TUE-DAY, MARCH 11, 1884.

Entered at the Postoffice at Winnington, N. C., as second-class to stun.

One of the marvels of the dramatic season is the manner in which Mrs. Langtry is attracting audiences. I was generally believed that her second season wou'd proye a dismal failure, but this is not the case. The New York engagement has drawe immense houses and the receipts for a week in Boston footed up over $11,000. People who did not see her last season because of the high prices are doubtless satisfying their cario-ity row, and the "profession. as a reason for making him President. al beauty" draws when the actress would not.

The Civil Service commission has presented its first annual report to the President and it has been transmitted to Congress by him, accompanied by short message. The commission takes to America. Sending juvenile Napola very temperate view of the result of its first year's labors, claiming that some good has been done and that the beginning of reform in this matter prepares the way for more effective reform in the future. It claims that while the oldtime custom of levying political assessments on department employes has not been entirely abolished it has been very much reduced. The most signifi-"cant feature of the report is the unqualified endorsement of the Presiden: and his recommendation that ample provision shall be made by Congress to enable the commission to pursue its cers. labors more effectually. Mr. Arthur evidently does not mean to give the civil service reformers any grounds for opposing him if he can avoid it without inconvenience.

But much more is needed, and until it is forthcoming probably nothing further will be done in the matter. Indeed, the trustees thus far seem to have but the vaguest plans, and they say themselves that the matter may possibly be dropped where it is.

The true inwardness of the with drawal of Keogh's name for the Marshalship of the Western District in this State is thus narrated in a Washington City special to the New York ald. World:

Some of the politicians regard the withdrawal of the name of Thomas Keogh (lately nominated for Marshal for the Western District of North Carolina) as a serious defeat for the President. It is also said that this withdrawal was forced by the fighting tactics of Senator John Sherman, who dreaded Keogh's power as a politician i: North Carolina. Investigation shows that the reasons for Kogh's withdrawa were not political, ones. The Senate Judiciary Committee, to which the nomination was referred, reported un animously against Keogh's confirmation upon a showing made before them by ex Marshal Robert Douglas son of Stephen A. Douglas Robert Douglas alleged before the committee that several years ago Keogh held his note for $7,000. He paid $4,000 upon the note, he said, for which Keogh gave him a written receipt. This payment, Donglas claimed, was not inder-sed on its full face value to an innocent Douglas for the full amount of the note in the case.

An Extraordinary Case.

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Feb. 20th, 1880. Dear Sir:-My case was an acute form of bronchitis, and was of one and a half years' duration. I employed the DAILY, SFA LWEEKLY, WEEKLY best medical aid possible, but failed rapidly, until the doctors said I would die-that my case was incurable. Thrown uron my own resources, I got a bottle of Dr. WM. HALL's BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and in six hours felt a decided relief. In three days the cough almost disappeared. Now that my chances of life are good for many years. I carnestly recommend the above to every sufferer of lung or throat disease. C. G. LATHROP.
