The following dispatch to the New York Herald would seem to indicate that the Republicans have some sort of a shot-gun policy of their own by which they hope to carry Louisians, only, if the report as published be true, we incline to the opinion that they have sent their goods to a bad market-for tnem:

Despatches were sent early this morning to Col. Burke, chairman of the Louisiana Democratic Executive Committee, warning him of the shipment of cases of guns from Washington over every railway leading to the Southwest. The opinion here is that if the Republicans attempt to bulldoze the Democracy of Louisiana the scenes at Cincinnati will be but a mere skirmish to the battle that will occur in the parishes in the State. The dictation of marshals in the South will not be tolerated. The appointment of such marshals to control the election will be the New York & Wilmington signal for battle

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELEC-TION.

The election will be held Tuesday
