The Daily Review has the largest circulation, of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Ex-Governor Blackburn, who is a physician, has established a sanitarium near Louisville Ky.

When the will of the late Michael T.
Bass, the English brewer, was proved a fortnight ago the personality was sworn to at $9,000,000.

General O. E. Babcock is supposed to have left an estate valued at nearly $1,000,000. His family have gone to Chicago, where they will reside temporarily with a relative.

Miss Florence St. John, the leading comic opera singer in London, where she readily earns $500 a week, has refused an offer of Manager John A. Mc-Call to come to America to sing.

Mr. Gladstone and Cardinal Manning both express regrets that their age is such as to put out of the question their ever visiting this country, and say they have but one more journey to make.

A Philadelphia paper predicts that Mr. Blaine's next book will be "What I Know about Bolis, Bolters and being Bolted." The New York Times thinks it will not take him twenty years to learn all there is to be known about that.

Carlyle's cottage at Ecclefechan is to be retained in the family's possession.
Mrs. Alexander Aiken Carlyle, who has just bought it, will put it in good order and then make it a storehouse for all the relics of the dead man that she can collect.

A new steamboat, to be called, like her predecessor, the Maid of the Mist, has been contracted for, and will be ready next year to take tourists up to the foot of the Niagara Falls. One of the features of this season is to be the wending of a vessel over the falls.

King Theebaw, of Burmah, has solved the problem vexing England for many years—that of marrying a deceased wife's sister. He first recognized the necessity of having a deceased wife; he poisoned her and his mother-in-law, and then married the sister.

Miss Constance Lloyd, now Mrs.
Wilde, the wife of Oscar, wore a wedding gown that was merely fashionable, not artistic. The saffron-hued garment was discarded in favor of a creamy brocade and satin robe, made by one of the best known French dressmakers.

Alexander Mitchell, the Scotch banker of Milwaukee, who is believed to be worth anywhere from $25,000,000, to $50,000,000 is a thick-set 100-pound man of sixty, very hospitable, and famous for his hot-house fruits and his flower gardens, claimed to be the finest in the West.

It is stated as a fact that Secretary Lincoln will not support the Blaine and Logan ticket. He likes Logan, but can't endure Blaine. This is rather an awkward position for a young man who for several months was mentioned more than any other for the second place on the ticket with Blaine.

The Maori King is being lionized in London in a small way, though he is so poor that he has to lodge in a fourth-rate boarding house. He wears ordinary English costume, but has a shark's tooth suspended from his right ear and four fishbones hanging from his breast.
His high rank entitles him to be more elaborately tattooed than any of his suite.

Gen. John B. Gordon, one of the few men ever known to resign willingly a seat in the United States Senate, has become a regular optimist in regard to the future of the man and brother. Said Gen. Gordon in New York the other day: "The negro is today the most favorably circumstanced, the best fed and the most independent laborer to be found, not only in this country, but in the civilized world."

The man who probably did more to bring about Blaine's nomination than any other one man was Stephen B.
Elkins, of whom Dorsey says: "S. B.
Elkins has probably a larger knowledge than any other person of all the Star-route matters and the money paid. George E. Spencer demanded of the late J. W. Bosler and myself $12,000 to pay to Mr. Elkins, for the purpose of avoiding indictment and prosecution." Mr. Elkins is the manager of the Blaine machine, and the pleasing "character" that Dorsey gives him is sufficient proof that he is quite fit for the work to be done.

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VIII.

WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, JUNE 20, 1884.

NO. 147

The Chicago News, in searching into General Logan's ante-bellum record, finds that this idol of the negroes was a rabid Democratic negro hater. It charges him with being the author of the law, which passed the Illinois Legislature in 1853, prohibiting negroes, whether bond or free, from entering that State with the intention of residing therein. For a violation of the law, negroes were to be fined $50 for the first offense, and the fine was increased $50 for each subsequent offense.

more Md., wrenched his knee and was cured by St. Jacobs Oil, the great pain reliever.

Slight Fire.
There was a slight fire yesterday afternoon on the roof of the one story framed dwelling on the South side of Dawson street, between Front and Second. The house was occupied by a colored family and the flames were promptly extinguished by the neighbors before any considerable damage had been done. No general alarm was sounded.

