The Daily Review has the largest circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Cardinal McCloskey has requested that the wearing of low-necked dresses at weddings in the New York Cathedral be discontinued.

The Galveston (Texas) News declares that bossism in American politics is waning its force. A few more good sound drubbings and it will be a thing of the past.

Miss Anna Dickerson was furnished by General Butler with money to buy her widow outfit. The old maid and the widow are said to be pretty thick.

A volume containing Petrarch's songs, printed in Venice about the end of the fifteenth century, was recently sold in London for the sum of $9,753. There is said to be no copy of the work in this country.

A movement is on foot in San Francisco to establish a line of coal ships to bring coal from Washington Territory, on Puget's Sound. California's coal supply at present comes all the way from Australia and England.

And so it is Carlisle and the country is safe and the Union is not to be dissolved again this year. We would have preferred some one else, Cox, for instance, but the Democratic party has said Carlisle and so Carlisle say we.

It is positively stated in the New York World that a subscription is being privately circulated to build a theatre in New York for Henry Irving, which he will manage in conjunction with the Lyceum in London, playing alternately six months each.

Its gratifying to know that the election of Carlisle and the defeat of Randall has robbed the Legislative Legislature at Raleigh of one of its most brilliant members. But Raleigh's loss is Wilmington's gain. Congratulations are in order. But it was a close shave.

The wooden plates now so commonly in use are an illustration of the great rewards of successful invention. Seven years ago the inventor sold his patent for $50,000, and the present owners are making a handsome fortune from it. More than 150,000 plates are sold every day.

STATESVILLE LANDMARK. NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE.

THIRD DAY'S PROCEEDINGS. Conference was called to order by Bishop Keener. Rev C W Byrd was elected recording secretary.

Rev S D Adams, P. E. of the Raleigh District, moved the case of Rev Jos H Wheeler be referred to the committee on Conference relations as an applicant for superannuated relation. It was so ordered by the Conference.

Question 10. What local preachers are elected deacons? M D Giles and E A Wiley, of the Shelby district.

Question 11. What local preachers are elected elders? W L C Killian and Marcus L Kaylor.

Question 12. What traveling preachers are elected elders? T A Stone, D L Earnhardt, W I Hull. The names of C G Little and S J McLeod were called, characters passed, and continue in the class of deacons of one year.

Question 13. Who are admitted on trial? B C Alred, of Hillsboro district, J A Bowles and R P Troy of the Greensboro district, J E Underwood, J E Oasley and J M Ashby from Salisbury, D H Tuttle and C C Brothers from Statesville district, Betton John, F. M. Shanburger and M N Smith from Fayetteville district.

Rev L W Crawford presented a paper from the Greensboro Female College Association, asking that a visiting committee be appointed for Greensboro Female College. Referred to the board of education.

The hour for the special service of the missionary day having arrived, Bishop Keener announced its purpose and introduced Dr. Kelly, the treasurer of the general missionary board.

Dr. Kelly conducted the services of the hour, inquiring into methods of raising the missionary assessments; calling for information as to the practical difficulties in the way of raising the missionary assessments. The lay delegates gave the desired information stating the difficulties to be lack of religion, lack of information and system, lack of profound convictions on the part of the preachers, opposition on part of some older time people, some thinking that too great stress is put upon foreign missions and two little upon the home mission work; sometimes there is an over-assessment.

Dr. Kelly asked how many had preached new sermons on missions during the year. Answered 31. He insisted that they preach more on this question as they are the great power in the church for accomplishing its work. He stated that instead of costing 90 cents to get a dollar to missionary fields there was a premium paid on exchange that covered the cost of collection and handling about three times. He showed conclusively by figures and facts that the foreign missionary spirit had done more in the last 83 years for extending the power of Christ than in the preceding 1800 years by the home missionary work. That it was necessary to convince the questioner that giving was an essential part of religion that saves. That the child of God helps the man whom he does not know, which is the distinction between him and the clever gentleman who helps those at home and in sight of him. There must be personal sacrifice in giving just as in believing. Let the gospel be preached, giving information so that the people shall arise and say: "Here is God's share." When there humor for foreign work there will be the humor for home work. He requested of the preachers that two resolutions be passed by the Conference: that the missionary collections, so far as it is practicable, be in the hands of the missionary treasurer before May, 1884; and that we reach every member.

Dr. Kelly then gave way to Bishop Keener. He desired to impress upon the preachers that they should not give to the collections in their charges but save their contributions for the missionary anniversary of the Conference session.

