THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VIII. WILMINGTON, N. C., TUESDAY, APRIL 29, 1884. NO. 102

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation, of any newspaper published, in the city of Wilmington.

Ex-Gov. Bishop, of Ohio, believes in the destiny of the old ticket.

Archbishop Gibbons according to London Truth, will be the next Cardinal.

In India the natives have hoarded up $1,000,000.000 in gold, which cannot be got into circulation.

The wearing of primroses in London as a Israel demonstration is causing them to become costly.

The University of Edinburgh is rounding out its third century of academic existence this month.

A church in Connecticut by resolution forbids its members to drink intoxicating liquors, explicitly excepting hard cider.

It is claimed that of the Republican delegates from New York to Chicago Blaine has 29, Arthur 25, Edmunds 14, doubtful 4.

A national rose show is to be held at Salisbury, in England, this year, in the extensive and charming grounds of the Bishop's palace.

The Brooklyn Bridge is a pecuniary failure. If it were not for visitors from other States the receipts would be lamentably meagre.

A young lady of Muncie, Ind., has just reached home from a "trip around the world," which she made safely without an escort.

Blaine's friends are trying to break Mr. Edmunds down by circulating the report that he occasionally jingles glasses with a neighbor.

One of Sell's Brothers clowns recently fell dead. He fell in the ring while perpetrating the time honored joke about his mother-in-law.

Matthew Arnold thinks Philadelphia one of the most beautiful of American cities. He does not like Chicago, but refers to it as "beastly prosperous."

Mr. Harold Godwin, of the New York Commercial Advertiser, son of Parke Godwin, is soon to marry Miss Marquand, daughter of Henry Marquand, and the heiress to about $2,000,000.

A gratified Scotch husband advertises with proud ostentation in the newspapers that his wife has had triplets, and is now the mother of seven children after four years and seven months of matrimony.

The ex-Empress Eugenie greatly appreciates any courtesy and attention paid her. She recently sent the railroad station agent at Charing Cross, London, a silver tea service for some slight favors done her.

Carter Harrison, it is understood among his political friends, does not want to be the Democratic candidate for Governor of Illinois, but he does want to be a delegate-at-large to the Chicago Convention.

A New Yorker who was in Cleveland, Ohio, the other day, threw $50 in silver among the newsboys and bootblacks, saying that he was a bootblack in New York when a boy, and got his first start while handling the brush.

The Journal of Commerce, noting the reserve on the part of buyers that indicates the quiet before the battle, expresses the opinion that the quiet usually marks further inaction and neglect.

Mr. Wm. H. Vanderbilt says that he takes little or no interest in the stock market nowadays and does not even follow all the daily fluctuations. He is a "bull," though, so far as the stocks in which he has invested are concerned.

More than three-fourths of the cedar used in the manufacture of cedar pencils in the world is shipped from Florida. Large groves of cedar grow up and down the coast and on the Suwannee river, and the supply seems inexhaustible.

Electricity as an illuminating power is extensively used in the cotton mills of Fall River, Mass., and so well it is liked by the operatives that recently in a mill where the proprietors refused to introduce it the employees struck against all work by gaslight.

A member of the Cape Colony, South African Parliament, Hon. Godfrey Siebel, endorsed St. Jacobs Oil in a speech.

Now is the time to give Smith's Worm Oil.

The house at Brighton, Eng., which was built by Mrs. Fitzherbert, with the last money she ever received from George IV, has passed into the possession of the Young Men's Christian Association, who recently opened it, after the necessary alterations, fitting it for the uses of that organization.

The Catholic clergy have all refused to countenance the use of dynamite as a retaliatory measure, and Father Hogan, in Paris, who has just been interviewed by the London Times, makes the very best summary of the method when he says: "The action of the dynamiters is morally a crime, politically a blunder and socially a disaster."

A gentleman long connected with the French civil service says that in no other great city which he has visited has he witnessed the rude street manners which prevail in New York. Probably the greatest courtesy of the open air is that which may be seen in Southern cities. In Washington or Baltimore, for instance, one man would not treat another as brusquely as men treat women in New York.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up only 3 bales.

One white tramp was furnished with lodgings at the guard house last night.

Steamship Regulator, Capt. Doane, from New York, arrived here this forenoon.