Quite Sick.
We regret to learn that Rev. Kenneth McDonald, who preached last Sunday morning and night at the Second Presbyterian church, is quite sick and confined to his room at the residence of his cousin, Dr. A. D. McDonald, on the corner of Hanover and Sixth streets.
He complained of being very unwell on Sunday and it was only by a great effort that he was enabled to get through with the services of the day.

A Rare Sandwich.
There will be gay times at the Seaside Park Hotel this afternoon and tonight. At 4.30 o'clock there is to be a match game of base ball between the "Seaside Park" and the "Old North State" nines. At the conclusion of the game the Cornet Concert Club will give a concert in the Pavilion, after which there will be a grand ball in which the ladies and gentlemen of this city and vicinity will participate. It is a very pleasant arrangement; a musical concert sandwiched between a grand base ball and a dancing ball, and it makes us want to bawl to think that our duties to the public will not permit us to attend.

An Escaped Convict.
John James, colored, an escaped convict, was arrested on the steamer Bladen yesterday by officers Strode and Carr, and taken to the Sheriff's office and thence to the county jail to await the arrival of an officer to take him back to South Carolina, where he was convicted of manslaughter for killing a man in Chesterfield county, in that State. For this offense he was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary and afterwards put at work upon one of the railroads of the State, whence he made his escape. He acknowledged that he was the man, but declared that he would not work upon the road again as he was treated badly there.

Every Farmer ought to get a "Boy Clipper Plow," greatest invention of the age. JACOB'S is the Agent.

Home Again.
Wilmington Steam Fire Engine Co., No. 1, arrived here last night on the 8.35 train from Newbern. They were met at the Front street depot by Howard Relief Steam Fire Engine Co., No. 1, Hook & Ladder Co., No. 1, and by the honorary members of their own company. These latter were provided with torchlights, and in a torchlight procession they escorted the returning firemen to their Hall, the line of march being down Front street to Market, up Market to Fourth and up Fourth to the Engine House on the corner of Fourth and Princess streets. The streets along the line of march were thronged with ladies, gentlemen and children who welcomed the returning firemen with the waving of handkerchiefs and frequent and vociferous cheers. The confectionery establishment of Messrs. E.
J. Moore & Co., Harris' News Store and Briggs' Pharmacy, on Front street, were brilliantly illuminated, and the dry goods store and residence of Col. J. J.
Hedrick, on Market street, right opposite the REVIEW office, was in a blaze of light and beautifully decorated in honor of their arrival, a compliment which was duly acknowledged by hearty cheers given by the firemen. On their arrival at the engine hall, Capt.
John Cowan bid them a cordial "Welcome Home," in a neat and appropriate speech, after which they partook of a bountiful collation prepared for them by the Howard Relief, and to which all did ample justice. These important exercises having been accomplished, speeches and toasts were in order for a short time, when the throng dispersed.

INCIDENTS OF THE TRIP.
There was but one opinion among the Little Giants and the Concert Club this morning, and that was, that they all had enjoyed "a high old time," or as one expressed it, "a jounibuxious time." There seemed to be a spirit of emulation and rivalry among the people of Newbern to see who could do the most and best for the entertainment and pleasure of their guests. Horses and vehicles were in readiness at any and all hours to convey our firemen around the city. Yachts and sailing boats were put in requisition for sailing sport. A railroad ride to Morehead City and thence by boats to Beaufort was gotten up, the excursion being made more interesting by the company of ladies. Returning from Beaufort, they took supper at Morehead and then returned to Newbern highly delighted with their trip and completely entranced with the fare (fair). At night parties were gotten up by the citizens, which were enlivened by the presence of beautiful ladies, and to which the "Little Giants" were cordially invited. We are not prepared to say that any of the firemen or band gave their hearts to the fair maidens of Newbern, but we are aware that nearly all of the former lost their badges and the latter their medals while absent, many of which adorned the dresses of the fair maidens aforesaid. There was an unequivocal, whole-hearted, generous hospitality extended to our firemen which they fully appreciate, which can hardly be expressed in spoken language. It will live in their memories, however, as an oasis in the desert of life, and they will gratefully remember in coming years the many pleasures they experienced at the bountiful hands and noble hearts of the fair daughters and gallant sons of our good sister city of Newbern.

Puck Employs a Telegraph Boy.