Bishop Keener called upon Bishop Hargrove, who thought that the need of the people was a missionary conscience, and as Dr. Kelly had based his remarks upon Paul's teaching in 2nd Corinthians, he would base his upon Christ's explanation of the law, "Love thy neighbor as thyself." The conclusion of which was that love of the right sort will go down to the pocketbook. The resolutions requested by Dr. Kelly were passed by the Conference. Rev W. H. Milburn, D. D. "The Blind Man Eloquent," was introduced. The Long Meire Dialectology was sung and Conference adjourned with benediction by Bishop Hargrove.

A hearty welcome. The California papers, as also those of Australia and South America, are full of expressions of enthusiastic praise in favor of St. Jacobs Oil as a cure.

For other locals see fourth page. The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 1,287 bales. The Board of Alderman meet this evening in regular monthly session. The different cemeteries were visited by a large number of people yesterday. There are quite a number of Northern people in the city, some of whom are from Boston. Christmas party is coming into market quite freely, and Christmas prices are being asked for the same. The Superior Court of New Hanover county, His Honor Judge Phillips presiding, convened at the Court House in this city this morning. Three weeks from to-day will be Christmas Eve, when the average small boy will be happy tooting his tin horn and firing crackers. Six tramps were brought before the Mayor this morning they having applied for lodging on Sunday night. Four of the crowd were whites and two were colored. They claimed to be seeking employment, and were given the usual time to find work or leave the city. At the conclusion of the service at the First Baptist Church yesterday morning, contributions were called for which to purchase a new and elegant chandelier for the building, and more than $325 were subscribed in a few moments. The Charlotte Observer seems to think that a large party of Charlottees will visit our city on Thursday next to attend the Theodore Thomas concert. Col. Jones, of the Carolina Central, has placed round trip tickets on sale at $4 and this very cheap excursion rate will probably be taken advantage of by a goodly number. Knights of Honor. Carolina Lodge No. 434. Regular meeting this evening at 8 o'clock. Full attendance desired.

Unfortunate Accident. Mrs. Mary Carver, a dress maker, who resides at the corner of Market and Eighth streets, started, at about noon yesterday, to descend the stairs from the second floor, when she was suddenly attacked with dizziness and fell from the top to the bottom, causing a dislocation of the right shoulder, besides a severe cut over her eye by coming in contact with a door facing. A physician was promptly in attendance who rendered the necessary surgical assistance, and she is as comfortable today as could be expected.

Not a Dude. No, my young friend, it is no sign that a man is a dude because he dresses fashionably. A dude, as we understand the term, is an idler who is of no earthly use to anybody but his tailor, while some of the young men in this city who wear the best clothes, made in the most fashionable manner, are industrious, hard working and energetic in their business. There is not a dude in the city, and there is no place open here for one of the ilk to flourish and be admired. So mote it be!

Fires in November. The fire alarm was sounded during the month ended November 30th, as follows: Nov 8th, 1:15 p. m.—Dwelling house on Bladen street. Damage slight. The flames were extinguished by citizens and the engines were not called into requisition. Nov 15th, 10 a. m.—Dwelling house on Fifth street, near Haver street. Damage slight. Flames extinguished by citizens. Nov 17th, 12:15 p. m.—Roof of a dwelling house on Sixth street, next to the corner of Brunswick. Damage slight—mostly by water. Nov 23th, 5:30 p. m.—Dwelling house on the South side of Market street, between Seventh and Eighth D damage slight. Nov 24th, 12:45 p. m.—Alarm with out cause from St. John's Church.

The Thomas Concert. The sale of reserved seats for the Thomas Concert will begin at Dyer's at 8 o'clock to-morrow morning. Arrangements have been made to run excursion trains from Wilson, Goldsboro and other points, for the occasion, and many orders have been received from those points already for tickets. In speaking of this troupe of eminent musicians, the Washington Post says: "An audience that filled every seat in the house, and which contained many of the best known people in Washington official life and in society assembled at Lincoln hall last night to enjoy the instrumental concert given by Mr. Theodore Thomas' splendid orchestra. Mr. Thomas and his present array of skilled ex-citants seem to have attained a degree of perfection even greater than that which has for years distinguished the orchestra which have become famous under this name. The wonderful smoothness and flawless harmony noticeable in the performance bears testimony of the great ability of the leader as an organizer, no less than as an artist. An exchange says: "Man's average life is 33 years." Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will always live.
