And it is especially and particularly understood that the Editor does not always endorse the views of correspondents unless so stated in the editorial column.

Mr. Randall is reported by the Alexandria Gazette as saying that "Mr. Blaine is as good as nominated."

No woman is admitted to the Dixon, Ill. skating rink unless she can show a certificate of good character from the village pastor.

Horace White, of the New York Evening Post, says that there is nothing in the story that Henry Villard is about to return to journalism.

Four-fifths of the Democrats in Congress are for tariff reform, and a large majority in the next Democratic Convention will be tariff reformers.

Mrs. Ada Reed, who was elected Justice of the Peace at Livermore, Pa., for a joke, has filed her bond, taken out her commission, and proposes to serve.

Parisian dames, having exhausted the aviary, have gone to the market garden for adornment. The latest novelty is a hat trimmed with artichokes.

Secretary Lincoln and General Sheridan will go next week on a fishing excursion to Point au Pelee Island, Lake Erie, with General Anson Stager, and Marshall Field.

The new Brompton oratory in London is said to be the largest Roman Catholic structure erected since the Reformation. It contains nine chapels, each complete by itself.

The black poodle is again becoming fashionable in England. These animals, to be in correct style, must have their hair shaved into knots and rendered generally hideous.

At the last "Queen's drawing-room" one society woman was stopped at the door because she wore brown gloves, and compelled to send for white ones before she could be admitted.

The first returns from the crazy quilt craze have just been received in New York. One young lady has been sent to the mad-house, and two others hustled off to a retreat where they mend up shattered nervous systems.

Ex-Secretary "Dick" Thompson, who participated in the Log Cabin Harrison campaign of 1840, and was Chairman of the Committee of Resolutions in the convention that nominated Grant sixteen years ago, will attend the Republican June meeting in Chicago.

Mr. P. J. Sheridan, the Irish revolutionist, is about to remove to South Carolina, and there, upon a tract of 22,000 acres, he intends to form an Irish colony. A stock company is to be formed to promote the colonization of the Irish people on an extended scale.

An Easter egg was made by a Parisian house for a present to a very wealthy Spanish lady, at a cost of $4,000. It was formed of white enamel; on the inside was engraved the gospel for Easter Day, and by some ingenious mechanism a little bird lodged in this shiny cage sang twelve airs from as many popular operas.

It is announced that the novel by the late Charles Reade now current in Harper's Bazar, "A Perilous Secret," was completed by him but a little while before his death. Mr. Reade had several times within the past few years said to friends that if he undertook another long novel it would be the end of him, and his fear proves now to have been a true prophecy.

Gen. Fremont's sign has hung from a law office on Broadway for a long time, but since his sickness, a year ago, he has paid little attention to business, and his circumstances are much reduced. His friends say that he had become exceedingly depressed, and that but for his wife's spirit and diplomacy he would probably have worried himself into helplessness very soon.

Lewis McMurray, the owner of some 6,000 acres of land near Frederick, Md., finding the present system of plowing too slow, has introduced the new and novel method of plowing by steam, and on Friday last gave an exhibition to a number of interested Baltimoreans. The plows cut seven feet in width, and plow a strip of land one mile in length and seven feet wide in about forty minutes, cutting a furrow about seven inches deep.

A successful experiment has been made with the object of testing the readiness of the German Navy on a sudden emergency. At 8 o'clock on Tuesday morning, April 22, orders were issued without warning, for the mobilization of the manœuvring squadron lying at Kiel. In a few hours the sailors and marines were on their vessels, and provisions and ammunition were also embarked with great rapidity, showing that a squadron of twenty war ships could, if necessary, have gone to sea within twenty-four hours.

Mr. George Steadman, the well-known proprietor of the Aloha Hotel, Melbourne, Australia, writes to the Argus: "I was suffering from a severe sprain in my knee, which caused excruciating pain, and was advised to use St. Jacobs Oil. After one application the pain entirely left and I walk as well as ever."

We invite the attention of our citizens to the fact that first quality shirts are being made to order at one dollar at the Wilmington Shirt Factory.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Wilmington Compress and Warehouse Company will be held in this city, at the Bank of New Hanover, on Thursday, the 22d inst., at 11 o'clock a. m.

Two white tramps applied for lodgings at police headquarters last night. One of them was a sulphur, who had recently been discharged from a vessel, and the other was a young lad from one of the interior counties of the State, who was in the city in search of his relatives.

There were some few slight inaccuracies in our report yesterday of the Memorial Services at Oakdale but there will be pardoned when the short time allowed us for making up the report is considered. Our paper, with a full report of the proceedings, including the Chaplain's prayer and the Orator's address, was on the street before the participants returned from the Cemetery.

Personal.

