The courts have decided that any one caught wearing one of the fashionable suits made to order by Dyer & Son, on which there is a balance due, shall be considered a rare specimen of humanity.

There was a slight fire on the corner of Castle and Tenth streets this afternoon, but the flames had been extinguished before much damage was done. As it occurred just as we were going to press we failed to obtain further particulars.

There were five draymen before the Mayor this morning who were delinquent in paying their licence taxes, some for a greater and some for a less amount. They were discharged upon the payment of the same with the added costs.

We republish to-day the stirring poem contributed for yesterday's issue by Mr. E. G. Blair, because of several errors therein, made by the compositor, which were not complimentary to Mr. Blair's intelligence. These errors have been corrected.

We are requested to state that Hon. W. T. Faircloth, Republican candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, will speak at all of Maj. C. M. Stedman's appointments, as there is a perfect understanding between the two that there shall be a joint discussion at each place.

Personal.
Rev. Dr. C. T. Bailey, editor of the Biblical Recorder, has been elected a director of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, in place of Mr. H. H. Munson, resigned.

Col. A. Rowland and Maj. A. McNeill, both of Lumberton, are in the city and registered at the Purcell House. Col. Rowland is the Presidential Elector for the Sixth Congressional District, and is here to address the Democracy of this city and county at the stand on Seventh street to-night.

For durable coloring the walls of rooms in beautiful tints, at little cost, nothing equals the MABLENE sold at JACOB'S Depot.

The experiment of lighting coal mines by electricity is on trial at Connellsville, Pa.

The King of Siam, who is under fifty years of age, is said to have two hundred and sixty-three children.

Fires are becoming so extensive and frequent in this county that a conservative paper like the New York Daily Commercial Bulletin is tempted to advise the institution of vigilance committees to punish incendiarism.

A carriage is being built for Emperor William, the whole upper portion of which is to be constructed of glass, and which is to enable the monarch to attend manoeuvres, parades and other public occasions in unfavorable weather.

It may surprise some people to learn that, according to a report made to the House of Lords, ten years ago, there are about seven and a half million acres absolutely uncultivated, and over eighteen per cent. of the most fertile parts of the Kingdom still uncultivated.

The Astors paid their taxes for the current year in New York on Wednesday, their contribution to the municipal revenue being $425,000. The Golet estate paid, in part, $150,000; James Gordon Bennett, $29,500, and the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company $440,000.

The late President Garrett, by his will, made very liberal bequests for the benefit of the poor in Baltimore. A permanent fund of $100,000 is established solely for charity, and in addition to this an annual gift of $50,000 from the income of the estate, to be applied to such benevolent work in Baltimore or Maryland as the trustees of the estate may elect.

The first year's experiment with the new rate of postage, which Postmaster-General Howe estimated might cause a deficiency of $7,000,000, and which Third Postmaster-General Hazen figured at $2,000,000, shows an actual decrease of $2,296,000 in the stamp account, and a falling off in the total revenue of the postoffice department of $2,342,000.

The German Postmaster General has introduced another practical innovation in the service, namely, that of allowing telegrams to be thrown into the letter boxes, more especially into those attached to the mail cars on railway trains. All that is needed is to write the message on paper, mark it "telegram," and attach the tariff rate in postage stamps.

Mr. Hayes, the predecessor of Mr. Garfield in the White House, is visiting in New York. There is nothing particularly bucolic in his make-up now. He still wears the semi-clerical coat of broadcloth and the high hat brushed in six different ways, and he carries the same calico valise that accompanied him on his tour across the continent in the summer of 1880.

The bark Monrovia sailed from New York Wednesday for Monrovia, Liberia, with 47 colored emigrants on board, who were sent out by the American Colonization Society. There were also on board as cabin passengers the Rev. William Fair and wife, (white,) who go to Monrovia on missionary work; the Rev. D. Weir, a colored missionary, and J. W. Wilson, Alonzo Miller and Robert D. King, three colored students, who intend to devote the remainder of their lives to the education of their countrymen in Liberia.

