THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOI. VIII. WILMINGTON, N. C., MONDAY, MARCH 3, 1884. NO. 53

The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 144 bales.

Ger. barque Tezas, Lool, cleared to-day for Hamburg with 102 casks spirits turpentine and 4,425 barrels rosin, valued at $8,447.20, shipped by Messrs E. G. Barker & Co.

The following additional subscriptions to the cyclone fund are reported to day: Behrens & Munroe, $8; D. A. Smith $8; cash $5. The subscription of B. F. Hall, $25, should be credited to Hall & Pearsall.

We invite the attention of our citizens to the fact that first quality shirts are being made to order at one dollar at the Wilmington Shirt Factory.

There was only one case for the Mayor's consideration this morning which was for disorderly conduct and upon which judgment was suspended.

Knights of Honor.
 Carolina Lodge No. 434. Regular meeting this evening at 7 1/2 o'clock. Full attendance desired. It.

Those of our fellow citizens who went to New Orleans to attend the "Mardi Gras" returned yesterday morning having had a delightful trip, lots of fun and a grand time generally.

The storm signal was up Saturday night, all day yesterday and this morning, and it was not a vain warning, as we have had to-day some of the most disagreeable March winds we have ever known here.

Rev. Thomas F. Gailor, professor in the Theological department of the University of the South, at Sewanee, Tenn., preached two very fine sermons here yesterday, in the morning at St. James' Church, and at night at St. John's.

Hon Josiah Turner's new paper, The Truth, comes to us to-day. This, the first issue, is a very handsome one. It is a 32 column paper and has in it an excellent miscellany of matter. We wish it much success. Published monthly at Durham N. C.

This is the blistering, windy month of March, and it has begun as if it was determined to keep up its reputation. It has blown hard ever since the month came in and to-day it has come from nearly every quarter of the compass. At 8 o'clock this morning it was South-west and two hours later it was North-east. Since then it has blown from every quarter.

If you need a real good first class cooking stove, don't fail to see the Excelsior Penn., Zeb. Vance and New Emerald, besides others. They are to be found at factory prices at JACOBI'S, who is the manufacturers' agent. †

Slight Fire.
 At about 11.45 o'clock this forenoon fire was discovered upon the roof of an old frame dwelling on the West side of Sixth street, near the bridge, by colored people. The alarm was given immediately and the fire department was on hand with its usual promptitude. The Phoenix, No. 1., of Brooklyn, was the first to arrive, as it was much the nearest to the scene, and did excellent work. The flames were soon extinguished and the damage would not amount to more than $50.

The Second Fire.
 At about 3:30 o'clock, this p. m., the one-story frame dwelling on Fourth between Queen and Wooster streets, owned and occupied by Mrs. Sarah Watson, was discovered to be on fire. The alarm was promptly given, and the fire department turned out, but the building was burned down, it being impossible to save it. The furniture was saved. No insurance.

The Third Fire.
 A few minutes after 4 o'clock p. m., and before the second fire had fairly ceased burning, the alarm was again sounded, this time the fire being on Mulberry, between Front and Second streets, owned and occupied by Mr. Thomas Sykes, and caused by the ignition of a spark upon the roof. Hand hose in the yard was put in use to keep the fire in check until a large hose from the water hydrant was brought into play, when the flames were soon extinguished. Damage slight and fully covered by insurance.

The Fourth Alarm.
 Just at our close the alarm sounded again, the fourth time to-day. It was located at the Gas House, in the South-east portion of the city, but we could not learn the particulars in time for this issue.

Some Corrections.
 There were one or two errors, made by the printer, in publishing on Saturday last the list of contributors in this city to the cyclone sufferers. Messrs Worth & Worth gave $50, Messrs Woody & Currie $30, Mr. T. F. Bagley $5 and Mr. E. Lilly $5. Our excuse is that the report was received very late—nearly 4 o'clock—and was necessarily set up in a very great hurry.

Harbor Master's Report.
 The following is the number and class of vessels which arrived at this port during the month ended Feb. 29th:
 American—7 steamers, 5,385 tons; 1 brig, 334 tons; 19 schooners, 5,543 tons, making a total of 27 vessels, 11,262 tons.
 Foreign—17 barques, 6,896 tons.
 Total American and foreign, 44 vessels, aggregating 18,158 tons.

