THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1883. NO. 301

The Daily Review has the largest circulation of any newspaper in the city of Wilmington.

Five comets are visible at Buenos Ayres, South America.

Miss Ruth Cowles, actress, who has been critically ill in Baltimore, is recovering.

Mr. Hanlan is training for a race with Oarsman Stevenson, the Pacific Coast champion.

Speaker Carlisle has withdrawn from the senatorial race in Kentucky, thus leaving the field open to Joe Blackburn and General Williams, the present incumbent.

J. W. Bosler, a rich Pennsylvanian, noted for his connection with the star route trials and the recent institution of a suit against Ex-Senator Dorsey, is dead.

Mr. Huntington, the railroad millionaire, is put down as worth $50,000,000. He is sixty-five years old and has no family of his own blood. An adopted daughter is the sole heiress.

In the United States Senate Monday Mr. Hale offered several bills regarding the navy, one of which provides for the construction of several steel ships, and another is for promoting the efficacy of the navy.

Mrs. Drury, of New York, has for nine years engaged in making and selling surgical instruments, and the most skillful operators in surgery prefer her cutting instruments to those of any other make.

Mr. Arthur is said to be plagued less with importunities for small appointments than any President has been for a quarter of a century. This change is due to the new civil service regulations, bad as has been their execution.

Monsieur Vanutelli, the new nuncio for Lisbon, is one of the tallest men in the world. Pius IX used to call him the one-and-a-half priest, on account of his extreme height. He is also described as a man of great genius and learning.

St. John's Day. It is understood that no steps have been taken by the Masonic fraternity of this city, looking to the celebration of St. John's day, which occurs on the 27th instant, and it is not probable that there will be any formal observance of the anniversary. The officers of Concord Chapter, R. A. Masons, will be installed in St. John's Hall at night. In ante bellum days this day was observed in Wilmington, as well as elsewhere throughout the union, with much ceremony.

Left To-day. Rev. F. H. Wood left to-day on the steamer for Fayetteville to take charge of the M. E. Church at that place. He leaves here with the kindest wishes of the congregation who have worshipped under his teachings for the last two years, and his departure will be deeply regretted by a large circle of friends. The church at Fayetteville will have in Rev. Mr. Wood a faithful, earnest and conscientious worker in the cause of Christianity, and the citizens a kind friend, good neighbor and energetic laborer in all that will tend to promote the educational, intellectual, moral and religious interests of the town.

Our Congressman. Mr. Robert H. Cowan, of the Wadesboro Times, who is now in Washington, having been elected First Assistant Disbursing Clerk of the House, in an editorial letter to his paper says of the Representative from Third District, Hon. Wharton J. Green, that he "is one of the best men in the delegation. High minded and generous, he wins the good will of all he meets. The old Third ought to be proud of him." Col. Green has gone earnestly to work in the interest of his constituents and is already endeavoring to procure an appropriation for the erection of a postoffice building in Fayetteville.

By Express. This is a season of the year that is particularly trying to express messengers. Thousands of packages are sent from friend to friend during the holiday season, much of which is directed in a delicate ladylike handwriting and all with more or less caution to the messenger to "handle with care," "keep dry," "this side up," "do not crush," "deliver in haste," &c., which keeps him constantly at work as hard as he possibly can from one end of his route to the other. The business to and from this city is so large that the messenger force has had to be doubled, and with this increase they are worked to the extent of their endurance.

Dr. Domingo Frere, of Rio Janeiro, claims to have discovered the yellow fever fungus. He has named it cryptococcus zanthogenicus, and finds that animals inoculated with it soon show all the usual signs of the disease before death and on dissection.

A. B. Norton, editor of Dallas, Texas, attracts attention in Washington because of his long white locks and beard of silver. When Clay ran for the Presidency he swore never to cut his hair or shave until his Harry of the West should become master of the White House.

Barou Rupertswood, the richest man in Australia, is worth $200,000,000. His father, Mr. Clarke, went to New South Wales with a few thousand pounds and bought land where the City of Melbourne afterward was built. The little ball of gold increased in size like the traditional snow-ball.

