

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VIII. WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1884. NO. 32

THIS PAPER published every evening, Sundays excepted by order of the publisher.

JOSH T. JAMES, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

RECEIPTS POSTAGE PAID: Three months, $3.00. Six months, $5.00. One year, $10.00. Single copies, 5 cents.

The paper will be delivered by carriers free of charge, to any part of the city, at the above rates, or by mail, at the rate of 15 cents per week.

Subscribers will report any and all failures to receive their paper regularly.

The Daily Review has the largest circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Street rail manufacture appears to be improving slightly.

Count Herbert Bismarck is said to resemble closely his father, the chancellor.

The late Sr William Siemens, the inventor, left a personal estate of more than $1,000,000.

Five hundred railroads have adopted the new time, and only thirteen still hold fast to the old.

Miss Martha Jellison, who died recently in Ellsworth, Me., aged 93 years, had taught school in that city for sixty years.

Four hundred Boston women have signed petitions to the Legislature signed granting further suffrage to women.

In France nearly all the railroad ticket and signal clerks are women, who are paid as much as men. They are preferred because of their sobriety.

It is stated that Springfield, Conn., is going to buy a thousand cows for co-operative milk distribution. This seems to be something new under the sun.

The quinine manufacturing combination of the world is reported to be broken. The public are led to expect a cheaper and perhaps highly adulterated article.

Miss Anna Irion, who recently died at Bryan, Texas, was the young woman who backed on the sword of General Houston just before the battle of San Jacinto.

The Augusta Chronicle thinks that Hon. Wm. Eaton, as a Presidential candidate, can carry New York, New Jersey and Connecticut for the Democratic party.

King Kalakaua, of the Sandwich Islands, has a $75,000 crown which is not yet paid for. Kalakaua seems to be a pretty shrewd fellow; he gets trusted for large amounts.

Senator Logan's amendment to the House bill repealing the test oath provisions to limit its operation to Presidential candidates, the World ridicules this hide-bound demagogism and then wonders what Mahone thinks about it.

American pork may or may not be wholesome, but Prof. Virchow testifies that the wine exported from Germany to the United States "is for the most part adulterated or manufactured, and is doubtless injurious to health."

Rose farming bids fair to become prominent among Georgia industries. Two gardeners in the vicinity of Savannah sent 22,000 rose trees North last year from a three acre plantation and had orders for 50,000 more.

"Harvey O. Parker," says the Oxford, Me., Democrat, "is remembered when he sold apples from the Biscoe farm in Oxford county. The same Parker is taxed this year on about $1,000,000 worth of property in Boston."

John Harris, the Cornish poet, whose productions were highly praised by Longfellow, died recently at Falmouth, aged sixty-three. The son of a miner, he often, in his early days of poverty, pressed ink made of the juice of blackberries.

M. Ruel, whose wealth amounts to $25,000,000 francs, began life by selling matches, and then became the largest manufacturer of them in France, established a restaurant for the poor in Paris where six thousand paupers are fed daily at 10 cents for a hearty dinner.

Parson Talmage attributes the epidemic of crime, which appears to be sweeping the country in general and Long Island in particular, to the state of the atmosphere. He says that Satan is prince of the powers of the air, and that he employs certain states of the atmosphere for evolving wickedness.

The Hungarian patriot, Kossuth, is now eighty-one years of age, and lives quietly in Milan. He neither believes in the alliance of the Latin races nor in that of the Teutonic. He fancies that Austria and Russia will ere long be at daggers drawn, and fancies that, as he has no infirmities save those of old age, he may live to see it.

One Suffering Soul Happy. "If I can send one suffering soul to you," writes James Corbin, of Washburn, Ill., "I will be happy. Samaritan Nervine cured me, and will cure all cases of fits." $1.50.