The Phosphates.
News and Observer: Gen. W. Gaston Lewis, of Edgecombe, is here. Chatting with a reporter yesterday, he said that his investigations of the deposits in Duplin, Sampson, Pender and New Hanover had shown that they were of great value. Duplin county had been the most thoroughly investigated. The examinations are to continue, and it is expected that beds even richer than any yet discovered will be found. It is certainly a bonanza for North Carolina, and the discoveries attract the attention of capitalists in all the Atlantic seaboard.

Fires in February.
 The fire department was called out twice during the month ended Feb. 29th as follows:
 Feb. 18th, 6.30 a. m.—warehouse and stable at Northrop & Cumming's mill was burned with contents, consisting of a quantity of rice straw and some machinery. Damage about $300. Not insured. Cause unknown.
 Feb. 19th, 11.30 p. m. Fire caught in the naval store yard of Mr. A. Martin, on the West side of the river. Steam Fire Engine Little Giant was towed across the river and did good work. Cause of fire unknown. Damage about $500.

Shocking Death.
 Joseph Atkinson, who lived near Wilson's Mill, a small village 27 miles from Goldsboro, on the North Carolina Railroad, was at that place yesterday, where he drank quite freely. He started to walk home upon the track, and when he had gone a short distance, he either fell or laid down at a cattle guard which was placed across the track at a road crossing. The mail train from Raleigh soon came along but neither the engineer nor fireman saw Atkinson until they were close upon him. The latter was caught by the cowcatcher and carried some distance when he dropped and the train ran over him, mangleing him fearfully and causing instant death. The deceased was a poor man and leaves a wife and large family.

Accident to a Wilmingtonian.
 Many of our citizens were shocked to hear this morning of an accident to our former townsman, Mr. Fred C. Poisson, who left here some days since in company with his brother, Mr. DuBrutz Poisson, to make their future residence in California. Through the courtesy of their brother, Mr. Louis J. Poisson, who received a letter containing the particulars, we learn that they were on the Missouri Pacific Railroad, a few miles beyond Fort Worth, Texas, when, in consequence of a broken rail, the sleeping car in which they were riding was pitched down an embankment and landed bottom up. The accident occurred at about 2 o'clock on Monday morning, Feb. 25th. Mr. DuBrutz Poisson had a berth in one end of the car while his brother had a berth in the other end. The former was not injured, and hastened to find his brother as fast as possible, and when the latter was reached he was found unconscious with a savage gash across his forehead. Strong and willing hands and arms assisted in cutting a way out of the car, which was now on fire from the stove which had been over turned, and the wounded man was soon placed beyond further danger. A physician was soon in attendance and Mr. Poisson was restored to consciousness, after which he was taken back to Fort Worth where he is now receiving every possible attention and care. His brother is with him. The wounds, although severe, are not considered dangerous, and it is thought that he will be able to resume his journey in a week or ten days.

Now is the time to give Smith's Worm Oil.

A Big Eagle.
 We were shown today the claws of a bald eagle which was killed a few days since on Messrs Larkins & Bowden's place, on the Sound. It must have been a very large bird from the appearance of the claws, which looked as if they were capable of sustaining a small child in the air.

Lights o' London.
 In speaking of the above named play, a Springfield (Mass.) paper says: Shook and Collier's Company appeared at the Opera House last night, presenting the great New York and London success, entitled "The Lights o' London." To enable his company to produce this play in the style which characterized its production in New York, Manager Collier carries with him the scenery necessary to properly present the play. He has two cars of his own, one a mammoth car built especially for transporting the scenery and the wagons used in hauling it to and from the Opera House, and a palace car for the accommodation of his company. Yesterday stage hands were kept at work placing the scenery on the stage, and last night the audience was shown some of the handsomest scenery and stage settings ever witnessed in this city. To properly produce "Lights o' London," a large company is required, and many supernumeraries appear throughout the play. The piece is intended to furnish a picture of life in the city of London. Shook & Collier's company is a good one, each role being assumed by an artist and every part is well acted. "Lights o' London," with its scenery, stage mountings, and interesting plot is one of the finest stage productions ever produced on the stage of the Opera House.