The New York Times is of the opinion that "if it were not a matter of grave doubt whether Senator Edmund's consent to be considered a candidate for the Presidential nomination could be obtained, the leading Republicans of Vermont would doubtless declare themselves for him as their first and only choice."

At Youngstown, Ohio, Monday, the employes of the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio Railroad Company tore up the track of the Pittsburg, Cleveland & Toledo Railroad. Two hundred employes of the latter company drove off the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio men and relaid the rails. No one was seriously injured.

The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 274 bales.

Rev. Dr. Yates and family are expected to arrive in the city to-night.

It has not been very pleasant weather, but the streets have been crowded all day.

The market was well stocked with poultry to-day and prices were quite reasonable, for the time of year.

Mr. C. B. Bishop, with his company, arrived this morning. They are registered at the Purcell House.

The receipts of cotton are falling off to an unusual degree, probably owing in a great measure to the small price offered for it.

The graded schools of this city closed to-day for their Xmas holidays, and will not be opened until Monday, 31st inst.

Messrs. Gibson James and Jno. H. Mashburn, of Maple Hill, Pender county, paid us short but welcome visits yesterday.

Mary J. Jordan, colored and an old offender, was before the Mayor this morning, charged with disorderly conduct, and was fined $5, in default of which she was sent below for 30 days.

Strangers are flocking into the city on every train as well as in carts, wagons and other vehicles. Some have brought farm products for sale, while others have come as purchasers of Christmas goods.

Among the strangers in the city to-day we noticed an owl perched on a rail in front of Messrs. Brown & Roddick's store. He looked as wise as an owl and stares at passers by with all the assurance imaginable.

Prof. M. C. S. Noble, the able and efficient Superintendent of the schools in this city, will leave for Selma to spend his holidays with his parents, and—and—then—well, never mind. We wish him "gluck."

The weather predictions for to-day were somewhat of a failure, for it has rained here nearly all day and has been decidedly uncomfortable and unpleasant to pedestrians, who, however, were not deterred by the weather, but have thronged the streets and stores.

Considering the prevailing rage for "crazy-quilt" work, the indescribably amusing and fantastic tale, "Epistolary Crazy-Work" in Swinton's Story Teller, No. 11, will attract special attention. It recounts how two young ladies, while trying to steal silk patch-pieces, became themselves the happy victims of their own "crazy quilt" craze.

A preliminary examination was held in New Orleans Monday in the case of Sheriff Brewster, John Dominick, A. M. Ancon, J. D. Houston, Mike Early, D. Douglas and D. Donovan, accused of murder in connection with the primary election riot last week. All were discharged except Houston, who was held for manslaughter on the testimony of Col. The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 274 bales.

Rev. Dr. Yates and family are expected to arrive in the city to-night.

It has not been very pleasant weather, but the streets have been crowded all day.

The market was well stocked with poultry to-day and prices were quite reasonable, for the time of year.

Mr. C. B. Bishop, with his company, arrived this morning. They are registered at the Purcell House.

The receipts of cotton are falling off to an unusual degree, probably owing in a great measure to the small price offered for it.

The graded schools of this city closed to-day for their Xmas holidays, and will not be opened until Monday, 31st inst.

Messrs. Gibson James and Jno. H. Mashburn, of Maple Hill, Pender county, paid us short but welcome visits yesterday.

Mary J. Jordan, colored and an old offender, was before the Mayor this morning, charged with disorderly conduct, and was fined $5, in default of which she was sent below for 30 days.

Strangers are flocking into the city on every train as well as in carts, wagons and other vehicles. Some have brought farm products for sale, while others have come as purchasers of Christmas goods.

Among the strangers in the city to-day we noticed an owl perched on a rail in front of Messrs. Brown & Roddick's store. He looked as wise as an owl and stares at passers by with all the assurance imaginable.

Prof. M. C. S. Noble, the able and efficient Superintendent of the schools in this city, will leave for Selma to spend his holidays with his parents, and—and—then—well, never mind. We wish him "gluck."

The weather predictions for to-day were somewhat of a failure, for it has rained here nearly all day and has been decidedly uncomfortable and unpleasant to pedestrians, who, however, were not deterred by the weather, but have thronged the streets and stores.

