THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1883. NO. 286

The Daily Review has the largest home file circulation, of any newspaper published, in the city of Wilmington.

John McKeon, the late district attorney of New York, was a persistent office-holder. He began when 38 and continued until 75.

A bale of cotton recently opened at the Shawside Mill, at Crompton, near Otham, England, contained a five cent covered revolver.

Lotta will soon make her first appearance in London. She is not so young or so lovely as Mary Anderson, but she can kick twice as high.

It is said President Arthur lives plainly now as to diet, and works hard. For breakfast the President rarely takes anything but fruit, oatmeal or fish.

The Knoxville Tribune says that Andy Taylor, the day before he was hanged, asked Sheriff Founte for a drink of whiskey, and the sheriff replied: "I will give you a drop to-morrow."

Australia gathers the credit for having the largest trees in the world. The eucalyptus has specimens of from 300 to 500 feet in height. They lack the girth of California trees, however.

Hon. Thos. A. Robertson, Proctor Knott's successor in Congress, is said to be a better story teller than the Duluth statesman. He has an easier command of language, and is much more graceful in his manner of delivery.

On the bill of fare of a New York Italian restaurant coffee is 1 cent per cup, steaks, chops and stews 3 cents, pastry 3 cents, beer 2 cents, whiskey and brandy 3 cents. This place is thronged daily by persons of all nationalities.

Mr. Morgan, a resident of Savannah, who by a fortunate speculation amassed a fortune of over $50,000, became crazed by the sudden acquisition of so much money, and is now confined in a private insane asylum. His wife has been appointed his guardian.

Congress assembled yesterday and Mr. Carlisle, as was foreshadowed, was elected Speaker of the House, the Republicans having nominated and supported Mr. Keifer, the late Speaker. There was no public business transacted and it will be a day or two yet before the members get used to the harness and regularly at work.

Fannie B. Ward writes from Saltillo that at whatever hour a person dies in Mexico, it is customary to appoint the funeral just twenty four hours later, and that as the mortality is greatest all over the world at night the most of the funeral ceremonies in Mexico are performed at night, no women being permitted to attend. The poor hire the coffins in which the dead are borne to the grave.

Lord Lytton in his autobiography refused to reveal the date of his birth. But his son and editor, the present Earl Lytton, has discovered on the register of St. Marylebone a record to the effect that Edward George Earle Lytton Bulwer was born on May 25, 1803. His birthplace was No. 31 Baker street now a milliner's shop, and he was not christened until his seventh year.

A female miser, eighty three years of age, was found dead in London a few days ago. She owned several houses, 100 acres of land, and $6,000 in cash. She had written the Lord's Prayer on both posts of the garden gate, as a charm against thieves. So afraid was she of burglars, that when she had occasion to go away from home for a day or two, she carried her scanty furniture with her, even the kitchen utensils. She died of cold and hunger.

FOUR LIVES SAVED. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup relieved four of my children of a most alarming attack of Whooping Cough, from which their throats and necks became so swollen as to prevent them from swallowing. Nothing would give them even temporary relief, until this Syrup was tried. One bottle, in one night, saved their lives, I verily believe.

The Wilmington & Weldon Railroad issue round trip tickets to such of the survivors of the Mexican war in this section of the State as may wish to attend the Reunion and Convention of the National Association of Mexican Veterans, to be held in Washington next week.

The fare for the round trip from Wilson or Goldsboro to Wilmington, including admission to the concert on Thursday night, has been fixed at $5, which is cheap enough. A passenger car is to be attached to the through freight, which passes Goldsboro at noon.

A large amount of Christmas goods has already arrived and more are arriving by every steamer and freight train. The assortment this season is very fine, and it will be hard indeed if the little ones do not receive a visit from Santa Claus which shall make them happy, for a time at least.

Two young white men, charged with being engaged in an affray, were discharged.

The Tramps. There is a large number of tramps in the city, most of whom seem to dread to apply for lodgings at police headquarters for fear of being invited to leave the city in short order. It is hard to tell where the most of them find lodging places, but they are wandering about the city in all directions in the daytime. One will meet them upon almost every square. They are seldom alone, but are generally in squads of two or three and sometimes four. They are a great annoyance and consequently a great nuisance.

We invite attention to the attractive advertisement of Mr. James C. Stevenson as it appears in this issue. He has made immense preparations for the holiday season and has in store almost every delicacy to be called for in his line for the Christmas feasts.

The Clarandon water mains are being extended along South Water street about 150 feet, which makes the passage of vehicles on that narrow and rather crooked thoroughfare, a matter of considerable difficulty and inconvenience.

Warren, knocked him down the after companion way and killed him instantly by breaking his neck. He was buried at sea on Nov. 29th. The mate (now Capt. Mason) was knocked overboard a short time before this fatal accident, but succeeded in reaching the vessel again by means of a rope which he fortunately had in his hands. The late Capt.