It is claimed that Louisiana offers great advantages for sheep and cattle raising, more particularly the stretch of country embracing West Baton Rouge, the two Felicianas, St. Helena, Washington, Livingston, St. Tammany and Tangipahoa. It is said that the mutton raised in this section is equal in flavor only by English Southdown. The sheep do not need housing in Winter or Summer. They keep fat all the year round feeding on the natural herbage. Disease has never attacked the flocks. The climate is good and the soil fertile.

A boy was asked which was the greatest evil, hurting another's feelings or his finger? "The feelings," he said. "Right, my dear child," said the grateful priest, "and why?" "Because you can't put St. Jacobs Oil on 'em."

We invite the attention of our citizens to the fact that first quality shirts are being made to order at one dollar at the Wilmington Shirt Factory.

FROM RALEIGH.

Cooler Weather and Crowds Flocking to the Exposition Grounds.
(Special to DAILY REVIEW.)
EXPOSITION GROUNDS.
RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 10th.

It is more than gratifying to note the increasing interest taken in the exposition by the people from every section of the State. New exhibits are coming in by every train and the crowd in attendance swells in numbers each day. Old men who have come down to us from a former generation give vent to exclamations that should fill the State with music from one end to the other. The weather being considerably cooler this morning the people are crowding to the grounds in large numbers and hundreds are reported on their way hither. This is indeed a glorious day for the Old North State.

LATER—3.25 p. m.—The Exposition is a pronounced success. All are surprised at the number of county displays, the variety of the exhibits, and the artistic manner in which they have been arranged. Collectors have not slighted the wild animals, fishes and fowls. Raleigh is ablaze with wild acclamations of praise. Her citizens are vying with each other in accommodating visitors, and the arrangements are such that none need be afraid of poor fare. The city authorities have arranged to see that all find houses. Private houses charge one dollar per day and upward. The exposition company furnishes ice water in every building free of charge.
W. S. PRIMROSE, President.

State vs. William Usher, larceny.—Guilty. Six months in County House of Correction.

Judgment vs. Lloyd Sneed, larceny.—Judgment nisi.

State vs. Moses Brown. Defendant submitted and was discharged.

State vs. Lloyd Sneed, larceny. Verdict not yet rendered.

State vs. B. F. Simmons and J. A. Simmons, assault and battery. Verdict not guilty and defendants discharged.

State vs. Miranda Farrow, nuisance. Continued for the defendant who was recognized in the sum of $50 for her appearance at the next term of Court.

New Hanover.
Judging from the following, which we clip from the Raleigh Chronicle. New Hanover does not make a very flattering show at the Exposition:

From a palmetto at one corner to another palmetto at the other corner of the space allotted to New Hanover county, stretches a railing prettily adorned; and behind the railing are many pleasing paintings, portraits, pieces of hand-painted china, flowers and other evidences of good taste and artistic skill. The portraits of Mr. Scales and Mr. Stedman (by Orrin T. Thomas), and of Mr. Primrose (by Miss Bessie Willard) attract general attention; and, besides these, there are many other pieces of art-work. Mr. Thomas, who is in charge of the exhibit, has perhaps the most attractive art display that occupies the space given to any county.

But New Hanover with all her wealth has sent to the Exposition only two specimens of fish (prepared by the new Davidson process) a barrel of rosin 50 years old, cans of tar, pretty specimens of rosin (from Messrs Worth & Worth), specimens of fire-clay, and the various products of the Acme Manufacturing Company of Cronly—pine-hair, pine-fibre and the kindred products.

The only lesson, therefore, that New Hanover has to teach (after pleasing visitors with the excellent work of two or three of her artists) is to remind us that the manufacture of pine-hair and the like is an entirely new industry, and an industry that utilizes what has hitherto been a waste product—pine straw. The "hair" is used for upholstery and in the manufacture of mattresses and such things. The Acme Manufacturing Company is a positive gain to our industries, and its example might be followed in many other counties.

The specimens of fire-clay, too, are worthy of study. That is an important and valuable product. Look at it and have its merits explained to you.

