The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

All the United States Senators but two wear spectacles. Mr. Mackay, the millionaire, has gone to the Pacific coast to look after his mines.

Gen. Grant is in favor now of making the Presidential term seven years instead of four and limiting the lucky man to one term.

It is stated that in addition to her bonds, Egypt has a floating debt of $10,000,000—almost enough of itself to sink that country in despair.

Mary Anderson figures in Grosvenor Gallery, London, in an extremely idealized portrait by Mr. Holl, and in a terra cotta bust by Count Gleichen.

Mr. John Mathias Hollenback, a few years ago said to be the largest owner of coal lands in Pennsylvania, died at Wilkesbarre, on Saturday evening, aged 50.

The Empress of Austria is visiting Amsterdam incognito for the purpose of consulting distinguished physicians in regard to the nervous disorders with which she has been afflicted.

It is now hinted that the financial editor of the New York Sun made $15,000 by the decline in wheat, which he had assisted in bringing about by his articles on the wheat market.

The New York aldermen have passed an ordinance limiting the height of new buildings to sixty feet on streets less than sixty feet wide, and to seventy feet on streets of greater width.

Premier Gladstone in the Commons has the care of the whole House, but his wife has made a more modest appearance as the writer of a little book in which she confines herself to "Healthy Bed-rooms and Nurseries."

Gounod's "Redemption" will be sung in Westminster Abbey on the afternoon of Ascension Day, with a largely augmented choir and a full orchestra. This great work has taken its place in the standard repertoire of the English choirs.

A widow in Worcester, Mass., has sued a physician and druggist for $10,000 damages, alleging that her husband's death was caused by a mistake in the compounding of a prescription, which the druggist and the physician strenuously deny.

The selection of Robert Winthrop of Boston, who is now 75, to deliver the oration on the completion of the Washington monument, presupposes that the monument will be finished within a quarter of a century, and that Mr. Winthrop will live to be 100.

Sara Bernhardt was hissed vigorously one night recently at the Porte Saint Martin because she kept her audience waiting for half an hour. It was thought at one time that she would have to give up for the evening, as the audience would not, at first, listen to her.

General Swain, the Judge Advocate General of the army, and former close friend of Garfield, is pictured as a short, stout man, with a rustic air. He has dark hair and whiskers, a florid face, is careless in his dress, usually has a cigar in his mouth, and is quiet and retiring in his manner.

Fashionable society in Washington seems difficult to suit. The white leaders refuse to receive the female Douglass since her marriage to Fred Douglass, and the high-toned colored folks of all shades, from cream to chocolate, resolutely close their doors against Douglass because he married a white woman.

Charles Reade wrote his own epitaph. He describes himself as "dramatist, novelist, journalist," thus marking in which branch of letters his preferences, if not his greatest success, say. His creed he thus confesses: "I hope for a resurrection, not from any power in nature, but from the will of the Lord God Omnipotent, who made nature and me."

Charles O'Connor, the distinguished lawyer, died yesterday at Nantucket. He was born in New York City in January, 1804, and was consequently in the 81st year of his age. He was a lineal descendant of the Irish kings and was one of the most distinguished lawyers of this or any previous age. His illness was of short duration and was brought on first by a slight cold which he contracted some few weeks ago.

The storm signal was flying again today.

There were no tramps at the guard house last night.

The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up only 2 bales.

The Mite Party of the Second Presbyterian Church will meet at 315 N. Second street to-morrow night.

Rev. B. F. Marable will preach at the Second Presbyterian Church in this city next Sunday morning and again at night.

It is still cool enough here at night to make "kiver komfortable" although it is warm enough during the day to dispense with all superfluous clothing.

We invite the attention of our citizens to the fact that first quality shirts are being made to order at one dollar at the Wilmington Shirt Factory.

Among the decisions rendered in the Supreme Court on Monday was one in the case of Florence V. Lawton vs. Norwood Giles et al, from New Hanover. No error. Judgment for the plaintiff.

The remains of the late Capt. Foley will arrive here on to-night's train from Baltimore and will be taken to Smithville by the Passport to-morrow morning for interment. Mrs. Foley will accompany the remains of her late husband.

An interesting communication relative to the distances between Wilmington and Fayetteville, via Clinton and via Bladen, will be found on the fourth page of this issue. We have another on the same subject, which we will publish to-morrow.

Early Vegetables.
Capt. H. B. Willis, foreman of our office, laid on our table this morning a lot of snap beans, the first we have seen this year. They were grown in his garden on McRae street, and were in excellent order for cooking.

He gathered a peck from the bushes this morning and made a good dinner from them this noon.

The Excursion.
The Passport took a nice party down the river to-day, on the first excursion of the season. The harpers were there to furnish the music, the party was just large enough not to be crowded, the weather was fine and we predict a delightful time for the health and pleasure seekers who have taken the day for a steamboat ride to the Rocks, Smithville and Fort Caswell.

Expected Home.
A portion of the crew of the schooner Mary E. Fenerick, which was abandoned at sea, have arrived at Philadelphia, from Port-au-Spain, Trinidad, where they were conveyed after being rescued. The others, including Capt. Williams and his wife, are supposed to be on their way home and Mr. and Mrs. Scarborough are daily expecting to welcome the daughter who has seen such fearful perils.

A Good Invention.
Mr. W. E. King, of the firm of Messrs F. M. King & Co., has invented a machine for the equal distribution of guano which is of real merit and value. It is a simple contrivance through which expedition and distribution are obtained without the least particle of waste of the guano, and is so light that a twelve-year old boy can manage it. It is cheap in price, which brings it within the reach of all who use that sort of fertilizer, and is so simple in its mechanism that it will hardly ever get out of order. Mr. King has secured a patent on the invention and the machine may be seen at the store of the firm on Market street.