We are glad to hear that Mr. A. A. Hartsfield was reported as somewhat better this morning.

There is unamiable matter in the postoffice in this city addressed to R. L. Candler, & Co., and Moore & Hill.

A series of meetings will be begun at the Front Street M. E. Church to-night, and will continue during the week.

Schr. Joseph Souther, Watts, cleared to day with 342,153 feet of lumber, valued at $5,303.37, shipped by Messrs. J. H. Chadbourne & Co.

There were slight showers in the early morning hours, but the genial sun dispelled the clouds and the remainder of the day has been pleasant, warm and fair.

Fennell G. May and Cad Lowery, both colored, were brought before the Mayor this morning charged with fighting, near the Front street market house, and the former was fined $2, and the latter $3, for the offense.

Trade in the country stores is reported as being distressingly dull, the farmers being so busy with their crops they cannot afford to spare the time for any other purpose. Consequently the merchants have but little to do, but they will probably make up for lost time when the harvest season begins.

Considerable attention was attracted on the streets this afternoon to a baby carriage, conveying twins, which were beautifully and expensively dressed while the carriage was handsomely decorated and covered with a costly silk parasol. The twins were dolls and the turnout was an advertisement for Taylor's Bazaar.

Personal.

Mr. E. B. Burkholder, of this city, left here last night to go to Mt. Holly, on the Western section of the Carolina Central Railroad, to take charge of the telegraphic station recently located at that place.

Water Logged.

The steamer Hurt, on her last passage down the river from Fayetteville, had a flat in tow which was loaded with rosin, and when about 15 miles from the city it filled with water and the steamer was obliged to leave it. The Hurt, however, returned this morning to the place where she had left the boat load of rosin with another flat upon which to load the cargo and bring it to the city. This will create considerable delay and the Hurt will not probably leave here on her return trip to Fayetteville, before eight or nine o'clock to night.

Silver Plated Spoons, Forks and Knives of best quality, and at manufacturer's prices, can be found at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

The New Hotel.

The project for a new, large and commodious hotel in Wilmington is beginning to assume tangible shape and form. There are parties in the city to-day who are interested in the matter and who are working directly, systematically and energetically with that desirable object in view. From what we have been able to learn we feel assured that a new and elegant hotel with every appliance and comfort for a large number of guests will soon be built and in successful operation under the management of skillful and experienced men. Success to the enterprise.

A Ghastly Spectacle.

While some colored boys were at play under Sixth street bridge, yesterday afternoon, they found a box partially covered in the sand, which contained the remains of an infant in an advanced stage of decomposition. The Coroner was notified, who, in company with Dr. Potter, City Physician, proceeded to the bridge and made such examination and investigation as circumstances would permit. It was the opinion of the physician that the remains had been there three or four months, and that they were those of an infant newly born when thus disposed of. An inquest was not deemed necessary, and the Coroner took charge of the remains for interment.

For Scotland.

Mr. William McSween, for the last ten years an engineer on the Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta and the Wilmington & Weldon Railroads, will make his last trip to-day until sometime in the Fall. In the meantime Mr. McSween will visit England, where he has a sister married, and his native Scotland, where he has a mother living. He will sail from New York on the 8th proximo on the steamship State of Nebraska, and will probably return early in August. Mr. McSween is a first-class engineer, a pleasant and agreeable companion and we wish him a prosperous passage across the "big pond," a happy meeting with his loved ones and a safe and speedy return to the region of the Cape Fear.

Death of an Aged Lady.

Last Saturday, just as the sun was sinking in the Western horizon, the immortal spirit of Mrs. Eliza Hewlett, wife of Mr. John Hewlett, of Masonboro Sound, forsook its tenement of clay and sped to the God who gave it. Mrs. Hewlett was 80 years of age, being about two years older than her husband, who survives her. At the time of her death, this venerable couple had been married 61 years and had had 11 children born to them, five of whom are now living. Mrs. Hewlett had been a member of the Baptist Church 55 years, and died as she had lived, an exemplary Christian. She had been in failing health for the last three years and had been confined to her house nearly a year. Her interment took place yesterday, Rev. Dr. T. H. Pritchard, of this city, being the officiating clergyman.

The State Exposition.

