

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VIII. WILMINGTON, N. C., TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1884. NO. 13

THIS PAPER published every evening, Sundays excepted by JOSH T. JAMES, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR. SUBSCRIPTIONS POSTAGE PAID: One year $4.00; Six months, $2.00. Three months, $1.00; One month, 35 cents. The paper will be delivered by carriers free of charge, in any part of the city, at the above rates, or 10 cents per week. Advertising rates low and liberal. Subscribers will report any and all failures to receive their paper regularly.

The Daily Review has the largest circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Victorien Sardou is preparing a new play for Mme. Sarah Bernhardt.

Governor Leon Abbott has formally nominated Ben Butler for President.

Herr Robinson will not come to America next Winter. He has signed contracts for Germany.

Mrs. Richard P. Hart, of Troy, N. Y., has given $10,000 to the Young Men's Association of that city, to enable them to make their library free.

C. D. Gilmore, a lawyer of Washington, has begun suit in New York against Carl Schurz, ex secretary of the Interior, for the recovery of damages for detaining him from practice.

Fifteen Legitimist newspapers have expired in France since the death of the Comte de Chambord, in consequence of the withdrawal of the subsidies which were had supported them.

In the Texas Legislature last Wednesday Senator Traylor introduced a bill providing for the removal within one year of all gates and obstructions across all classes of roads in Texas.

A dispatch from Rome to the Exchange Telegraph company says the Pope is about to issue an encyclical letter regarding the Free Masons, in which, it is believed, a distinction will be made between Continental and English societies.

The Fenians are not cannibals, and yet we find this in the London (Eng.) Telegraph: "Owing to the threats of the American Fenians against the life of Judge Denman, he is even surrounded by a police guard while upon the judicial bench."

The iceboat Jesse, with two ladies and two gentlemen on board, broke through the ice off Hyde Park, N. Y., Thursday, and Miss Jesse Lumb narrowly escaped drowning. Miss Harloe was carried up in the air on the end of the runner-plank. The yacht was running at the rate of fifty miles an hour.

Hogs sent to the market from California have to be trapped in the woods in about the same manner as bears. On most of the ranches, it is said, the swine are as wild as deer through the woods, and if cornered they will place themselves on the defensive and fight like tigers.

A Philadelphia pilot reports the Delaware Bay frozen over between Cape May and Cape Henlopen, a distance of eleven miles, and last week it was difficult for sailing vessels to make their way through the ice. The Boston steamers and Reading celliers broke their way through the obstruction.

Twenty-seven women were graduated from the Bellevue Training School for Nurses, in New York, Tuesday evening, making 222 skilled nurses who have received diplomas since 1873. The school started in that year with eighteen women as students, whilst it now has sixty-four in training.

It is against good manners under the French Republic to utter the Divine name in Parliament. The President of the Senate, inadvertently following old-fashioned ways, spoke the other day of M. Henri Martin as having "rendered his beautiful soul to God." He had the official report corrected, and it now stands on record simply that M. Henri Martin's beautiful soul entered into rest.

In the suit against the New York Graphic company, at Montreal, Wednesday, Mr. Riddle, the secretary and treasurer of the company, said the liabilities in New York were $14,129, and in Montreal about $3,000, outside of the bonded debt. The bonded indebtedness of the company is $20,200. The company, he said, is meeting its obligations, and he considered it solvent.

The Superior Court in New York last week granted a temporary injunction restraining Mrs. Langtry from using the title of "Peril" in her play which is now being produced at the Fifth Avenue theatre. The injunction was secured in an action brought by Bartley Campbell, who claims that the title of "Peril," as used by Mrs. Langtry, is a violation of his proprietary rights to it.

The Governor of North Carolina said to the Governor of South Carolina: "Sir, the best remedy in the world is Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup" and the latter seconded the assertion.

Mr. Carlisle has positively declined to be considered a candidate for U. S. Senator from Kentucky. The caucus meets to-night and there seems a strong probability of a deadlock.

