THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VIII. WILMINGTON, N. C., MONDAY, JUNE 23, 1884. NO. 149

The Daily Review has the largest news file circulation, of any newspaper published, in the city of Wilmington.

M. Pradice, a Frenchman, did not get married until after he was 100 years old. He used often to refer to the first happy 100 years of his life.

A pet alligator bit a man in a New York saloon Friday. In a few minutes the reptile was dead. There are some things that even an alligator cannot stand.

Charles Neville, the self-styled baronet, of Canada and the United States, has been indicted in Toledo, Ohio, by the grand jury, for bigamy. He is charged with having several wives living.

The New York World publishes vignettes of the "Democratic Presidential Timber for Chicago," and sticks in the ugly mug of squint-eyed Beast Butler. It is hard on the gentlemen whom it groups with him.

Miss Maud Banks, daughter of General N. P. Banks, recently made her first appearance on the amateur dramatic stage. In her father a pretty good actor was spoiled to make a poor general.

Flax culture is exciting a good deal of interest in Louisiana, and a new machine intended to prepare the fibre for market without waiting the slow process of water rotting, has been invented.

A New York sculptor has just finished a bust in clay of Mr. Blaine, preparatory to reproducing it in plaster. The bust was modelled from life and the sculptor has a letter from Mr. Blaine pronouncing his work satisfactory.

Father Beckx, for many years past the rector general of the Society of Jesus, has definitely retired therefrom. He is succeeded by Father Auderlady, who has already entered on the discharge of his duties. Father Beckx is now ninety years of age.

Philadelphia consumes 72,000,000 gallons of water per day, or about two barrels for each man, woman and child in the city. The greater part of this water is said to be wasted, and it is estimated that the supply is sufficient for a city of over 2,000,000 inhabitants.

Lizzie Bradley, at White Cloud, Dauphin county, was on Saturday on her 46th day of deliberate fasting. She is 36 years old and the daughter of a well-to-do Englishman. On account of a quarrel with her father, she has refused to eat or speak for over six weeks.

Milais, writes a London correspondent, is a rather tall, slight, fresh-complexioned man, who never comes into a room or goes out, but rather flows in and out like a fresh breeze. Hearty and undevotional, a witty and easy conversationalist, he is a most agreeable companion.

The negative vote in the House of Representatives on the recommendation of the Appropriation Committee to non-concur in the Senate amendment increasing the carrier service, will enable the Postoffice Department to enlarge the carrier force in the several cities by 300. The additional force will be put on in July.

We do not know that any result will be reached at this session of Congress in regard to Hon. W. J. Green's bill for the removal of the tax on tobacco and on spirits distilled from fruit. The matter was brought up in the Democratic caucus last Tuesday night by Mr. Tucker, of Virginia, who urged that the bill be taken up and passed, but no decision seems to have been arrived at.

It is suggested that if the bar is to have any weight in determining the choice of the Democratic candidate for President, Stephen J. Field ought not to be overlooked. He is worth about $750,000 and he has two brothers who are among the richest men in the country. Cyrus W. Field is often spoke of as worth $30,000,000 and David Dudley Field is worth anywhere from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000.

The sub-committee on arrangements of the National Democratic Committee have issued a card, in which they state that the tickets of admission to the National Convention at Chicago will be distributed according to certain rules, and cannot be given as a favor to any one. Each delegate will have six tickets for distribution to the public. Applications by newspapers for desk privileges, it is stated, should be made prior to June 30.

Great damage is being done on both sides of the Rio Grande by the overflow of that river. The town of Presidita, Texas, has been nearly destroyed.

The greatest distance ever ridden on a bicycle without dismounting is stated to be 230 miles and 469 yards. The feat was accomplished in London in 1880.

NASHVILLE, TENN.—The Daily World, says: St. Jacobs Oil is highly recommended by all who have tried it. Its curative properties are wonderful.

Fullest assortment of Fishing Tackle can be found at JACOBI'S.

There was only one bale of cotton received at this port to-day.

Eggs were sold at six dozen for a dollar this morning at some of our grocery stores.

It has been one of those very dull days when all sorts of news was scarce and not to be obtained.

Yesterday was another hot day, but it did not hinder the presence of large congregations at the different churches.

There is a bush meeting in progress at the Athletic Club Grounds, at which exercises are kept up until nearly daylight.

Col. R. R. Moore has so far recovered from his late severe illness as to be upon our streets for a short time this afternoon.

Dr. E. W. Ward, of Onslow, is in the city to-day in attendance on the closing exercises of the St. James Seminary, where his daughters are at school.

We invite the attention of our citizens to the fact that first quality shirts are being made to order at one dollar at the Wilmington Shirt Factory.

There seems to be nothing now in the shape of amusement until the Fourth of July, when everybody will want to go out of town to have fun.

There will be an important meeting of the Seaside Park Base Ball Club, at Messrs. Jno. W. Gordon & Smith's office, this evening at 7 o'clock.

