Wood was retailing this morning at 85 cents per 100 lbs.

Since Saturday night upwards of fifty rafts of timber have arrived in this market.

This morning was very cold—colder, we think, than on any morning since the recent very severe weather.

Chestnut street, between Second and Third, is buried in mud. Cannot something effectual be done to relieve it?

A gold seal ring, with the letter B on it, was lost on the street a few days ago. The finder will be liberally rewarded if he will bring it to this office.

Schr. Mary E. Ansdon, McGuire, cleared to-day for Pence, P. R., with 210,000 feet lumber, valued at $2,750, shipped by Messrs. Northrop & Cumming.

Our locum tenens is sick. He has fought for a week past against the feeling but has at length been compelled to yield to it. This fact will account for the unusually interesting miscellany of news which we present to-day.

Thanks to Mr. Heinsberger for a copy of the "Illustrated Church Annual, a Handbook of Parochial Work and a Calendar and Clerical Directory for the Vestry, the Clergyman's Study and the Family Circle." It is, indeed, an epitome of valuable information for the members of the Episcopal Church. Sold by Mr. Heinsberger, at 50 cents.

Knights of Honor.
Carolina Lodge No. 434. Regular meeting this evening at 7 1/2 o'clock. Full attendance desired. It.

The Lecture To-Night.
Rev. Dr. Hawthorne will lecture in Tileston Upper Room this evening in behalf of the Wilmington Library Association. Subject: "Be True to Thyself." If the interest which is felt in the presence of this distinguished divine in our city is any indication, we feel assured that the Rooms will be filled this evening by a rarely appreciative audience.

Fears for His Safety.
Some fears are entertained as to the fate of a colored man by the name of Thomas McKinsey, well-known to many here. It seems that McKinsey is engaged in getting out shingles in a swamp near Rocky Point but that he visits his wife, who lives here, regularly every two weeks, turning over to her at that time his wages. It is now nearly a month since he has been heard from and as he has heretofore been very regular in his visits home serious fears as to his safety are entertained by his wife.

A Big Fresh Coming.
Capt. Thornton, of the North State, tells us that we may look out for a genuine big fresh in the river this time. He says that there has been a great deal of rain about the headwaters of the Cape Fear, and that when the boat left Fayetteville on Saturday morning the river had risen 20 feet and was still rising rapidly. Capt. Thornton thinks that the rain has extended well into Sampson and Bladen counties and that there will also be freshets in the Black and South rivers. He thinks that the Cape Fear will be higher than it has been in five years.

First Baptist Church.
Rev. J. B. Hawthorne, D. D., Pastor of the First Baptist Church in Richmond, Va., preached yesterday morning in the First Baptist Church in this city, to a large and delighted congregation on the subject of "Judas and His Imitators." At night the Pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. Pritchard, preached on "The Infidel's Testimony to Christianity" and every available seat was filled on the occasion. This was the third of the sermons to young men now being delivered by Dr. Pritchard in the Sunday night services in his church and they are being received with a great deal of interest by the entire congregation.

A New Commandery.

By authority of a dispensation granted by Sir Eugene Grisson, Grand Commander of the Knights Templar, for the jurisdiction of North Carolina, a Commandery of Knights Templar is to be instituted at Salem, to-morrow, the 22nd inst. Salem will make the Sixth Commandery of that order in the State. No. 1 being located at Wilmington, No. 2 at Charlotte, No. 3 at Durham, No. 4 at Raleigh, No. 5 at Asheville.

Fresh Household Recipes.

To take grease spots out of fabrics use a small pair of sharp scissors.

The surest way to destroy fleas on dogs is to drown them. Immerse them and the dog in six feet of water for fifteen minutes.

"Cook" wants to know how to avoid the smell of cabbage while boiling. We know of but one remedy. Hold your nose.

To keep mice out of the pantry, have a cat around. But Heaven knows how to keep the cat out of the pantry.

A correspondent wishes to know if there is anything that will whiten cotton flannel night dresses. Have you ever tried washing them?