The defeat of Mr. Pendleton in the Ohio Democratic Legislative caucus is thus treated by the Philadelphia Times: "Mr. McLean has fed fat the ancient grudge he owed Mr. Pendleton and that gentleman will retire from politics at the close of a single term in the Senate. His record has, in the main, been a good one. He took charge of the bill to reform the civil service when few men on either side would have undertaken the work. While this was gratifying to the improved sentiment of the people of the country, it has never been accepted by the politicians of either party."

The body of Charles Delmonico, the manager of the restaurants of that name in New York, who has been missing for a week past, and in regard to whose disappearance there has been much excitement was found frozen stiff in the woods of the Orange mountains, near Gen. McClellan's residence, not far from Newark, N. J., yesterday morning. Mr. Delmonico had been partially paralyzed for some time and undoubtedly wandered off in a fit of mental aberration.

For weak lungs, spitting of blood, shortness of breath, consumption, night sweats and all lingering coughs, Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is a sovereign remedy. Superior to cod liver oil. By druggists.

The Charlotte Observer says that the Carolina Central Railroad Company are building a new and handsome depot at Brevard's Station. A telegraph office is to be established at Iron Station.

Mr. J. Fulton Hays, formerly a typist in the REVIEW office, has removed to Lake City, S. C., where he has become one of the publishers of the Williamsburg Tatler, of that place. We wish him success.

On Sunday next, the 20th inst., Rev. J. B. Hawthorne, D. D., of Richmond, Va., will preach at the First Baptist Church in this city. On the Monday and Tuesday nights following he will lecture at the Library Rooms for the benefit of the Wilmington Library Association, at which time we hope that he may be greeted with an overflowing house. He is one of the finest orators of the South.

A Warning. There has been upon frequent occasions a great deal of confusion and annoyance to those who attend the performances at the Opera House, caused by the rude and noisy conduct of a few boys, and the management have determined that it must cease. We hope the arrest last night and incarceration this morning of a couple of these Opera House pests will have a salutary influence upon others and keep them within the bounds of decency and propriety.

"The Rivals."

One of the largest, most select and most highly cultivated audiences we ever seen at the Opera House assembled there last night to witness the performance of Sheridan's famous comedy of "The Rivals," as rendered by Mr. Joseph Jefferson and his company.

The performance was superb in every particular. Of course every one knew that the Bob Acres of Mr. Jefferson would be perfect, but of the other characters in the cast many of our people knew nothing save by common report. These, however, were all that could be desired. Mrs. John Drew, Mr. Frederic Robinson and Mr. R. L. Downing, as Mrs. Malaprop, Sir Anthony Absolute and Captain Absolute respectively, came in for a share of well deserved praise, and formed a support of which Mr. Jefferson had good reason to be proud. Mr. Charles Plunkett, as Sir Lucius O'Trigger, was good, although there might have been some improvement in his part.—He seemed to fail at times on rising up to the true character of the ideal Irish duelist, and seemed to forget the rich brogue which gives piquancy to the part. Miss Rosa Rand as Rosa Languish, did exceedingly well, and the other, though minor, parts were good. The audience were delighted and were kept in every conceivable condition from a broad grin to an uproarious laughter from the beginning to the end of the performance.

After the curtain had dropped upon the last act, Mr. Jefferson and his son, Thomas, were conducted to the Mayor's office where he met with the remaining members of the old Thalian Association, with whom he had been acquainted some 33 years ago, when he visited Wilmington and played for a considerable time. The meeting was entirely informal and was very pleasant. Those of our citizens who attended the reception were Col. J. J. Hedrick, Col. Donald McRae, Col. J. G. Burr, Mr. John S. James, Mr. Henry Savage, Mr. Edward Kidder, Col. E. D. Hall, Capt. H. C. Brock, Mr. George W. Kidder and Mr. George R. Dyer.

The Fire This Morning.