Mr. George Tindale, in the employ of Levy Brothers, Melbourne, Australia, says that he suffered extreme pain from neuralgia and received immediate relief by the use of St. Jacobs Oil, the great pain-cure.

Interestingly to Fishermen: The celebrated "Fish" Brand Gilling thread is sold only at JACOBI'S. He is the Importer's Agent.

City Court.

David Hawkins and Alexander Borden, both colored, were brought before the Mayor this morning charged with disorderly conduct and were fined $10 each for the offense, but as they had not the money they were sent below for 20 days. This was an extremely mild punishment, considering the nature of the offense, which consisted in their parading themselves on the public streets on Sunday morning with obscene language chalked on their clothing.

Graded Schools.
In order that the public may have an opportunity of inspecting the work at our Graded Schools, the School Committee have appointed the following days for visitors:
Williston Graded School, colored, Thursday, May 15th.
Peabody Graded School, colored, Friday, May 16th.

Visitors are requested to come at any time from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. Monday and Tuesday of next week will be visiting days at the two white Graded Schools.

Pocket Picked.
Mrs. Strickland, mother of Mr. R. J. Strickland, of this city, had her pocket picked and a purse abstracted therefrom by some scoundrel in Oakdale Cemetery on Memorial Day. She is of the opinion that the purse, which contained a small sum of money, must have been stolen during the time of prayer as she had it a moment before, and missed it immediately after, that service. People cannot be too careful in visiting crowded places to keep constantly on their guard, for a crowded assemblage is a pickpocket's paradise.

Going to Charlotte.
The Howard Relief Steam Fire Engine Company No. 1 have concluded to attend the anniversary exercises of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, which are to be held at Charlotte on the 20th and 21st insts. The company will take their engine and hose reel with them. They will probably be accompanied by the Concert Club, but the latter fact is not positively determined upon as yet. The Club will hold a meeting at which the matter will be definitely settled. The members of the Club are all anxious to go but with some of them business will somewhat interfere.

An Express Car.
The communication published in the REVIEW yesterday afternoon brought a very prompt response, inasmuch as Mr. Mayo, Route Superintendent, and Mr. E. A. Brown, the Agent here, called to see us before the entire issue was printed off, to tell us that we were behind the times, as the car referred to had been put on the train referred to ever since the first of the month. We are glad to know that this car has been placed on the route, and cheerfully make public a piece of information the knowledge of which seems to have been confined to a select few, viz., those who accidentally found it out for themselves.

This car will prove a matter of much convenience and accommodation to the people of this section. Fruit, berries, &c., can now be picked in the afternoon and forwarded direct to Richmond and Baltimore, arriving at the former place in time for the early morning market, and at Washington and Baltimore later in the day. It remains for our truckers to take advantage of these facts.

The Cornet Concert Club.
The following is a correct list of the members of the Wilmington Concert Club, with the instruments upon which they perform:
J. E. Willson, Leader, E. flat cornet.
S. A. Schloss, Solo, B. flat cornet.
S. L. Alderman, Piccolo.
D. B. Mitchell, 1st B. flat cornet.
D. B. Burkholder, 2nd B. flat cornet.
L. J. Otterbourg, Solo Alto.
J. Greenwald, 1st Alto.
W. H. Carr, 1st Alto.
W. L. DeRosset, 2nd Alto.
W. C. Craft, 2nd Alto.
George R. Dyer, 1st Tenor.
R. H. Grant, 2nd Tenor.
W. C. Munds, 2nd Tenor.
J. D. Smith, 1st Baritone.
S. W. Saunders, Tuba.
C. G. Hall, Tuba.
S. D. Willson, Bass Drum.
W. T. Johnson, Snare Drum.

The club, under the direction and instruction of Prof. Mason, has made marked progress, of which the members have excellent reason to be proud.

Pugilistic.

The Ryan Combination, through their agent, Mr. Williams, make a liberal offer to those who would like to try their fistic skill at the Opera House to-morrow night. The sum of $250 is worth working for. There is every promise of a crowded house to see the well known celebrities in the fistic arena, and witness their display of science in the "manly art of self-defense." We hear it stated to-day that there are quite a number residing in the city who would be able to cope with them and the opportunity will be given to any of all such to-morrow night.

Commencement.
Thanks to Capt. C. B. Deussen, the Principal, for an invitation to attend the annual commencement of the Pittsboro Scientific Academy, to take place on Tuesday, 27th inst. The committee of invitation is composed of Messrs. Henry A. London, Jr., Wm. A. Pope, and Lee A. Deussen and Misses M. Emma Burns, Mary W. Moore and Susie J. Foushee. Messrs. Samuel P. Hatch, Robert L. Gattis and John H. London are the Marshals.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
OPERA HOUSE.
THURSDAY NIGHT, MAY 15
Don't Fail to See It!

THE GRAND SPARRING MATCH at the Opera House to-morrow evening. Positively the most thrilling and exciting event of the season, in which America's Favorite Light Weight proposes to amuse the public with feats of activity and science never before witnessed in these regions. Then comes the famous MIKE CLEARY, who, sometimes in the near future, bids fair to take our modern giant the belt and championship worn so long and arduously. Then comes our Middle Weight, PAT O'BRIEN, who has astounded the country with his alacrity and hard hitting.

The above, followed by other notables, promise Wilmington a pleasure in sporting life they seldom have an opportunity of experiencing, and those wishing to have a pleasant evening's enjoyment should not fail to see them to-morrow evening.

Doors open at 7:30 o'clock; performance commences at 8:30. Tickets at box office.
Popular prices of admission.
