THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VIII. WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, MAY 9, 1884. NO. 110

One more of the great and illustrious men of the earth has crossed the river of death and is now resting under the shade of the green trees on the unknown shore. Judah P. Benjamin is dead. He fell asleep on Wednesday in his apartments in the Avenue Jena, Paris, where he has for the past few months resided. He died full of years and of honors. His age, we think, must have been about 75 years. He was one of the great spirits of the late war between the States and at its close was Secretary of State. The New York Sun has the following sketch of the distinguished deceased:

Mr. Benjamin was born in St. Croix, in the West Indies, in 1811. His parents were English and of Jewish faith. In 1816 they emigrated to Wilmington, N. C. Young Benjamin entered Yale College in 1825, and left without having graduated in 1828. He was admitted to the bar in New Orleans in 1832. He quickly became conspicuous in politics, first as a Whig and subsequently as a Democrat. He was elected to the United States Senate in 1852, and re-elected in 1858. On Dec. 31, 1860, he made a memorable speech in the Senate announcing his adhesion to the State of Louisiana, which had seceded from the Union. He immediately withdrew from the Senate and went to New Orleans, whereupon Jeff Davis, who had just been elected President of the Southern Confederacy, called him into his Cabinet as Attorney-General. He also acted as Secretary of War for the Confederacy during a temporary vacancy in that office. Afterward he was appointed Secretary of State, an office which he retained until the fall of the Confederacy.

He escaped the pursuit of the Federal troops and fled to Nassau, N. P. In September, 1865, he reached England. His property was confiscated, but his law library was bought and presented to him by public subscription. Through the influence of Lord Cairns he was called to the bar in England in 1866. He began practice in Liverpool and rapidly succeeded in acquiring a large clientele. His reputation as an advocate became very great. He received the silk gown in 1872. Thereafter he was engaged in almost every great legal contest in England. In 1868 he published his treatise on the "Law of Sale of Personal Property." Some of his arguments are famous legal literature. Years ago he refused to take any briefs except upon appeal, and was thereafter heard only in the House of Lords and in the Privy Council.

At one time during the early history of his legal practice in England, he was reduced in circumstances by the failure of the house of Overend & Gurney, and he resorted to writing for the press to support himself and his family. He joined the staff of the London Daily Telegraph, and contributed many brilliant articles to the editorial columns of that journal. His book on personal property immediately attracted the attention of lawyers, and after its publication his practice increased with rapidity.

Mr. Benjamin recently retired from the active practice of his profession, receiving many tokens of the high regard in which he was held by both the bench and bar of England. T. B. Aldrich is taken to task for making the word Niel (in describing a Marchal Niel rose in a poem in the May Atlantic) rhyme with "steel." His critics urge that the French word Niel of two syllables might rhyme with "well" or "dwell" but hardly with "steel."

The New York Herald says: "Blaine of Maine will stand plenty of watching for yet a while, not because he is likely to make himself President, but because the people probably do not want any President of his making, if a bargain with him is, like the Garfield bargain, to be loaded with the condition that he shall be Secretary of State."

Mr. R. M. Drinkard, Teller, Second National Bank, Washington, D. C., suffered with rheumatism in his right hand and shoulder. By a few applications of St. Jacobs Oil, the wonderful pain-reliever, he was entirely cured.

More Light.
EDITOR REVIEW—Dear Sir.—I notice a communication in your issue of yesterday in which allusion is made to the report of General Toombs saying—"he would contract to drink all the blood that would flow from the act of Secession." The Democratic Convention held in Charleston in 1860 brought together many of the great intellectual giants, who made public speeches, but none containing the remark attributed to General Toombs. In a speech delivered from the portico of the City Hall in Charleston Wm. T. Yancey, assured his thousands of listeners that Secession would be a bloodless revolution and that he would wipe up with the handkerchief he held in his hand all the blood that would be shed. I do not not that in the exciting events of that period the exact words and person who spoke them were forgotten. ONE WHO WAS PRESENT.

Full moon at 53 minutes past 10 o'clock to-night.

Clarendon Council, No. 67, A. L. of Honor, will meet to-night, at 7 o'clock.

Shrimps and cucumbers have made their appearance here although in small quantities as yet.

As we go to press the three white fire companies are on parade, but a report would be too late for this issue.

There will be a change of schedules on and after Sunday, the 11th inst., on the W. & W. and W. C. & A. Railroads.

A thunder shower passed over the city in the early morning hours, and for awhile the peals were incessant. It was accompanied, with a refreshing rain, which was surely needed.

Robert Howe, colored, for being noisy and disorderly in front of the Purcell House this morning, was arrested and locked up in the guard house to await the Mayor's action to-morrow.

There was a severe storm of rain and hail yesterday on the line of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, between Wilson and Rocky Mount. In shady places the hail laid quite thick on the ground when the train passed there yesterday afternoon.

Mr. J. S. Byrd, who was arrested Wednesday morning on board the steamer Murchison, upon her arrival here from Fayetteville, and has been in the guard house since awaiting a requisition from the proper authorities, was called for by the latter this morning. The officer had authority to discharge Byrd providing the latter would settle the claims against him. This was satisfactorily arranged and Byrd was discharged.

For Faderland.
Mr. H. Brunhild, with his wife and two children, will leave New York June 4th, on the North German Lloyd, steamer Elbe, for a trip to Europe. Mr. Carl Richter and Mr. C. Michaelis also intend to start early in June for Germany.

