The storm signal was flying this morning.

The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 192 bales.

The streets were almost impassable on account of the mud this morning.

There is unmailable matter remaining in the Postoffice addressed to John C. W. Watters; and Kate Comfort, Queen street.

Steamboatmen report that the freshest in the Cape Fear is slowly subsiding, although there are now from 25 to 30 feet of water.

The Hanlons left here this morning on the C. C. R. R., for Charlotte. They went on a special train and expect to perform in that city to-night.

The indications are that the weather will grow much colder during the night, and there will probably be a frost in the morning, providing the wind goes down.

Take little annoyances out of the way. If you are suffering with a cough or cold, use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup at once. This old and reliable remedy will never disappoint you. All druggists sell it for 25 cents a bottle.

Swed. barquentine Britannia, Lars son, cleared to day for Harburg, Germany, with 2,950 barrels rosin, valued at $4,287, shipped by Messrs Paterson, Downing & Co.

Andrew Laspere, colored, was before the Mayor this morning charged with disorderly conduct. He was found guilty and a fine of $5 was imposed for the offense, in default of which he was sent below for 30 days.

Interesting to Fishermen: The celebrated "Fish" Brand Gillnet thread is sold only at JACOB'S. He is the Importer's Agent.

On Monday last Hon. W. J. Green, Congressman from this district, presented a petition from citizens of this section, asking for the improvement of the North East Cape Fear. The bill was referred to the committee on Rivers and Harbors.

The rain which threatened us last night came down in torrents at about 3 o'clock this morning and continued to pour for about an hour. After it had ceased the atmosphere became decidedly warmer, and this morning it was soft and balmy as a day in Spring.

A scrimmage between two colored boys in the Purcell House alley this morning caused a slight ripple of excitement for a few moments. They were drumming each other in fine style when the appearance of one of the city officials, who was after "hot drummer's license," put a summary stop to the proceedings, and the young pugilists skeddaddled in double quick time.

For Pure White Lead & Paints, and biggest stock of Window Glass and lowest prices for good articles be sure to go to Jacob's Hardware Depot.

Bunch of Keys.
This from the Des Moines (Iowa) World?

Miss Flora Moore, of the "Bunch of Keys, is surely a "broth of a bye," her singing and dancing and funny sayings bring out rounds of applause. Her songs, "Sweet Violets" and "Market on Saturday Night," were rendered in a manner to receive several encores and recalls before the curtain.

The Ladies Did It.
The ladies connected with the Temple of Israel, in this city, gave their pastor, Rev. Dr. Mendelssohn, and family a surprise or "pound" party last night which they made more agreeable by the presentation of a pretty full line of groceries and a purse containing a snug little sum of money. Our informant was of the male persuasion, and of course the ladies would not tell him how much the purse contained. It was an agreeable surprise and a very pleasant party, and there was a plenty of good, innocent amusement. Later in the evening several gentlemen joined the party and participated in the pleasures of the occasion.

If you need a real good first class cooking stove, don't fail to see the Excelsior Penn., Zeb. Vance and New Emerald, besides others. They are to be found at factory prices at JACOB'S, who is the manufacturer's agent.

Silver Plated Spoons, Forks and Knives of best quality, and at manufacturer's prices, can be found at JACOB'S Hardware Depot.

The New Comet.

For several nights past, the comet which the astronomers have been speaking of has been seen with the naked eye. It is in the Southeastern heavens, and it does not require a very careful scrutiny of the heavens to detect it. This comet is by no means as brilliant as the one seen last winter. Its tail is very faint and short, but it is a comet all the same, and we merely advertise the fact of its existence for the benefit of such of our readers as delight to gaze at the heavenly wonders.

The Artful Dodger.

There has recently developed a new plan of rascality among some of the colored boys which has become an expensive nuisance to the sufferers. Whenever they see a cart or dray loaded with peanuts going down Princess street, one of the scamps will run up and slash a big hole in one of the bags. The joltings of the cart over the pavements open the bags, and by the time the team gets half way down the hill toward Water streets, there is quite a stream of peanuts pouring out into the streets, which the colored boys gather up in a hurry. This has been done on several occasions recently.

Twelfth Night.

On Wednesday night, January 30th the world-famed actress, Helena Modjeska (Countess Bozenta) will appear for one night only at the Opera House. This consummate actress and titled lady has acted over a greater extent of territory, and appeared in drama in more languages than any living actress. She is a beautiful woman, an accomplished artiste and refined lady, and her advent everywhere has always proven an event of importance in upper society circles. Modjeska is one of the two great actresses of the world, the other being Sarah Bernhardt. Of late, however, some of our ablest citizens have inclined even to rate the Polish historienne superior to the great genius of the French stage. The play is an unusually strong one, and will present the actress in one of her most celebrated roles.

Soured on the Goose.

A young, well fattened goose makes excellent food, and by a good many it is considered superior to turkey; but an old goose is liable to be tough, and an old gander is about the toughest subject ever cooked. We have heard many tales about tough old gander, but one of the best we have heard lately is as follows: One of our prominent business men had a goose sent to his house, where it was duly and nicely baked for dinner. It proved to be a tough one, but the family went at it in order to make a meal. A liberal slice was given to a little son who put a piece in his mouth and began to chew, and continued till his jaws ached and he got tired and sleepy, when he leaned over in his chair and closed his eyes for a nap with his mouth full of gander. Just as he was dropping off to sleep, he was thoughtful of consequences and said: "Mamma, please wake me when it's time to swallow."

