The value of foreign fruits entered for consumption at the port of New York last year was estimated at $5,-530,734, on which the duty paid was $951,924. The Mediterranean trade is increasing, from year to year, as well as the trade from South America.

While not yet assuming the character of an epidemic, the cholera is spreading over Europe and causing much alarm. Toulon and Marseilles are the principal centers of disease, as yet, but scattered cases are reported from various parts of the continent.

Senator Voorhees, on his return from Indiana, was interviewed by reporter of the Washington Post. He declared that the Democratic party of Indiana is in better condition than he has seen it before in twenty-five years on the eve of a Presidential campaign.

A youthful appearing couple have been detected in a strange conspiracy to obtain money. They visited different cities as single persons, obtained positions in society, courted each other and were married. In every case the wed. ding presents amounted to handsome amounts.

John Giddon, stenographer, recently reported the proceedings of a House of Commons committee five hours a day for forty-one days, the inquiry embracing/ 25,367 questions and answers, which, written out, covered 2,365 foolscap pages, and the completed report was pronounced a model, almost a mar vel, of accuracy.

The public debt was reduced $10,-000,000 during June, and $100,000,000 during the fiscal year that closed with the month. This lessens the interest charge over $3,000,000 annually. # THE DATIN REVIEW.

VOL. VIII. WILMINGTON. N. C., WEDNESDAY, JULY 9, 1884.

NO. 162

A Brooklyn man has challenged the world for a swim of ten miles for $1,-

Mr. Tilden has declared most positively that he will not accept the nomination it tendered him by acctamation. That ought to settle it

In the Convention at Chicago to-day, in permanent organization, W. S. Vilas, of Wisconsin, was made President of the Convention. Tammany Hall charge. attempted to kick, but was sat down upon by the Convention. Proceeded to the call of States for the presentation of candidates. No names were presented until Delaware was reached, when Geo. Gray, of that State, presented the name of Bayard, which was received with great enthusiasm. Gov. Hendricks, of Indiana, placed McDonald in nomination amied wild applause and his name was seconded by Gen. Black, of Illinois, John W. Breckenridge, of California, presented the name of Thurman, of Ohio, and a delegate from Kentucky presented the hame of Carlisle. This is as far as the call of States had proceeded when our report closed.

It is plainly evident that the delegates from the South take but little stock in John Kelley and the Tammany traitors, and with excellent reason. The more questionable methods adopted by J. K. and T. T. are fast wearing out the patience of the party all over the country. Kelley would rather rule in hell than serve in heaven and if he cannot have his way in all things he threatens to pull | was in feeble health when he came here down the house about the ears of the par-

New York World's Chicago correspondence which shows not only the opinion that the North Carolina delegates hold as to Tammany but that they are not to be deterred in making that opinion

One of the Tammany missionary squads which had been assigned to duty among the doubtful delegations entered the North Carelina headquarters and began an argument or diatribe against Cleveland. He was asked if he belonged to Tammany, and on his Carolina desired to hear nothing from the source that he represented and that New York would confer a favor upon Democracy at large if it would wash its dirty linen at home. In short, he was put out. This did not imply that North Carolina was for Cleveland, but it was merely the outcropping of the animosity engendered in the Southern States by the events of the Conventions of 1876 and 1880. The World correspondent was a witness to three other colloquies between Tammany agents and Southern delegates, and it was really laughable to see how the latter bristled up and championed Cleveland merely because he was opposed by Tammany.

The Passport took down a large party of pleasure seekers yesterday and still another large party to-day, and yet neither was an excursion day, the boat making her usual and regular trips.

There is a new postoffice in the Topsail section. It is located ten miles from the city and is called Mosely, in compliment to our good friend Capt Nixon is the postmaster.

The bulletin board in front of the telegraph office has been an object of much attention during the day. Anxious citizens paid no heed to the sun's rays simply voice popular sentiment, as while looking for news from the Democratic Convention at Chicago.

Capt. C. M. Harriss and Mr. W. T. Johnson have decided to "swap" business stands, and on or about th 11th inst., will remove simultaneously, each into the store now occupied by the other, both houses being located on North Front street, between Market and Princess.