The Manhattan

For February is thoroughly entertaining. The opening article, "Autumn Camps on Cayuga," by William F. Taylor, is a bright paper, while the illustrations show all the picturesque features of Lake Cayuga. Another illustrated article is by Frank Board on "Caricature," of which the illustrations are in the best vein of that popular draughtsman. Beautiful are the illustrations of an interesting, narrative poem, "The Queen's Revenge," by Thomas S. Collier. "Shakespeare's Sonnets in a New Light" is a fine article from Junius Henri Browne, and "A Poet's Wife" is an elegant and witty comedy by Brander Matthews. S. G. W. Benjamin, U. S. Charge d'Affaires and Consul General in Persia, describes his journey "Across the Caucasus." The fiction is the first part of an absorbing story, "Transformation," by Harriet Prescott Spofford, and another chapter of "Tinkling Cymbals," by Edgar Fawcett.

North Carolinians to Wear the Blue.

The officers of the Wilmington Light Infantry, in this city, have received an order from Adjutant-General Johnstone Jones prescribing a uniform for the officers and privates of the State Guard, the object of this order being to have all the companies composing the State Guard to be uniformed alike. The full dress for privates will be a double-breasted tunic of dark blue cloth; skirt to extend one-third the distance from the hip-joint to the bend of the knee; two rows of buttons, seven in each row; collar same height as for officers' coats, faced with scarlet cloth, four inches back on each side, cut square, to hook up close in front; number of regiment in white metal in middle of scarlet facing of collar on each side; slashed cuffs of scarlet cloth, two and one-half inches wide, with three small buttons; skirt of coat on each side of the opening behind to be faced with scarlet cloth, ornamented with four buttons. Two straps of dark blue cloth, piped with scarlet, let into the waist seam on each side the coat, and buttoning above the hip, to sustain the waist belt. All officers shall wear a double breasted frock coat, of dark blue cloth, the skirt to extend from one-half to three-fourths the distance from the hip-joint to the bend of the knee.

The Confederate gray is entirely ignored, United States regulation uniforms being adopted instead of the gray. All officers and men will wear helmets of felt, U. S. regulation pattern, except that on breast of spread eagle in front the arms of the State of North Carolina shall be displayed in white metal. Helmet for officers to have chin-chain and spike, but no cords or tassels; those for enlisted men to have spike and leather chin-strap. Plumes for general and field officers, white buffalo hair.

The age of "reconciliation" or "renunciation" has dawned upon North Carolina at last, when our troops don the blue. We would rather have seen them continue with the gray, however. It is a color which has been honored and ennobled in a hundred hot fights and North Carolinians have especial cause to feel proud of that color and proud to wear it.

Thousands of families have had occasion to try the never failing qualities of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, and they are being received with a great deal of interest by the entire congregation.

PERSONAL.
Mr. E. T. Boykin, of Sampson county, is in the city in attendance on the Superior Court. He is registered at the Purcell House and favored us with a short visit this morning.

Mr. Julius Samson arrived here on last Saturday night from New York and will spend several months here, not returning North until the Spring. He is looking very well and time does not seem to have dealt harshly with him of late years. Mr. Samson is now, with one exception, the oldest merchant doing business in Wilmington. His house was first established in 1843, just 41 years ago, and is, we believe, the oldest mercantile house in Wilmington.

A Sad Monday.

This has been a sad Monday to many of our citizens, for between the setting and the rising of the sun two gentle souls have left their tenements of clay behind to be clothed upon with the spotless garments of righteousness and immortality. One of these left us in the course of nature, after a long and a happy and a useful life and surrounded by her children and her children's children. She left at the set of the sun and when the pearly gates of day again unclosed upon her, it was in a land where there is neither night nor day but an eternal halo of love and glory and peace and righteousness.

And at 2 o'clock this morning another soul passed over the river. It was a young soul and a pure soul which had almost inherited its righteousness of life. The tenement was young and fair and comely to look upon, but the Christian graces which illumined the soul were much fairer than the shell which enshrined it. She left the earth when in its densest darkness, but the light which broke upon her eyes when she unclosed them in Paradise was far brighter in its heavenly illumination than the night which enveloped the earth was gloomy in its darkness.

Altogether, the gloom and sorrow which have enshrouded so many hearts to-day is not as deep and dense as gloom and sorrow so often are. It is of the earth, earthy, but there is a light, the light of Faith, which has pierced this gloom and has sanctified this sorrow. This faith looks beyond the grave and has caught some glimpses of the light unspeakable which has shone from the gates of Paradise as they have unclosed to admit these two souls into that rest which remaineth for the people of God.