Mr. James Anderson, formerly a telegraph operator in Wilmington, passed through the city yesterday on his way to New York City, where he goes to take a position on Puck, the famous illustrated paper of that city.
Mr. Anderson, it appears, is what might be termed a natural born artist. Some time ago he drew a cartoon representing Col. L. C. Jones trying to persuade a friend to go up the Carolina Central with him. Puck heard of him, some of his samples were submitted, and the result was his engagement as an artist for that paper. We wish him success and fame with his pencil, and look to see him get in some good ones on Blaine this Summer.—Charlotte Observer.

Our neighbor has got the thing pretty much mixed. Mr. Anderson did not pass through Charlotte to go North, and he has not been engaged on Puck. He has gone to New York, and that is the one point of fact with which our neighbor is to be credited. Mr. Anderson is employed in the Western Union office in New York, and his object in going there is to spend his spare hours in studying at Cooper Institute. He may have ambitions Puck-wards, but he has not yet reached that height.
Now is the time to give Smith's Worm Oil.

The Fire Parade and Test.

We copy from the Newbern Journal its report of the fire parade in that city on Wednesday last and the test of engines:

The several fire companies formed yesterday in procession, and the streets, all named in the programme, were passed through. The display was grand and citizens were out all along the line of march to get a view of the pageant. Three bands of music enlivened the march and swelled the crowd on the sidewalks with those who were too much entranced by the beautiful strains floating through the air to think of the discomfort and fatigue they were undergoing to enjoy it. At an early hour the "wise and prudent" began to assemble at the foot of Craven street, where the test was to come off. They did this no doubt to select a "good place to see," and it was amusing to see the variety of opinions on that important point, and the readiness with which one well situated would consent to move at the suggestion of some one who thought they had found a better place. Moving and removing was the order of the day among the constantly increasing crowd of spectators until the engines arrived and their several positions taken.

The Wilmington Little Giant occupied the right, the New Bern the centre and the Atlantic, Elijah Ellis the left. The Mary Alice of Goldsboro, declining to enter the competition, was withdrawn and driven to its quarters.
The test was to be the first water thrown fifty feet from the nozzle through fifty feet of hose, making one hundred feet from the machine. The Wilmington company selected Mayor Hall, the Newbern, Robert Hancock, Jr., and Atlantic, Major D. T. Carryway, to be the judges. Planks were laid across the street at the measured distance, the crowd pressed back and a representative of each company in position to guard the marks so that no sliding of the plank or other interference with the fairness of the test should take place.

When everything was in readiness the match was applied to the kindling and the black volumes of smoke indicated that steam would soon be raised; the waiting time was short, for in four minutes and twenty-six seconds the Little Giant began to send forward a stream and the Elijah Ellis followed in seven seconds.

The first water thrown beyond the planks was so clearly that no contention whatever was had over the award.
When the Little Giant started the stream, the Wilmington boys sent up a cheer that was caught up by bystanders until the welkin rang. The colored driver, Nick, became perfectly wild with enthusiasm, rushed through the stream, grabbing up members of the successful company and tossing them about like toys. In fact it was thought that his namesake, Old Nick, would have been seen from those powerful machines turning streams into the overheated precincts of his dominion.

The Foreman of the Goldsboro Company, Capt. Lamb, states that he did not enter into the competition for the reason that, he understood that it was agreed before that inasmuch as the first agreement for a test on the three points; first stream, greatest distance through two hundred and fifty feet of hose, and then through five hundred feet had been abandoned, that there would be no prize competed for, but only a trial of the engines; but after the engines were on the spot a new agreement was made between the Newbern and Wilmington companies to test on the first water thrown fifty feet from the nozzle through fifty feet of hose, and as he was not prepared for that, and in fact regarded it only a competition between the Elijah Ellis and Little Giant, he declined to sign the agreement and ordered his engine to its quarters.

About three o'clock the four companies, accompanied by a number of citizens, a host of ladies and a group of widowers, took the train for Morehead, where a supper was spread and the prizes awarded. The Editor is along and will give a full account of the "Res Gestae."

(Special to Journal, from Morehead.) Delightful time at the supper table.
Phil. Holland, in a neat little speech, presented, on the part of the firemen of Newbern, to the Wilmington Steam Fire Engine Company No. 1, a beautiful silver trumpet, which was received by Foreman, E. G. Parmelee, with appropriate remarks. After supper a banquet was had and the following toasts and responses given: Our Guests, responded to by J. W. Moore; Wilmington, by Mayor Hall; Goldsboro, by Capt. Lamb; Newbern, by Mayor Meadows; The Fire Department of Nor h Carolina, by John S. Manix.
The Press, by H. S. Nunn; The Ladies, by A. W. Wood; The Fisheries, by Geo. N. Ives; The Old North State, by W. H. Oliver. Grand jollification. The cutter Colfax is here, and the officers, by invitation, participated.