The Republicans of the Fifth Ward will organize a Blaine and Logan club to-night at the trunk house on Ninth street, between Castle and Queen.

The moon changed this morning at 19 minutes past 12 o'clock, but the rain so confidently predicted by many as a consequence thereof has not yet arrived.

The examinations of the pupils of Misses Barr & James' School are now in progress and will continue until Wednesday, when the closing exercises will be held.

The hour of holding the Sunday School of the First Baptist church has been changed, and commencing next Sunday, it will convene at 9.30 a. m., instead of at 4 p. m., as heretofore.

This weather suggests the importance of thoroughly disinfecting all premises, back lots and stables in order to avoid disease. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," is an axiom peculiarly adapted to the season, and we hope that it may be heeded.

The Chautauqua movement has been extended to include the young folks, who already have a "Reading Union." They are now to have an illustrated periodical of high character, which will be issued in July by the Publishers of the far-famed Wide Awake magazine, D. Lothrop & Co., Boston, who will send it free for two months to any of our readers who may request it.

For Convention.

The following delegates to the State Convention will leave here for Raleigh on to-night's Carolina Central train: Maj. C. M. Stedman, Hon. S. H. Fishplate and Messrs. T. W. Strange and J. C. Lumsden. The remainder of the delegates will not leave until to-morrow night.

The Prize.
The silver speaking trumpet, won by the "Little Giants" in the recent competitive trial of engines at Newbern, was on exhibition to-day at Mr. Geo. Honnet's jewelry establishment, on Market street. It is a beautiful instrument, and one of which the Company has every reason to be proud.

Ladies Benevolent Society.
The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Benevolent Society, called for early this month, being too thinly attended for the full transaction of business, it is earnestly desired that all the visitors and others interested should meet on Tuesday next, the 24th inst., at 5 o'clock, in Miss Annie Hart's school room, on Third street. This announcement is made at the request of the President.

The Right Ticket.
The Ladies of Front Street M. E. Church propose to give one of their usually enjoyable excursions down the river on Wednesday, the 25th inst. They will serve dinner on board. Last year their tables were fine. They propose now to have boiled ham, fried chicken, deviled crab, chicken salad, boiled tongue and all sorts of good things. Those who want a good day will do well to go on Wednesday.

City Court.
The first case for the Mayor's consideration this morning was Louis Bourjer, a sailor, who was charged with disorderly conduct. He was fined $5 for the offence.

James Bunk, also a sailor, for disorderly conduct, was fined $3.

Jane Bunting and Elsie Bunting, colored, and mother and daughter, were charged with disorderly conduct on Saturday night. The former was discharged and the latter was fined $5 for her offence.

Thieves' Work.
Some time between 12 o'clock and 7 o'clock yesterday morning some scamp broke a pane of glass in one of the windows of Mr. J. F. A. Reaves' 5 and 10 cents store on South Second street, and stole such articles as could be reached, the whole amounting to $3 or $4. Mr. Reaves has no idea as to who was the thief and had no knowledge that he had been robbed until the fact of the broken window was called to his attention yesterday morning.

Dividing the Funds.
News and Observer: On Thursday Hon. Geo. Davis and Col. S. L. Fremont, of Wilmington, on the part of the Diocese of East Carolina, and Col. W. E. Anderson and Mr. R. H. Battle, on the part of the Diocese of North Carolina, together with the treasurers of the two dioceses, Mr. Chas. E. Johnson and Dr. A. J. DeRosset, met in Raleigh by appointment and divided the funds and securities of the undivided diocese of North Carolina equally between the two.

A New Method.
Mr. J. R. Turrentine, corner of Dock and South Water streets, showed us this morning the different stages through which wheat passes before it becomes flour, by a new patent process, recently invented. By the process the old-fashioned and time-honored millstones are superseded and the flour is made by passing through a series of rollers. There are 23 of these rollers through which the wheat consecutively passes until it is changed from the raw material to flour fitted for consumption. We saw samples of it in every stage of preparation, and it was quite an interesting exhibition.

Col. Waddell in Laurinburg.
The Laurinburg Exchange thus speaks of the address delivered in that town on the 12th inst., by Hon. A. M. Waddell, at the Laurinburg High School Commencement:

Col. Waddell was most happily introduced by Maj. John D. Shaw, as the brave soldier, the able Congressman, the eloquent orator and first Southern man invited to address the Grand Army of the Republic. After thanking the Major for his compliments, the Colonel referred to the fact that he had been requested not to speak on Education or Agriculture, and proceeded to the delivery of a very able and instructive discourse. He beautifully discussed science and scientists, in which he revealed the fact that he was at home amid the stars, on the ocean wave, in the bowels of the earth, or in the lecture rooms of philosophers of this or past ages. His gift of oratory is so great that his forty-five minutes discourse seemed but half the time to his large audience. Hence he may feel assured that he highly entertained and instructed his attentive audience, thus sustaining his reputation as one of North Carolina's most gifted and eloquent sons. He put a feather in his cap for future honors. Now is the time to give Smith's Worm Oil.
