THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VIII. WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, APRIL 3, 1884. NO. 80

PLEASE NOTICE. We will be glad to receive communications from our friends on any and all subjects of general interest but the name of the writer must always be furnished to the Editor. Communications must be written on only one side of the paper. Personalities must be avoided. And it is especially and particularly understood that the Editor does not always echo the views of correspondents unless so stated in the editorial columns.

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation, of any newspaper published, in the city of Wilmington.

Jay Gould expects to build a Winter dwelling house at St. Augustine, Fla.

Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett is still ill from overwork, and cannot resume her literary labors for some time.

William H. Foster, believed to be the oldest bank cashier in point of service in America, resigned his position recently in the Asiatic National Bank of Boston, after a continuous service since 1829.

It is many years since Mr. Mill's has given the world a military picture. His chief picture of this year tells the story of an incident during the rebellion of 1755—the rebels of a Royalist regiment during a halt at a village on the line of the march.

Mrs. John Jacob Astor and Miss Catherine Wolfe, of New York, are members of a Boston international educational association which is now engaged in founding a female college in Florence, Italy, where women from this country can pursue any branch of art.

The German hospital in New York, the gift of the editor of the Staats Zeitung and his wife, is now approaching completion. Its readingrooms and library will be a distinctive feature of the institution, and these are to be free, not only to Germans, but to all who choose to avail themselves of the privilege.

The duration of life in England is on the increase. Men's lives are prolonged two, and women's three and one-third years beyond the limit thirty-five years ago. The change is ascribed to various causes, prominent among which are the influence of the public health act, the progress of the temperance movement and diminishing virulence of epidemics.

The Great Eastern has found her place at last. She has been sold to the British Government for use as a coal hulk at Gibraltar. Such is the inglorious end of the biggest ship on earth—or on the sea. She was too big for any practical use. Even the laying of ocean cables has been accomplished more successfully by ships of more moderate dimensions and there is nothing left for her but to make her a coal hulk.

The records of the Health Department of New York city indicate a very encouraging improvement of the sanitary condition of the city. The number of deaths reported since the beginning of the year show a considerable falling off as compared with the same period last year, and a remarkable decrease as compared with the corresponding period of the preceding year. The improvement noted is attributed by the health authorities in great part to the change for the better in the city's sanitary condition.

It seems strange that an immense trade should be done in this country in importing eggs. One would suppose that the domestic farm of an immense country might produce enough for the consumption of the population, where, as last year no less than 182,000,000 eggs were imported. In 1880 the number of foreign eggs received at the Custom House was 110,000,000. In the following year it had increased to 140,000,000; last year 182,000,000 represented the number imported, and it is expected that this year's importation will reach the enormous total of 200,000,000. What are our hens at home doing?

Governor Crittenden, of Missouri, gives his version of the famous Patti kissing business: "I had heard Patti sing 'Home, Sweet Home.' I called next day in company with some friends and as I approached Patti's room I met, in the corridor of the hotel, a party of young girls, who said to me that they had just been given that which I should never have—a kiss from Patti. After the introduction to the lady I repeated what those happy young creatures had said, to which she laughingly replied that she did not see why that should never be. No sooner was this said than I had my kiss. I then remarked that this was better than even 'Home, Sweet Home.' The joke of it all is that in telling it on me afterward, the friends with whom I had gone in declared that I said the kiss was 'better than anything at home.'"

Mr. David M. Rank, of Wilmington, Del., says that St. Jacobs Oil, the conqueror of pain, cured him of rheumatism.

Don't forget the Exposition meeting to be held in the City Court Room this evening.

An interesting revival of religion is in progress at the M. E. Church at Rockingham.

Mr. H. H. Munson has returned to the city from his regular Spring visit to the Northern markets.

Capt. J. J. Magleyn, Master Machinist, at the Carolina Central R. R. shops at Laurinburg, was in the city yesterday.

Two white tramps applied for lodgings at police headquarters last night, and were sent on their travels this morning.

We invite the attention of our citizens to the fact that first quality shirts are being made to order at one dollar at the Wilmington Shirt Factory.

It blew a gale of wind yesterday and last night, the most of the time with a clear sky, and this morning it was cold enough for fires, gloves and overcoats.

A protracted meeting will be held at the First Baptist Church next week, beginning on Monday and continuing until the following Sunday, and perhaps longer.

