THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1883. NO. 275

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Senator Ransom has been making speeches in the First district, in aid of Capt. Skinner. We do not see any mention of Senator Vance in the same connection.

The New York Times has discovered in Emory Speer "a very fair example of the men from whom the civil service in the South could be with advantage reorganized." The Savannah News thinks Mahoneized would have been a more proper word, and Emory's late defeat in the ninth district furnishes some grounds for the claim.

Prominent places which will have the same time as Boston, Philadelphia and New York under the new standard are Bangor, Portland, Portsmouth, Montreal, Quebec, Toronto, all the principal cities in New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Delaware, Savannah, Ga., Jacksonville, Fla., and St. Augustine, Fla.

The New York courts have gotten hold of the telegraph pole nuisance, and in the preliminary skirmishes the telegraph companies have been worsted, though led by so able a champion as Mr. Everts. The opponents of the poles and overhead wires adduced testimony to show their unsightliness and danger, and in spite of Mr. Everts' remonstrances the court let in the evidence as proper to the case.

At the present time there are 74 completed mill works in the United States, and five additional ones now under construction and to be finished by January 1st. There are 5,008 nail machines in these mills, having an annual capacity of 11,376,000 kegs; while 391 machines are to be added to this number. The five new mills will have at least 200 machines, with a capacity of 1,000,000 kegs a year.

North Carolina Baptist Convention.

This body met at Elenton, an extreme eastern point of the State, and yet it was well attended. This Albemarle region was the first part of the State settled by the English and down here the first Baptist church ever organized in the State was established in 1727. The convention as usual elected a layman as president, the Hon. J. C. Scarborough being chosen for that office. The Rev. A. G. McManaway of Louisville preached the opening sermon. A sunrise prayer meeting was well attended every day; a session began at 10 A. M. and closed at 2 P. M., then was preaching in the Baptist and Methodist churches at 3:30 P. M. and another session of the body at night. We were favored with the presence of a number of distinguished visitors, who added much to the interest of the occasion. From Virginia were Dr. G. L. Bernous, T. G. Jones, Reuben Jones, and A. E. Dickson. Dr. C. C. Betting was with us to represent the Bethel work of the Baptist Publication Society of Philadelphia, and Dr. G. A. Nunnally to advocate the cause of the church Building Department of the Southern Baptist Convention. Dr. J. B. Taylor the former pastor at Wilmington, but just returned from Europe, was also here.

The reports of the different boards were encouraging in a high degree. That of State Missions embraced the following facts:

Associations in this Convention in 1882	26
Associations in this Convention in 1883	29
Churches in these Associations in 1882	832
New Churches organized in 1883	25
Whole number of churches	867
Present number of communicants	82,522
Baptists in Western Convention, (estimated)	20,000
Baptists in North Carolina working through the Conventions of Virginia, Tennessee and South Carolina	$8,192
Colored Baptists in North Carolina	102,097
Whole number of Missionary Baptists in North Carolina	212,811
Whole number of missionaries employed by the Board for the whole or a part of the time	54
Employed by Associations not incorporating with the Board	28
Total number of missionaries	82
Amount paid missionaries by Board and Associations	$15,319 83
Collected by missionaries in the field	8,631 44
Total for State Missions	$23,951 27
Paid for the erection of 27 new churches	$91,600 00
Balance in Treasury	300 00
Total for State mission work	$45,851 27

The lecturer was so pleased with this exhibit that the convention raised in cash and pledges, on the spot, $5,000 for the Board to begin operations with, and the promise of a still greater work cheers us as we enter upon the duties of another year.

Other reports were not so good as

City Court.

Edward Stanley, colored, was before the Mayor this morning for disorderly conduct and was fined $3 for the offense.

Mary J. Jordan, colored, drunk and down, was sent below for 20 days.

John McClennon, a tramp, drunk and down, was given 24 hours in which to leave the city.

Promotion.

Mr. R. C. Taylor, formerly Superintendent of the National Cemetery in this city, has, we are pleased to learn, met with a very deserved promotion. He is now in Annapolis, but has been promoted to a more important position of trust and profit at Fort Scott, Kansas. A letter received here-to-day from Mr. Taylor conveys this information, and also states that the new appointment will be accepted by him.

"In Paradise."

The Indianapolis Sentinel, in speaking of the presentation of the above named play in that city, says:

Mr. Raymond presented his new play "In Paradise" last night, to a largely increased attendance over either of the preceding performances. Mr. Raymond appears as a Virginian—one of the F. F. V.'s, who becomes editor of the Eagle, at Paradise, Idaho, and afterwards a member of the legal firm of Duxon & Belter, Chicago, and the characterization is full of humor, native wit and quaint Raymondisms. He creates great amusement in the part, and last night, principally through his efforts, the audience were kept in a continued state of laughter.

Sudden Death.