St. John's Day. It is understood that no steps have been taken by the Masonic fraternity of this city, looking to the celebration of St. John's day, which occurs on the 27th instant, and it is not probable that there will be any formal observance of the anniversary. The officers of Concord Chapter, R. A. Masons, will be installed in St. John's Hall at night. In ante bellum days this day was observed in Wilmington, as well as elsewhere throughout the union, with much ceremony.

Left To-day. Rev. F. H. Wood left to-day on the steamer for Fayetteville to take charge of the M. E. Church at that place. He leaves here with the kindest wishes of the congregation who have worshipped under his teachings for the last two years, and his departure will be deeply regretted by a large circle of friends. The church at Fayetteville will have in Rev. Mr. Wood a faithful, earnest and conscientious worker in the cause of Christianity, and the citizens a kind friend, good neighbor and energetic laborer in all that will tend to promote the educational, intellectual, moral and religious interests of the town.

Our Congressman. Mr. Robert H. Cowan, of the Wadesboro Times, who is now in Washington, having been elected First Assistant Disbursing Clerk of the House, in an editorial letter to his paper says of the Representative from Third District, Hon. Wharton J. Green, that he "is one of the best men in the delegation. High minded and generous, he wins the good will of all he meets. The old Third ought to be proud of him." Col. Green has gone earnestly to work in the interest of his constituents and is already endeavoring to procure an appropriation for the erection of a postoffice building in Fayetteville.

By Express. This is a season of the year that is particularly trying to express messengers. Thousands of packages are sent from friend to friend during the holiday season, much of which is directed in a delicate ladylike handwriting and all with more or less caution to the messenger to "handle with care," "keep dry," "this side up," "do not crush," "deliver in haste," &c., which keeps him constantly at work as hard as he possibly can from one end of his route to the other. The business to and from this city is so large that the messenger force has had to be doubled, and with this increase they are worked to the extent of their endurance.

Capt. Gufford L. Dudley, Private Secretary to Gov. Jarvis, is in the city today on his first visit for months. He will spend the holidays here as the guest of his brother-in-law, Mr. Alfred Martin, and has been warmly welcomed by his many friends.

Exports Foreign. Nor. barque Echo, Hansen, cleared to-day for Trieste, Austria, with 100 casks spirits turpentine and 3,565 barrels rosin, valued at $7,586, shipped by Messrs. Paterson, Downig & Co. Ger. barque Apotheke Disting, Stuhl, cleared for Stettin with 3,764 barrels rosin, valued at $5,425, and the Ger. barque Richard, Paske, cleared for Hamburg with 4,325 barrels rosin, valued at $6,000, both cargoes shipped by Messrs. E. Peschau & Westermann.

Another Sinner Saved. NEW YORK—The Morning Journal says: A well known merchant of New Orleans, one of the most profane men in Louisiana, was reformed last fall, when cured of rheumatism, by St. Jacobs Oil. He says, with the Oil a man can get along without swearing.

Dr. Domingo Frere, of Rio Janeiro, claims to have discovered the yellow fever fungus. He has named it cryptococcus zanthogenicus, and finds that animals inoculated with it soon show all the usual signs of the disease before death and on dissection.

A. B. Norton, editor of Dallas, Texas, attracts attention in Washington because of his long white locks and beard of silver. When Clay ran for the Presidency he swore never to cut his hair or shave until his Harry of the West should become master of the White House.

Barou Rupertswood, the richest man in Australia, is worth $200,000,000. His father, Mr. Clarke, went to New South Wales with a few thousand pounds and bought land where the City of Melbourne afterward was built. The little ball of gold increased in size like the traditional snow-ball.

The New York Times is of the opinion that "if it were not a matter of grave doubt whether Senator Edmund's consent to be considered a candidate for the Presidential nomination could be obtained, the leading Republicans of Vermont would doubtless declare themselves for him as their first and only choice."

At Youngstown, Ohio, Monday, the employes of the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio Railroad Company tore up the track of the Pittsburg, Cleveland & Toledo Railroad. Two hundred employes of the latter company drove off the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio men and relaid the rails. No one was seriously injured.