February.
February, this month of irregular days, has, besides its many holiday festivals a history of its own apart from the regular history of more orthodox months. There was a time when the year was divided into ten months instead of twelve, but during the reign of Numa, two months, January and February, were added to the ten. January was named as the first month of the year and February as the last, until 452 B. C. when the order was changed and February was placed second. The word February, meaning purity, is derived from the Latin verb, februare, to purify. Some authors think that the name was chosen in honor of the Roman festival Februa, a feast of purification, celebrated in the latter part of the new month. But how ever it gained its name, it certainly seems an appropriate one in those parts of the world where, generally, the whole earth is white with the pure snow during the month of February.

Although the month is the shortest of the twelve, having only twenty-eight days until leap year gives it twenty-nine, it contains so many holidays that the whole month is transformed into a sort of festival. Its noted days are Candlemas, the 2nd, one of the first quarter days used in Scotland; the 14th, St. Valentine's, when all the little loves and cupids are supposed to work wonders among certain classes of people, though now the old belief in St. Valentine is dying out. The ancients believed that upon this day the birds chose their mates. The 24th of February is St. Matthias' day. But here in the United States the grand holiday of the month is the 22nd, the birthday of one whose memory is revered by every American. The 22nd is also a noted anniversary in the history of our city, for it was on the 22nd day of February, 1865, that Wilmington was evacuated by the Confederates and occupied by the Federals.

State Guard Notes.
General Orders No. 2, new series, dated January 31, 1884, require company commanders to make monthly reports, showing strength and condition of company, number of drills and parades, etc. Companies are required to parade in full dress uniform at least once in every month. At such parade the company will be inspected by its commander, and all orders received since the last monthly parade shall be read to the company. To entitle the company to receive the annual appropriation, the reports must show that the average attendance at monthly parades equalled seventy five per cent. of the minimum number of men required for a company by law—that is, twenty four men, rank and file. The brigade commanders will be required to visit and inspect the companies of their respective brigades, and regimental commanders the companies of their respective regiments, at least once a year, and make annual report thereof to the Adjutant-General. Officers are required to acknowledge promptly the receipt of all orders and official communications, and to keep the same on file. Elections, resignations, deaths and removals of commissioned officers of companies must be promptly reported to the Adjutant-General and the regimental commander. Each company will be allowed, each year, at least one thousand ball cartridges for expenditure in rifle practice or otherwise, under orders, five hundred of which will be kept constantly on hand as a reserve supply, ready for issue in case of disturbance of the peace or other emergency requiring the issue of ammunition. Five hundred blank cartridges will be allowed to each company per annum. All communications for the Adjutant-General will, until further notice, be addressed to him at Asheville, N. C.

Dan barque Elene, Dahl, cleared for London with 4,500 barrels rosin valued at $5,800, shipped by Messrs Alex. Sprunt & Son; making the total exports foreign for the day amount to $13,350.

Runaway.
There was a runaway this afternoon, the horse starting from the corner of Fourth and Chestnut streets and coming down the latter turned into Third street, leaving the rear wheels at the corner. When the horse and remainder of the carriage got near the corner of Princess street, one of the wheels struck a tree with such force as to throw the animal violently down against the brick wall surrounding the Court House lot. It was the property of Henry Sampson, colored, and the damage was slight. The horse appeared not to be injured.

Fatal Accident.
At about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon a freight train on the Carolina Central Railroad consisting of 20 cars loaded with guano was wrecked between Abbottsburg and Bladenboro, by which the engineer, Mr. C. Collins, and the fireman, Mr. Taylor, both white, were scalded to such a degree that Mr. Taylor has since died. The track hands had been repairing the road at that place and had taken up some of the rails which they had not replaced when the accident occurred. The engine and tender and three cars were capsized the escaping steam from the engine enveloped the engineer and fireman, scalding them as we have stated. The engineer and the remains of the fireman will be brought to the city this afternoon. They are both from Columbus county. The train which was wrecked was an extra freight train, which left here yesterday morning. We have not been able to learn any further than that Engineer Collins' condition at last reports was more comfortable and his friends here hope that his injuries may not prove as serious as was at first feared. Col. Jones, the Superintendent, was at the wreck to-day but was expected to return to the city this afternoon.

