WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY, MAY 9, 1884.

Kntered at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N. C. as second-class matter.

The News and Observer thinks that Dr. York will be known in history as One Dollar York because he proposed that the Legislature should appropriate one dollar towards building 'he West. era N. C. R. R. Our triend estimates the distinguished gentleman at far beyoud his value. His stock will never fetch one hundred cents on the dollar. It will be at a terrible discount before the ides of November.

Henry Ward Beecher is very frank and outspoken in his opposition to Blaine, and declares that he will not support him if he is nominated for President by the Republican party at Chicago next month. Giving his reasons for this attitude of antagonism, he says: "I have no sympathy with and would not support any candidate whose sources of income have been the money centers and monopolies of the country, nor would I counsel the nomination of The result of the agitation in the House ly Meetings such a man by either party. I cannot reiterate my sentiments on the subject of Mr. Blaine's candicacy too strongly. His nomination would be a public calamity and his election a national disgrace. As a politician his sun has set, and he may now devote himself The people must strengthen the Demo-entirely to the literary labor in which cratic party; that is all. It is their only he so much delights."

We would beg our esteemed cotemporary of the Star to possess his soul in peace and patience. All is not yet lost, despite the folly of this most foolish Congress. There are a few wise men left among us, a tew cool heads, who will yet be able to steer the Democratic ship clear of the shoals and quicksands. We beg the Star to remember that this is not a time for crimination and recrimination, but for cool, careful and deliberate action. The more it talks about the tariff the less good can it do the party. For the present, at all events, tariff reform has been talked to death-at least, it sleeps, and let it sleep in peace, for the time being .-There are plenty of other subjects of absorbing interest to engage attention now, some of which-we modestly suggest-have already been neglected too long. It is not worth while now to open the old sores; let them heal if they will. This cannot well be accomplished by calling men "traitors" because they have not thought as we have thought and because their convictions of duty have been as strong as ours. There are two sides to this, as there are to all questions, and there is something to be said for Mr. Randall and the other opposing Democrats, after all. Their sin was, not so much in opposing the bill as in voting against it, in defiance of the decision of the party apoplexy. caucus, and they should not have voted at all on the measure. This is plain and not to be disputed, but then we must remember that a man owes a duty to his constituents as well as to his party and the constituents of the gentlemen who voted against the Morrison bill required that their interests should be sustained by those who were sent to Congress to represent those interests.

It is well, therefore, to look at the facts in every light which can be thrown upon them. It may be a bitter pill for many to swallow but it is well to understand that Mr. Randall's offense and that of his party friends must be condoned, not in a spirit of charity, and not for their sakes, but for the sake of the Democratic party. If we are not yet prepared to force these bolting Congressmen-and their constituents as well - into the ranks of the opposition it would be the part of wise men to withhold our hands and not to lavish upon them such opprobrious epithets as "the Republican contingent in the Democratic party" else a disaster twenty; and every maiden ought to may fall upon that party from which feel a little fluttering in her heart before it will take years to recover. Besides, the blame is not all theirs as a large portion must rest upon these who forced his lips never had touched those of anan issue which was absolutely worthless other maiden I wouldn't have him; I so far as any practical results are con-

Our friend of the News and Observer takes a very sensible view of the situation as regards the defeat of the tariff bill. He says:

It is well to take a philosophic view of those misadventures which one can't in their practice. It is a strengthening medicine, enriching the blood and House, there was only a bare chance of its passing through the Republican Senate. We had hoped that it might go through—but it was hardly to be expected. Its passage by the House would then have been without any practical avail. It would only have emphasized the possition of the great majority of the the position of the great majority of the Moore's Creek, N. C., Jan. 17, 1881.

Democratic party. That was all. It I have suffered 37 years with Liver would have been an assurance that the Democratic party does layor tariff resche and disordered Stomach. I was form. It would have indicated that the at one time raving distracted, rubbing and need no commendation from us They Democrats voted against the proposition. On yesterday there was a much fuller vote. In the committee of the whole the vote stood on the proposition to strike out the enacting clause, 156, to 151, five majority against the Morrison bill, and a few minutes later in the House, it stood 159 to 154, a total vote of 313 out of a possible 324. Eleven members did not vote.

We regret that the bill was defeated, but the votes that have been taken de monstrate that the Democratic party as an organization favors tariff reform and that is all that could have been obtained by the passage of the bill. It is a demonstration that the party purpose to go on with the work on this line.

We had preferred that the bill had gotten through the House even if there was no chance to pass it through the Senate. But that does not matter much as it could not get through the Senate. The Republicans stood in the way. The moral and political effects are about the same as if the bill had been passed by the House, and then had failed. In either case it is known of all men that there are several classes of Democrats within our organization; first, those who propose tariff reform at once; second, those who favor tariff reform and also internal revenue reform; third those who do not think it desirable to take any action at present while the Senate and the President are Republican and fourth, those who prefer not to interlere with the tariff, but to accomplish tax reduction exclusively by abolshing the internal revenue taxes. This state of affairs is universally known. shows that the tariff reformers are largely in the majority in our party. If Brunswick Circuit at Macethe people of the United States want tax reduction, they can only expect to obtain it through the instrumentality of Whiteville Circuit at Fair the Democratic party. The Republicans oppose any action-that is clear. The Democrats as a party propose action. hope of tax reduction.

THE SUN.

NEW YORK, 1884.

About sixty million coples of THE SUN have gone out of our establishment during the past twelve months. If you were to paste end to end all the col-umns of all THE SUNS printed and sold last year you would get a continuous strip of in-teresting information, common sense wisdom, sound doctrire, and sane wit, long enough to reach from Printing House square to the top of Mount Copernicus in the moon, then back to Printing House square, and then three-quar ters of the way back to the moon again. But THE SUN is Written for the inhabitants of the earth; this same strip of intelligence would girdle the globe twenty seven or twenty-eight times.

If every buyer of a copy of THE SUN during the past year has spent only one hour over it, and if his wife or his grandfather has spent another hour, this newspaper in 1883 has afforded the human race thirteen thousand years of steady reading, night and day.

It is only by little calculations like these that you can form any idea of the circulation of the most popular of American newspapers,