Hon. R. R. Bridgers, who has been so sick in Baltimore for the past three weeks, has so far recovered as to be able to return here, having arrived last night. He is still very weak, however, and improves but slowly. He got out of the house this morning, but walked only a few doors below his residence, when he was compelled to return. We hope to hear in a few days that he has entirely recovered.

We were pleased to meet recently with our young friend, Mr. Frank M. Fremont, formerly of this city, but now of Savannah, who is here on a short visit to his father, Col. S. L. Fremont.

Brady, of St. Mark's, and others, lay delegates, left here this morning on the 9 o'clock train for the Diocesan Convention which is to convene in Washington to-morrow. Nearly all of the party, we understand, including the Bishop, went via Tarboro, with the expectation of reaching Washington tonight.

Prof. Alderman in Goldsboro.

The Goldsboro Messenger speaks thus handsomely of a lecture delivered in that town on last Friday night by Prof. E. A. Alderman, of this city, but at present in charge of the graded schools in Goldsboro: The lecture of Prof. E. A. Alderman, delivered in the Opera House in this city last Friday night, on the "Men and Manners of North Carolina 100 Years Ago," was one of the most masterly efforts in the lecture line it has ever seen in our good fortune to enjoy. The people of this community, since his advent among us, have ever held Prof. Alderman in high esteem for his intellectual ability, and his brilliant debut as a lecturer last Friday night satisfied the large and intelligent audience, who hung delighted upon his words, that he is well fitted and destined soon to occupy that position among the leading literary men of his day and generation to which his genius entitles him.

Lovely Venus.

Venus will be the loveliest star in the heavens through the month of May, as after elongation she turns her steps westward, moving rapidly toward us and hastening on to her period of greatest brilliancy. She will form a delightful planetary study for the naked eye, and also for telescopic observation. Seen through the telescope, at elongation or a few days after, she takes on the aspect of the moon at her last quarter, half her disc being illumined. Then, like the moon, she becomes a waning crescent, less and less of her enlightened surface being turned toward us, but increasing in size as she approaches us, more than enough to counterbalance the lessened light. At the end of the month she has nearly reached her culminating point, while her high northern declination adds to the length of her stay above the horizon and the favorable conditions for observation.

The beautiful planet is specially interesting on account of the striking resemblance she bears to the earth. In size, in density, in position in the length of her revolution, in the time of her rotation, in the possession of an atmosphere, in the form of her orbit, and in the amount of light and heat she receives from the sun, she is more like the earth than any other member of the solar system. She is our nearest planetary neighbor, and, if a moon were following in her track to complete the analogy, Venus and the earth would be the twin sisters of the solar family. Indeed, the planets seem to be in pairs; Jupiter and Saturn are the giants of the family, Neptune and Uranus follow next to the giants, and Mars and Mercury complete the list.

Venus sat on the 1st a few minutes before 11 o'clock in the evening; on the 31st she sets at half-past 10 o'clock.

There was a fine rain this morning and thus far the crop season has been a splendid one.

The attention of the railroad authorities is invited to a communication in this issue, relative to the necessity which exists for express accommodations on the night train for Richmond from this city. It is really needed by the truckers.

Ryan's Combination.

There will be fun for the boys at the Opera House on Thursday night, the 15th inst., at which time the above combination of professional sparrers will give an exhibition of their science and skill in the "manly art of self-defense." Mr. O'Brien, one of the number, offers the neat little sum of $250 to any one who will stand him and spar, "Marquis of Queensbury rules." It is a tempting offer, and we understand that some of our amateur boxers contemplate trying for the prize. We hope, for the pugilistic glory of Wilmington, that they may succeed, but—

The Cornet Club.

The fine appearance of the Cornet Concert Club yesterday afternoon, at the Memorial Services, was a matter of congratulation to our citizens at large as well as to the Club. The music they discoursed was delightful, the several instruments were well played, and the parts well balanced, and although several of the members had had but a limited experience, the pieces were exceedingly well rendered. The funeral marches were difficult, as is always the case with tunes in the minor keys; not so much in the matter of execution as in the power to give proper expression to their plaintive harmonies, yet these were given with much taste and feeling.

Better Accommodations.

The Baltimore & Wilmington Steamship Line, of which Capt. A. D. Cazaux is the agent in this city, is making extensive additions to their freight accommodation on Lord's wharf. The warehouse now in use is 100 feet long by 50 feet wide, and it has been found to be entirely insufficient for the storage of the large amount of freight which is received there, and shippers have been put to a good deal of inconvenience thereby. To obviate this difficulty and to have a plenty of room for storage of freight, another building has been found necessary, and a warehouse 100 feet long by 40 feet wide is now in course of construction on the same wharf, which, when completed, will add nearly double to the amount of room now at command. Every exertion will be made to have complete and convenient facilities for freight handling, and as the business of the line increases, as it undoubtedly will, such other additions and changes will be made as the exigencies may demand.
