Susan B. Anthony, it is said, is at work on a book of memoirs.

A New York editor fought a waiter, fist and skull, before he would pay twice for a piece of pie.

It is estimated in Washington that it cost the Republican party $250,000 to "ridiculate" Blaine in Maine last week. Of this amount Mr. Blaine personally contributed $35,000.

The latest discoveries render insulation so perfect that to-day there is less loss of electrical force between the United States and England than there was formerly between New York and Brooklyn.

Edward J. Gay, who is to run as the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Third Louisiana, with Mr. Kellogg as his probable competitor, is the owner of 16 sugar plantations. He is a native of Liberty, Va., about 74 years, and singularly crippled, both arms having been rendered useless by a gunshot wound.

Here are some campaign dots as extracted from yesterday's Herald. How "squally" it does look, to be sure—for the Mulligan Guards:

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 15.—The accession of such prominent Republicans as ex-Bank Superintendent Henry L. Lamb and Mr. F. F. Wendell, of Montgomery county, to the Cleveland standard is considered as quite significant. Mr. Wendell's preferences are announced to-day. He is one of the most prominent lawyers of Montgomery county and resides at Fort Plain. Such indications of the result of the Presidential contest give the Governor's friends here the impression that their candidate cannot now be defeated.

THE SITUATION SUMMARIZED. Prominent politicians in communication with active workers throughout the entire country with whom your correspondent conversed this afternoon thus summarized the Democratic situation:

"There is not the shadow of a doubt of Cleveland's carrying this State by a very large majority. We have the names of over thirty thousand Republicans who have signed rolls pleading themselves to vote for Cleveland. There are thousands of others whose names are in possession of the independent Republicans, and with whom that organization communicates directly, they still claiming to be Republicans on everything but the electoral ticket and owing allegiance to that committee alone. Again, we have knowledge of a very large number of Republicans who will not enroll, but who are openly pronounced for Cleveland."

IN OTHER STATES. From the present standpoint New Jersey and Connecticut are as safe as

New York. We will get at least six votes from Michigan, which will be a gratuity. Schurz' campaign in Wisconsin makes that State sure. So far as West Virginia is concerned there is not a doubt about it. Everything that we hear from Ohio is of the most cheering character."

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15.—Governor Hoadly came down from the State Capitol to-day to give testimony before an investigating committee. To a Herald representative, who asked him what the political outlook was in the State, he said:

"The democracy will carry the State by a larger majority than last year on a fair vote. Nothing but the lavish and corrupt use of money can give the Republicans the State. I do not know how much money they have, or how they intend to use it, but it may be that they can buy the State away from us. Just as Indiana was honestly Democratic and was bought away Ohio may be. I do not know that she can be. What I do know is that we will have a full vote out, that we have accessions to our ranks and that I can hear of no diversion. On a fair vote we will, as I have said, increase our majority over that of 1883."

Here are some election bets made recently in New York. The Wyse man mentioned is evidently no fool. The item is from the Sun:

Mr. William Wyse bet $500 even with Col. Charles S. Spencer at the Fifth Avenue Hotel on Saturday that Cleveland would carry New York State by 50,000 majority. Mr. Robert Taylor, the furniture dealer, who was present, offered to duplicate the wagers, but the offer was declined by Mr. Wyse. A group of sporting men were gathered in the St. James Hotel on Sunday evening, and when Wyse entered the discussion drifted into politics. Charles Davis, the bookmaker, offered to bet $500 even that Mr. Blaine would carry the State of New York. Mr. Wyse took the bet, and $1,000 was promptly placed with Capt. W. M. Connor, proprietor of the St. James, as stakeholder. Mr. Wyse offered to repeat the wager with any of the other bookmakers, but the offer was not accepted.

A few days ago it was rumored that Al Smith, representing James E. Kelly, the bookmaker, was authorized to bet any part of $10,000 on Blaine's election. The rumor reached Mr. Sol Sayles, and he sent two representatives with $2,500 each to interview Mr. Smith at the Gilsey House. Mr. Smith said that he represented Mr. Kelly merely in the matter, and that personally he was backing Cleveland, and believed that he would be elected. Mr. Sayles' representatives were referred to Mr. Kelly, who said he had changed his mind, and did not then propose to make the bet.

On a farm near Pen Yan, N. Y., is a curious series of trees. Over 30 years ago a large elm was blown over. The trunk, which remains, is 58 feet long, and from this trunk a row of 26 young trees has sprung, many of which are fully 60 feet high. They seem like branches from the old trunk, but are well grown and perfect trees.

It is a fact too well known to be denied, that if it were not for Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup hotel proprietors in Florida would put their rates up to ten dollars per day.

Every Farmer ought to get a "Boy Clipper Plow," greatest invention of the age. JACOBI is the Agent.

News gathering has been dull work to-day.