Personal.
Lieut. Jno. U. Rhodes, of the U. S. Revenue Marine Service, and the hero of the Gay Head disaster, arrived here last night on a short visit to friends and relatives. He is looking well and is the same genial, quiet, unassuming gentleman as of yore. He has had to undergo lots of handshaking since his arrival.

I. O. O. F.
The Right Worthy Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of North Carolina, will meet in annual session at Winston, N. C., on the 13th inst., at 8 o'clock p. m. The representatives from this city, are Mr. Oscar Pearsall, Cape Fear Lodge, No. 2, and Mr. H. O. Craig, Orion Lodge, No. 67.

Would Not Bite.
There was much disappointment among those who went down on the blackfish excursion on the Passport yesterday. The sky was bright, the sea was smooth and the wind was from the right quarter and yet the fish would not bite. There was no accounting for the fact, only the fact was there. It is proposed to try it over again at an early day with the hope of better luck.

Beautiful Work.
Mr. C. W. Yates has at his bookstore on Market street, a very fine crayon portrait of Mr. Jno. R. Turrentine, of this city, executed by a young lady, Miss Fanny Pender, formerly of Edgecombe, but now of Chapel Hill. It was made from a photograph, and it is one of the most artistic pieces of work that has been exhibited in Wilmington in years.

Decoration Day.
At a meeting held on Wednesday night to make arrangements for the observance of Federal Memorial Day, J. C. Hill presided and C. P. Lockey acted as Secretary. On motion of Gen. Manning it was decided to have a procession on the 30th inst., and Col. E. R. Bink, J. S. W. Eagles, J. E. Sampson, J. K. Cutler and C. P. Lockey were appointed a committee to make the necessary arrangements.

Memorial Wreaths.

The members of the Ladies' Memorial Association, and of the Children's Memorial Association, are requested to meet at the school room in rear of St. James's Church to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of making laurel wreaths for the Memorial Celebration on Monday. All who have laurels which they will contribute to the cause are requested to send them to the school house to-morrow afternoon.

City Court.

Sam Smith, colored, was brought before the Mayor this morning, charged with disorderly conduct, and the testimony went to show that he was indulging in the pleasant exercise of beating his niece until she was constrained to shout "murder!" He was fined $10 for the offense with the alternative of going below for 30 days. At last accounts he was making earnest efforts to raise the required funds. Margaret Sampson, colored, the niece above-mentioned, was brought up charged with the same offense, but she was discharged.

Interesting to Fishermen: The celebrated "Fish" Brand Gilling thread is sold only at JACOBI'S. He is the Importer's Agent.

Judah P. Benjamin.

The late Judah P. Benjamin was at one time a resident of Wilmington and there is a gentleman now living here who remembers him well as a boy. Our informant thinks that he was born in Fayetteville although it is said by others that he was a native of St. Croix, W. I. While in Wilmington he resided with his uncle, Mr. Jacob Levy, who did business here as an auctioneer and commission merchant and afterwards, while yet a boy, removed with his uncle to New Orleans. This was about 60 years ago and Mr. Benjamin must have been then about 10 or 12 years of age. This, we believe, the first time the fact has ever been published.

Wilmington Light Infantry.

This corps turned out for drill last night under the command of Lieut. W. C. Jones, with nearly 30 men in the ranks and made a creditable display.

A meeting of the company was called at the armory after the drill, at which it was voted to postpone the regular meeting until Tuesday, the 13th inst. All the necessary arrangements were made for the appearance of the company at the memorial exercises on the 12th inst., each member being required to bring a floral wreath six inches in diameter, which is to be used in decorating the graves of the dead heroes. There was much regret manifested at the inability of the Smithville Guards to be present, a regret which will be shared by all of our citizens.

The Library Association.

The regular annual meeting of the Wilmington Library Association was held in their Hall last night. The proceedings were earnest and interesting, much interest being manifested in the growth, prosperity and success of the organization. The report of the Directors was read which showed an encouraging condition of the institution, and motion of Dr. W. H. Green, a vote of thanks and appreciation was extended to the Directors for the faithful and efficient manner in which they had conducted its affairs.

The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: President—Mr. George W. Williams; Vice President—Dr. Thos. F. Wood; Directors—Messrs John Cowan, Ireddell Meares, Rev. F. W. E. Peschau, G. H. Smith, M. S. Willard, E. S. Martin and W. M. Cumming.

In the absence of the Vice President, the meeting was presided over by Col. W. L. Smith, who, with Rev. Mr. Peschau, spoken of the great importance of the Library as an educator. Both gentlemen spoke encouragingly and felt assured that its usefulness would be more deeply manifested in the future than it had been in the past.

We learn from the Chadburn Times that Rev. Dr. Pritchard, of this city, will deliver the annual literary address at the approaching Commencement of the Fair Bluff High School on Thursday, the 5th of June.

Norwegian barque Embla, Simonson, cleared to-day for London, with 1,500 casks spirits turpentine and 1,365 bbls. r-u-sin, valued at $24,080, shipped by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son.

The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 3 bales.

We invite the attention of our citizens to the fact that first quality shirts are being made to order at one dollar at the Wilmington Shirt Factory. tf.

DIED.

HAYS—In this city, this morning, 9th inst., at 12:40 o'clock, WILLIAM THOMAS, only child of Wm. M. Jr., and Eliza C. Hays, aged 1 year, 1 month and 13 days. The funeral will take place to-morrow (Saturday) evening, at 4 o'clock, from the residence of the parents on Seventh between Walnut and Mulberry streets, thence to Bellevue Cemetery. The friends and acquaintances of the family are invited to attend.
