A FAIR PROTECTIVE TARIFF.

The National Democratic Platform Indorsed by Grover Cleveland.

We believe that LABOR is best rewarded where it is freest and most enlightened. It should therefore be fostered and cherished.

The Democratic party insists that it is the duty of this Government to PROTECT with equal fidelity and vigilance the rights of its citizens, native and naturalized, at home and abroad.

We demand in behalf of the Democracy freedom for AMERICAN LABOR by reducing taxes to the end that these United States may compete with unhindered powers for the primary among nations in all the arts of peace and fruits of liberty.

The correspondents travelling with the Blaine tally train represent the Republican hero to be despondent and out of humor. He has traveled over long stretches of country without showing himself at all, and when occasionally brought out upon the platform his speeches have denoted no exuberance of feeling.

Writing of Mrs. Belva Lookwood, a Boston Herald correspondent says: "The odd thing about this woman is that she is not really a crank, but a sharp and quick-witted person, who is not destitute of humor, and who avoids making a fool of herself."

The Statesville American, the organ of the G. O. P. in this State, felt so relieved at the escape of its party from annihilation in Ohio that it fell into a pious mood and returned thanks thus: "The people of Ohio have done well their part to shape the history of the next twenty years."

Whereupon the wicked editor of the Charlotte Observer, who seems to have the fear of neither the devil nor his offspring before his eyes, thus discourses upon the subject:

It is well to be thankful, it is well to recognize the interposition of Providence in bringing about beneficent results in worldly affairs, but this thing of mixing up God with deputy marshals, repeaters, roughs and corruptionists with their pockets filled with money, with Blaine's hippodrome, Dudley's gang of workers and peculiar methods, is a little profane, to say the least of it.

Did God inspire or co-operate with the gangs of deputy marshals that surrounded the polls on election day in Cincinnati, shot down the people like dogs, arrested and dragged off citizens to prison, and caused one of the bloodiest, most lawless and disgraceful elections ever witnessed in this city?

Did God inspire the closing up of factories, with the announcement that they would remain closed indefinitely if the State went against the Republican party, to intimidate the workmen thrown out of employment to vote the Republican ticket?

Did God inspire the sending of a million dollar corruption fund into that State?

Did God have anything to do with taking Pension Commissioner Dudley from his post of duty in the Pension office, with his corps of clerks and strikers, to work for the Republican party in Ohio while they were drawing pay from the people for work which they ought to be doing elsewhere?

Finally, if God was taking a hand on the Republican side in Ohio, why did He let that majority be cut down to about one-half what it was four years ago?

And again, we ask this exultant giver of thanks if God did actually help the Republicans in Ohio, when He so emphatically overlooked them in West Virginia, where Stephen Elkins was so prayerfully laboring and distributing his cash, and where the Blaine and Logan hippodromes both performed?

It is well to be thankful and prayerful, but at the same time it is well to be respectful to Omnipotence, whose name should not be irreverently mixed up in partisan enthusiasm with election contests marked by such disreputable and disgraceful methods.

A Mean Old General Routed.

Old "General Debility" has been put to flight in Arkansas, with happy results. From Brinkley, from Webb City, and from Walnut Ridge, Messrs. P. R. Anderson, E. M. Taylor and F. S. Pinebeck respectively write that they were all afflicted with general debility, and received solid benefit from Brown's Iron Bitters.

This is pleasant to know, not only for Arkansas people, but for all sections of the country where General Debility has counted victims by the thousand. For sale everywhere.

OCTOBER ODDS.

A court cryer. A royal infant—Boston Post. The butcher who trusts loses flesh.—Boston Post. The diver is the man who weights for the tide.—New York Journal. Babies know nothing of politics, yet they are fond of crow.—Puck. In the midst of all the excitement concerning it, the North Pole remains perfectly cool.—Blizzard. "The work of reclaiming the Potomac flats is rapidly going on," says an exchange. This must be pleasant reading for Washington dudes.—Burlington Free Press. Adolphus—"Why is it, don't you know, that all the young fellows sit down on me so?" Mary Jane—"I don't know, Dolly, unless it is that they like a soft seat."—Boston Transcript. A boarding-house cook has been awarded $450 for the invention of a new and improved chicken soup. Perhaps the improvement consists of putting in some chicken.—Derick.

Appointments by the Bishop of East Carolina.