In our report, in yesterday's issue, of the installation of officers, there were a couple of mistakes, which we correct to-day. It should have read, Stonewall Lodge No. 1, K. of P., instead of "K. of H." The first word in the last para. graph should have been attendants, instead of "alternates." It was written correctly, but, oh, these printers!

He will also preach at the latter church next ties. Sunday, it being the occasion of the Third Quarterly Meeting for that

Presentation. .

We notice in the Augusta Chronicle that our good friend and former fellow citizen, Capt. Paul H. Langdon, now an honored resident of Augusta, "spoke a speech" in that c'ty on Thursday, the occasion being the presentation of a handsome testimonial to Col. C. C. Jones, Jr., author of Jones' History of requested to be present. Georgia, Col. Jones was a gallant Confederate and the presentation was made by members of the Confederate Surviyors' Association of Augusta, of which he is a member. Capt Langdon, who is also a member of the Association, made the presentation speech and it was a veritable gem of eloquence.

Sudden Death.

A sailor, named Mike McCollum, died quite suddenly at about 9 e'clock last night, at No. 226 North Water street, kept by George E. Burden, colored. The deceased tramped from Savannah, where he had left his vessel. and arrived here on the 27th ult. He and in a very destitute condition, but was not considered seriously ill until Here is a little clipping from the yesterday morning where he was taken with a congestive chill from which he never rallied. He was about 45 years of age, was a Catholic, and Rev. Father Moore, of St. Thomas's Catholic Church, administered the last sad rites to the dying man.

Some Suggestions.

We, with many others, took the occasion offered by the recent national holiday, to make a trip to Smithville on the steamer Passport. The boat was affirmative reply he was told with thronged, but everything was as barely a show of courtesy that North pleasant and agreeable as though only pleasant and agreeable as though only a small family party was on board. The boat is a gem and Capt. Harper did all in his power to make the trip agreeable to all concerned. Arriving at Smithville we noticed that nearly all who disembarked repaired at once to the Pavilion of the Hotel Brunswick, where they could enjoy the delightful breeze without the dazzling glare and extreme heat of the sun. In getting from the boat the passenger's were compelled to trayel through the sand quite a distance to reach the Pavilion. which was quite an inconvenience, especially with those who had small children and infants to care for, and we wondered wby the steamer did not stop at the wharf opposite the Hotel Brunswick, and near the Pavilion, by which all this inconvenience and annoyance chuld be obviated. We learn that, recently, when a large party of ladies and gentlemen from this city went down to Smithville for the express purpose of engaging in a dance at the Pavilion and a supper at Hotel Brunswick, the boat, which arrived and left there in the night, stopped at her regular wharf, and the passengers were compelled to walk thro' the sand and grass all this distance to get to the Pavilicn. much to the annoyance of all and with decided detriment to the dresses of the young lady passengers. We learn further that the Passport can have the use of the hotel wharf free of all charge, and we hope the offer may be accepted. We feel assured that Capt Harper, who is ever vigilant for the safety, comfort and convenience of his desired change, and we believe that it do so. We are not alone in this. We will be shown by the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted > mentioned: Pussport are indebted to Captain J. T. Harper, a gallant captain, efficient offie r and clever gentleman, for a day of and trusty steamer, the Passport.

Resolved, That the pleasure of excur sionists would be heightened and their convenienced increase by the steamer stopping at the wharf near the Hotel change her landing place.

A Financial Transaction.

There is one man, at least, in this city who believes in the construction and early completion of the proposed railroad from Clinton to Warsaw, and that is Col. F. W. Foster. It is a consummation to be devoutly hoped for, but we are not so sanguine as to the result. Although not a betting man, yet we put up a box of cigars this morning with Col. Foster, he maintaining that the road will be completed within ten months and we the contrary. We hope he'll win "them eigars."

Fine Crops at Shallotte.

A note from a subscriber at Shallotte tells us that the crop prospects in that section were never finer than they are now. There will be a large amount of corn raised, so large, in fact, that one farmer has been overheard expressing his fears that it would be down to ten cents a bushel next Fall. Our correspondent has no doubt that the big storm of last September is now bringing forth its legitimate fruit in the way of large crops this Summer.