Miss E. Karrer returned to the city last night, after an absence of ten days in the Northern markets. She is daily in receipt now of the goods selected by her in person.

Br. Schr. J. F. Whittaker, Munro, cleared to-day for Point-a-Petre, Gaudaloupe, with 170,143 feet of lumber, valued at $2,993.65, shipped by Messrs. E. Kidder & Son.

The fire alarm was sounded at about 11 o'clock this forenoon, but the most careful and thorough search failed to develop any fire. It was a case in which there was much cry and no fire.

Ormond H. Butler, business agent for the New York Opera Company, arrived in the city at 3 o'clock p. m. yesterday to make arrangements for the presentation here of the Comic Opera of the Queen's Lace Handkerchief, and left again last night.

Mr. R. E. Lee Dixon, of this city, has recently returned here with a medical diploma from the Jefferson Medical College, of Philadelphia. Dr. Dixon may conclude to locate in Wilmington for the practice of his profession but has not yet fully made up his mind on this point.

Hybrid Smith, colored, was arrested this morning charged with stealing a coat and pair of trousers from the room of Capt. J. G. Bagley, on board the River Queen. He confessed the theft and showed the officer where he had hid them in a pile of shingles. He was locked up and the hearing in the case will take place to-morrow.

Travellers, going North or South, do not all pass by this city without stopping as some would have us believe. There were 62 arrivals at the Purcell House last night, crowding the accommodations to their utmost capacity. For awhile the clerks of the house had as much as they could do in caring for their guests and making them comfortable.

Narrow Escape.

A colored girl employed on Second street, between Chestnut and Mulberry, while at work around the stove in the kitchen this morning had her clothing take fire. In her fright she ran into the yard where the wind would have soon caused her entire clothing to become enveloped in flames, but, fortunately a colored woman, who was in the yard, dashed a bucket of water over the girl and put out the fire. It was a narrow escape.

Silver Plated Spoons, Forks and Knives of best quality, and at manufacturer's prices, can be found at Jacob's Hardware Depot.

Fires in the Country.

We learn that fires were raging yesterday in the country, on the line of the Carolina Central and the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line Railroads, to an alarming extent, and in consequence of the high winds which were prevailing, all efforts to extinguish the flames were unavailing. At Manly the Methodist Church was burned, and on the Carolina Central, from Laurinburg to Hamlet, it was almost one continuous line of fire. Two water stations were burned and many crossties and many cords of wood were destroyed.

Thatcher, Primrose & West's Minstrels.

The entertainment which will be given by this troupe at the Opera House next Monday night will be a fine one as the company is one of the best now traveling, each performer being an artist in his particular line. While there will be an unlimited amount of fun, the management desire especially to have it understood that there will be nothing which will offend the modesty or shock the refined sensibilities of the audience. Ladies can attend with the assurance that they will witness or hear no impropriety of language or conduct from the performers. Mr. Banks Winter, who sang "When the robins nest again," with the Haverley's, this season, and Mr. Frank Howard, the composer of that song, are with this troupe.

Last Night's Fire.

At about 9 o'clock last night, the wind blowing a gale at the time, the one story frame dwelling on Nixon, between Seventh and Eighth streets, occupied by George Payman, colored, was discovered to be on fire. The inmates of the house were absent at the time, but the alarm was promptly and vigorously sounded and the fire department was on hand in a few moments, but owing to the high wind, the distance from an available hydrant and the combustible material of the house, it, with all its contents, was destroyed. The flames spread to a small frame dwelling adjacent, which was also occupied by colored people, and was also destroyed, although, fortunately, the household effects were saved. Two or three other small houses caught several times, but the flames were extinguished on these before serious damage was done. The engines were compelled to play through 1,300 feet of hose to obtain water from the nearest hydrant. The house occupied by Payman belonged to his mother and was not insured. We failed to learn the name of the occupant or owner of the other house destroyed, but learn that there was no insurance upon it. The loss was about $500.

Good style is good sense, good health, good energy and good will, but a bottle of D. Bull's Cough Syrup is a good benediction that suffering humanity has already learned to appreciate.

We learn from the News and Observer of the meeting in Raleigh, on Saturday, of the Central Democratic Executive Committee. It was resolved that the State Committee meet at Raleigh on the 16th inst. to consider the call for a convention of the party. The resignation of T. B. Jernigan, Esq., of his membership of the committee, from the first district, was tendered and accepted, and Colonel Harry Skinner, of Pitt county, was duly elected to fill the vacancy. The death of the late Isaac B. Kelly, of the third district, being brought to the attention of the committee, a vacancy was declared in said district, and John D. Stanford, of the county of Duplin, was duly elected to fill the vacancy.

