THERE.

There the warm spuset sank. Over the sea: There the light wavelets broke. there the low breezes spoke, There the eye's magic woke, Rapture for both of us. You, love, and me.

There the gray morning rose, Over the sea; There the thick raindrops fell. There the wind's moaning swell, Murmured larewell, farewell! Sorrow for both of us, You, love, and me.

There the gay noontide shines Glittering yet; There we once vowed and wept; There grief on gladness crept; Have you the record kept? Mem'ries for both of us. For-I forget.

A Would-be Pensioner!

At a club dinner in New York recently au examining surgeon related the following incident, showing how the arrears act developed pensioners out of sound and undeserving men. During from Goldsboro to Wilmington. the war he was surgeon of an infantry regiment. When the regiment first went into battle he observed, sitting behind a big tree, at a safe distance from the fighting line, the captain of one of the companies.

"What are you doing here, captain?" asked the doctor. "I'm not feeling well," replied the officer in a doleful voice.

The surgeon was too busy looking after the wounded to stop and inquire as to his complaint. A few weeks later the regiment again got under fire and the surgeon found the same captain skulking behind a barn.

"Helfo! sick again?" he exclaimed. "Well, the fact is, doctor, I'm not $15 00 and $5 00. exactly sick. I may as well own up that I'm a coward. There's no help for it. It must be constitutiona. Now, doctor, what's the use of my staying in the army? Won't you help me get a

The surgeon thought he was doing the country a service when, a few days afterward, he recommended that the man be discharged on the ground of general disability, He heard nothing $1.00. md well made, sure not to rip or tear, of the captain until sixteen years later. when he received a letter from the pension office informing him that Captain Blank had applied for a pension from the date of his muster out, and that as he, as surgeon of the regiment, had certified to the disability, would be kindly inform the government as to the nature of the disease from which the officer suffered? The surgeon replied that the eaptain's complaint was chronic and incurable cowardice, not contracted in the line of his duty, but constitutional. The captain's name did not go upon the roll, and his plan for getting some up by one lady. $10.00 and $5.00. four thousand dollars for arrears and twenty dollars a month for the rest of his life came to grief. Hay Fever. Sneezing as a pastime-as who should take snuff-and sneezing as a necessity -as who should catch hay-fever-are widely different things. Dr. Morell Mackenzie, of throat celebrity, has therefore come to the rescue of all martyrs to hay-fever. He has published a pamphlet on the subject, not merely with a view of inducing people to take advice, which I believe is the object of most medical pamphlets, but with the view of giving information, and even advice itself, very much to the purpose. Theinformation is curious and exhausttve. Hay-fever, it seems, like influenza and cholera, did not occur in Europe in the good old times-it was one of the many blessings in the shape of brandnew diseases reserved to gladden the hearts of the nineteenth century doctors, and to lead patients to them, literally through their noses. I will not dwell upon the description of this irritating complaint, which the doctor gives at some length and with considerable gusto. Those who have got hay fever can do without it, and those who have hitherto escaped need not be harrowed up before their time. Bostock, in 1000 Prizes of 1819, first described it; Elliotson did so Mulberries .- Best collection, $2.00 in 1831, and after him Phœbus, of Giessen.