Painful Accident.

At about noon yesterday Mr. Walker Taylor, son of Col. John D. Taylor, while out gunning with a party of friends at Topsail Sound, had the misfortune to get shot in the hands and face, receiving severe and painful wounds, though not considered dangerous. The circumstances attending the accident, as we learn them, are about as follows: Mr. Taylor, with his companions, was out in an old field gunning for birds, and he was upon one side of a small pond while some of his friends were on the opposite side. While in these relative positions a flock of birds flew up and one of the party on the opposite side shot at them, not knowing that Mr. Taylor was in his line of fire. The charge struck the latter in the hands and face, one shot striking the eye. Fortunately they were small bird shot or the result would undoubtedly have been fatal. Mr. Taylor was at once brought to the city where he received prompt surgical attention. He was quite comfortable this morning. The shot in the eye has not deprived him of sight, and the attending physician is of the opinion that, unless serious inflammation takes place, his vision will not be affected.

The Burlington Hawk publishes a most ludicrous sketch about the great toughness of the invincible mule. Mr. W. H. Sturtevant, of New York, however, knows a stiff, lame mule, whose toughness yielded to the penetrating force of St. Jacobs Oil, completely restoring the flexibility of every muscle, and the powerful playfulness of the rear foot.

The Gale Today.

It has been blowing a gale of wind nearly all day, the maximum velocity having reached 28 miles per hour. During the day a lighter while coming up the river was capsized when a few miles below the city. We were unable to learn her name, but the impression among river men was that it was the Spray. It was not known whether any lives were lost by the accident or not, but if there were more than two men on board some were lost as only two were seen to get off the wreck. The Nyce went down to her assistance, but she had not returned when our report closed.

Superior Court.

The proceedings before this tribunal to-day were as follows:
J. E. Gadsby vs. John Dyer and wife, which was on trial when our report closed yesterday, was taken up this morning and a juror withdrawn, case continued and plaintiff allowed to amend the complaint.
C. Wessel, vs. A. H. VonKampen Judgment. D. J. Devane for plaintiff and J. L. Holmes for defendant.
Lawton, vs. Norwood Giles & Co; on trial when our report closed. Messrs. Russell & Ricard and McRae & Strange for plaintiffs and Hon. George Davis and Mr. Junius Davis for defendants.

Le Voyage en Suisse.

There was a good audience at the Opera House last night to witness the performance of the Hanlon Troupe in the above named play, and they enjoyed two hours of uproarious fun and laughter. The play was well mounted and the scenery was elaborate and excellent. The play was composed of first rate material and all were good in their respective roles. The two Hanlons, as John and Bob, the model servants, were inimitable and kept the house in a tumult of laughter as they played their grotesque tricks upon their fellow travelers. Taken altogether it was a splendid entertainment, and was worthy a crowded house.

Personal.

We are very glad to learn that the condition of Rev. Mr. Morrelle, who was so unfortunate as to fall and break one of the bones of his leg week before last, has improved very much and we hope to hear soon of his entire recovery. He is receiving every care and attention that loving hearts and willing hands can pay.

We acknowledge the pleasure of a call this morning from Mr. Hazel W. Burgwin, formerly of this section but since the close of the war a resident of Virginia. It has been fourteen years since Mr. Burgwin was last in Wilmington.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. H. McL. Green is sick—not seriously, but sick enough to confine him to the house.

Mr. Henry Berger, business agent for Madame Modjeska, is in the city making the necessary preparations for the appearance of that distinguished actress and her company, which will be on Wednesday night, the 30th inst.

Stonewall Jackson.

EDITOR REVIEW.—It would seem to me that Mr. Capps has been misapprehended in regard to the time of the wounding of General "Stonewall" Jackson.

Mr. Capps did not say, but simply suggested, as I understand him, that it occurred before sundown. He labors under this impression from the fact that an officer came to him while it was yet day and requested him to go with his ambulance to bring off a wounded officer, saying the order came from General Jackson.

He went and found Gen. Jackson, after nightfall, wounded. He inferred from the failure of the officer who came for him to give the name of the wounded officer, and the secrecy enjoined as to the wounding of Gen. Jackson, that the wounded officer alluded to was Gen. Jackson.

And as the order came before nightfall, he very naturally inferred that General Jackson was wounded in the daytime.

It is an established fact that Mr. Capps brought him off the field and is equally well authenticated that General Jackson was wounded after nightfall and by the gallant 18th North Carolina, to which no blame can possibly be attached.

In the lapse of time, and trusting simply to memory, it may be possible that Mr. Capps errs as to the time he received the order but admitting he does not, his inference is legitimate. Trusting this interpretation of his letter may put a quietus to the discussion going on and that no wrong may be done Mr. Capps, I am, respectfully, one of the "FOOT CAVALRY."

[NOTE.—The above is very ingenious and very good natured, but Mr. Capps was in the REVIEW OFFICE last Monday and we understood him then to assert most positively that he brought Gen. Jackson off the field before sunset.—EDITOR.]

Wilmington is reported 17,000 bales of cotton behind last year. This is a good deal worse than Raleigh, which will not run more than 8,000 short.—Farmer & Mechanic.

We are glad to know that Captain Shotwell's politics are better than his arithmetic. Raleigh has had this year 28,452 bales, against 36,516 last year, and Wilmington has had 80,925 bales against 98,503 bales last year. These reports were made up last Saturday. Raleigh loses 8,064 bales, or about 30 per cent., and Wilmington loses 17,670 bales, or about 20 per cent.
