"You know the old saying, Doctor, Ubi tres neid, due athei, -where there are three docters there are two atheists," laughed Rev. Apollo Creamcheese, the other day, to his friend, Dr. Senna, who had dropped in for a bit of a talk.

"Yes, I've heard it, and I'll bet a box of pills sgainst your dry inkstand that some priest said it. They always pattered bad Latin when they had a bigger lie than common to get rid of, answered the Docter, lighting his pipe. "I tel. you, Dominie, you're 'way off when you think our profession isn't doing as good work in this world as yours is. WHY MAN IS LIKE A FISH,

A man is like a fish indeed. He drinks like one and loves the weed His joys a bait when he is caught is scaly weighs. His lines are taut In schools officious where they say, Bo:h fear the rod but hook-ey play. Fishes and men both go in seine; Tis swimmin' makes them that is plain.

Fishes spawn ova coats; men too; And when in pools they both shake cue. Both run for offish at the poles— Then up Salt River go in shoals. Fish go to sea; men see to go To "bars" for Vichy water, oh! Both like to be on warm Spring beds And wave soft pillows for their heads, And neither one will make a "rise" Until they're forced to by the "flies." Both men and fish have fishy tales; Both lie in wait when in the scales. From frying pans right in the fire The fishes jump and never tire; So likewise does a fishous man Who thinks this world a trying pan. - Whitehall Times.

A Smart Drummer.

As the train slowed up at a station a commercial-looking man, who had been noticed in earnest conversation with another party of the same general appearance, was heard to remark: "Smart? He's the smartest drums mer you ever met anywhere. Why, he's smart enough to sell suspenders to Capital in life.

The other commercial-looking man nodded his head at this very happy illustration, and everybody thought the conversation was ended when a lone some looking individual on the opposite side of the car remarked:

"It doesn't take a very smart man to sell suspenders to a dog." Even the sleepy passengers aroused at this startling remark by the lones some looking individual, and the commercial man asked in some surprise: "Why not?" "Because it doesn't."

"What would a dog want with susenders?"

"To keep up his pants," softly murs mured the lonesome-looking individual, gazing out across the snow swept waste. with a faraway look in his voice. And the astonished brakeman sighed

"I don't mean that, my dear. Do you know what anniversary it will be?" "I don't recall." "Why, my dear, don't you know that it is the anniversary of our marriage?" On that day, thirty-five years ago, we were made man and wife and-"

"And I've had a grudge against that preacher ever since," interrupted Mrs. lopnoody.

"Not hardly, Topnoody."
"But dear, how long do the joyous moments seem to you?"
"Well. Topnoody, I haven't figured it out quite as fine as hours and moments, but taking it in a lump, I should say it had seemed about four thousand years. I might throw off an hour or two on an exact calculation, but no

General Butler has said that a lawyer of large practice should be a well in formed man, for his eases compel him to master subjects in almost every department of knowledge. An incident. illustrative of the general's point, is told in the life of Lord Lyndhurst. He was employed as counsel in a case which related to Mr. Heathcote's famous invention of the bobbinnet machine.

That he might conduct the case suc cessfully, he determined to understand the working of the machine. Accordingly he went to Nothingham, and took his place in the mill at one of the looms. Letter from Assemblyman Hoag.

STATE OF NEW YORK. ASSEMBLY CHAMBER ALBANY, April 13, 1883. During my temporary residence here the past Winter I contracted a severe cold, which for a time confined me to my duties. I not only suffered all the inconveniences which usually attend a heavy cold, but was afflicted with a tightness in the chest, accompanied with a severe pain, which made breathing difficult and rest impossible. I tried the usual remedies—cough drops. tried the usual remedies-cough drops, cough cerdials. &c., but received no substantial relief until I applied Allcock's Porous Plasters, on my back and

These I put on when retiring, and was delighted to find myself much better the next morning. In two days was well. This, and the experience I have had with Allcock's Plasters in my tamily has convinced me that for coughs, colds, sprains, bruises, rheumatism and local pains, Allcock's Porouse Plasters are the quickest and most effective remedy extant.
