Quarantine Notice.

QUARANTINE FOR THE PORT OF Wilmington will be enforced from May 1st to November 1st, as follows:

Pilots will bring all vessels from Ports south of Cape Fear to the Quarantine anchorage; also, all vessels which have had any kind of sickness on board during the passage or on arrival, and will cause a signal to be set in the main rigging on the port side, as soon as possible after crossing the Bar

No vessel must leave the Quarantine anchorage, or allow any person, steamer or tug boat, lighter, or boat of any kind to go along side, unless by written authority from the Quarantine Physician; and every vessel must be anchored as far to the eastward of the channel as is consistent with safety.

Regulations governing vessels while in Quarantine may be had on application at the office of the Quarantine Physician at Smithville

Applications for permits to visit vessels in Quarantine must be made to Dr. Thomas F. Wood or Dr. Geo. G. Thomas, and permits so obtained will be endorsed by the Quarantine Physician, if, in his opinion, it is proper and safe to allow communication with such vessels.

A penalty of $2 0 for each and every offence, will be enforced against any person violating any of the Quarantine Regulations of the Port.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

MONDAY, AUGUST 18, 1884.

Entered at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., as second-class matter.

The subject of irrigation is being discussed in California, and the belief expressed that in some localities it is overdone, especially in grape and fruit culture. The San Francisco Post says that "copious moisture in our warm climate promotes rapid growth, but it does not permit trees and plants to mature. The wood is consequently soft and sappy and the fruit watery and insipid. So much is this the case that a great deal of the fruit and vegetables which come to market are flavorless. This is especially noticeable in the case of figs, several varieties of grapes, pears and even berries. The forcing process may yield large returns more speedily than the slower natural growth, but we doubt very much whether in the end the advantage will not be with the latter. Our opinion is that it will be. One thing is certain, however, irrigation must be regulated by some intelligent system or it will ultimately do more harm than good in the fruit belt."

Tennessee journals have been contrasting the prosperity of counties in that State which have railroad connections with the unprogressiveness of those without such advantages. This discussion has moved the Kentucky press, in some instances, to denounce the mistaken policy of the authorities of that State towards railroads. The Louisville Commercial says, for example, that Kentucky taxes its railroads on an average three times as much as Indiana, though it has but one-third as many miles of railroad as as its sister State, and needs especially to encourage the building of lines. Excessive taxation of the railroads, it says, like other shortrightedness, keeps Kentucky back. In the more remote sections of the State progress seems to impress the people painfully. These regions are careful to send men to the Legislature who will be scrupulous about removing the incumbrances which hinder the advance of the State, and will sturdily set their faces against novelties. Thus there is a constant struggle between the more enlightened citizens and the narrow or sluggish, who resent movements to open more schools as well as more roads.

There is a wonderful difference, says the News and Courier, between the present political canvass and the contests which have preceeded it during the last twenty years. This difference is in the starding fact that there are not a half dozen States in the Union on which the Republicans can rely absolutely, and which can be depended on to take care of themselves.

Heretofore, the Republicans have expected to carry the whole of the North and West as a matter of course, subject only to the necessity of making a fight in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut Indiana and Ohio. All this is changed. The Republicans this year must fight in every State in which they are accustomed to fight, and must make a desperate contest in other States where they usually have a walk-over. Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan and Wisconsin are acknowledged to be in danger. Even Kansas is not absolutely sure for Blaine. Besides this, the Republicans must work actively in Ohio to prevent that State from remaining in the Democratic column, and Massachusetts and New Hampshire need looking after. In addition to all this, the Republicans propose to make a fight in some of the Southern States. It is clear that they are scattering their fire, and stand to lose in the North and West more than they can possibly gain in the South.

New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and the Southern States have a majority of the whole electoral vote. The Democracy will certainly have, in addition, the 15 electoral votes of Indiana. Illinois has 22 electoral votes. Iowa 13, Kansas 9, Michigan 13, Wisconsin 11. Here are 68 electoral votes more which will probably be given to the Democracy, or against Blaine, without counting California, with 8 votes and Nevada with 3. To have any chance of winning, the Republicans must retain the whole of these States, together with Indiana and Ohio. Even then they will not elect their candidate, unless they can break into the Democratic line in the East and South.

It is not surprising that, with these indisputable facts confronting them, the Republican managers should be despondent and feel that they have cut out for themselves more work than the Blaine party can accomplish. A young doctor, being consulted by anxious friends of the family on a certain interesting occasion, admitted that he had lost the mother and child, but cheerfully announced that he "had et strong hopes of being able to save the old man." We concede Maine to Blaine.

As reasonable to expect oaks from a mush-room-bed as great and durable profits from small and hasty efforts.

the news of the suspension of the Bohringers, the great Italian producers, coupled with the suspension of C. J. Meier, of London, produced but little effect. The New York Times says: "The price for the article has steadily tended downwards since the removal of the tariff, and sales were made yesterday as low as $1 per ounce, the lowest for years. Since the forests in Peru became less ready of access, causing the experiment of the planting on a large scale in Ceylon and Java, the production has steadily increased, and now according to the judgment of the largest manufactures in the trade here, the supply manufactured largely exceeds the demand. A prominent New York manufacturer said: 'The removal of the tariff has littt'e or nothing to do with the demoralization in the trade. All the trouble is caused by over-production, while the demand has remained constant.' "

Bed Bugs, Flies.

Flies, roaches, ants, bed-bugs, rats, mice, gophers, chipmunks, cleared out by "Rough on Rats."

Be Done with It.

A recent philosophical treatise says: "we can endure many an ache and pain, if it is soon over." Then, let us have it over, as soon as possible. The pain of neuralgia, for instance, or rheumatism, or the army of various pains following in their train. Get a bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters, right away, and go to work on them. Mr. Jacob Barnes, of Barnesville, Ohio, writes, "Brown's Iron Bitters relieved my wife of great nervous prostration, which was so severe that she had to keep her bed."

For its soothing and grateful influence on the scalp, and the removal and prevention of dandruff, Ayer's Hair Vigor has no equal. It restores faded or gray hair to its original dark color, stimulates the growth of the hair, and gives it a beautiful, soft, glossy and silken appearance.

And lady whose toilet table lacks, should procure SOZODONT and use it regularly. Her mirror will soon reflect a row of teeth shaming the pearls of the Orient in beauty, making a charming contrast with the vermillion tint of the lips. No tooth-wash equals it.

Hardened Liver.

Five years ago I broke down with kidney and liver complaint and rheumatism,

Since then I have been unable to be about at all. My liver became hard like wood; my limbs were puffed up and filled with water.

All the best physicians agreed that nothing could cure me. I resolved to try Hop Bitters; I have used seven bottles; the hardness has all gone from my liver, the swelling from my limbs, and it has worked a miracle in my case; otherwise I would have been now in my grave. J. W. MOREY, Buffalo, Oct. 1, 1881.

Poverty and Suffering.

"I was dragged down with debt, poverty and suffering for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring.

I was completely discouraged, until one year ago by the advice of my pastor, I commenced using Hop Bitters, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have seen a sick day since, and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost.