The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 546 bales.

Scuppernong grapes seem to be plentiful and yet they continue very high.

Something must be the matter. We have not heard Guy Wright's band for several nights.

The disgusting sight of colored women staggering up Mulberry street this noon was not a pleasant sight to behold.

We invite the attention of our citizens to the fact that first quality shirts are being made to order at one dollar at the Wilmington Shirt Factory.

The candidates for Lieut. Governor will speak at Fayetteville on the 20th inst., at Lumberton the 27th, at Burgaw the 29th and at Clinton the 30th.

Don't forget the good time to be had at Smithville to-morrow. The Passport will leave at 12:30 o'clock and return in the evening.

Both of the cotton compresses are now regularly at work, the Champion having steamed up for the first time last Friday.

Hon. A. M. Waddell scored yesterday his semi-centennial birthday and was the recipient of many congratulations from his legion of friends in this city.

Maj. C. W. McClammy, Presidential Elector for the Third district, will speak at Point Caswell to-day and at Fayetteville on Saturday. He doesn't allow much grass to grow under his feet.

Mr. George Andrews, watchman, B. C. R. & N. R. Co., Waterloo, Iowa, was cured of severe rheumatism by the use of St. Jacobs Oil, the magical pain-cure.

Do not fail to attend the meeting of the Young Men's Progressive Democratic Club at the City Court Room to-night. Important business will be transacted and good speakers will be present.

Hon. Matt. W. Ransom will speak to the Democrats of Columbus county, at Whiteville, on the 23rd inst. Turn out citizens of good and staunch Columbus' to hear the right sort of political gospel!

The season is coming to a close and the beautiful gauze undershirts, of which there are only a few left, will be marked down from seventy-five cents to thirty-five cents, for one day only, to-morrow, at Dyers.

What Wilmington needs is more cotton buyers. Charleston and Norfolk are much more active in this respect than we are. As an instance of this nearly a hundred bales of cotton were shipped in one day last week from Laurinburg to Charleston.

Mr. Louis H. Meares has purchased an interest in the Mercantile Job Printing establishment of Mr. W. L. DeRosset, Jr., and the business will hereafter be conducted by these gentlemen jointly under the firm name of DeRosset & Meares.

Sale of Real Estate.

The dwelling house of the late Mr. A. A. Hartsfield, on Seventh street, between Market and Seventh, was sold at auction yesterday. The price at which it was knocked off was $1,000, Mr. Charles Conoley being the purchaser.

A Mistake Corrected.

The New York Herald reports that the schooner John A. Griffin, Capt. Rice, which arrived here from Philadelphia to-day, struck on the bar in coming out of Delaware breakwater. Capt. Rice states that the vessel did not strike on the bar nor anywhere else. While lying at anchor at the breakwater during the gale her anchors became foul and she dragged into shoal water, but did not touch the bottom.

Personal.

Capt. V. V. Richardson and Mr. A. F. Bowell, of Whiteville, are in the city to-day.

City Court.

The only case for the Mayor's consideration this morning was that of Henry McNeil, colored, for disorderly conduct at the Front street depot last night. He was fined $3, in default of which he was sent below.

Unavailable.

There is unavailable matter in the Postoffice here addressed to:
Pembroke Walker, Johnson Co. N. C.; Miss Isarah Pain; a postal card, no address, beginning, "Dear Mamie, and signed "Your Father"; a large envelope containing stamps, paper and envelopes, with a two cents stamp on it, but with no address.

Change of Owners.

The boarding house on Market street so long and so favorably known as Mrs. Pickett's, has been transferred to Mr. W. E. Sutton, of Bladen county, who has assumed the control of the establishment. Mrs. Pickett's has been an institution in Wilmington for many years, and her house and its accommodations and well spread table have been praised by thousands of people whom she has cared for.

The Charlotte Observer says: Col. W. L. Saunders, Secretary of State, arrived at the Central yesterday from Cleveland Springs. He still finds use for his wheeled chair, but says he has been greatly benefited by his stay at Cleveland. He has suffered terribly from rheumatism.

This is really delightful and glorious autumnal weather.

To Advertisers.

The fact that the DAILY REVIEW has the largest circulation in this city and the surrounding country of any paper published here does not seem to be properly understood and appreciated by the advertising public. And not only is its subscription list the largest but its prices on contracts are the lowest. These facts are of interest and importance to the mercantile community and should be thoroughly understood and appreciated by them. We invite those meaning business to call at this office and substantiate our assertions.

Religious News.

Rev. Dr. Bobbitt, Presiding Elder of the Wilmington District, arrived in the city this morning and left immediately for Prospect Church, where he will assist Rev. J. C. Crisp in a protracted meeting now in progress there. Dr. Bobbitt will return to the city and hold quarterly meeting at Fifth Street M. E. Church on Saturday and Sunday next. There will be a love feast on Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, preaching on Saturday at 11 a. m., and again at the usual hours on Sunday.