Young Thieves.
About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, while the salesman in Mr. Shrier's shoe store on Market street were busily employed in waiting upon customers, the loss of a pair of shoes was discovered and suspicion pointed at once to a party of colored boys and girls who had just left the store. One of the clerks started in pursuit of the suspected parties and near the Front Street M. E. Church found Helen Watkins, colored, who said that the shoes were taken by Frank Nixon. The latter was found in a house on Nutt street and when accused made no denial of the theft, but stated that the girl Helen Watkins asked him to steal them and offered him fifty cents as an inducement as she wanted them to wear to a party. He crawled under the house where he had concealed them and brought them out, and the boy and girl were turned over to the police who took them to the guard house. This morning a preliminary examination was had before the Mayor, who bound them in the sum of $50 each for their appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court, in default of which they were committed.

Electric Fire Alarm.
Mr. D. Howard Tuxworth, of the Southern Electric Company, of Baltimore, Md., arrived in the city this morning and during the day was at the City Hall exhibiting the workings of the "Gamewell Fire Alarm," of which his company are the agents. It is a wonderful contrivance, by which an alarm of fire can be sent to and from any point at a moment's notice and with the utmost certainty by any person. Very little instruction is necessary to enable any one to send the alarm as the manner of working the machine consists in simply pulling a lever.—There is entire reliability in the workings of the system which makes it far superior to the telephone. Mr. Tuxworth's object is to supply the city with the instruments and at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon there was a meeting of the city officials and the fire department to witness the workings of the system.—Quite a number of our citizens were also interested spectators and all were highly pleased with what they saw.

Having used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in my family for the last three years, I find it is the best preparation I have ever used for coughs and colds, giving almost immediate relief.

Valentines, Valentines.
A NEW AND HANDSOME LOT OF VALENTINES, which has just been advanced to me from St. Valentine's Grand Distributing Depot, justifies me in suggesting to my friends and customers and the public generally, who are in search of Cupid's 14th February darts, that an early visit to my Valentine Emporium will convince them of the variety of my collection, and guarantee a satisfactory and pleasing selection.
To-day I will show some entirely new designs, never before placed upon the market. Come or send at once. Country orders and orders from a distance attended to promptly.

There is an unmailable letter remaining in the postoffice here addressed to Miss Minnie M. Hugh, 617 Jackson street, Oakland, Cal.

Wm. J. Scanlon, the Irish Comedian, supported by a good company, will appear at the Opera House on the night of the 13th inst., in Bartley Campbell's Irish drama of "Friend and Foe."

The steamyacht Minnehaha is now under the full control of Capt. J. M. McGowan, Owner and Agent. In a card published in this issue Capt. McGowan promises a close schedule and courteous attention to all who may favor him with their patronage. Capt. Frank Wilkinson will run the boat.

In Winter Quarters.
As workers were engaged yesterday afternoon in repairing the culvert at the seven mile post on the turnpike, near Seaside Park, they found an alligator which measured 4 1/2 feet in length. His gatorship had probably been prospecting for a desirable place to hibernate and had selected the vicinity of Wrightsville as the best locality.

Tar Heel Pluck.
Capt. Wm. A. Kirkland, of the United States Navy, now in command of the receiving ship Colorado, at New York, has volunteered to take charge of the Greely relief expedition, which is now fitting out. Capt. Kirkland is a North Carolinian by birth and was the classmate in college of Hon. A. M. Waddell, of this city. He will probably be assigned to the perilous duty for which he has volunteered.

Mr. Wiggins' Condition.
We are very glad indeed to learn that the advice received to-day as to Mr. Eugene Wiggins' condition are very encouraging. The information is to the effect that the physicians now say that he is doing very well and that the conditions are very favorable for his complete recovery. From the first Mr. Wiggins has remained in excellent spirits and has himself always maintained that he would get well.

Interesting to Fishermen. The celebrated "Fish" Brand Gillnet thread is sold only at JACOBI'S. He is the Importer's Agent.