The Executive Committee, of the county of New Hanover, appointed to secure a proper representation of the resources of the county at the State Exposition, organized on Thursday, April 24th, by electing Mr. J. M. Forshee Chairman and Mr. C. W. Worth Secretary.

Yesterday afternoon, at the call of the Chairman, they held a meeting at the Navassa Guano Company's office for the purpose of systematizing their labors. There were present Chairman Forshee, Messrs. Don. McRae, B. F. Hall, Clayton Giles and C. W. Worth. To facilitate their work it was deemed best to appoint several subcommittees, the members of which are requested by the Executive Committee to aid in procuring exhibits in their various lines:

On Fruit and Vegetables—Messrs. Nobles, J. W. Barnes and C. H. Heide.
On Fish—Dr. Bunn and Mr. W. E. Davis.

On Oysters, Shell Fish and Marine Curiosities—Messrs. James Hewlett, John J. Fowler and John Haar.

On Photos and Pictures of Harbor, Shipping, Growing Crops, &c.—Messrs. Alderman, Thomas and Cronenberg.

The fish interest—a very important one to this county—will be mainly represented by prepared specimens, as exhibited by Fish Commissioner Worth, the preparation of which Dr. Bunn has kindly undertaken, with the aid of Mr. W. E. Davis.

The Executive Committee ask every one who has anything creditable to display to bring it forward. They will in a few days issue a circular which will aid every interested person in preparing exhibits.

North Water Street.

With the exception of a few of the flagstone sidewalks the repairs on North Water Street have all been completed. We learn at the City Hall that the work was yesterday measured by the Engineer in charge and that it aggregated 3,378 square yards of Belgian block pavement, extending from Market to Mulberry streets.

On the first day of last February, when the work was begun, North Water Street was in a very unsightly condition and the contrast between its condition then and to-day, after an interval of three months, is simply very great. It is a handsome piece of work and is a credit to those under whose superintendence it was done as well as to the city at large. Col. S. L. Fremont was the Engineer and Mr. R. B. Wood was the contractor.

We have not heretofore had anything to say of the merit of this work because we preferred to wait and speak of it from well ascertained facts.

The Street Committee, composed of His Honor, the Mayor, as Chairman, and Aldermen DeRosset, Chadbourne and Geyer, have taken a great interest in this work and have given it hearty support and encouragement as it progressed. As we have said, Col. S. L. Fremont was the engineer under whose surveys and directions the work was accomplished and the result has certainly shown what was well known of him before, that he has proved a faithful, industrious and capable officer. There were, we are reliably informed, many difficulties to be overcome in fixing the drainage grades so as to prevent damage to buildings already erected and at the same time give proper drainage facilities to all. That this has been satisfactorily accomplished the tests recently made fully demonstrate. The method of taking the water off the streets at the corners under the sidewalk, and keeping the soil from the river, is new here, although not so elsewhere, and the success of that as well as of all of the work, so far as it has been completed, has been successfully demonstrated.

The work of laying the blocks, under the supervision of Mr. Wood, the contractor, seems to have been cleverly and faithfully performed, in all its details, and the city, as well as those doing business on North Water street, is to be congratulated on the completion of a piece of work that will rival any of the same kind in any other part of the county.

Literary.

The May Magazine of American History opens with a contribution from John Eaton Cooke on the "Virginia Declaration of Independence, in 1775." It is a study of genuine excellence, and the author has rendered it interesting through his personal descriptions of the Virginia statesmen of the period. The second paper, from the pen of Dr. Cyrus Thomas, presents arguments which go to prove that the "Cherokees were Mound-builders." Frederic G. Mather contributes an article on "Slavery in the Colony and State of New York." The Editor writes of "William III, of England," and his influence on the forming institutions of America. "The Great Seal of the Council for New England" is the subject of an essay by James P. Baxter. New facts unfold in the Private Intelligence papers, which have reached Chapter VIII. In "Minor Topics" we have an episode of the late civil war, entitled the "Soldier's Homeward Voyage"; and also "Aaron Burr at Quebec"—a letter from James Parton. Daniel Webster's Chowder seems to be an all-absorbing topic, and his history and cookery, statesmanship and codfish, are served to the reader in an agreeable mixture with the original recipe for making chowder. Published at 30 Lafayette Place, New York city.