Takes the Stump.
Col. E. D. Hall will speak on the political issues of the day at Jacksonville, Onslow county, on Monday, the 13th inst. He will also speak at Chin quipin, Duplin county, on Friday, the 17th inst., and at Branch's Store, in the same county, on Saturday, the 18th inst. He goes into the canvass meaning business and will devote his best energies towards arousing, organizing and bringing out the entire Democratic vote of the counties in which he will speak.

Political Speeches.
There is promise of some fine speaking to-night at the "Wigwag" on Seventh street, recently erected by the Democrats of the Fifth Ward. Col. A. Rowland, of Lumberton, Presidential elector of this Congressional District, and our talented and promising young townsman, Mr. J. C. Davis, will be the speakers and will fire hot shot into the Republican camp. There will be a parade and torchlight procession, as we announced yesterday, and as all good Democrats are invited to participate it is expected that there will be a rousing rally for Cleveland, Reform and a return to good government. Col. Rowland is an accomplished speaker and presents his argument in a clear, concise and convincing manner. He is doing excellent service in the cause, as might be expected from one whose heart and soul are fully awake to stimulate his efforts.

The procession will be preceded by the Cornet Concert Club, who will furnish some of their best music for the occasion. The route will be the same which we described yesterday. We trust that the Democrats of Wilmington will turn out en masse to hear the wholesome political truths which will be told them to-night by Col. Rowland and Mr. Davis. To every one who is in favor of placing the administration of the affairs of the government in the hands of those who have never been even accused of bribery, corruption and fraud there is a cordial invitation to be present, without regard to previous political affiliations. Turn out, Democrats, young and old, and make the display to-night a rousing demonstration in behalf of a good, pure and economically administered government.

It is painful to be disturbed in public assemblies by some one coughing or sneezing, especially when you know that there is a remedy like Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup easily to be obtained.

Some Reminiscences.
Old John Robinson, the veteran showman, and his son, Mr. John F. Robinson, are in the city to-day and are registered, the former at the Commercial Hotel and the latter at the Purcell House.

We met Mr. Robinson this morning and were pleased to renew our acquaintance with him. He has long past the allotted three-score years and ten but is still hale and vigorous. He possesses a fund of rich conversation and it is pleasant to hear him talk. He has seen many great improvements in this section since his first visit here. At that time there was no railroad communication with Charleston and travellers going to through points South were compelled to take a steamer at Wilmington for Charleston, while all intermediate points were accessible only by stage.

We well remember one of Mr. Robinson's early visits to this city. It was, we think, about the year 1850 and the tent was then pitched back of what was then the old Academy building, and on the ground now known as the yard in rear of the City Hall. Jimmy Robinson was at that time a mere lad and was even then known as one of the most fearless bareback riders in the world. Afterwards, and for some years, the circus tents were pitched on a vacant lot on the corner of Market and Fifth streets, on the spot now occupied by the beautiful First Baptist Church. This was the chosen ground until the breaking out of the war. After the war Dan Castello's show was the first that exhibited in Wilmington and the ground was on Princess street, between Front and Second, on the Walker lot. The scene was then changed to the vacant Walker lot, running through from Fifth to Sixth streets, between Chestnut and Mulberry, and later to Camp Lamb, and still later to Dickinson's Hill, where Robinson's Circus will show here this Fall.

To every Housekeeper a good substantial cook stove is an important necessity and our readers will find the best at Factory prices at JACOB'S Hardware Depot.

Now is the time to give Smith's Worm Oil.

A GRAND DISPLAY!
IN OUR
Millinery Department!
We shall open a few more new cases of Trimmed Hats and Bonnets! selected by us personally from the leading Parisian fashions. While rich and elegant to the extreme, inspection will prove that the general effect accords more thoroughly with the subtleties of American ladies than is usually the case with Parisian designs seen in this market; hence our reason for selecting them, with others to follow. In addition to the above we will show full lines of LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S TRIMMED AND UNTRIMMED HATS AND BONNETS from our own work room, which we are confident will not only be found equal to the 5th Ave., N.