The News and Observer says, in speaking of this action:

As for the suggestion that two conventions be held, that seems to be impracticable, and doubtless the committee will so conclude. The convention should meet in time for the delegates chosen to represent the State at Chicago to make their arrangements for that purpose. Ordinarily delegates cannot arrange their trunks on the spur of the moment to be absent at Chicago ten days. The Chicago convention meets July 9th and the State convention is likely to be held towards the close of June. The Republicans will probably make their nominations for State officers on May 1st, and their candidates will begin work at once. Our nominees should be in the field and meet their opponents as soon as practicable. In three months more we will be at the beginning of a warm campaign. Time flies although we take but little note of it.

If you need a real good first class cooking stove, don't fail to see the Excelsior Penn., Zeb. Vance and New Emerald, besides others. They are to be found at factory prices at JACOB'S, who is the manufacturers' agent.

Anniversary Ball.

We understand that strenuous efforts are to be made this year for the purpose of making the Anniversary Ball of the Hibernian Association, which is to be given on Easter Monday night, surpass any of the previous efforts of the society. Messrs. T. Donlan, M. Judge, J. L. Cantwell, M. Carroll, J. W. Reilly and W. Sheehan form the committee of arrangements.

Another Fire.

The two-story frame dwelling on the North side of Campbell street, between Fourth and Fifth, owned and occupied by George Debnan, colored, was discovered to be on fire on the roof at about 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. The alarm was immediately given and the fire department was promptly on hand and at work. The flames were soon extinguished with no further damage than a small hole burned in the roof. The building was insured, but we failed to learn at what agency or in what company.

The New Hotel.

The oft-repeated inquiry, "are we to have a new hotel?" is most generally supplemented by the question, "where will it be located?" The latter inquiry seems to answer the first affirmatively and leaves nothing to be determined but the place where the structure shall be erected. On this point there is a wide diversity of opinion, but we doubt not that a good selection will be made, when the time comes for action. That larger hotel accommodations are needed is perfectly evident, if we would keep pace with the growing demands of travel, and make our city notable and desirable as a place of rest and recreation to those who seek the genial influence of our Southern sun during the Winter months. We need the hotel, not so much for the business public as we do for the invalids, pleasure seekers and those of wealth to spend and leisure to travel, where they may obtain all the accommodations of the firstclass hotels of the North. Men are looking towards our section as a desirable place in which to invest their capital, and it becomes us, in a business point of view, if no other, to offer such inducements as to cause them to come and linger here while they thoroughly examine the many advantages which our city and its surroundings can offer as an inducement for them to settle in our midst. This, a good, comfortable, nicely-kept hotel will accomplish better than any other method.

They Came as Strangers.

It has become the fashion with traveling people to abuse Wilmington and its want of hotel accommodations, and it is probable that the bitterest abuse of all comes from those who have never been here at all. We do not often meet with any one who has stopped here for a day or two who is inclined to quarrel with our people, whatever he might have to say about his accommodations. That the hotels are not the best in the country will be readily admitted, but that they are deserving of one-fourth of the abuse that is lavished upon them is not by any means true.

We met this morning with a gentleman who has a different tale to tell of his treatment here. He stopped in Wilmington about four weeks ago and is at the Purcell House with his daughter, who is quite sick. He was en route to Florida, hoping that the mild air there would restore somewhat of the lady's health and strength, when she became ill and was unable to proceed further. When he spoke on the train of stopping here he was met with the advice not to stop in Wilmington, his adviser adding "I wouldn't stop there for $500." But necessity knows no law and in some trepidation as to his reception and treatment he left the train with his daughter and repaired to the Purcell House, where he has ever since remained. He was an absolute stranger here and did not know a soul in Wilmington. "But, sir," he said to us to-day with moist eyes, "I have met with the utmost of kindness and courtesy and hospitality at the hands of your people, and I can never forget all I owe to them." He told us that he and his daughter are receiving every care and attention at the hands of Capt. Perry and his people at the hotel; that many ladies have called to see his invalid daughter and that her room is redolent with the fragrance of flowers sent to her daily. And yet this is the same hotel and the same Wilmington so heartily abused by the commercial traveler.