Capt. Thomas Beck, long known as a merchant doing business on the corner of Red Cross and Sixth streets, died very suddenly last night. He was about his business as usual until after 9 o'clock last night and at 11:45 he was dead. Heart disease is supposed to be the cause of his death. He was a native of Newfoundland and was 59 years of age.

Capt. Beck first came to this city in 1864 in the capacity of wheelman on board one of the line of steamers then plying between Wilmington and Charleston, S. C., having shipped at the latter city with Capt. H. T. Lemmerman, who then commanded one of the steamers of that line. He remained under Capt. Lemmerman's command and was promoted through the several intermediate grades until he became chief mate and pilot. During the war he was mate of the steamer Waccamaw, Capt. B. G. Bates, which was employed as a ferry boat across the Cape Fear by the Wilmington & Weldon and Wilmington & Manchester (now Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta) Rail Roads. After the war the deceased engaged in mercantile pursuits, in which he continued until death. He died possessed of quite a large property, all of which was acquired by honest and patient industry, frugality and economy. He leaves two brothers, one of whom resides in Canada and the other in Baltimore, Md. The latter is largely interested in steamboat navigation, and is expected to arrive here to-night.

The Christmas Number.

Harper's Magazine for December—the Christmas number—is one of the most superb issues that we have ever yet encountered. It is profusely illustrated and the illustrations are not only profuse, but they are handsome as well, some of them being real gems. The reading matter is plentiful and pleasant. Mr. Whittier contributes what is really a Christmas poem, "The Supper of St. Gregory." Gravely and tenderly it celebrates the Lord of the Feast:

"Unheard because our ears are dull;
Unseen because our eyes are dim,
He walks on earth, the Wonderful,
And all good deeds are done to Him."
Mr. Howells has written another little parlor comedy—about "The Register" this time, which is a contrivance exceedingly susceptible of humorous treatment—and this, too, appears in this notable Harper. Charles Reade is another contributor, his short story bearing the title of "There's Many a Slip 'twixt the Cup and the Lip." Mr. Edward Everett Hale returns to Col. Frederick Ingham and causes that troubled gentleman to find his famous "Double" at the North Pole. Mr. Abbey has delicately illustrated for the number in a series of twelve drawings Pope's poem of "The Quiet Life." Mr. George H. Boughton appears both as artist and writer in a story called "The Kissing Bridge," a legend of colonial Albany.

MRS. S. J. BAKER,
122 Market Street.

This is regular Summer weather—much too warm to be either comfortable or healthy.

It is said that a hot shovel held over furniture will remove white spots. It will also remove young gentlemen callers when they stay too late.

Norwegian barque Amal Captain Lunie, cleared to-day for Liverpool, with 1,734 bales cotton, valued at $82,000, shipped by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son.

We regret to learn that Mr. J. M. Westbrook, of Rocky Point, has been confined to his room for several days, suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism.

A "Mother Hubbard" dress, says an exchange, is one of those things which gather at the neck and go where they please; the chief requirement is to gather at the neck.

The North Carolina Annual Conference of the M. E. Church South will convene at Statesville on Wednesday, the 28th inst. Delegates from this city will leave here on Monday next.

One of the most trying moments in a man's life is when he is getting his picture taken to send to his best girl, and is just assuming his most angelic expression, and a fly alights on his nose.

Some notable changes and improvements are being made in the Western Union Telegraph office in this city. The carpenters are now at work and as soon as they get through the painters and the decorators will go to work.

The almanac promised frequent showers for yesterday and to-day, and if we mistake not, there was a whisper of the same sort in the weather indications, but alas! for the showers. There was a slight sprinkle last night, scarcely a cupful, so to speak, and that is about all we have had in nearly two months.

The fellow who, by mistake, sent his Auburn-haired sweetheart instead of a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup a bottle of hair-dye, wants to know the best way to commit suicide.

Robert Middleton, an old colored man, well known in the Eastern section of the city, died suddenly last night. He was nearly or quite 80 years old and was much respected as a peaceable and honest colored man.

An Ineffectual Attempt.

An unsuccessful attempt was made last night to rob the store of Mr. L. J. Otterbourg, on Front street. The thief tried to effect an entrance through a window opening on the alley running from Front to Water streets. A board had been placed against the window and the inside blinds bear marks of a jimmy or some instrument which was used to pry it open. It is supposed the thief was frightened off by some one passing.

Theodore Thomas.

If the music-loving portion of our readers expect to see Theodore Thomas with his forty soloists in Wilmington they should bestir themselves at once. The troupe are to appear in Norfolk on Tuesday next and if they come to Wilmington it will be on the 6th of December, two weeks from next Friday. It is asserted, however, that they will not come without a guarantee of $500 and of this amount between $350 and $400 seems to be already assured. It seems to us that there is no doubt of a house that will realize the amount required, as 250 people at $2 each will give that sum, but then the guarantee is required and without that the agent says they will not come here. Let those who will attend the entertainment, should it appear here, at once enroll their names for tickets or on the guarantee list and the thing can be accomplished. But it must be done at once, as there is but little time left to work in.