Confederate Corn.

The sale of Confederate corn, which was continued from yesterday, was resumed at the Produce Exchange at 12.30 o'clock this afternoon. The attendance was very small, and only one bag was sold, from which $9 realized.
The sale will probably be resumed tomorrow when it is hoped that there may be a large attendance and spirited bidding to give interest to the occasion and assistance to the cause.

Organized.

The Democratic Executive Committee of New Hanover County, met at the Court House in this city, at 10 o'clock this forenoon. The temporary chairman, Mr. J. W. King, called the meeting to order.

On motion, Mr. J. W. King, the temporary chairman, was made permanent chairman.

On motion of Mr. O. G. Parsley, Jr., the offices of Secretary and Treasurer were consolidated.

Mr. Gabriel Holmes was elected Secretary and Treasurer.

The meeting adjourned, subject to the call of the Chairman.

A Merited Tribute.

The Congregation B'nai Israel, of Tarboro, gave a concert in the Opera House, in that city on the 11th inst., for the purpose of raising funds with which to finish their Synagogue. It was successful both musically and financially. Mrs. D. B. Kahnweiler, of this city, whose charming vocalism has so often delighted our music loving citizens, was present and gave eclat to the entertainment by her sweet and cultur-ed voice. The Tarboro Southern, of the 19th inst., in speaking of the entertainment, pays a glowing tribute to Mrs. Kahnweiler's superb vocal powers in the following language:

Particularly grateful were all lovers of music to Mrs. Kahnweiler, of Wilmington, for her appearance on this occasion. Mrs. Kahnweiler was the prima donna of the evening, and she is unquestionably an artist of rare vocal powers. Her voice is crystal, clear, certain, smooth and limpid and ascends to the highest point of vocal attainment without the least perceptible effort.

It is a mistake to suppose that the highest art cannot be appreciated without study. The delight and applause of the audience, and their repeated encore of Mrs. Kahnweiler last week, is a sufficient refutation of this idea. Before and after each of her renditions the audience was enthusiastic in its applause.

Harnett.

EDITOR REVIEW:—Harnett township, the largest tax-paying township in the county of New Hanover, is a live section of our country. In this township is located every foot of the turnpike road with all of the fine residences and resorts of Greenville and Wrightsville, besides beautiful farms and truck gardens spread out from the city to the Sound. The farming people are attending closely to their crops and have fine prospects before them. They talk but little of politics, but when a Democratic meeting is called they never fail to give it their attention.

In passing through, via the Newbern road, on a bulletin board at Macomber's Store, you will see many notices, one of which, written in a fine, large round hand, attracted my attention. It was:

"Waddell for Congress for One hundred years."

And this seems to be the sentiment of the people on the seacoast, as well as in the mountain section of our grand old State.

Pender County Democratic Executive Committee.

The meeting elected Executive Committeemen immediately after the ad-journalment of the County Convention on the 16th inst., when the following gentlemen were elected from the various townships, to serve on the Executive convention for the ensuing term: Caswell—John R. Paddison.
Caintuck—W. J. Flynn.
Union—Edwin Fennell.
Holly—J. R. Bannerman.
Grant—J. W. Sidbury.
Rocky Point—T. A. McLeadon.
Lincoln—J. Quincey Bell.
Columbia—R. H. Murphy.
Holden—W. M. Hand.
The Committee organized by electing Mr. John R. Paddison Chairman, and Edwin Fennell, Esq., Secretary.
The committee then adjourned, subject to the call of the Chairman.

JOHN R. PADDISON, Chairman.
EDWIN FENNEL, Secretary.

The Druggist.

Man's next best friend is the druggist.
He mitigates life's ills, He sells us plasters for our backs,
And our prescriptions fills.

When we go moaning round about With any kind of pain, He's quick to find a panacea That makes us well again.

If there's no money in our purse, There's kindness in his heart, He'll with compassion ease our pain In peace let us depart.

Such is the druggist you will meet,
At least such I have met, You ask their names? Well, these are they,