At about 1.45 o'clock this morning the house of Mr. J. H. Pugh, on Eighth between Market and Dock streets, was discovered to be on fire and had attained such headway that the entire upper portion and nearly all of the lower portion of the house was destroyed before the flames could be extinguished. The fire originated in the dining room and was caused presumably by a coal dropping from the grate on to some kindling wood which had been placed near by for convenience in lighting the fire this morning. These becoming ignited, the flames worked through a hole in the ceiling and worked their way to the second floor where the fire was first discovered. There was a high wind blowing at the time which, together with the lateness of the hour, when nearly everybody was wrapped in slumber, combined to render the attempts to extinguish the flames fruitless. Mr. Pugh saved a part of his effects, but his house is in ruins. There was insurance upon the property to the amount of $750 in the Connecticut Insurance Co., represented in this city by Messrs. W. L. Smith & Co.

Personal.

Mr. John A. Maybe, Agent for Hanlon's Voyage En Suisse, is in the city making arrangements for its appearance here on the night of the 22nd inst.

Mr. John A. Dingess, Agent for Annie Pixley, booked to appear at the Opera House on the night of the 21st inst., is in the city making the necessary arrangements for the performance.

Mr. Asa K. Brown, formerly of this city, but for the past nine years a resident of Mexico, is expected to arrive here to-night on a visit to his relatives, who will be glad to bid him welcome after his prolonged absence. He has two brothers, Capt. J. Kent Brown and Mr. Thomas O. Brown, and one sister, Mrs. E. J. Moore, now living in the city.

City Court.

Mary Bradley, colored, was brought before the Mayor this morning charged with disorderly conduct. She was sent below for 30 days.

Julia Murray and Sam Smith, both colored and both disorderly, were sent below to await an investigation into their cases to-morrow morning, they having asked for a continuance.

Sam Larkins and Robert Howe, two colored boys, were disorderly at the Opera House last night and were taken in by the police. They were sent below for 30 days.

Postal Matters.

We learn from those who have been sufferers that the mail between Kenansville, Duplin county, and Jacksonville, Onslow county, is carried with such irregularity as to be a positive nuisance to those who are obliged to depend upon that route for their postal matter.

Stockholders' Meeting.

The meeting of the stockholders of the Wrightsville & Onslow Railroad Company, which was to have been held yesterday, was adjourned until to-day on account of the absence of the necessary books and papers. This morning a committee was appointed to wait upon the widow of the late deceased Superintendent and obtain those documents, which having been secured, a committee was appointed to verify the stock and see if there was enough subscribed to warrant proceeding with the building of the road. The meeting was in session when our report closed, awaiting the developments of the latter committee.

A Pleasant Party.

There was a very pleasant party assembled last night at the residence of Mr. Henry Woodcock, on Walker, between Second and Third streets, complimentary to Mr. Henry Vollers and his bride, of Point Caswell, who have removed to this city, and will reside here in the future. There were about 75 persons present of both sexes, and a feast of good things upon which to regale themselves. There was also a plenty of dancing, the Italian harpers furnishing the music for the occasion. The festivities were kept up until the "wee sma' hours ayont the twal," and the enjoyment was all that could be desired. The young people carried to their respective homes pleasant memories of the occasion which time will never efface.

Election of Officers.

A very important meeting of the Wilmington Light Infantry is to be held at the Armory to-night. It is for the election of officers for the ensuing year and a great deal of interest attaches to the event. The full number of commissioned officers is to be elected, Col. John L. Cantwell, the veteran commander of the corps having tendered his resignation of the captaincy. This step has been deep regretted, inasmuch as Col. Cantwell has done so much for the discipline, efficiency and well-being of the corps. When called to the command he found a mere handful of members and he leaves it strong, self-sustaining and reliant, with a membership of nearly eighty good members.

Golden Lyre Lodge, colored, United Order of Odd Fellows, celebrated their tenth anniversary yesterday by a parade through the streets accompanied by a band of music, and appropriate speeches. The exercises were concluded by an entertainment held at the City Hall at night.

Not only a pain-killer is St. Jacobs Oil, but the swiftest, surest, safest.
