WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY, NOVEMB'R 23, 1883 Entered at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N. C as second-class matter.

The closing of iron mills in the vicin ity of Pittsburg on account of the scarcity of orders has thrown eight thousand men out of employment. The Cambria Iron Company has notified the five thousend men, in its employ that on the first of December there will be a reduction of ten per cent. on their wages, owing to the depression in the iron trade.

Cincinnati is all agog over its ap proaching festival of negro minstreley, and the newspapers are gloating over the treat that is in store for the cultured patrons of high art in that centre of pork and music. Articles, a column long are being written about it, and unless all signs fail there will be such a rush to attend the performances that the immense crowds which have hitherto gathered to the May music festivals, the monster dramatic and operatic performances, &c., will shrink into nothingnes

It is not a creditable thing to th country that the consular service actually pays a revenue to the Government. The official report shows that the entire expense of the service last year was only $870,290. and that the fees amounted to $914,839, of which about one seventh is a tax on American shipping, and about five sevenths are derived from invoice fees. If the foreign service of the Government were more efficient, and much less niggardly, the country would gain in self-respect and the respect of foreigners, and weuld lose in nothing.

Sun, "that the decision of the Supreme Court as to the unconstitutionality of the Civil Rights bill was reached early in the last term, and Justice Bradley was assigned to prepare the opinion. For private reasons he left the matter unattended to for months, and the decision was not ready for promulgation until the beginning of this term. There probably never was an opinion of the convinced of the soundness of their views, as it was not publicly known that they had come to a conclusion on the subject, and the decision could have been reconsidered at any time within the long period of nearly a year which elapsed before the opinion was prepar-

It may be, however, that having lived a life of shame they desire to die and be buried in decency and good order. In either case they are to be commended for trying to throw him overboard sans ceremonie.

Mahone is the same to-day that he was yesterday, that he will be tomorrow and that he will be forever. There is neither rhyme, right, reason, instice nor honesty in his political career. He has abilities, it is true, but they are the abilities of the rogue rather than of the honest man. His abilities gained him a prominent position in the Confederate Army but they could not gain him the respect that is usually ac corded the position he occupied. He was detected once in a mean and dirty attempt to steal laurels from the brow of a North Carolina brigadier a lamented Wilmingtonian, and the gallant tar heels under his comm nd, and he was once rebused in public by this same officer. His record since the war has been in keeping with the reputation his rogueries gained for him during the war and there has been no means too dirty, too comtemptible and too vile for the apostate to resort to. His recent circular relative to the result of the election in Virginia is one of the vilest things that we have ever read. In it he as good as charges the Democrats of Virginia with the design of deliberate wholesale murder and in his insane ravings has given utterance to assertions which no one with one particle of regard for justice and fair play will for one moment believe. Mahone is evidently maddened by defeat, and has lost his head. If he should never recover it there will be few mourners among the decent white people of this country.

As a matter of course the Democrats of Virginia do not propose to allow such a scandal to pass unchallenged, and in a few days a paper will be issued which will calmly, clearly and determinately disprove all these accusations by the clear light of truth. It will be based upon an official investigation held in Danville, in which the facts in regard to the riot in that town have been clearly established and which cannot be disputed. Mahone will be held up to the world in his proper light, and not one word which he has written will be
