water and the specimens were gradually frozen. A certain amount of purification did take place-the ice containing thirty and even forty per cent. less organic matter than the unfrozen liquor. But a great amount of the added pollution remain. ed, and the investigator, though exs pressing surprise that the purification first ballot, and to be nominated on the had been as great as it was, says that second. the experiments afford abundant proof that we ought not to tolerate the indis-

Mr. Dezendorf charges that Mahone wanted the country to believe that the so called riot at Danville was the cause of his defeat, and that the white people of Virginia had inaugurated a bloody crusade against the blacks. "No baser slander was ever uttered against any people," says Mr. Dezendorf. "It was a peaceful and fair election. The Danville riot was the legitimate outgrowth of Mahone's methods and the natural result of the inflammatory speech made by his man Sims the night before the disturbancee." Mr. Dezendorf adds that if the Republican party must be fed on such a diet, it had better die while it has any reputa tion left. New York has made the interesting discovery, now that it is so late, that it is going to celebrate the wrong day as the centennial of the British evacuation of the city. This event has always "FERRO-PHOSPHORATED ELIXIR OF been more or less commemorated on November 25, but it now comes to light that the British did not really remove their flag from our shore until December 3, 1783. They left the city proper on the earlier date, to be sure, but for eight days more the British ensign flaunted itself from Governor's Island in the face of the rejoicing Americans just opposite. On the morning of December 3, Governor Clinton sent an officer to the island, by agreement, and at 11 o'clock the English captain in command withdrew his guard | Sold by druggists, $1.50.

from the hospital, hauled down his flag and gave up the keys. The grounds for this new belief are not stated, but Major A. B. Gardner, of Governor's Island, and the celebration committee, who make the discovery, speak with much postiveness, and are able to show a copy of the official inventory of the property turned over by the British. However, New York need have no hesitation about marching over Washington's route on the 25th, so long as they cast a lowering glance now and then upon the hated Britishers on the island-Gen. Hancock will have his turn December 3, and at 11 a m on that day will fire a national salute.

New Firm. New Partners. Re-organization.

There were some wicked partners, and it was judged best to kick them out, for the business was of long standing, and there was a fear that the wicked partners would bring itto grief.

There was old MR. DEBILITY He was a complaining fellow, always tired, and always wanting to sit down and rest, instead of doing his share of the work.

There was little Mr. NERVOUSvess, a fidgety, fussy chap, constantly fraid the concern was going to ruin.

There was bothersome Mr. BILousness, quarrelsome and angry. He always misunderstood everybody, and said that everybody misunderstood him.

And there was the much-despised Mr. Bad Blood. A troublesome creature was he to get along with. He raised a commotion in the concern every day, and made myriads of enemies.

So the wicked partners had to be cicked out. The agent selected to do the business was Brown's Iron Bitters, noted for working so pleasantly, so silently, and so effectually. Brown's Iron Bitters laid hold o. MR. DEBILITY by the heels and gently dragged him out, laying him No one who has not used this popular aside for future use, in case he should

> . Brown's Iron Bitters worried MR. NERVOUSNESS out flat, giving him no chance to make a fuss during the operation.

Brown's Iron Bitters made direct war on Mr. BILIOUSNESS and told him that he "must go." B. turned round and snarled something about "wouldn't go till he had a mind to"and then made up his mind that the sooner he got out the less trouble States or Canada, there would be in his going.

Brown's Iron Bitters then took Mr. BAD BLOOD in hand, and found that he could change him entirely. So he put into him some of that famous preparation of pure iron, and cast out all his badness, reforming his character entirely and making him anew.

The firm now consists of Health, Happiness, Purity, and Viger, wir Brown's Iron Bitters for special in
