THE DUDE.

In Esthete from Boston Rather Astonishes Bill Jackson, of Texas.

"Talk about yer doods," said a Texas stockman, on the Chicago, Burlingtone men, however, will still find it cheaper & Quincy train last night, "but a leetle to get married. the doodest dood I ever seen wuz a leller that come down from Boston into our kentry a year ago las' September.', "He didn't stay in Texas long, I guess," said a little man in a silk hat.

"Yas, he's there now." "I thought they wouldn't let a dude ive in Texas."

"Waal, I'll tell you how it was we come to let him stay. He come down there with his pecked boots an' his tight trousers an' yaller kid gloves, a slingin' more style than a new Congressman on the fo'th o' July, and a tellin' folks that his doctor said he'd got the consumption, an' 'd have to live in a warm climate.'

"Ah, yes, of course, you pitied the poor fellow, and let him stay on that account." "Not exactly that; but, as I wuz ayin', he slung his style like a Mormon walkin' by a United States Marshal's office. Waal, one night he come into a saloon where a lot of us wuz a drinkin', an' 'e steps up to the bar an' says: 'Aw, I say, bah-tendah, give a trifle of aw wa'm lemonade.' Bill Jackson snorted right out, an' then says 'e: 'Boys, what d'ye say? let's make the dood drink gin,' It wuz a go; so Bill walks up and slaps the dood on the back like he'd break him in two. Bill's the best man on the mussel in our hull kentry. 'Say,' says Bill, 'you'd better drink gin.' 'Aw-but it is wa'm lemonade I desiah,' says the dood. 'Waal,' says Bill, 'warm lemonade don't go in these 'ere parts; you drinks gin or you drinks nuthin'; you hear me.' 'It—aw—seems to me you're mistaken,' says the dude, 'ithout seemin' to see there waz trouble ahead; 'I want to-aw-dwink wa'm lemonade,' an' he rech out for the glass. Bill wunk at the rest of us an' says to the dood: 'D'ye know what I'm a-goin' to do ef you tries to drink anything but gin?' 'Weally, I do not, mah deah boy.' 'Waal,' says Bill, 'I'm a-goin' to stand you on yer head in that air box o' sawdust.' 'Aw—that would not be wight,' says the dood, a-tippin' up his glass to drink. Bill rech out an' grabbed 'im by the neck, an' I never seen a man git licked so quick."

"Rill was too much for him was he?" "Bill was too much for him, was he?" "No siree, it wuz t'other wav. It wuz Bill thet got licked. Jerusalem and Gin'rel Jackson, but how that dood did jump about! An' every time 'e jumped e fetched Bill one on the eye er under the ear er along the jaw, an' Biil could't get within gun shot uv' im. Why thet air dood had more tricks for fightin' than Bill ever dreamp uv. Fust he'd be behind Bill an' then on top uv 'im, an then under 'im an' every time Bill opened an eye the dood stuck a fist in it-erry fist, it didn't make no differnce to him. He wuz just about es handy with his thumpers es any man needs to be in this world. It did't take all irritation of the nerves and curing him more'n a minute to go all around all forms of nervous complaints, giving Bill, and over 'im an' through 'im in the bargain; an' then when he had Bill pretty well licked, he took him an all-firedest crack on the nose an' sent 'im over in the corner behind the ice-box like a bundle o' old clo'es."

"What did he do then?" "Why, he jest turned aroun' an' facturer's prices, can be brushed the sawdust off his knee where con's Hardware Depot. hat can be relied on to cure alf diseases he'd ducked down to come up underthe kidneys and urinary organs; Bill, an' says he: 'Gentlemen, will you all join me-aw-in a wa'm lemonade?'

'Yes, he's there yet; an' I guess he kin stay unless the cousumption gits away with 'im. There hain't nothing else down there thet kin do it, that's sure."—Chicago News.

THE SUN.

NEW YORK, 1884.

About sixty million copies of THE SUN have gone out of our establishment during the past twelve months. If you were to paste end to end all the umns of all THE SUNS printed and sold last year you would get a continuous strip of interesting information, common sense wisdom, sound doctrire, and sane wit, long enough to reach from Printing House square to the top of Mount Copernicus in the moon, then back to Printing House square, and then three-quar ters of the way back to the moon again. But The Sun is written for the linksbitants of the earth; this same strip of intelligence would girdle the globe twenty seven or twenty-eight times, If every buyer of a copy of THE SUN during the past year has spent only one hour over it, and if his wife or his grandfather has spent another hour, this newspaper in 1883 has afforded the human race thirteen thousand years of steady reading, night and day.

It is only by little calculations like these trial Series." Two volumes are now ready: that you can form any idea of the circulation of the most popular of American newspapers, or of its influence on the opinions and actions of American men and women.

THE SUN is, and will continue to be, a news paper which tells the truth without fear of consequences, which gets at the facts no mat-er how much the process costs, which pre sents the news of all the world without waste of words and in the most readable shape, which is working with all its heart for the cause of honest government, and which there fore believes that the Republican party must go, and must go in this coming year of our Lord, 1884.

If you know THE SUN, you like it already, and you will read it with accustomed diligence and profit during what is sure to be the most interesting year in its history. If you do not yet know THE SUN, it is high time to get into the sunshine.