Entering a Pew.

The following, which is going the rounds of the papers, contains good advice for many a church-goer, besides expressing our sentiments to a dot: Having entered a pew, move along. Do not block up the end of the pew as if you did not intend to have any one else enter it, or as if you were holding it for special friends. Do not rise to let others in, but move along and leave the pew invitingly open, so that they will know that they are welcome. If a pew holding six has five already in it, do not file out in formal procession to let one poor scared woman go to the farthest end, but move along, and let her sit down at the end next to the aisle. It is not necessary now for a man to sit at the end ready to rush out and kill Indians, as possibly it was once.

Big Time at Kenansville.

From a friend who was present on the occasion we learn that there was a big time at the speaking yesterday at Kenansville. There was a very large crowd present and the affair is best described as an immense mass-meeting and flag-raising. Maj. C. W. McClammy, District Elector, was presented by Col. Thos. S. Kenan and he made a telling and effective speech. Colonel Kenan also spoke and the effort has been reported to us as being one of the very best of his life.

Senator M. W. Ransom was also present and spoke as only Gen. Matt Ransom can speak. Those who heard it tell us that it was one of the most powerful arraignments of the Republican party they have ever listened to.

Altogether the occasion was one of the happiest political gatherings ever known in that section and we have been assured that we may put Duplin county down as safe for 1,000 majority for the ticket.

District Court.

For the Exposition.

All parties proposing to furnish exhibits for the North Carolina State Exposition are requested to prepare the same for shipment and deliver them to the C. C. R. R. depot, where they will be received and marked by Capt. S. W. Nobles, agent for the committee having the matter in charge.

Shippers are requested to furnish an accurate list of all articles in their exhibit to be entered in the catalogue with proper credit to the exhibitor. Exhibits will be forwarded on Saturday the 20th inst., and shippers are urged to have them on hand on or before that day.

Pompey Sneed.

This notorious outlaw was brought down on the train last night from Goldsboro, and upon his arrival here taken directly to the jail and locked up. In anticipation of his coming a crowd of colored men, estimated at between 200 and 300, assembled at the depot to see him. Chief of Police Brock, although anticipating no trouble, took the precaution to detail a couple of officers who were sent to the depot to act in case of emergency should it arise. Fortunately, there was no disturbance further than was made by one noisy and disorderly individual who was promptly arrested and taken to the guard house. Pompey will be examined in a day or two as to his past offences, but is rather too sore from his long ride on the cars in his wounded condition to have his case investigated to-day. He says that he would have come in and given himself up long ago, but he did not want "that crowd" shooting at him as he knew they would do if they got sight of him. He further says that when "that crowd," as he calls them, were shooting at some one they supposed to be him, they were aiming at the wrong person, as he was in Goldsboro at the time. He denies having violated any law, save in one instance, which was a case of assault and battery, in which he admits that he used his antagonist rather roughly. Pompey is a stout, muscular fellow who must possess immense physical power, although he is quite stiff and lame now from the effects of having a couple of "turkey shot" in his leg.

Col. Brink Explains.

EDITOR REVIEW.—In your issue of yesterday, under the caption of "Campaign Fund", you have been led into the error of misrepresenting the facts causing a reduction in salaries of the clerical force of the office. The facts in the case are that the last Democratic House, for the purpose of creating a false record for economy, ignored the careful estimates of the Postmaster General for the item of clerk hire, and cut the amount short a hundred thousand dollars, which amount must be taken from hard worked and poorly paid employees in postoffices of the country. By reason of such Congressional action, twelve hundred dollars was taken from the salaries of the employees of this office, necessitating the discharge of one good man, and the reduction of salaries of all others. It is better for honest people to know the truth than to be led into error.

Very Respectfully,
ED. R. BRINK, Postmaster.

We, of course, give Col. Brink the benefit of his denial. He ought to know better than we do what becomes of the money deducted from the wages of his clerks, and it is likely that he does. We accept his explanation as a fact. Still, it is a little strange that this deduction should be made at this particular time and following so closely too, on the heels of the additional expense entailed in this State by the establishment of the letter carrier system in Raleigh.

And there is another thing. The amount of the deficiency in the appropriation is about $100,000 and there are nearly 50,000 postoffices in the country to divide it, making an average of $2 for each office, whereas the Wilmington office is mulcted $1,200. Again, if the business here can be conducted now for $1,200 less why is it that this additional amount has been heretofore expended here? Is it any greater now than it was twelve months ago? The clerk who has been discharged was not then in the employ of the office.

Col. Brink's insinuation that a Democratic House cut down the appropriation $100,000 "for the purpose of creating a false record for economy" is much more worthy of the politician than of the postmaster.
