Remarking on the fact that six Socialists accused of treason have been acquitted in Vienna, the Baltimore American says: "The treason consist ed solely in being Socialists. Here no man is condemned for political opinone. Even Greenbackers and Repudiistors have a right to live. Such is the blessing of free institutions."

According to the Washington Repubican so many of our Representatives n Congress have "sworn off" that bar beepers are in despair. Even the military men have caught something of the temperance epidemic, thus completing the consternation of the sellers of stimulating fluids. Their only hope is that Christmas and New Year will trip up an unusual number of good resolutions.

of the House Editor McClure, of the Philadelphia Times, (Red-hot Protec tionist.) thought the bottom had drop ped out of everything and gave the country up to the dogs. But now he has recovered his second wind and thinks Carlisle is a remarkably fine man and that, it properly approached, he would tee on ways and means. This is too ntterly utter.

It is said that Mr. W. E. Chandler. the gallant seadog who commands Uncle Sam's Navee, is in the habit of getting seasiek on occasions when the wind blows from the East, although it is said that he is sometimes affected in this way when the wind is from almost any quarter. The said seasickness is the result of looking too long and too often through a glass and is taken in through the mouth instead of the nose, the palate being occasionally tickled with a straw. To wit the following, which we clip from the New York World:

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18-Every one here is wondering to-day at Secretary | median . Chandler's queer performance in introducing Matthew Arnold last night to a ecture audience. Speaker Carlisle was to have introduced the lecturer. but he sent a letter of regret, which Chandler read, and then said that he regretted Carlisle's election as Speaker. This remark might have been over-looked if, after the lecture, Mr. Chandler had not called upon some of the scientists present to stand up and refute Arnold's theories.

The Secretary first called upou Edward Everett Hale to speak. Mr. Hale declined. He then turned to Dr. Loring. and calling him the "great agricultural scientist," asked him to speak. Mr. Loring got out of the embarrassing situation by shaking hands with Mr. Arnold. Chandler then called for a speech from Wm. Walter Phelps, "the reformed politician." The proceedings now took on the nature of a burlesque, and there was abundant mack applyage. and there was abundant mock applause. Fred Douglass was called upon and made a brief speech.

The attempted assassination; Philkins struggle between seasickness and jealousy; his supposed meeting with Malakou; the scene in the office of the minister of sumed he had poisoned the Czar; the rescue of Mrs. Philkins notwithstanding nitroglycerine is beneath the room; the vauquishing of Ivan Isakoff and the winning of Ova by means of the canned oysters; with other amusing situations, afford opportunity to Bishop for the display of his abilities as a co

This Morning's Fire. At about 11 o'clock this forenoon, the one story frame dwelling of Stephen Jones, colored, on the N. E. corner of Market and Tenth streets, was diss covered to be on fire. Unfortunately every member of the family was absent at the time and the fire had made such headway before its discovery that, although the alarm was given immediately and the firemen were promptly on hand with their engines, the building and nearly all its contents were destroyed. Some of the furniture was saved, but a large portion of it was burned. Among the articles destroyed was an entire chest of carpenter's tools, which will be a serious loss. There was insurance on the building to the amount of $125, in the North Carolina Finally, when half the audience had Home Ins. Co., represented in this city by Messrs. Atkinson & Manning.
